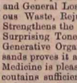
LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD,



We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand.

THE JEANNETTA'S FATE.

Still Searching for the Missing Boat.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—Danerhauser telegraphs as follows:—

"IRKUTSK, Jan. 31.—Delong's party have been traced to Defenctive, a locality on the west bank of the Lena. Melville and the Russians are searching ardently. I am acting under positive orders, and will bear the investigation. Chipp's little boat has not been seen since the September gale. It doubtless swamped her. If she is not found before spring, I will charter the steamer Lena and search the coast between the Rivers Oleank and Kalinia. Jack Coles has been an invalid since October. The Jeannette entered the ice near Herald Island, September 6th, 1879. Her fore-foot was twisted from 1st January. We pumped eighteen months. The vessel drifted to the northwest during twenty-one months. She was crushed and sank, June 12 h, in latitude 76 degrees, 15 min. north, longitude 156 deg. 20 min. east. She discovered Jeannette, Henrietta, and Bennett Islands. We made a retreat over the ice to New Siberia Islands, thence in boat to the Lena Delta. Melville was given charge of my boat by Delong. I was blind. Hearty, intelligent help was rendered by the Russians. Everything possible is being done.

Destructive Fire.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Feb. 1.—The flour mills of Thornton & Chester, Arnold & Little, and Oliver Gibson, were burned early this morning. Loss, $125,000; insurance, $86,000. At one time the entire block, north side of Main street was threatened. Assistant-Chief Engineer, Geo. Woods to escape burning to death jumped from the 6th story and was killed. Several other firemen were injured.

Englishmen Satisfied.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Times says the mediation in South American war, such as Frelinghuysen, commissioned Trescott to undertake, is tainted with no designs for private profit. The Arbiters expect that which peace must bring to all. Englishmen must be permitted to regard the attempt with as sincere a good will as if devised on their special behalf.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.

Too much cannot be said of the ever-faithful wife, and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and the bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world and only cost fifty cents Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

The New York Fire.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The papers this morning differ on the number of causalities of yesterday's fire. The Herald states 14 persons are still missing. Hunter, lawyer Todd's clerk, reported missing yesterday, escaped unhurt. Orlando Potter owner of the burned building was a Tammany candidate for Congress in 1878. He claims he complied with all the requirements of building and fire departments. His ap-

Committee on Ways and Means and after sitting for a few minutes and reported. The report was adopted.

Mr. Ostrom moved that the council grant a sufficient sum to construct a guard pier at the Trenton swing bridge.

After some discussion it was decided to allow the resolution to lay over for the present.

The committee appointed to watch the interests of the county in the amalgamation scheme of the G. J. railway, with certain other railways, reported after having had an interview with John Bell, Esq, County Solicitor, and having heard the deed of amalgamation read and explained by Mr. Bell, they believed that the rights which the county and minor municipalities had in the Grand Junction were fully guarded and respected in the deed of amalgation; and they further believe that the county's interests in the Grand Junction will be enhanced by carrying out of said amalgation. They were also of the opinion that county's interests in the matter were safe in the hands of the County Solicitor.

The report was adopted.

The County Treasurer submitted the following return of taxes in arrears on the 26th day of January 1882, for the minor municipalities:

	ORDINARY RATES.	SPEC. RATES

The above returns shows that Marmora has paid in full, also Trenton, Deseronto, Madoc Village and Stirling.

Mr. White moved, seconded by Mr. Haggerty, that whereas it is correctly reported that the Ontario Legislature is about to pass a Bill doing away with market tolls be it resolved that this council petition the Government through its Warden and Clerk that before the said Bill becomes law, a clause be inserted giving the city of Belleville and town of Trenton the privilege of charging market dues the same as now, as the city and town have by a large expense provided suitable buildings for market purposes, and keep the same clean and comfortable, it is unfair to deprive the city and town of the revenue derived from the same.

In support of his resolution, Mr. White said that Belleville was entitled to market fees in freeing the county gravel roads.

Messrs. Wilmot and Vermilyea opposed the resolution, chiefly on the ground that the market fees were unresonable.

Mr. Ostrom claimed that Trenton should be compensated as well as Belleville.

Mr. Haggerty was confident the motion he had seconded would meet the views of the farming community.

Mr. Ashley thought the collection of a fee on every load of grain passing the market was an imposition on the farming community. He did not deny that Belleville had paid its share towards receiving free roads, but in doing so he thought, the city got the best of the bargain. He moved in amendment that whereas the Government of Ontario purpose enacting a law in connection with the market tolls and toll roads, they will take into consideration the position of the city of Belleville, in reference to free roads and make such concessions to said city as in their judgment may seem just in the mrtter.

Mr. O'Flynn thought a change was highly desirable in the present law regulating the collection of market fees. While Belleville had paid a considerable amount towards securing of free roads are m fying SOZODONT, new open at Reynolds', teeth the glistening whiteness . . . . 50 CTS. their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

NEVER GIVE UP.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by all druggists.

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

A STUBBORN FACT,

Dr. Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry is without a doubt, the safest and most reliable remedy in existence, for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, sour stomach, sea-sickness, and all summer complaints. It acts like a charm. Its effects are marvellous—relief instantaneous, cure speedy. Physicians and all who use it recommend it. It should be kept in every home at this season, for use in cases of emergenay. For sale by all deaiers.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

A TONIC WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Dyspeptics and those suffering from chronic diseases should read the following from Rev. John Gregory, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at Pittiston, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the meditine called PERUVIAN SYRUP or Protected Solution of Protoxide of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alterative, it is, I think, unsurpassed; and as a tonic, free from all the objectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance cause. One of the greatest hindrances to the temperance reform at present is, I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulents. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, a safe and efficient substitute for those dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unsolicited with the hope that some who are not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial.

THERE are thousands who every year descend to the grave whose lives might have been saved had they but attended to their health when it was first threatened by the ravages of disease. It is a well known fact that the simplest remedies are able to check the most tenacious diseases in their first stages, but at the latter gain strength the difficulty increases in even greathr ratio. This is especially true in respect to throat and lung diseases which are worked upon in a remarkable manner by Dr Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam which relieves the inflammation, causes a free

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY TO WIN FORTUNE. SECOND GRAND schemes now going on, by which two or three powerful corporations are monopolizing all the railway lines of the country, is a gross injustice to the people who have voted such liberal bonuses.

—The Mail consoles itself with the reflection that "the debate on the address was not a success for the Mowat Government." Several reasons are assigned, but the organ does not mention the result of that debate, which gave the Mowat Government a majority of nearly thirty. Mr. Miller may have views of the Streams Bills not exactly in harmony with the Government, and Mr. Neelon, as a manufacturer, may see some benefit in the N. P., but when the general policy of the Administration is pronounced upon, their votes leave no uncertain meaning.

THE Toronto Telegram gives publicity to the rumor that Hon. Mr Fraser contemplates retiring from the Ontario Cabinet owing to ill-health. We have wondered some why he has not taken an active part in the debate on the address, more especially as he is acknowledged to be one of the best speakers in the Legislature, and was always ready for a tilt with a doughty opponent. The rumored ill-health probably accounts for his silence. Irrespective of party or creed, the retirement of Mr. Fraser from public life would be much regretted.

THE Mail and its political satellites have consumed thousands of columns of brevier in a vain and foolish attempt to convict the Globe of pandering to the whims of agnostics, infidels and the patrons of immoral and profane literature. Recently a deputation of "freethinkers" waited upon Attorney-General Mowat with reference to the proposed bill regulating the form of oath to be taken by those who profess to have conscientious scruples about swearing upon the Bible. The Premier told them he was glad that Christianity was part of the common law of the country, and he hoped it would always be so. The Tory organs do not give Mr. Mowat any credit for this manly declaration of his religious principles, but they continue to sneer at him as a "Christian politician."

STILL INSINUATING.

We demanded from our local contemporary specific charges against the License Commissioners of West Hastings, "a near relative of one," &c., and no more insinuations. They are not furnished. Little is required of us to lay, in answer to the special pleading of the organ. We have consulted its issues of Jan. 14th and 21st., and find no particular person accused of maladministration, &c. except the Inspector. The charges against him are repetitions of a case that has been thoroughly ventilated in court. There are three Commissioners, and we suppose each has a "near relative." Mr. Fuller has incidentally heard that he is the Commissioner meant. The organ says "if the coat fits him he is welcome to wear it." Very well, then, we do not intend to fight a ... ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

NOT DEAD—NOT ALIVE.

Whilst Lionel Falconer is ploughing the waves, with the fresh breeze blowing upon his forehead, let us return to the darkened chamber at Marlwood, where Ethel Brandley lay struggling between life and death.

For three weeks the contest between the rival disputants was fiercely continued.

But the grim monster was not permitted to triumph, and at length, though unwillingly, he sheathed his dart and took his departure.

Ethel was pronounced out of immediate danger.

The rays of the January sun were permitted gradually to steal into the sick room, and the worn and debilitated patient was able to be lifted from her bed to her couch, where she lay, so silent and motionless, that she seemed rather to belong to the dead than to the living.

In this listless state a month passed.

Aunt Winifred, who, in the crisis of Ethel's danger, had been sent for, still remained by her niece's side.

Perhaps, from old associations, her presence might have been a comfort to the invalid.

But this was a mere matter of surmise.

No expression of satisfaction escaped her lips.

The power of observation and the gift of memory (perhaps it was mercifully ordered so) seemed to have departed.

She lay like one who had returned from a long sojourn in the land of silence and oblivion, but who fancied herself still there.

John Brandley, who had been terribly anxious during the time his daughter's life hung upon a thread, now that the danger seemed to be averted, and a respite granted to the sufferer, began to grow hopeful again.

It was thought no longer necessary for Winifred to remain in her capacity of nurse.

She accordingly returned once more to the cottage.

Ethel offered no objection to her departure.

Scarcely appeared to notice her absence.

Certainly she did not miss her.

If ever she had been in a calm and tractable state, she was so now.

At least so John Brandley, with his usual blindness, thought.

The old man quite chimed in with future son-in-law's idea th that Mr. Mowat should go out er that Ontario should get all these millions, rather than that he should remain in and sacrifice them. * * * If the people of Ontario are in earnest, they will speedily teach Mr. Mowat that he and his cabal must not stand between the Province and the acquisition of a territory which is declared to be of such inestimable value."—Mail.

If Mr. Mowat had not been supported by Ontario, Sir John would have given up the territory! HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT, ELECTORS OF ONTARIO? YOUR PROVINCE IS DESPOILED BECAUSE YOU VOTED AS YOU PLEASED!

If we can benefit the readers of this paper any, by recommending Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had as good a chance to know as any on.

Dr. Pierce's "Golden medical discovery" has become so thoroughly established in public favor that were it not for the forgetfulness of people it would not be necessary to call attention to its power to cure consumption which is scrofula of the lungs, and other blood diseases, as eruptions, blotches, pimples, ulcers, and "liver complaint."

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY, Jan. 30th.

The House had a short sitting Monday afternoon, the proceedings consisting mainly of the introduction of Bills and motions for returns. The first matter of a public character introduced was the disallowed Streams Bill, which received its first reading amid cheers from the Government side. In reply to Mr. Creighton's motion for copies of correspondence between the Government of Ontario and those of Canada and Quebec with reference to the inter-Provincial arbitration the Treasurer explained that the Ontario Ministry were not responsible for the delay in the settlement of the question. After some further discussion the motion was carried. A motion by Mr. Morris for correspondence about the Boundary Award was, after a brief but sharp discussion, allowed to stand.

Mr. Lauder's motions for information about Algoma lands and plans for new Parliament Buildings were carried after the mover had received well-merited rebukes from the Treasurer and Commissioner of Public Works for his reckless insinuations against the Government

TUESDAY, Jan. 31st.

The house sat for only a few minutes Tuesday, the various notices of motions which constituted the only business after routine being all allowed to stand.

For some days Mr. Robertson, of West Hastings, has been suffering severely from a bronchial affection. Mr. Calvin is still seriously indisposed, and it is considered hardly likely that he will be able to appear in his place this session.

A petition, bearing upwards of six hundred signatures, in favour of the amendment of the law of evidence so as to permit agnostics to testify, was presented by Mr. Robertson.

The Streams Bill as introduced by the Government is precisely the same as the disallowed measure, no change having been made in any respect.

A good preventative for Fever, Ague and Bilious Disorders is Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters a strictly vegetable preparation. They Tone the system purify the Blood and increase the appetite, and render those taking them almost proof against disease Should be used in every case instead of pills. R. INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands. Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is

At the election of 1867, both the candidates were conservatives, or Tories, if you please, and I gave my support and influence to Mr. Bowell against Mr. Walbridge, because he "burked" my Railroad Bill. If it is denied that Mr. W. was a Conservative, all I have to say is that on nomination day at Madoc, he declared twice that he was not a Reformer, and also twice that he was a Conservative.

As to the number of votes made by me, there were between 100 and 120, and I was not the only one who had property assessed to make votes. It was done on both sides, and to my knowledge had been done so long before by both Reformers and Conservatives. I am not aware that what I did was illegal. Had it been so, no doubt Mr. Walbridge would have taken advantage of it. What I did then I would do again under similar circumstances, so long as I was not going contrary to law. I gave votes to parties in Belleville, Hungerford and other places, and paid the extra municipal and school tax on all the half lots but one, which was paid by the party who voted.

In making out the list, if my memory serves me right, I handed it to the Assessors to take to the Clerk to have them entered on the Roll. This is the gist of the whole matter that is being falsely raked up by "Bridgewater," after nearly fifteen years have passed and gone.

WHO'LL EXPLAIN?

MR. EDITOR.—A little ripple of excitement disturbed the usually placid current of spiritual life among the Massassagas, by the appearance among your Ameliasburgh notes, of one to the effect, that the S. S. workers had reorganized the Sabbath School "completely ignoring the authority of the minister and Quarterly Board."

What puzzles the said workers is, what minister and what Quarterly Board have any authority to interfere in any way in the organization of said school. If there be any such minister and Quarterly Board will they kindly explain,

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

THE SUPERIORITY OF PHOSPHATES to Hypophosphites can be demonstrated easily by the invalid taking alternately any standard preparation of each for one or two months. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya will radically benefit seventy per cent. of consumptive and scrofulous cases, while only thirty per cent. will tolerate any form of Hypophosphites, owing to their deranging the stomach. The Phosphates in our food are derived from the phosphatic deposits in the earth, now so extensively used as fertilizers, their function in both the animal and vegetable kingdoms being to determine growth and development.

SOLID POPULARITY.

THE popularity of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment is solid. It is based on the firm foundation of its merits. Men who have been cured of rheumatism by it can fully appreciate it. So also can those cured of sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, contracted joints, cramps in muscles, sprains, bruises, &c There can be no mistake about such cures as these. It does not require a physician to tell whether the patient is well or not. Each one can say, "This I know that I was in pain, now I am free of it. This I know that all remedies failed to banish the pain until I tried Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, and now it is gone." It is well to remember these facts, and when the aches of rheumatism, the twinges of neuralgia, of the miscellaneous aches and pains come on, that a remedy can be procured for 25 cents, in Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment. All Druggists, and at least one dealer

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company!

OF WATERLOO - - - ONT.

(ESTABLISHED 1868.)

Has just closed its twelfth year, which has been the most successful year in its history. The following figures show the progress the company has made during the last three years.

Policies issued in 1879 were 427 for $490,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1880 were 908 for $1,157,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1881 were 1,426 for $2,000,000 of Assurance.

Such rapid progress shows that the public appreciate economical management, annual cash dividends, and promptness in paying claims.

TIME, it is said, proves everything, and among other things it has proved the value of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as a standard remedy for diseases of the throat and lungs. This is a household medicine with thousands of people, and deservedly so, for it has been in use more than forty years, and all who use it know that it accomplishes even more than is claimed for it. Nearly every community possesses evidence of its great curative power, in persons who have been cured by it of various throat and lung complaints, and who owe to it alone their recovery from the threatening symptoms of consumption. In emergencies like croup and sudden colds, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the remedy that every family should have at hand for the treatment of these cases as they arise.—Richmond, Va., Standard.

MESSRS. D. COYLE and Robt. Arkles, who were charged with infringement of the License Act, were arrainged yesterday afternoon before the Police Magistrate. There being no evidence to establish the case, the charge was dismissed.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

THERE are now nearly 170 students attending Ontario Business College. This makes it the second largest school of the kind on the continent, Eastman's College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., ranking first. We congratulate the Principals. Merit like virtue has its reward.

THE firemen are anxious to know what action the Fire Committee, and afterwards the City Council, will take in the matter of their petition, asking for an increase of grant. One thing is certain, there is more depending on the decision the Council may arrive at than many an aware of.

☞ GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

THE prospectus of the Ontario Steel Association is now being circulated among business men and capitalists of the city with a view of receivnig a certain amount of subscribed stock in the company. A meeting of stockholders and others interested will be held some time during the week, probably as soon as Mr. Hall returns from Madoc.

WHILE Francis Russell was in the Prince Edward House to-day, he stole a pair of black kid gloves which were lying on a chair, the property of a young man from Napanee. Sergt. McCrudden was informed of the larceny a short time after, and in a very few minutes Russell was lodged in the cells. In the meantime he had sold the gloves to David Cahill for 20 cts.

☞ CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

THE Herndons will occupy the boards at Metropolitan Hall for a season of three nights, beginning on Thursday. It is now about seven years since this celebrated family visited Belleville, and during their absence few troups were found to be their equals. On Thursday evening Bartley Campbell's emotional drama "Divorced" will be produced, at the close of which the amusing farce "The Gregories" will follow. Reserved seats can now be secured at Reynolds' without charge.

WE congratulate Mr. W. L. Hamilton on his promotion in the Inland Revenue Department to the position of Inspector for the Kingston District. His promotion will bring an increase of salary and a residence at Ottawa. While regretting to lose his genial company, we rejoice that his merits have been recognized. We also congratulate Mr. McAllister on his promotion to the Collectorship vacated by Mr. Hamilton. He, too, deserves the honor conferred. May both live long and be happy.

☞ No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

The tea-meeting and subsequent entertainment given by the congregation of Christ Church last evening, in the City Hall, attracted a large gathering. The tea was furnished by the ladies in the Butter Market, and was an excellent spread—they always spread themselves to good advantage. The entertainment took place in the City Hall, where the programme puplished in yesterday's ONTARIO, was carried out, each member meeting with favor from the audience. Hon. Lewis Wallbridge acted as Chairman. The Oddfellows' Reed Band was present, and contributed no small quota to the success of the entertainment. The financial result, we are pleased to learn, was all that could be desired, as the proceeds were in aid of the buildiog funds of their new church.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

In China.

In china, the man who can put the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of an article, is esteemed as a great genius, and rewarded accordingly. With us the man who puts the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of a garment is considered the meanest "crank" out of jail. There is after all, some difference between christian and pagan usage. Our garments are constructed on the most liberal principles—both as to quality, style and price—and are fully guaranteed to give

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

THE funeral of the late John Wonnacott took place from the Hastings House to the Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The attendance of friends and acquaintances was large.

☞ You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N Davenport's closing sale.

ROBERT McCOY, jr. purchased a span of fine bayhorses to-day from Mr. Herrington of Ameliasburgh for $210. Messrs. Cunningham and Wood, by their creditable exertion, succeeded in raising $125 by way of subscriptions, which will greatly assist Mr. McCoy in paying for the new team.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

THE true version of the affair in connection with the two young men who were arrested yesterday by Sergt. McCrudden on suspicion of having stolen the horse they were endeavoring to dispose of, has doubtless come to light. The Chief of Police, after several unsuccessful attempts to ascertain the residence of the two, learned this morning that the young man who gave his name as O'Brien formerly lived in Campbellford, where he has a widowed sister, Mrs. Fallon, with a family of five children. This lady arrived in the city by the early train this forenoon, and while sitting in the office of the Chief of Police informed a representative of this journal that the prisoner's name was O'Ryan and her brother. He left about three weeks ago, she said for Rathbun's lumber shanties and since that time word had reached her that he was doing well, but she denied having any knowledge of his leaving the woods until informed by telegram of his arrest in Belleville. The team of horses, sleigh, and harness were his property, but the action of her brother in endeavoring to dispose of them in the manner which he did, she attrituted to bad company and drink. He had been a faithful brother, and has, so we are informed, provided for his sister and family since the death of Fallon. The horse which the prisoner was trying to sell was got in enchange for one of the team his sister entrusted him with and $12, but on his release from custody at noon to-day, he started for home, and will leave Mr. C. Ashley's buggy at his shop when passing, through Foxboro'. Serg't. McCrudden is deserving of praise for his action for, had he not made the arrest, Mrs. Fallen would have been deprived of property she is greatly in need of.

EMBROIDERIES.—We received last week (through a mistake in shipping in Belleville) our Spring Stock of Embroideries. As many of our customers have inquired for this class of goods, we decided to place them in stock to-day (Monday, 30th inst.) and will sell them at a slight advance on cost. Among them are a lot seven inches wide, suitable for skirts, etc., at 30c. and 35c. per yard. H. L. BOTTOMS & Co.

DASHES.

—The county roads are as smooth as a house floor.

—Hay is selling on the market here for $8 and $9 a ton.

—This will answer very well for the first day of February.

—There's fun and health on the ice these days. The skating is excellent.

—The crossing between Kingston and Garden Island is now safe for the stage.

—There is yet no tidings of the writs for South Simcoe or New Westminster.

—A horse in St. Louis is just recovering from the small-pox. He had it bad, and is well marked.

—Jones, alias Carroll, will not be released from the Kingston Penitentiary until his sentence expires.

—Roswell P. Flower, of New York, is spoken of in connection with the Governorship of New York State.

—It is announced that all the land offered for sale by the Temperance Colonization Society has been taken up.

—Messrs. John Stevenson, James Fellows and A. Lewis have been appointed License Commissioners for Lennox.

—The date 1973 was printed for 1873 in Mr. Bertley's letter yesterday. It was a trifling error that all could easily detect.

—The Whig says our correspondent writes accurately about "the north country." He does, and about everything else, too.

—Hon. Peter Mitchell, when last in Ottawa, stated positively his intention to run for the Commons in Montreal West next July.

—Prof. Goldwin Smith is making long visits to Mr. Gladstone and the Bishop of Canterbury. This should console him for being refused admission to the Toronto St. George's Society.

—The Whig says the population of the United States is 45,000,000. Our contemporary will catch "Hail Columbia" for making such a mistake. Uncle Sam has over 50,000,000 of people, according to the last census.

—The Louisville Courier Jornal says the petticoat is gradually getting away with the ulster. There are seven school superintendents, twenty ministers, twenty-six physicians, four lawyers and three editors of the feminine sex in Kansas.

—Some time ago a North West mounted policeman was in Toronto with a maid servant named Mary Smith. He gave her the title deeds to sixty acres of his grant. She sold her interest for $4,000 and the purchaser sold it for $7 000, and now it is held for $14,000.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work exceeds any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. A SOCIAL SCENE.

Invasion of a Dancing Party by a Praying Party.

On the evening of the 26th ult. there was a jovial party at the house of a well-known resident of the 2nd concession of Sidney. They were merrily tripping the "light fantastic" to the dulcet notes of piano and violin, and the hours flew by on winged feet. About one o'clock in the morning, when the fun and frolic were furious, suddenly there came a tapping—as if somebody was rapping, gently rapping at the parlor door. The genial host hastened to open wide the portal to his hospitable mansion and bid his belated guests welcome to the cheer and warmth within. The smile upon his handsome face was turned into a ghastly grin when he beheld a number of pious neighbors, headed by a minister of the Gospel, formed in solemn file on his door-step. They quietly accepted the invitation to "come in," and formed a semi-circle about the stove. There was a sudden lull in the dancing, and the gallants looked askance while the belles blushed and tittered. But the silence was only for a moment. The minister, having removed his muffler and coat, arose and said—"Let us pray." This was something not on the programme, and the merry-makers demurred. They protested that a prayer-meeting and dancing party could not be carried on satisfactorily in the same room and at the same time; and that, as they were prior occupants of the premises the praying party were intruders. Both sides were determined to "hold the fort," and so while the saints were praying in one room the sinners were dancing in the other. This did not work well, and the host called a council of war, and resolved to allow the minister and his company twenty minutes to finish their devotions. When the allotted time expired, they (the prayers) were asked to retire, which they reluctantly complied with, the revellers cheering their retreating footsteps with "One more river to cross." We state facts, and have only to add that, while the minister and his friends were actuated by good motives, they acted most injudiciously. If the dancing party was held with the approval of the host and hostess, an intrusion of religious worship by uninvited guests did much more harm than good. Other and more suitable times and places for reproving worldiness could be found.

☞ It is a great gain to the physician's art, when he can make his medicine pleasant to the taste, as well as efficacious to cure. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam supplies both these qualities. It is agreeable to take, and certain to cure a cough and strengthen weak lungs.

A Sure Basis of Popularity.—Merit, apparent to a "cloud of witnesses," upon which the popularity of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is founded. Throat and lung complaints, pain, sereness, stiffness, swellings, burns and ailments of various other kinds, yield to the action of this speedy and safe remedy.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 58 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

—There is much satisfaction at Newark, N. J., with the sentence of Baldwin, ex-chashier of Mechanics' Bank to 15 years imprisonment.

—The annual charity ball of New York was a success last night in spite of the storm.

—Chief Judge Andrews of New York will probably be Justice Hunt's successor.

—Two members of S. C. Senate had an altercation, and one threatened to kill the other on site. Refusing to give bonds to keep the peace, the blood-thirsty Senator was jailed.

RAILWAY NOTES.

An Ottawa Correspondent says that it is understood that it is the intention of the company formerly known as the Toronto and Ottawa to push on the work of construction with all possible speed, as a doubt has been raised as to the validity of the bonus voted to the company by the city of Ottawa. It is more than likely that a legal arrangement will be come to between the Ottawa corporation and the company. It may be added that it is probable that arrangements will be made here whereby the new line will run in direct connection with the Canada Atlantic, and that the stations of both lines in Ottawa will be conveniently situated. From the way the work is being carried on, this new line between Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal, will probably be in operation before another winter.

☞ MACK'S MAGNETIC MEDICINE—the great brain and nerve food—will restore lost nature to young, middle-aged and old. Life is too short to waste away. Read the advertisement in another column, and if you are afflicted make no delay in procuring the cheapest and best medicine ever sold.

NO WASTE, BUT THRIFT!

Falstaff's pun in the "Merry Wives of Windsor" has been read by all readers of Shakespeare: "Indeed, I am in the waist two yards about; but I am now about no waste, I am about thrift." How greatly people err regarding thrift. Members of the family are sick with coughs, colds, lung diseases, asthma, or it may be consumption, the family doctor is called in and prescribes and makes visit after visit without any apparent advantage to the patient. A large bill is presented which is often paid with great reluctance. This might

THE JEANNETTA'S FATE.

Still Searching for the Missing Boat.

PARIS, Feb. 1.—Danerhauser telegraphs as follows:—

"IRKUTSK, Jan. 31.—Delong's party have been traced to Defonctive, a locality on the west bank of the Lena. Melville and the Russians are searching ardently. I am acting under positive orders, and will bear the investigation. Chipp's little boat has not been seen since the September gale. It doubtless swamped her. If she is not found before spring, I will charter the steamer Lena and search the coast between the Rivers Oleank and Kalinia. Jack Coles has been an invalid since October. The Jeannette entered the ice near Herald Island, September 6th, 1879. Her fore-foot was twisted from 1st January. We pumped eighteen months. The vessel drifted to the northwest during twenty-one months. She was crushed and sank, June 12th, in latitude 76 degrees, 15 min. north, longitude 156 deg. 20 min. east. She discovered Jeannette, Henrietta, and Bennett Islands. We made a retreat over the ice to New Siberia Islands, thence in boat to the Lena Delta. Melville was given charge of my boat by Delong. I was blind. Hearty, intelligent help was rendered by the Russians. Everything possible is being done.

Destructive Fire.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Feb. 1.—The flour mills of Thornton & Chester, Arnold & Little, and Oliver Gibson, were burned early this morning. Loss, $125,000; insurance, $86,000. At one time the entire block, north side of Main street was threatened. Assistant-Chief Engineer, Geo. Woods to escape burning to death jumped from the 6th story and was killed. Several other firemen were injured.

Englishmen Satisfied.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The Times says the mediation in South American war, such as Frelinghuysen, commissioned Truscott to undertake, is tainted with no designs for private profit. The Arbiters expect that which peace must bring to all. Englishmen must be permitted to regard the attempt with as sincere a good will as if devised on their special behalf.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.

Too much cannot be said of the ever-faithful wife, and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and the bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world and only cost fifty cents Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

The New York Fire.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The papers this morning differ on the number of casualities of yesterday's fire. The Herald states 14 persons are still missing. Hunter, lawyer Todd's clerk, reported missing yesterday, escaped unhurt. Orlando Potter owner of the burned building was a Tammany candidate for Congress in 1878. He claims he complied with all the requirements of building and fire departments. His application to be allowed to raise the building two stories higher was recently refused by the fire department.

The Proposed Conference.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Blaine's despatch inviting a conference of North and South American republics, states a growing disposition in certain States of Central and South America to refer disputes to arbitration, convinces the President the time is ripe for a proposal that shall enlist the good will and active co-operation of all States of the western hemisphere in the interest of humanity and for the common wealth of nations. The President therefore invites all independent countries of North and South America to participate in a general congress at Washington for the purpose of considering methods of preventing war between nations of America. The President desires that the attention of the Congress shall be strictly confined to this one subject.

AMONG THE FOLLIES OF THE AGE which the introduction of SOZODONT long since exploded, was the use of abrasive and corrosive tooth preparations, which either contained minerals which scratched their enamel, or acids which dissolved it. SOZODONT, a health promoting substitute for these empirical articles, is a botanic, skillfully prepared, highly sanctioned preparation, which not only beautifies, cleanses and invigorates saffron-colored and defective teeth, but divests the breath of an objecsionable odor and restores it to that of health.

LIFE IS LOST BY NEGLIGENCE.

THERE are thousands who every year descend to the grave whose lives might have been saved had they but attended to the health when it was first threatened by the ravages of disease. It is a well known fact that the simplest remedies are able to check the most tenacious diseases in their first stages but at the latter gain strength the difficulty increases in even greathr ratio. This is especially true in respect to throat and lung diseases which are worked upon in a remarkable manner by Dr Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam which relieves the inflammation, causes a free raising or expectoration of phlegm, heals the raw soreness of the throat and pipes while at the same time it allays the accompanying fever, strengthens the system, and prevents the serious symptoms whish are apt to follow a neglected cold. The reputation of this balsam has become world-wide and its cures are numbered by thousands. It has saved many lives to friends and the country and is kept as household friend in very many homes throughout this continent and even across the Atlantic.

Sold everywhere at 25 cents and 40 cents per bottle.

The Best Field —FOR— EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

OVERCOATS!

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

NOT DEAD—NOT ALIVE.

Whilst Lionel Falconer is ploughing the waves, with the fresh breeze blowing upon his forehead, let us return to the darkened chamber at Marlwood, where Ethel Brandley lay struggling between life and death.

For three weeks the contest between the rival disputants was fiercely continued.

But the grim monster was not permitted to triumph, and at length, though unwillingly, he sheathed his dart and took his departure.

Ethel was pronounced out of immediate danger.

The rays of the January sun were permitted gradually to steal into the sick room, and the worn and debilitated patient was able to be lifted from her bed to her couch, where she lay, so silent and motionless, that she seemed rather to belong to the dead than to the living.

In this listless state a month passed.

Aunt Winifred, who, in the crisis of Ethel's danger, had been sent for, still remained by her niece's side.

Perhaps, from old associations, her presence might have been a comfort to the invalid.

But this was a mere matter of surmise.

No expression of satisfaction escaped her lips.

The power of observation and the gift of memory (perhaps it was mercifully ordered so) seemed to have departed.

She lay like one who had returned from a long sojourn in the land of silence and oblivion, but who fancied herself still there.

John Brandley, who had been terribly anxious during the time his daughter's life hung upon a thread, now that the danger seemed to be averted, and a respite granted to the sufferer, began to grow hopeful again.

It was thought no longer necessary for Winifred to remain in her capacity of nurse.

She accordingly returned once more to the cottage.

Ethel offered no objection to her departure.

Scarcely appeared to notice her absence.

Certainly she did not miss her.

If ever she had been in a calm and tractable state, she was so now.

At least so John Brandley, with his usual blindness, thought.

The old man quite chimed in with his future son-in-law's idea that Ethel's violent outburst on the Christmas night was nothing more than a morbid excitement of the brain, which had culminated in her recent illness.

'You will see she will be better now, my dear John,' said Joshua, encouragingly.

John quite believed this, for had he not ocular demonstration how nicely she was getting on?

As the physician said, 'she was steadily though slowly (very lowly, indeed some persons might have thought) progressing."

Joshua with his usual ceritable forethought, that always studied the happiness of others before his own, had abstained from appearing before his intended bride since her illness, lest his presence should bring on a relapse of the old symptoms, and drive her mad once more.

But he had not forgotten to give his instructions to her father.

'You will be sure and let her know how I risked my life in her behalf, when she hung suspended over the brink of that dreadful quarry,' urged the wily counsellor; 'it will have the happiest effect, I am sure.'

John Brandley, who was not blind, could not conceal from himself that his daughter's rescue was entirely due to a different person altogether from Joshua Penn.

But he could not very well contradict his friend or suggest to him that he was telling a palpable falsehood of the most contemptible description, and so, considering the interests at stake, and how necessary it was that his child should by any possible means be induced to look favourably upon her anxious suitor, he brought himself gradually to hope that he might be pardoned for any little deviation he might take from the exact truth in endeavouring to secure so happy a result.

The old man, therefore, took the earliest opportunity of leading up to the subject.

With much eloquence of a peculiar description, mingled with numerous devout expressions of thanksgiving of mercies received, he explained to his daughter the imminent position in which she had been placed.

No shudder, no thrill of horror followed the harrowing recital.

Not even when he described in vivid colours the daring act which the chivalrous Joshua had (not) performed, in risking his own precious neck to save her, did she evince the slightest gratitude to her gallant preserver.

John Brandley was astonished, but he did not entirely give it up.

He fancied, from her passive indifference, his daughter had not quite understood him, and he repeated his words.

'You were on the very brink of destruction, my dear Ethel,' exclaimed the old man, with increased emphasis, 'suspended between life and death, when that noble-minded young man (meaning Josh, of course) snatched you from your impending fate, and restored you to those who love you.'

For a moment, and for a moment only, did Ethel's consciousness seem to return.

For without looking at her father, or moving in any way from her position, a low hollow laugh broke faintly from her lips.

Then she said, hoarsely—

'I would rather he had let me die; what is life to me?'

After which she spoke no more.

No reasoning or argument on the part of parent could again rouse her attention or elicit a reply.

It was most annoying, most embarrassing to John Brandley to find his daughter so utterly devoid of appreciation where Joshua Penn was concerned.

What could he say to him what he asked him (as he most certainly would) how the recital of his heroic deed had affected Ethel?

He was unwilling to tell a direct lie—he could not tell the exact truth.

There was only one way of escape (a way of which, to his own loss and disgrace, he had availed himself pretty often of late)—

We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat, eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands. Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRS, London, Eng.

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY

JOB MOSES' PILLS

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It invigorates the debilitated and delicate, and by regulating and strengthening the system fortifies the youthfull constitution for the duties of life, and when taken in middle or old age proves a real blessing; and on the approach of child birth these pills should be used two or three weeks previous to confinement; the benefits to be derived are incalculable; they fortify the constitution; lessen the suffering during labor, prevent weakness of the organs, and enable the mother to perform her duties with comfort to herself and child. In all cases of of Nervous Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites and Blues, these pills will effect a cure when all othermeans have failed, and, although a powerful remedy do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution. Full directions in the pamphlet round each package. JOB MOSES, NEW YORK, SOLE PROPRIETOR. $1.00 and 12 cents for postage enclosed to Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, Ont., general agent for the Dominion, will insure a bottle containing over 50 pills, by return mail. For sale by all druggists in Belleville, G. T. Wilson, Man Bolter, Stirling W. C. Barke, Trenton and all medicine dealers.

CURE FOR ALL

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

THIS GREAT HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE RANKS AMONGST THE LEADING NECESSARIES OF LIFE.

These famous Pills purify the BLOOD, and act most powerfully, yet soothing on the Liver, Stomach Kidneys

and BOWELS, giving one, energy, and vigour to these great MAIN SPRINGS OF LIFE. They are confidently recommended as a never failing remedy in all cases where the constitution, from whatever cause, has become impaired or weakened. They are wonderfully efficacious in all ailments incidental to Females of all ages; and as a GENERAL FAMILY MEDICINE, are unsurpassed.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

Its Searching and Healing Properties known throughout the World.

For the cure of BAD LEGS, Bad Breast,

Old Wounds Sores and Ulcers

is an infallible remedy. If effectually rubbed on the neck and chest, as salt in meat, it Cures SORE THROAT, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and even ASTHMA. For Glandular Swellings, Abscesses, Piles, Fistulas,

Gout Rheumatism,

And every kind of SKIN-DISEASE, it has never been known to fail.

The Pills and Ointmen are manufacture only at

533 OXFORD STREET, LONDON,

and are sold by all Vendors of Medicines throughout the Civilized World; with directions or use in almost every language.

The Trade Marks of these Medicines are registered in Ottawa. Hence, any one through out the British Possessions, who may keep the American Counterfeits for sale, will be prosecuted.

Purchasers should look to the Label on the Pots and Boxes. If the address is not 533 Oxford Street, London, they are spurious

SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness.

Ague Cure

Is a purely vegetable bitter and powerful tonic, and is warranted a speedy and certain cure or Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Intermittent or Chill Fever, Remitent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and all malarial disorders. In miasmatic districts, the rapid pulse, coated tongue, thirst, lassitude, loss of appetite, pain in the back and loins, and coldness of the spine and extremities, are only premonitions of severer symptoms, which terminate in the ague paroxysm, succeeded by high fever and profuse perspiration.

It is a starting fact, that quinine, arsenic and other poisonous minerals, form the basis of most of the "Fever and Ague Preparations," "Specifics," "Syrups," and "Tonics," in the market. The preparations made from these mineral poisons, although they are palatable, and may break the chill, do not cure, but leave the malarial and their own drug poison in the system, producing quinism, dizziness, ringing in the ears, headache, vertigo, and other disorders more formidable than the disease they were intended to cure. AYER'S AGUE CURE thoroughly eradicates these noxious poisons from the system, and always cures the severest cases. It contains no quinine, mineral, or any thing that could injure the most delicate patient; and its crowning excellence, above its certainty to cure, is that it leaves the system as free from disease as before the attack.

For Liver Complaints, AYER'S AGUE CURE, by direct action on the liver and biliary apparatus, drives out the poisons which produce these complaints, and stimulates the system to a vigorous, healthy condition.

We warrant it when taken according to directions.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN ON THE LOSS OF MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

RUSSIAN ANTI-JEWISH CRUSADE.

A Description by an Eye Witness of some of the Recent Outrages—Plunder, Ravishing and Murder.

The London Daily News publishes a long description given by a Russian gentleman named Myer Bankanovitch, who has just arrived from Smilla, in the province of Goborno, in Southern Russia of the scenes there of which he was an eye-witness. He says:—"The outbursts of terrorism occurred chiefly at the monthly fairs, when large numbers of farmers and peasants assembled in the town and the townpeople incited the farmers to attack other Jews. The drinking houses were thrown open and drink was freely given to the fanatical populace. Large numbers of the townspeople went round with the mob and pointed out the quarters where the Jews lived. The public drinking house kept by Jews were first broken into and the casks rolled into the street and some of them were smashed, and the people drank the raw spirits out of the streets. These acts were followed by the breaking open of the warehouses and places of business kept by Jews, which were wrecked, goods of all kinds were thrown into the streets and trampled upon in the mad orgie which ensued. Furniture and cupboards were broken into and ransacked, and in one warehouse alone, kept by a man named Berkowich, spirits to the value of 50,000 rubles were emptied into the street, excepting such quantities as were carried off or consumed by the mob. Many of the populace of the town joined with the mob in their attacks, while others, including even the police incited them to continue their violence. They broke into many houses and plundered them in the sight of the authorities, grossly ill-treating the inmates in every instance.

GROSS BRUTALITY.

One house was that of an old man named Abraham Miller who was much beloved and respected by the Jews. He was over seventy years of age, and lived with his wife, son and daughter-in-law and two grand children. When the marauders attacked his house all the family took refuge at the top of the premises, and tried to hide themselves. They were discovered and fiercely attacked. The old man and his son, driven to bay, killed two of their assailants, but they were soon overpowered and dragged down the stairs and cruelly maltreated. The woman were outraged and every member of the family, including the children, was afterwards brutally murdered. I speak from my own personal knowledge of these facts, and, from what I saw and know. I solemnly declare that there were not less than fifty or sixty women and young girls outraged by the mob. One girl whom I knew ultimately died from the effects of this revolting treatment. It is impossible for me to give any idea of the number of Jews killed; but the whole of the 2,000 families were attacked, and numbers were killed, especially in those cases where there was any attempt made at defence.

THE REIGN OF TERROR

in Simila lasted on one occasion for thirty hours, there being no attempt on the part of the police or military to quell the riot. The police, this writer says, instead of assisting the persecuted people, mingled with the crowd in the houses of the Jews while the furniture was being broken to atoms and the valuables being thrown out of the windows or confiscated. All the interference which they exercised was occasionally to ask the crowd to behave "gently" while they were looking at the devastation. Few, if any, of the populace were arrested, although the atrocities on the Jews were committed wholesale and under the eyes of the soldiers, who frequently helped the rioters to maltreat the Jewish people. The report of the commission appointed at Warsaw to relieve the victims of the anti-Jewish riots there shows that altogether there were 2,011 families ruined, numbering about 10,000 souls. They include 246 publicans 281 tobaconists and other retail shopkeepers, 498 eating housekeepers and others engaged in the supply of refreshments, 318 workmen and 434 employers. During the riots there were demolished 292 liquor shops, 603 eating houses, warehouses and synagogues, and 393 private houses, all the property of Jews.

A PROVINCIAL POLICE FORCE.

A circular has been sent from the Attorney-General's office to every County Court and junior Judge, Sheriff, County Attorney, Police Magistrate, Stipendiary Magistrate, County Constable, Chief Constable, County Treasurer, and County Warden in the Province asking for their opinions as to the efficiency or otherwise of the present system of detecting crime and bringing the offenders to justice. The questions asked by the circular are whether the constabulary force in the county of the recipient is considered reasonably sufficient, or whether it is considered that in the interests of justice this force as now constituted requires to be supplemented by the appointment of detectives or constables, paid by salary instead of fees; whether there is any reason for beleiving that criminals now escape detection or conviction who, under such an arrangement, might be brought to Justice; and, if so, whether this evil exists to any considerable extent in the particular locality of the recipient. So far some fifty or sixty answers have been received, the tenor of which differs very widely. Most of those who have replied to the circular seem to consider a change of some kind necessary. Some favour the appointment of a local officer, to be paid by salary, and others are of the opinion that the ends of justice would be more satisfactorily served than at present by a more centralized system under which the services of trained detectives could be secured in any locality as they might be required. The letters already received, however, vary so greatly in the views expressed, and are such a small proportion of the total number expected to be forwarded, that at present it would be altogether premature to attempt to foreshadow the results of this important enquiry.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

☞ We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat, eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

Not the least important feature in Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is the Comfort, Buoyancy and Vigor which is inspired by its use, and which is developed as the patient recovers from sickness.

From Nathan Pimmer, M. D., Auburne, N. H

"Although averse to countenancing patent medicines, I cheerfully make an exception of your very excellent Lung preparation—DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. This preparation I have used in my practice for more than ten years past, and have always found it to be of more effectual service than anything within my knowledge. I recommend it with the greatest confidence to those subject to coughs and pulmonary complaints."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtues of this native medicinal gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A CURE FOR CROUP.

Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds. All dealers supply it, price 25 cents.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.

Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at Jas. Clarke & Co's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affections of the Throat and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above Drug Store.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.

PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the CORN EXTRACTOR will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

Millions of Bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have been given away as Trial Bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Jas Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store, and get a Trial bottle free, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.

are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT. which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

NEVER GIVE UP.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by all druggists.

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

A STUBBORN FACT,

Dr. Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry is without a doubt, the safest and most reliable remedy in existence, for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, sour stomach, sea-sickness, and all summer complaints. It acts like a charm. Its effects are marvellous—relief instantaneous, cure speedy. Physicians and all who use it recommend it. It should be kept in every home at this season, for use in cases of emergency. For sale by all dealers.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

A TONIC WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Dyspeptics and those suffering from chronic diseases should read the following from Rev. John Gregory, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at Pittiston, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the meditine called PERUVIAN SYRUP or Protected Solution of Protoxide of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alterative, it is, I think, unsurpassed; and as a tonic, free from all the objectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance cause. One of the greatest hindrances to the temperance reform at present is, I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulents. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, a safe and efficient substitute for those dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unsolicited with the hope that some who are not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial.

Sold by all druggists.

ST. THOMAS, Ont. Jan. 2nd, 1882.
M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.

MY DEAR SIR,—In September last I contracted a severe cold upon my lungs, quite severely afflicting the left one. I had very bad cough accompanied by expectoration indication of Pulmonary Phthisis. My strength decreased and spirits sank very low, and when I called upon you it was in doubt whether any medical treatment would avail in my case. Under your treatment I have already recovered my wanted strength and health, my weight has increased, my cough has ceased, and in every way I feel very much benefitted by your treatment. You are at perfect liberty to use these statements as you please.

Very sincerely yours,

DAILY ONTARIO

MONDAY FEB. 6, 1882

—The whipping post will not be abolished in Virginia, where it has been used for many years as a punishment for wife-beaters. Nothing else answers so wholesome a purpose.

—The Local Legislature continues its short sittings. Since the Address was passed little has been accomplished besides routine. At this rate the session will be extended to the usual length, and there will be the usual grumbling when the expenses are footed up.

—The recent fire in New York has again directed public attention to the question of better means of escape for the occupants of high buildings. It appears to us that a cheap and convenient remedy could be found in the construction of substantial rope ladders, which could be kept at proper places on each floor. In case of fire, and inability to escape by the stairs, these ladders could be lowered from windows in a few minutes and the inmates easily rescued. The proprietor of every high building in which workman were employed should be compelled by law to make such provisions for the safety of h's employers.

THE Mail has said that "Sir Francis Hincks, one of the arbitrators, states that since the award he has been convinced that in one direction it was wrong, and the true boundary was not fixed by it." To this statement Sir Francis gives an emphatic denial. The Mail has reduced itself to very small proportions since the Ontario Legislature met, in its anxiety to get rid of Mr. Mowat.

A COMPANY, under the title of the "Niagara Fall Reclamation and Improvement Company," is seeking incorporation from the Ontario Legislature with a view of carrying out the provisions of the Act of 1880, and the suggestions of Earl Dufferin. It is composed of English and American capitalists, who ask power to reclaim and restore to a state of natural and pristine beauty a strip of land along the river containing about 350 acres, and extending from above the Burning Spring of the Whirlpool Gorge. This is to be underdrained and planted with trees, and all unsightly structures are to be removed. Ornamental buildings, &c., will be constructed. There will be no charge to the public for entering and passing through the grounds, but a tariff will be imposed, subject to Government approval, for visiting the structures, obsetvatories, and enclosed places on the grounds. The capital of this company is $1,000,000.

TO BE HUNG.

The Guiteau comedy came to an end for the present at Washington on Saturday. Judge Cox overruled the application for a new trial and sentenced the prisoner to be hung June 30th, between the hours of 12, noon, and 2 p. m. The objections and pleas by Scoville were not calculated to attract much attention, although the judge admitted that some of them were well taken. It was proved, much to the discomfit of the defence, that Snyder, the man who found the paper with the jurors names written thereon, is himself a forger and swindler. This revelation at once disposed of all the capital sought to be made out of that plea, and it is safe to say Scoville did not escape part of the odium that attached to so disreputable a proceeding. There may be an appeal from the decision of the court, but this is not probable. Guiteau deserves hanging and he will be hung.

The murderous assassin of the President should receive the award which outraged law assigns to his crime. We pity him as a human being, but we have no sympathy with any silly sentimentalism that, overlooking the fact that he is a murderer and a depraved wretch of the darkest dye, would wish for him any other fate than that of the hangman's rope. His acquittal would have been as horrible as the death of the President. The world would have been shocked at the suicidal enormity, and unbiased conscience would have uttered its protest in thunder tones. "He that sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed," is alike the law of God and the law of human safety.

THE WEST NORTHUMBERLAND PROTEST.

The legal documents in the West Northumberland contested election case are published in full by the Cobourg World. The petition of John Henderson, David Ramsay and Henry John Snelgrove recites that Guillet, the member elect, was, by himself and by his agent or agents, and by other persons on his behalf, guilty of bribery, before, during, and after the said election. The petitioners further say that Geo. Guillet was, by himself or by his agent or agents, and by other persons on his behalf, guilty of treating, before, during, and after the said election; also that George Guillet was, by himself or by his agent or agents, guilty of undue influence before, during and after the election. It is further alleged that George Guillet was guilty of and did commit corrupt practices, within the meaning of, and as defined by the Dominion Elections Act of 1874 and the Dominion Controverted Elections Act of 1874; and was and is incapable of being elected or returned to the Parliament for which the election was held, and should be declared incapable of being elected to or sitting in the House of Commons of Canada during the seven years next after the date of his being proved or found guilty of the said offence.

LOVELL'S DIRECTORY.

As mentioned Saturday, we have received a copy of Lovell's Business and Professional Directory of the Province of Ontario for 1882. The prospectus promised a work of about 1,000 pages, but it was found necessary to extend the number to 1441. A vast amount [illegible] has been carefully [illegible] the work indispensible for reference by business men generally. It is mentioned that, in 1857, when Lovell's Canada Directory was issued, the Province of Ontario (then called Upper Canada) contained 830 places in which business occupations were carried on. There are now 1733 such places, besides a large number of places inhabited by farmers and others not engaged in mercantile pursuits. In addition to the lists of names, the Directory contains an extensive collection of statistics and miscellaneous information relating to the Province of Ontario and Canada generally.

Special mention is made of the increase of the newspaper press of the Province. In 1871 there were published in Ontario 24 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 1 semi-weekly, 195 weekly, 6 semi-monthly, 25 monthly, 1 quarterly, 1 annual, or a total of 255. In 1881 there were 29 daily, 2 tri weekly, 5 semi-weekly, 290 weekly, 2 bi-monthly, 10 semi-monthly, 43 monthly, 4 annual, or a total of 385. This shows an apparent increase of 130 during the last ten years. The price of the Directory is $6.—John Lowell & Son, Montreal.

How a Visitor from Napanee Suffered the Ills of Life.

On Tuesday of last week Mr. Unger, of Napanee, brother of Mrs. G. S. Johnston, College-st., came up to visit friends in this vicinity. He brought with him his wife and two children, both boys, the older being about 5 years, and the younger 7 months. He spent the first night with his wife's grandfather, Mr. T. S. Casey, Sidney, where one of his horses was injured in the stable. After nursing the animal carefully for two days he was able to get to Mr. Johnston's on Thursday. Here the other horse was taken sick, and Dr. Cook was called in to administer to the animal's needs. On Friday just before starting for home his younger child took seriously ill with the diarrhoea and died Saturday night. On Saturday afternoon, about 2 p. m. the other child went in search of his father who had gone down town. The child lost his way and wandered about four hours without sufficient clothing in the piercing cold. As near as can be ascertained the little fellow got on the railway track and went to the G. T. R. depot, and from there was brought to the upper bridge on a street car. His friends, who had been searching for him in great alarm found him nearly frozen on North Front Street late in the evening. During this suspense the mother was holding the dying form of the younger child in her arms. This morning, with some friends, Mr. Unger left for Napanee, taking the remains of his loved one with him.

PRESENTATION TO MR. H. M. HICKS.

On Wednesday evening of last week, Mr. H. M. Hicks, M. A., Head Master of the Trenton High School, was presented by his pupils with a beautiful silver Tea Service, accompanied by a very flattering address, which concluded as follows:—You shall ever bloom in our affections as a white rose. Your private life during the ten years of your service as our Head Master, has been so irreproachable that the immaculate white rose is in our opinion the proper emblem to cherish in memory of our departed, but not forgotten, teacher for

"Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled,
You may break you may ruin the vase if you will,
But the scent of the roses will hang round it still."

Mr. Hicks replied in fitting terms. We quote the concluding sentences:—In conclusion, if advice may be given here, I will say, be prudent, be patient, be persevering, be temperate; never pretend to be good, but be good regardless of all seeming, and you are sure of success in this world, and shall receive in the world to come that inheritance so eagerly desired by one who asked "What shall I do to gain eternal life?

Discharge aright.
The simple duties with which each day is rife;
Yea with thy might.
Ere perfect scheme of action thou desire
Will life be fled.
While he who ever acts as conscience cries
Shall live though dead.

"THE FERRY QUESTION."

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

SIR.—Having spoken of the different ferry routes in my former communications, I will now consider the subject of boat service, and rates of fare. And first, I may say that it will make no difference which route is finally decided on, as far as the boat itself is concerned, as the boat accommodation and expense of the boat must be nearly the same in either case.

A boat about one-third larger than the Prince Edward, that could make two round trips per hour, would very nearly increase the present carrying capacity three fold, and would meet every requirement for many years to come.

Now, the question arises, can this be done, and if so, what style of boat do we require; what shall be the rate of fare; and where shall we land in order to accommodate the patrons of the boat the best; and at the lowest possible expense? One boat can be run with much less expense than two, and, therefore, we must confine ourselves to this idea, in order to economise, and afford low rates of fare, and build a boat to meet all the requirements on this basis. A boat with a flat bottom, light draft, and sufficient power to make the round trip every half hour, in any kind of weather, and so constructed as to break the ice until it is sufficiently strong to carry a pair of horses along side, is required.

The boat wants to be strong in the hull, but in all other respects light and tasty with comfortable cabin and seat accommodation, roomy enough to do the business without crowding or confussion. Such a boat would cost from $10,000 to $12,000. Now, the question arises, can a boat run four times across the bay from the Dundas Street landing, and have sufficient time left to make the landings—that is, allowing forty minutes for running time and five minutes for each landing and departure? This is a question that can be easily demonstrated, by taking a parellel case—the Fulton, and other New York ferries. It is well known to many of our citizens, that those boats have at least five times the carrying capacity of our Prince Edward, and the largest of them only draw from 2½ to 3 feet when fully loaded; and the Brooklyn ferries are only allowed three minutes time for their landing and departure. If they can run their boats in this way at Brooklyn, what is to hinder us doing the same thing at Belleville, with the same facilities? It is said by some people here that we connot run such a light-draft boat in heavy winds; but what reliance can be placed in an ascertion of this kind, when we know the Brooklyn boats have far heavier weather to encounter than we have here, to say nothing about the strong currents caused by the tides. They have plenty of water about New York, and they build light draft boats from choice, not necessity, for the reason that they can handle them more easily, and economically, and with a given amount of power, can make better time. It is therefore idle to say that two round trips cannot be made from Dundas-st. in any kind of weather.

This brings us to our last point, for consideration at this time. viz: rates of fare for ferriage; and we might just as well put this on a business basis at once. No man will put on a boat and maintain it without a fair, reasonable compensation, and there are only two ways of meeting this requirement; one by subsidy, and the other, and more reasonable way, by charging those that use the boat, a reasonable rate for the accommodation they receive. The question remains, what is a reasonab'e rate? This of course depends upon the amount of the original investment, and the running expenses, which must be provided for, and a reasonable margin for profit out of the receipts of the boat. We can judge of the business of the present time, and make some sort of an estimate upon the increased profits, by reason of better accommodation and lower rates, and I will give a list of rates. which I will undertake to carry out, together with the boat accommodation above referred to, upon condition that the City will give me an exclusive lease of the ferry from Belleville to Ameliasburgh, for fifteen years, and furnish and maintain suitable landings on both sides of the bay to do the business,—for foot passengers 3 cents each way; for one horse, buggy and driver, 8 cents; for two horses and driver, light, 10 cents; for two horses, driver and load, 12½ cents.

In my next, and closing article, I will sum up the whole question, as we have considered it in our former communications.

Yours respectfully,
REX.

Belleville, Feb. 3rd., 1882.

☞Why allow that noble animal the horse to go limping along painfully, when the use of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment would be certain to relieve him quickly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WROTE A POEM.—A London correspondent writes: I must not forget to mention that before he left here the Marquis of Lorne wrote a poem. It will shortly appear in "Good Words." The Princess Louise has also contributed to the same excellent work, once edited by the Queen's famous chaplain, Norman Macleod, several sketches of the scenery and surroundings of Ottawa.

NOTES OF LONGEVITY.—Near Potsdam, N. Y., live eight aged men whose combined ages are 672 years, and whose averages are 84 years. Their names and ages are as follows: Silas Leonard 84, James Riggs 82, John Stafford 82, Abial Mitchell 88, Porter Patterson 83, Edward Soper 82, Silsby Smith 78, Ansel Dains 93. These men are all farmers, living in a farming community, and within a radius of about one mile of the corners, and all but two of them within about one-fourth of a mile.

THE BIGAMIST.—Dr. J. W. Griffiths, the Civil Service bigamist, was arrested last night at the instance of the father of wife No. 2. The prisoner formerly lived at Fergus, Ont., where he practised medicine in partnership with Dr. Orton, M. P., through whose influence, it is said, he received an appointment in the Civil Service. He says that he was divorced in the United States from the first wife, but upon being communicated with by telegraph she denied this. He was arranged before the Police Magistrate this morning, but was remanded to Wednesday without any evidence being taken, as the prosecution was not ready to go on. Bail was refused. The affair has created a profound sensation as the prisoner ranked high in social circles.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

Allen's Lung Balsam excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or ucts; changes the secretions and purifies the blood: heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the

A ROADSIDE HORROR.

A Woman's Clothing Catches Fire From Her Husband's Pipe and She is Burned Beyond All Hope of Recovery.

Patrick Sullivan and his wife have until lately lived in the Burwell Settlement, in the Township of Caradoc, but during yesterday were engaged in moving a short distance away to a new homestead. They were riding in a waggon, in the bottom of which was a quantity of straw. The husband was smoking, a spark fell among the inflammable material and, fanned by the wind, suddenly burst into a flame. Mrs. Sullivan had smelled the smoke a moment before, and her next sensations were that she were afire. She became hysterical with fear and screamed so loudly that the horses were frightened beyond the control of the husband. She sprang out and ran along the roadside, enveloped in flames, and not until nearly all her clothing had been burned off and her husband had been able to return, was the fire extinguished. She was at once taken into a neighboring house, and Dr. Francis, of Deleware, summoned. He found that the flesh on her body had been literally roasted and her injuries of so serious a character that he entertains no hope of her recovery. Her sufferings were most agonizing. She had $65 in bills in her pocket, and they were burned to ashes. She and her family have the sympathies of the entire community.—London Free Press of Saturday.

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, eradicates offections of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, wounds sores lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle.

ALL CLASSES OF Professional and business men at times are subject to extreme nerve prostration from excessive brain work and worry, and by advice, commonly resort to stimulants, opium, chloral or bromides to subdue irritability and restlessness. These agents only put to sleep the sentinel that warns the system when overworked, while the waste of vital force continues. Here is a large consumption of phosphates, the source of nerve power, than is furnished by the food, and the deficiency may be supplied by the use of DR. WHEELER'S Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an easily assimilable form of these elements of nerve nutrition.

HUMANE

MEANS to be considerate for others than ourselves. It means kindness to our beasts of burden. A wise man is always considerate for his horse, because it can and will carry him better, faster and farther than if it limps or travels in pain. All cold during the coming twelve months. In some instances it will be checked in the beginning by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam and the people will forget that anything was ever the matter with them; but unfortunately in the other cases it, unheeded, will be permitted to grow until the symptoms become alarming, and the family physician will be called in. He may cure or may not, according to the condition of the patient but at what expense of time and money? If Dr. Wilson's remedy had been first used the whole expense would have been a few cents. It is a mistake that

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co., during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture,

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

THE body of the late Mrs. B Purdy, was interred in the cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral cortege was a very large one, thus showing the respect in which deceased was held by the public generally.

AT a meeting of the Public Works Committee on Saturday night, two tenders were received for supplying the city with 100 cords of stone for paving a portion of Front-st—one from Jas. Munley, for $1 75 per yard laid, and the other from A. E. McMillan for $1.25 unlaid. Mr. Munley also offered to furnish cobble stone at $1.25. The tenders were referred to the Street Surveyor.

EVERY citizen interested in the welfare of the city should attend the public meeting in Metropolitan Hall to-morrow evening. The project of locating smelting works here will be fully laid before the meeting by Mr. Hall, and it is hoped local capitalists will be favorably impressed with his views, and subscribe liberally. Remember the gods help those who help themselves.

THE wife of the man O'Rourke, who recently committed a double murder near Hamilton, is now living with her friends near Bath. She left her husband six years ago, owing to his brutal treatment. A Whig reporter had an interview with her last Friday, and found her a small-sized person of prepossessing appearance. She related the particulars of her marriage and separation, but requested that her name be not published.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

EDOUARD REMENYI, the violinist, performed at Scranton, Pa., the other evening, and was extremely annoyed while playing some very delicate strains, by a couple of people cracking and craunching peanuts; finally he lost patience, quit playing and left the stage. He was loudly recalled, and on his reappearance he stepped to the front, and in broken English, but with much sincerity, announced that, "when the gentleman has finished his peanut solo I will go on." The speech was loudly applauded, and no more peanut performances occurred that evening.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

AT the recent examination by the Ontario Law Society, at Osgoode Hall, Toronto. Mr. G. J. Sherry, for over five years a student with Mr. John J. B. Flint, succeeded in passing fourth in a class of twenty-seven candidates for Attorney, and fifth in a list of twenty-eight candidates for Barrister. We are informed the papers were unusually severe, and only about half of those who entered were successful. The creditable examination of Mr. Sherry speaks well for the attention he has devoted to the study of law, and we predict for him a prosperous future. It is understood he will enter into partnership with Mr. Flint in a few days. Mr. S. Masson, also passed the same examination with credit. The latter was for some time a student with Messrs. Denmark and Northrup.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

In China.

In china, the man who can put the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of an article, is esteemed as a great genius, and rewarded accordingly. With us the man who puts the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of a garment is considered the meanest "crank" out of jail. There is after all, some differences between christian and pagan usage. Our garments are constructed on the most liberal principles—both as to quality, style and price—and are fully guaranteed to give the best satisfaction.

REMENYI in the City Hall to night.

THE Police Magistrate has gone to Toronto.

MR. S. PHIPPEN returned from Winnipeg on Saturday.

REMENYI—Every body should go and hear this great artist to night.

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

THE Herndon Opera House Company left here on the "mixed" this morning for Trenton.

ALD. MCININCH and LaRoche presided at the Police Court this morning in the absence of the Cadi.

WE have received the fifth annual report of Chief McKinnon, but are unable to publish it to-day. It will appear to-morrow.

TO-NIGHT a regular meeting of the City Council should be held, but as the Chairman of Finance is absent from the city, it is doubtful if a meeting will be convened.

☞ N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

LOST on Saturday evening, a silver ear-ring, supposed to have been lost on Main street or east end of Pinnacle street. The finder will confer a favour by leaving it at this office.

CITY MISSION SERVICES this week: This evening at Mr. J. Hannah's, Moira-st; Tuesday at Mrs. Westlake's, Brock-st; Thursday, at the City Mission School Room, Mr. Covert's store, Church-st; Friday, at Mr. Bean's, Station Road. All services at 7 30 o'clock.

THE deputation which left on the early train this morning for Toronto, was composed of the following gentlemen: Ald. Dickson, Brignall, Frost, Diamond, Dunnet, Starling and the Solicitor. Ald. Starling will not return with the committee, as he purposes going to Winnipeg.

☞ YOU will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

THE Hamilton Times notices the project to establish smelting works &c. here, by the Steel Association of Ontario, and adds: These are large figures and if Belleville is not disappointed in securing these industries, the population of the Bay City should be doubled in a short time. Success to the enterprise.

LATE Saturday afternoon Rev. A. Turnbull received a telegram from Rev. Dr. Castle, of Toronto, stating that he would be unable, owing to sudden illness, to preach in the Baptist Church here as announced. The congregations yesterday were large, but many were disappointed in not hearing the Rev. Mr. Castle.

WE have received the Catalogue, Journal, &c. of the Toledo Business College, of which Mr. M. Davis, late of Albert College is Principal. A liberal use is made of printers' ink, and such enterprise and good judgment are shown in the presentation of claims. The map accompanying the Journal would make Toledo a vast railway centre. Perhaps it is.

THE memorial which Mr. T. Wills will present to the Minister of Education to-morrow on behalf of the School Board, sets forth that sub-section 7., 42 Vic. 34 would be improved if the said Act was amended so as to empower the Returning Officer to grant his certificate to the candidate having the largest number of votes, and only in case of a tie should it be referred to the Board of Education.

"ALPHABETICAL" WILLIAMS, the avant courier of the Hilbernian Minstrel Co., who was in the city to-day making arrangements for the appearance of his company here next Saturday evening, is a jolly boy and ex-newspaper man. His real name is H. A. B. Williams, but the late Artemus Ward nicknamed him "Alphabetical" Williams several years ago, because he had so many initials in his name. In loving remembrance of a dear friend, Mr. Williams retains Artemus' nickname.

"OUT OF THE FIRE," a sensational drama produced for the first time before a Belleville audience on Saturday night drew a good house. The play was put upon the boards in a manner which elicted considerable applause from the audience, and throughout the piece Mr. Herndon, as JONAS JONAH, kept his hearers continually convulsed with laughter. The drama is a humorous one, though the plot contains many startling and interesting situations. Each character was taken with ability, but it would be almost needless for us to attempt a detailed description of the play, and space will not permit. The company will play at Trenton to-night.

PEOPLE from Trenton, Picton, Campbellford, Madoc, and Napanee, are coming to hear Remenyi the great artist to-night.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

BROCK & CO. The Photographers.

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

TORONTO, Feb. 6th, '82.

Winds shifting to the eastward, fair to cloudy weather to-day, followed by a fall of snow to-morrow.

DASHES.

—Deseronto is arranging for car works.

—A first-class quality of barley is selling at Picton at 83 cents.

—A branch of the Licensed Victuallers Association has been established at Picton.

—The steamer Picton has been hauled out at Portsmouth. The repairs will cost about $7,000.

—The K. & P. Railway expect to carry 1,000,000 feet of square timber from the back country to the city this year.

—Mr. Willet Casey, formerly of Napanee, is now train dispatcher on the Midland Railway at Port Hope.

—The ranks of the 16th Battalion are filled with half-grown boys, so the Picton Gazette says. The members of the 15th Battalion are not all six-footers.

—Bronson Alcott having stated that "the blonde type is nearest to the divine likeness," a country editor wrote to him to inquire how much that type costs per pound.

—Professor Huxley says that those who have taken an active part in science should be killed at sixty, as not flexible enough to yield to the advance of new ideas. He is himself nearly fifty-seven.

—Sheriff McKellar is still urging the appointment of a Parliamentary committee to enquire into the administration of Sheriffs' offices, and the question of fees as between lawyers and sheriffs.

—The Grand Union Depot, at the Junction of the Robertsville branch with the K. & P. Railway, came near being burned a few days ago. Had the building been destroyed the loss would have been heavy—$10, perhaps.

—Mr. P. Embury, of Napanee, has been sadly afflicted. A few weeks ago he lost his son, a promising young man, and now his daughter, the flower of the family, has been taken away by death. Diphtheria was the cause.

—There is still little improvement in the condition of George Paul, ex Reeve of Camden. He has regained his speech, and is able to converse with his friends when his strength will allow. It is feared that he cannot last long.

—Shannonville farmers loaded cars with barley for an itinerant buyer, who, however, forgot to pay the money. When demurrage to the amount of $30 had accumulated, Mr. Downey, of Napanee, bought the barley and relieved the farmers from further embarrassment.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age Sold at 25c a box everywhere

BELLEVILLE GAS CO

Annual Election of Officers.

The regular annual meeting of the Belleville Gas Co. was held to-day, when, in addition to other business transacted, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

John A. Phippen, President; John Bell, Q. C., Robert Thompson, Alex. S. Brown, Nelson Lingham, (Mayor) Directors; James Glass, Treasurer; S. R. Earll, Manager and Secretary.

GIVEN AWAY.

We cannot help noticing the liberal offer made to all invalids and sufferers by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption You are requested to call at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store, and get a Trial Bottle free of cost, if you are suffering with Consumption, Severe Coughs Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Loss of Voice, Hoarseness, or any affection of the Throat or Lungs. It will positively cure you.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."

Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ontario, writes in February, 1868, that after trying many Cough and Lung remedies for a severe cold which he has suffered with for three years, he procured ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and was being much benefited by it. In a letter still later, he said his night sweats were all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better and he felt like a new man.

The Sentencing of Guiteau.

AN EXCITING SCENE IN COURT.

Violent and Blasphemous Speech by Prisoner.

During the sentencing Guiteau stood apparently unmoved, and with his gaze rivetted upon the judge, but when the final words were spoken he struck the table violently, and shouted, "And may the Lord have mercy on your soul. I would rather stand where I do than where that jury does, and where your Honour does. I am not afraid to die. I stand here as God's man, and God Almighty will curse every man who has had a part in prosecuting this unrighteous verdict. Nothing but good has come from Garfield's removal, and that will be a verdict of posterity on my inspiration. I don't care a strap for the verdict of this corrupt generation. I would rather a thousand times be in my position than in that of those who have hounded me to death. I shall have a glorious flight to glory but that miserable scoundrel Corkhill will have a permanent job down below where the devil is preparing for him. 'I will go to glory whenever the Lord wants me to go, but I will probably stay down here a good many years, and get into the White House. I know how I stand on this business, and so does the Lord, and he will pull me through with the help of two or three good lawyers, and all the devils in hell can't hurt me.'

The prisoner for some moments continued his shouts and his anathemas upon the Court and the counsel for the prosecution. In order to silence him the Deputy-Marshal clapped his hand over the prisoner's mouth, an action which the latter would quickly have resented with a blow had not a police officer grabbed his hand and clasped the handcuff upon his wrists.

Four Bodies Found.

COALFIELD, Va., Feb. 6.—Four bodies have thus far been found in the Midlothian mine.

A Snow Blockade.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 6.—Several trains are reported snowed in on Long Island. The passengers of one train were obliged to remain in the cars all night. Several train men are reported frost bitten.

A Human Brute.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Jno. Walsh, a saloon keeper of Little Falls, kicked his wife to death in the presence of his four children Sunday afternoon. He is supposed to be an ex-convict from Australia, and to have drowned his first wife. Arrested.

An Incendiary Attempt.

NEW PORT, R.I., Feb. 6.—During the gale Saturday night an incendiary fired a warehouse here containing a large quantity of valuable furniture belonging to New Yorkers. The fire was discovered by mere accident, and extinguished. Had it got the least headway it must have swept hundreds of buildings. Owing to a snow blockade the fire-engines would have been useless.

The Prize Fight

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The Sun's New Orleans special says Andy Forrester, of Troy, has backed Ryan to the extent of $3,000. Stated a noted physician of this city professionally examined both men and says if Ryan does not win no one can satisfy him that he did not throw the fight. Sullivan, said he, is powerfully built in the arms and shoulders, but deficient in the loins and legs. Ryan is built from heels up. His legs and loins are grand with muscles; his back and shoulders though small are powerful. Rumored several car loads of roughs are on their way here for the purpose of raising a disturbance if their man does not win, but the police commissioners have ordered 100 men to the grounds to preserve order. Ryan and Sullivan left last evening for the grounds, which are about two miles ride from the city.

The Herald's New Orleans special says, Sullivan had the call in the pools last night, at a slight odds, and is likely to remain the favorite. The exact spot where the fight will take place, is not yet definitely settled, but it is understood it will be between this city and Mobile on the line of Louisville and Nashville railroad. The train taking those who will attend the encounter leave here at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning, and the fight it is stated will begin between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

From New York,

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Vicar-General Quinn states the report that the Pope will appoint papal delegates to the United States is unfounded.

The real and personal property assessed in this city aggregates about two billion dollars. The increase this year over last was $58,000,000, nearly all on real estate. Real estate is assessed only 60 per cent. of its value, and an immense amount personal property escaped taxation by the failure of assessors to discover it, or by the holders swearing their debts exceed the value of personal effects. The best known millionaires pay no personal tax.

Church property amount to $5,000,000. Schools, colleges and libraries property is valued at $50,000,000, and property of U. S., worth $1,000,000 are exempted from taxation.

The Herald says the President has decided upon a list of prominent army retirements, which he will send to the Senate soon.

Justice Hunt has forwarded his resignation to the President.

The Tribune says the House Judiciary Committee has postponed the consideration of Shallenberger's bill for the suppression of polygamy in Utah till Wednesday. Cannon, who asked a hearing, assigned as a reason for delay the recent death of one of his wives. His opponents assert this motion was made merely for delay and he recently visited New York, for the purpose of securing the co-operation of large mercantile firms, having extensive dealings with the Co-operative Association of Utah, to obstruct Legislation, which might affect the existing condition of things in the territory.

TRUE TO HER TRUST.

Too much cannot be said of the ever-faithful wife, and mother, constantly watching and caring for her dear ones, never neglecting a single duty in their behalf. When they are assailed by disease, and the system should have a thorough cleansing, the stomach and the bowels regulated, blood purified, malarial poison exterminated, she must know that Electric Bitters are the only sure remedy. They are the best and purest medicine in the world and only cost fifty cents. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

GRAHAM S

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PARRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 10 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

The sunbeams came in mildly between the laths of the Venetian blind as he seated himself by the side of the couch where his daughter, as usual, lay in very unvarying monotonous position, and with her fixed unvarying gaze.

'My dear child,' he commenced, taking her shadowy hand, that almost startled him by its icy coldness, in his, 'I have often told you that your happiness is my first consideration. I hope you believe that it is so?'

No reply.

Her father continued, and his voice grew husky, and faltered a little as he did so.

'Had your dear mother lived, Ethel, she would have been a more fitting—perhaps a more able counsellor than I am. It is always an irreparable calamity when a good mother is removed; but Heaven's will be done.'

A pause, but no reply.

Even the name of the mother she had loved failed to vibrate on her ear or in her heart.

John Brandley went on.

'I have on this account endeavoured to guide you in the most important of all selections to a woman, the choice of a husband.'

No reply.

'I feel sure,' he continued, 'that your union with the man who loves you, who proved his love by risking his own life to save yours, and who will devote himself to your future happiness as the great aim of his existence, must be a wise and proper step.

'One which I, as your father, can sanction, and which Heaven will approve. Let me, therefore, hear you ratify your consent to the ceremony we are all so anxious to see completed with your own lips.'

'Tell me, my dear child, tell me, I entreat you, that you accept Joshua Penn as your future husband.'

Still no reply.

And when John Brandley raised his eyes to his daughter's face (for he had looked on the ground whilst he spoke), her eyes were closed as he remembered they had been once before.

The old man rose from his seat in a kind of impatient despair.

'I have no power over her!' he exclaimed, inwardly; 'what can I do?'

A voice in his heart seemed to answer—'Nothing!'

Not that it appeared to make much difference to the exemplary Joshua.

If he could not lead Ethel to the altar as a willing bride, he was consent to take her as an unwilling one.

Anyhow, so long as he got her there.

She had not given a decided refusal—he argued with old John—and when the wedding morn arrived, she would go to the church without a murmur, he felt convinced.

John Brandley was not quite so confident but not wishing to chill the sanguine aspirations of his future son-in-law, he offered so dissenting remark.

Tuesday, in the third week in March, was fixed upon as the happy day.

And the March winds blew boisterously as if in anticipation of the joyful event.

It seemed probable that the wedded pair would have but a blustering journey to the Isle of Wight, which was the halcyon spot on which Joshua had fixed to carry Ethel after he had made her Mrs. Penn.

But the eager bridegroom was too fully occupied in making the necessary preparations to heed the boisterous element that roared without.

There was the wedding breakfast to arrange, the invitations to the guests to write.

The wedding trousseau was ordered on a scale of unusual liberality.

The warm-hearted Josh seemed determined that no expense should be spared to prove the genuineness of his devotion.

Presents such as none but monied bridegrooms could afford to lavish upon the object of their choice, were sent for expressly from town, and arrived at Marlwood, in boxes of all sorts of shapes and sizes.

Rich silks and satins, and dainty lace trimmings, made their appearance in rapid succession.

Costly jewels glittered in morocco cases lined with rich velvet.

Nothing that could please the eye of the most fastidious or exacting bride, was omitted.

Joshua not only paid the piper willingly for all these luxuries, but danced gleefully to the music of his own exhilarating anticipations.

He seemed, in the playful, childlike innocence of his heart, like some big schoolboy surrounded by heaps of new toys, as he displayed the treasures to his venerable father-in-law that was to be.

The latter looked at them through his spectacles, admired them, and with a smothered sigh, hoped in his heart that she for whom they were intended might live to wear them.

The day previous to that on which the ceremony was appointed to take place, the cheerful bridegroom came to old John in a great bustle with a sheet of note paper in his hand, requesting him to look over it.

It was a written copy of the announcement of marriage, which he was just about to forward to the editor of the Gloucester Herald.

A reporter of the Norfolk (Va.) Virginian, recently referred in that paper to a conversation with Prof. Cromwell the world-renowned art exhibitor, wherein he states that he had some year or so before suffered excruciating torments from rheumatism, and that he had tried all kinds of medicines and so-called cures—all without effect. He heard, however of St. Jacobs Oil, and resolved to give it a trial, which he did, and he stated that its effect on him was almost magical. A complete cure was effected and since then he has never suffered from rheumatism. But in order that he might be at all times prepared for the enemy, he never travelled without carrying in his trunk a bottle or so of St. Jacobs Oil.

Robert Lubbuck, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for myself and family for diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

A Sure Basis of Popularity.—Merit, apparent to a "cloud of witnesses," upon which the popularity of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is founded. Throat and lung complaints, pain, soreness, stiffness, swellings, burns and ailments of various other kinds, yield to the action of this speedy and safe remedy.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King,s renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by POBRE, Lond , Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness, inflammation and pain. No household should be without it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the Discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold every where.

LOW INTEREST.

I am now lending money on good farm and town properties at seven (7) per cent. and seven and a half (7½) per cent. Interest payable yearly on terms to suit borrower.

Principal repayable either in enstalments, or at the end of the term for which the loan is taken, or at any time by giving notice.

On really first-class loans, or farm property, I can lend at even lower rates, viz. From six (6) to six and one half (6½) per. cent.

Now is the time for farmers to pay off previous loans borrowed at high rates and gain the benefit of the present reduction of interest as rates may go up again.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN

ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

POLICE STATISTICS.

The Chief's Report for 1881.

The following is the report of the Chief of Police, as presented the Commissioners on Saturday:

To the Police Commissioners, City of Belleville:

Gentlemen,—I beg leave to submit this my fifth annual report, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1881.

In doing so I will, with your kind permission, make a few remarks.

It will be observed in the statistical report of crimes and offences committed in the city during the year that some 54 cases of larceny were reported at my office. A large proportion of these were committed by lads under the age of 16 years, and to the unrestricted existence of junk shops and second-hand stores do I ascribe to a great extent the cause. It would seem to require some legislation to regulate the conduct of such places.

During the year a number of fires have taken place. Some of the fires were of a character which causes me to come to the conclusion that they were occasioned simply for the purpose of having a "fire alarm." Insurance agents and companies vie with each other as to which will be the first to settle a claim for loss by fire, and the result is that the causes of all fires are not yet properly investigated. When grave suspicion of foul play exists, too frequently companies make a compromise with the claimant and immediately through the columns of the local newspapers advertise their promptness in paying the loss, thus giving encouragement to the unscrupulous. A more thorough investigation into the causes of some fires by insurance companies would have the effect of diminishing incendiarism. Notwithstanding the number of fires, however, the losses from this cause have been comparatively small mainly owing to the alacrity with which our efficient Fire Brigade responded to the alarms and the good judgment used by them in quenching the fires.

SOCIAL EVIL.

The social evil problem or conundrum, which appears to baffle the wisdom of the Toronto authorities, was solved in our city long ago, and that too in a manner which has had the effect of driving this curse out of the city. The rigid enforcement of the present statutory laws bearing upon the subject, and in event of a conviction, sentencing to terms of imprisonment in gaol or Mercer Reformatory for women, "without the discretion of a fine," has had the desired effect.

WIFE BEATING

The wife beater as usual has been in our midst. He too would be a thing of the past if, in addition to the present punishment permitted by-law, the lash was applied to his cowardly back. I trust the Government at Ottawa will in the near future come to the rescue of the unfortunate wife whose wail is so frequently heard in our land.

CALLS FOR POLICE

I have had repeated calls from different portions of the city for police protection, but with the small force at my command it is impossible for me to respond to all.

POLICE.

In consequence of the sad death of Sergeant Snider and the resignation of Police Constable Marsh, two vacancies occurred in the force during the year.

Sergt. McCrudden was promoted to the position of 1st Sergeant in place of Sergt. Snider deceased. Police Constable Downs was promoted to the position of 2nd Sergt. in place of McCrudden, promoted.

I am pleased to inform you that the general conduct of the Force has been good.

During the year 766 persons were arrested by the Police charged as follows:

Not the least important feature in Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is the Comfort, Buoyancy and Vigor which is inspired by its use, and which is developed as the patient recovers from sickness.

From Nathan Plimmer, M. D., Auburne, N. H

"Although averse to countenancing patent medicines, I cheerfully make an exception of your very excellent Lung preparation—Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. This preparation I have used in my practice for more than ten years past, and have always found it to be of more effectual service than anything within my knowledge. I recommend it with the greatest confidence to those subject to coughs and pulmonary complaints."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtues of this native medidinal gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and. it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A CURE FOR CROUP.

Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds All dealers supply it, price25 cents.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.

Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at Jas. Clarke & Co's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affections of the Throat and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above Drug Store.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.

Putman's Corn Extractor will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the Corn Extractor will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use Putman's Corn Extractor for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

Millions of Bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have been given away as Trial Bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Jas Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store, and get a Trial bottle free, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.

are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT, which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

NEVER GIVE UP.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by all druggists.

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

A STUBBORN FACT,

Dr. Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry is without a doubt, the safest and most reliable remedy in existence, for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, sour stomach, sea-sickness, and all summer complaints. It acts like a charm. Its effects are marvellous—relief instantaneous, cure speedy. Physicians and all who use it recommend it. It should be kept in every home at this season, for use in cases of emergency. For sale by all dealers.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

A TONIC WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Dyspeptics and those suffering from chronic diseases should read the following from Rev. John Gregory, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at Pittiston, Pa.

My Dear Sir:—Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the meditine called Peruvian Syrup or Protected Solution of Protoxide of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alterative, it is, I think, unsurpassed; and as a tonic, free from all the objectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance cause. One of the greatest hindrances to the temperance reform at present is, I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulents. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the Peruvian Syrup, a safe and efficient substitute for those dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unsolicited with the hope that some who are not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial.

Sold by all druggists.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruised Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by James Clarke & Co

From Rev. B. F. Austin, M. A. B. D., Principal Alma Ladies College, St. Thomas, Ont.

St. Thomas, Ont. Jan. 2nd, 1882.

M. Hilton Williams, M. D.

My Dear Sir,—In September last I contracted a severe cold upon my lungs, quite severely afflicting the left one. I had very bad cough accompanied by expectoration indication of Pulmonary Phthisis. My strength decreased and spirits sank very low, and when I called upon you it was in doubt whether any medical treatment would avail in my case. Under your treatment I have already recovered my wanted strength and health, my weight has increased, my cough has ceased, and in every way I feel very much benefitted by your treatment. You are at perfect liberty to use these statements as you please.

Very sincerely yours,
B. F. Austin,
Principal Alma Ladies College,
St. Thomas, Ont.

P. S.—When the above letter was written Prof. Austin had been using the remedies but one month.

DAILY ONTARIO

TUESDAY FEB. 7, 1882.

—The persecution of the Jews in Russia continues, and terrible outrages and murders are reported.

The British Parliament met to-day. It is not probable that the Parnellites will obstruct the business of the House as much as during last session.

—Wherever Liberal meetings are held in England and Ireland organized Irish efforts are made to break them up. Sir Chas Dilke has been prevented from speaking at Chelsea by such means.

—Several Washington physicians regard it as highly probable that Guiteau will become either a maniac or imbecile before the day of his execution arrives. He is carefully watched day and night.

—The House Committee on Foreign Affairs at Washington has reported a joint resolution requesting the President to give notice to Great Britain of the termination of the fishery clauses of the Washington Treaty.

—Owing to the ill-feeling in Limerick between the soldiers and certain classes of citizens fatal results are feared. The soldiers are stoned and maltreated whenever they go on the streets at night, and may be compelled to fire on the people in self defence.

—The York County Councillors have voted to increase their pay. For the first and second sessions $3 per day is to be allowed, for the first five days, and $1 per day for every day in addition that they meet. They have also voted to increase the Warden's allowance from $800 to $400.

—A farmer in London Township forces his three children to do work about his homestead in an almost nude condition. When remonstrated with he replied:—"It's none of your business. I got no schoolin' when I was young, and they can fight their own way, too. Children shouldn' grow up better'n their dad."

—According to the Montreal Star the officials of the post-office of that city, or a large proportion of them, are addicted to intemperate habits, and grossly neglect their duties. The consequence is that the affairs of the office are in a wretched condition by means of which the public interests are made suffer. The Star also charges the medical profession of giving invalid certificates to ten or more at one time when the real cause is drunkenness. Either the Star is libeling both doctors and officials, or the Post Office Department is derelict of an important duty.

THE Mail asserts that the people of Kingston owe no thanks to Mr. Gunn, their member at Ottawa, for the manufactures proposed to be established in that city. The fatuous organ of monopoly and disallowance insists that all credit must be given to the N. P., ignoring the fact that Mr. Gunn is the largest stockholder in the different schemes, and the chief promoter as well. Without liberal subscriptions or civic bonuses the N. P. would be powerless to originate and sustain any enterprise. And it was ever the same. Important manufacturing industries were established in this country before the N. P. was thought of. Kingston would have waited a long time for such establishments as are now promised had not such men as Alex. Gunn and others subscribed liberal sums to encourage the business. The N. P. has precious little to do with the matter.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLES.

At the last meeting of the Social Science Association of the United States, held at Saratoga, Mr. Chas. Dudley Warner, an experienced and able journalist, read a paper on "The American Newspaper." The chief function of a newspaper Mr. Warner hold to be the reporting of news. He does not complain of partisan journalism, but considers American papers too miscellaneous, and questions the value of such publications. As to editorials, he says the public does not care for them; the brief notes get more attention. The fixed notion that about so much space in every number must go to formal editorials he disputes. He also believes in short striking advertisements. Mr. Warner also discussed the question, "What is news?" and gave a healthy view of the mania for notoriety and reportorial gleaning of the field for small items, especially local and neighborhood news and criminal intelligence. With all its faults, he considers that the moral tone of the American newspaper is higher, as a rule, than that of the community in which it is published.

We are flattered to have our view of what a newspaper should be sustained by so good an authority. Especially in small papers, long editorials are a waste of space for no perceptible benefit. Short paragraphs and pointed comments answer a much better purpose. A column of editorial may sometimes be necessary, but not often.

DISALLOWANCE IN MANITOBA.

The Winnipeg Sun notices a remark by the Mail, to the effect that Premier Norquay feels satisfied that the act of the Dominion Government in disallowing the charter of incorporation of the Southeastern Railway will not prove detrimental to the interests of the Government in Manitoba, and says:—"Mr. Norquay may be perfectly satisfied with the position in which his treachery and duplicity has left this province, but it does not follow that the people here are satisfied or ready to rest under the injuries which have been inflicted upon their best interests. There is not a farmer, a mechanic or a merchant in this country who does not know and feel and suffer from the intolerable exactions which an unchecked monopoly is enabled to place upon them."

And again:—"No amount of sophistry on the part of the Mail, no amount of clumsy ignorance spread over the columns of the Times, nor any number of interviews by the plastic Norquay will alter the fact that the people of Manitoba indignantly protest against the disallowance of the South-eastern Railway charter, first, because it is a gross infringement upon the constitutional rights of the Province, and, in the second place, because it strikes a death-blow at the only hope which the people of Manitoba have of freeing themselves from the intolerable oppressions of an overbearing monopoly."

THE NEWSPAPER FIENDS.

Globe editors have struck for an advance of salary.

Good short-hand men for gallery work are scarce.

Mr. David Brown has left the Telegram.

Mr. Jas. Fahey, of the World, has gone to Winnipeg.

Jack Gemmel leaves the Mail this week for Manitoba to look after his father's interests.

Mr. John Lumsden has joined the Mail's Parliamentary staff.

Mr. John Lewis, "a rising young reporter," has left the World for the Mail.

The Globe will be represented at Ottawa by A. C. Campbell and H. N. Mathewson.

Mr. Wm. Houston will be the Globe's editorial correspondent at Ottawa.

Mr. Albert Horton, Mr. George Eyvel and Mr. G. B. Bradley, all Hansard men, leave for Ottawa to-day or to-morrow.

FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING.

Presentation to Mr. J. B. Ferguson.

Mr. J. B. Ferguson, formerly a teacher in P. E. Co., and for the last five years Principal of the Winnipeg Central School, has retired from teaching to enter into business in that western metropolis. Last Tuesday, at a large gathering of teachers and pupils of the school, Mr. Ferguson was presented with a gold watch, accompanied with a flattering address. He expressed his thanks in fitting terms. Since "going west" our old friend his found prosperity, and with the present "boom" to help him will get an abundence of this worlds favors, we trust.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

A Token of Appreciation for Rev. J Hallowell.

On Thursday, the 2nd inst., a number of the friends of the church in Ameliasburg called on their clergyman, the Rev. John Hallowell, at the parsonage, in Hillier, and after a very enjoyable feast liberally provided by the visitors, they presented him with a very complimentary address, accompanied with a purse of $51.50, along with substantial evidences of their esteem. The address was as follows:—

To THE REV. JOHN HALLOWELL, Incumbent —Hillier.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—We, the undersigned, on behalf of your congregation in Ameliasburg, take great pleasure in meeting together at your house again, after a period of twelve months, to testify to our continued good will towards yourself and family; and also to show in a slight degree our appreciation of your valuable services among us. We feel it to be ours duty to make some acknowledgement apart from our ordinary contributions to the church, of your faithful and untiring labors amongst us, often rendered under great difficulties; and we hope you will be encouraged and strengthened by this demonstration of our esteem and appreciation to go on for the future as you have in the past—faithful and fearless in the performance of the sacred duties to which you have been called. We should not like to let this opportunity pass without coupling with your name that of Mrs. Hallowell, who has always proved such a worthy helpmate to you in your labors. By accepting this purse as a substantial token of the feeling we have just expressed, you will gratify your loving parishoners.

"MAKING THE ROLLS RIGHT."

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

SIR:—Any person, not acquainted with the election campaign of 1867, as conducted by the Tory party in the North Riling of Hastings, on seeing Mr. Flint's reply to my communication of the 27th. ult., would suppose that I had wilfully, maliciously and with malice aforethought, deliberately stabbed that innocent, and honorble gentleman in the dark; but such is not the case, as the statements I made I am prepaired to prove, and a good deal more if required, as I have in my possession the necessary documents to do so.

That letter was not written to injure either Mr. Flint or Mr. Bowell, (as for the Intelligencer that can't, very well, be injured. It is about as bad as it can be.) I hold these two gentlemen in the highest esteem for their determined opposition to the cursed traffic in alcohol but I would advise them, as a friend, never again to use whiskey as a lever to place any candidate in power, for this kills their influence, as temperance men. Mr Flint objects to the quantity of land I make him the owner of. If he will call to mind a land transaction he had with the Government (about 9,000 acres), which he and Mr. Wallbridge disputed over, at Ottawa, he will find out that I am not far astray in that item. But the quantity of land has nothing to do with guilty or not guilty, in reference to bogus votes, and the use of whiskey and other fraudulent means, used to secure the election of the Tory Candidate. I am prepared to prove every statement made in my letter of the 27th. ult., the quantity of land excepted.

The whiskey bill was paid by Mr. Flint's clerks, by his own order, one of whom is still residing here in the village, and I have his statement in his own hand writing, as well as that of the tavern keeper's wife to that effect. Mr. Flint seems to think it is very unfair to go back fifteen years to unearth political corruption, but he goes back still further to rake up his "burked bill." I know it is very annoying to have one's "bill burked." I have an intimate friend who has had his bill badly burked with bad whiskey, and I know how to pity any poor creature that is unfortunate enough to get his "bill burked" by the use of that accursed stimulant.

Mr. Flint says he never drove anyone to the polls, but went straight to Mr. Harrison's sick, after going out from Belleville. Now, this is not so, as I stood on the platform in front of his store; he came down from the Town Hall in search of delinquent voters, some of whom he found and ordered them to go at once and vote for Mr. Bowell. When one of them stated he said: "That's another nail in Wallbridge's political coffin," and said he would nail him (Mr. W.) down so tight that he would never rise again, as a political aspirant. Now, for his memory. He says "if my memory serves me right," &c. He is very foolish to place any confidence in his memory, which has deceived him thousands of times. He denies having instructed the Township Clerk to make out the Assessment Roll in the interest of the Tory candidate. He not only instructed him to do so, but furnished him with a list of his lands and the names of his employees, and to make out tickets for each of them, on which were written the number of the lot, and the name of the employee, with instructions to carry these tickets in their pockets, and before voting to examine them so that they would make no mistake in giving in the number to correspond with the Assessment Roll. I have some of these tickets in my possession, which I am preserving for the future inspection of "honest Tories." He does not question the $2,000 paid for bogus votes. Perhaps this is not bribery.

In conclusion, I wish the hon gentleman a happy New Year, and that he may live to see the N. P. shower down blessings on this now deserted, but once flourishing, manufacturing village.

The most conclusive testimony, repeatedly laid before the public in the columns of the daily press, proves that Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil—an absolutely pure combination of six of the finest remedial oils in existence—remedies rheumatic pain, eradicates affections of the throat and lungs, and cures piles, wounds sores lameness, tumors, burns, and injuries of horses and cattle,

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Third Session—Fourth Parliament.

MONDAY, 6th

The sitting yesterday afternoon was neither lengthy nor important. None of the public bills or Government orders were taken up, the principal feature being a discussion between Mr. Lauder and the Attorney-General, on the former's motion for a return showing receipts and expenditures in connection with the Mercer estate, and also a detailed statement of the cost of the Mercer Reformatory. Mr. Mowat defended the course of the Government, and pointed out that the first steps towards taking possession of the property were taken by his predecessors in office. The motion of Mr. Gibson of Hamilton, for a return showing the number of times in which the powers of County Judges have been exercised under the License Act, in the revocation of licenses and the investigation of the negligence of Inspectors, after some discussion was allowed to stand until it was ascertained whether there was any information bearing on the subject.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

THE PRINCESS OF WALES NOT ILL.

A despatch from Quebec says: On reading amongst the cable news a report that the Princess of Wales had been seriously burned while amusing her children with snap-dragon, the Earl of Dunmore, who is at present sojourning in this city, at once cabled the Prince of Wales with regard to the alleged accident. Yesterday he received the following reply from Sandringham:

To the Earl of Dunmore, Quebec, Canada:

Princess is perfectly well. No foundation for report. PRINCE OF WALES.

Allen's Lung Balsam excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or ucts; changes the secretions and purifies the blood: heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Sold by Druggists.

ALL CLASSES OF Professional and business men at times are subject to extreme nerve prostration from excessive brain work and worry, and by advice, commonly resort to stimulants, opium, chloral or bromides to subdue irritability and restlessness. These agents only put to sleep the sentinel that warns the system when overworked, while the waste of vital force continues. Here is a large consumption of phosphates, the source of nerve power, then is furnished by the food, and the deficiency may be supplied by the use of DR. WHEELER'S Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an easily assimilable form of these elements of nerve nutrition.

A BELLEVILLE DEPUTATION

INTERVIEWS THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL ON SEVERAL MATTERS.

The Market Fees Bill—The Belleville and Ameliasburgh Ferry and the proposed Hospital Considered.

A deputation from the city of Belleville had an interview at two o'clock yesterday afternoon with the Attorney-General on several questions in which the city is interested. They were introduced by Dr. Boulter, M.PP.

THE PRINCE EDWARD FERRY.

Mr. Henderson first introduced the question of the ferry between Belleville and Ameliasburg, in Prince Edward County, the license of which expires this year, and asked for its renewal for seven years. The township of Ameliasburg was making application for the issue of a joint license on the ground that the present arrangements were not satisfactory. He pointed out that all powers under the present license being vested in the lessee there were some grounds for complaint, for which, however, the city was responsible. The present boat was unfit for the service, and the tariff should be reduced. If the license were renewed, the city would put on a new boat, reduce the tariff, and provide every facility for traffic. They had already given £400 subsidy to establish the ferry, and had also built slips and roads in connection with it. The people of Belleville had never derived any revenue from the ferry, and did not expect to do so, their object being to encourage the trade of the city. A license had already been granted to Ameliasburg to run a ferry to Sidney in the immediate neighborhood, by which competition was secured, and it would be unfair to grant them also a license to ply to Belleville. The practical objection to granting a license to Ameliasburg was that it would fall into the same hands as the ferry now existing between Ameliasburg and Sidney, and that competition would thus be destroyed. If the Belleville license were renewed the city would submit to any conditions the Government saw fit to impose as to the style of boat, the tariff of fares, etc.

Aldermen Frost and Dickson also spoke to the same effect, pointing out that all the Belleville people desired was to secure efficient and cheap transit between the two points.

Mr. STRIKER, M. P. P., said that there were complaints among the people of Ameliasburg as to the lack of accommodation under the present arrangement, and thought that the Council of Ameliasburg should be consulted. He was satisfied that all the people of that municipality desired was to have efficient service at reasonable rates.

The Attorney General promised that the representations of the delegation should receive due attention.

MARKET FEES.

Mr. Henderson then took up the question of market fees, stating that Belleville occupied a peculiar position in regard to the proposed movement for their abolition. The city had devoted a sum of $2,300 a year for 20 years in order to free the roads from tolls, and had also spent $50,000 in market buildings, where every accommodation was provided for the farmers. While debts were contracted with these objects, they calculated on the market fees as a means of recouping themselves. The income from that sourse was 1,800, out of which the city had to provide for heating and lighting the buildings. There was no other town or city where the same accommodation was extended to the farmers, and it would not be just to deprive Belleville of the revenue from market fees. The farmers throughout the county took the same view and did not desire a change. The County Council had passed a resolution recommending the Government in dealing with the question to consider Belleville's claims favourably.

THE HOSPITAL LOT.

Ald. DICKSON detailed the position of matters with regard to the establishment of a Home for the Friendless, under the management of the Woman's Christian Association, stating that three sites proposed had been duly inspected and considered suitable. One of them would cost $3,000, another $1 400. The city wanted permission to select the cheapest, and claimed that in consideration of purchasing the lot and aiding the project by an annual grant the old Hospital lot, which in 1816 was set aside for hospital purposes, but which owing to the growth of the city was now unsuitable for that purpose, should be deeded to them.

The ATTORNEY GENERAL did not see why the whole value of the lot, which was considerably greater than that of the one they proposed to purchase, should not go to hospital purposes. The matter, however, was one for the Private Bills Committee to consider.

The deputation then withdrew.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co., during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture,

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

City and Vicinity.

☞ FURS at cost at Davenport's.

THERE must be some very stupid, blundering compositors on our local contemporary, according to the smart editors.

MR. W P Ross was in Winnipeg on the 2[illegible] ult., having been attracted by the irresistible magnet of the 'boom'," the Sun says.

☞ Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

THE Fort William Herald of Jan. 7th. reached us to-day—just one month after publication. The winter mail route from the head of Lake Superior must be disorganized.

ACCORDING to the Winnipeg papers the guests of the hotels in that wonderful city drop huge wallets of bank bills on the floor where the paper is kicked about, no one seeming to care about picking the stuff up.

☞ Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

MR. P. D. CONGER, of Toronto, who recently suffered so severely by fire, announces that he is still able to supply all orders for coal, as 1 000 tons escaped from the fire, and 2,000 tons fresh from the mines is now en route.

THE names of Peter Labarge and Michael Lefarge were accidentally omitted from the Hungerford committee of the East Hastings Reform Association, and were not received by us until after the report had gone to press.

☞ GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

THE Montreal Witness remarks:—The ravages of pinkeye among horses around Belleville give force anew to our suggestion of a few weeks ago, that a veterinary health board for each province or township should be formed.

THEY do such things better in Winnipeg. Up there when a man gets drunk an unreasonable number of times, he is put upon the Interdict Act, and tavern keepers notified accordingly. Whoever sells him liquor then is liable to be prosecuted.

☞ CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

NOT a single customer went away since our opening sale without purchasing, which is the best proof that real bargains are given. JAMES HENNESSY. See sixth local column for particulars.

THE residence of John Pringle in South Napanee was destroyed by fire about nine o'clock on Saturday evening. Loss about $800; insured for $500 in the London Mutual. The contents were nearly all destroyed. Upon these there was an insurance of $200.

THERE is no doubt but what the Metropolitan Hall will contain a large crowd of people this evening, when Mr. Hall will explain the project of locating smelting works and other iron manufactures here. Now is the time to make or unmake our city. The chance may not occur again under such favorable circumstances.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

THERE is a little unpleasantness in the choir of the church of the Ascension, Toronto, of which Rev. A Baldwin, formerly Curate of St. Thomas' Church, is Rector. Mrs. Baldwin, the Rector's wife, wrote to the wardens objecting to the style of the singing; the wardens forwarded the letter to the choir leader, Mr. Baily; Mr. Baily sent in his resignation and the choir sustained his action. They sang for the last time Sunday evening.

THE burning of the old World building, New York, did not result so disastrously to the Scientific American as first reported. Our excellent contemporary is to hand as usual, looking none the worse for the scorching it received, and announces that the loss sustained was light. The printing office was not in the burned building, hence all the plates, types &c. were preserved. A few hundreds of old models were lost, but as models are not now generally required by the Patent Office, this loss will make no great difference to anybody. A splendid suite of new offices have been secured a short distance from the former office, where the establishment is in full operation as usual.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

THE "HOME AND SOCIETY" department of The Century Magazine will be devoted, during the next three or four months, to a subject of first importance to home life—the proper construction of houses with reference to protection against fire, and the dangers to health arising from imperfect drainage, bad ventilation, and damp walls. The articles will be written by experts, whose aim will be to give practical hints to persons intending to build, so that they will be able to examine intelligently the plans of architects and the work of builders. In the March number will appear the first of the series, by George Martin Huss, on "House Foundations," in which attention is also given to remedies for damp walls and cellars.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

In China.

In china, the man who can put the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of an article, is esteemed as a great genius, and rewarded accordingly. With us the man who puts the greatest number of bits and scraps into the construction of a garment is considered the meanest "crank" out of jail. There is after all, some difference between christian and pagan usage. Our garments are constructed on the most liberal principles—both as to quality, style and price—and are fully guaranteed to give the best satisfaction.

PHŒNIX HALL,
The great one-price Clothing Emporium

THE cells were unoccupied last night.

MR. THOS. DONNELLY returned home from Winnipeg last night.

AS we anticipated there was no meeting of the City Council last night.

THE County deputation left for Toronto on the early train this morning.

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

THERE was a large audience at the City Hall last evening to hear Remenyi and company.

SYLVESTER HANNAN was brought before Ald. Farley this morning on remand, and dismissed.

"THE Bay of Quinte Galop" is now for sale at Harrison's book store. It is a fine piece of music.

MESSRS. H. SAND, F. G. O. HENDERSON who left there some time ago for Manitoba, have passed their examination for call to the Manitoba bar.

THE Murchison Club met in Mr. Wm. Johnson's office on Campbell-st last night when the latter gentleman explained the manner of testing gas.

☞ No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

A HORSE, yesterday afternoon, in attempting runaway, threw a sewing machine from the sleigh to which it was attached. The machine was considerably smashed.

A MEETING of the Board of the Eastern Dairymen's Association was held at the Daloe House last night, for the purpose of making final arrangements for the convention.

THE funeral of the late Jas. Clark took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence on the Canifton Road to the cemetery. There was a large attendance of citizens, including members of Mizpah and Belleville Lodges of Oddfellows, headed by the Band of the Order.

"THE Kings of Wall Street," as shown by a fine engraving in the window of H. L. Bottoms & Co., attract considerable notice. The company include J. Gould, Russell Sage, August Belmont, W. H. Vanderbilt, Amos Holt, etc. Of course they are all dressed in the latest spring fashions, which this enterprising firm can and will supply on the shortest notice.

CAPT. CUTHBERT has begun building the new steamer ordered by Mr. R. R. Call, of Newcastle. N. B., and has a large number of men now in the woods getting out timber. The steamer will be fitted out in first-class style (screw wheel), and her rate of speed is not to be less than fourteen miles an hour. She will be used as a passenger boat, running along the coast for a distance of about 70 miles. Her dimensions will be: 90 ft. keel; 16 ft. beam; 6 ft. draft; 5 ft. 6 in. wheel, and she is to be delivered to her owner not later than May 20th.

THE Winnipeg Sun says. "As usual another Ontario man has made a strike. Mr. Munro, of Prince Edward County, arrived here last week, and following the example of his predecessors, bought a corner lot. The next day he sold it for $4,000 in advance of what he gave for it. Of course that is no uncommon occurrence here, but it looks big in the eyes of the Prince Edward boys, where it would take years to make that amount. If Mr. Munro continues striking bonanzas like this, he will have quite a pot of gold to take home with him.

☞ N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

REV. A. TURNBULL has been pastor of the Baptist Church for the past five years, and during that time his zealous labors have greatly advanced the financial standing of the church and congregation. Recently the interior of the church was refurnished with new seats, nicely upholstered, and other alterations which were then effected make this church second to none in the city. Last evening the congregation held a reunion in the church in honor of the fifth anniversary of their present pastor, which proved a very successful and interesting meeting. Short and appropriate addresses were delivered by the pastor and others. The financial statement which was read showed that during the past five years the receipts were about $5,500, and of this sum $1,500 was collected last year. The church is free from debt. At the reunion last night, several old members of the congregation were present, and at the close a purse containing $60 was presented to Mr. Turnbull.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

BROCK & Co. The Photographers.

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

THE friends and members of the M. E. Church of Marsh Hill, intend to build a new church during the coming summer. The contract has already been let to W. H. Garrison of Plainfield. The cost will be about $2,000

SAYS the Ottawa Citizen:—"Mr. Hamilton, lately Collector of Inland Revenue at Belleville, has arrived in the city, to enter upon his duties as Inspector for this District, and successor to Mr. Borradaile, who goes to Halifax. Mr. Hamilton is represented as being a very efficient and capable officer, and as well worthy of filling the place of the gentleman whose place he takes.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

TORONTO, Feb. 7th, '82.

Easterly veering to southerly and westerly winds, fair to cloudy, milder weather, light snow in eastern section.

DASHES.

—David Wray, of Toronto, had two wives living and now he languishes in the Central Prison.

—Mr. T. L. Wilson, master car builder of Port Hope, has gone to Chicago to introduce his new combination car.

—The Victoria County Council has memoralized the Dominion Government in favor of the Trent Valley Canal.

—Mr. Oliver, formerly pianist to H. R. H. the Princess Louise, has written an air for a Canadian National Anthem, composed by Mr. W. J. Topley, of Ottawa.

—The details of the United States census show that in Massachusetts there are 71,431 natives of Canada; in Rhode Island 16,300 claim the Dominion as their native land.

—A friend recently gave Mr. O'Mara, Police Magistrate of Ottawa, a sleigh ride behind a fast team. The next day this friend was fined by the Magistrate $10 and costs for driving too fast when he was with him. Wasn't that a little mean?

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ontario, writes in February, 1868, that after trying many Cough and Lung remedies for a severe cold which he has suffered with for three years, he procured ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and was being much benefited by it. In a letter still later, he said his night sweats were all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better and he felt like a new man.

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL

Fifth Annual Meeting of Eastern Association.

The fifth annual convention of the Dairymen's Association of Eastern Ontario opened in the City Hall this morning at 11 o'clock. The President, K. Graham, Esq., in the chair.

The first business transacted was the appointment of the following committees by the President.

NOMINATIONS—Messers. P. Hinman, Grafton; D. Vandewaters, Foxboro; and D. Derbyshire, Brockville.

ORDER OF BUSINESS—Messrs D. M. McPherson, Lancaster; W. S. Yates, Sidney; and Jas. Birrell Algonquin.

FINANCE—Messrs. Ira Morgan, Metcalf; J. R. Craig, Toronto; and D. M. McPherson, Lancaster.

DAIRY UTENSILS—Messrs D. M. McPherson, P. Hinman, and C. F. Smith, Belleville.

DAIRY AND IMPROVED STOCK—Hon. R. Read, Sidney; Jas. Bissell and I. Walker, Rawdon.

On Motion of Mr. Ashley, the names of Messrs. T. H. McRae, of Brockville, and S. P. Knight, of Sidney, were added to the committees on nominations.

The President suggested that the meeting adjourn until 1:30 in the afternoon for the purpose of allowing the committees above mentioned an opportunity to report.

The meeting then adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention resumed at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the President in the chair. The attendance was much larger than during the forenoon session, and the prospects are quite favorable for a successful meeting. Messrs J. B. Harris, Wetherell and S. M. Barie delivered addresses.

☞ We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat; eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

"A LITERARY EVENT."

THE following is a cable dispatch from London, in the N. Y. "Tribune" of January 29th, 1882.

"An important unpublished work by Thomas Carlyle has been discovered lately. It is entitled 'A Tour in Ireland in 1849,' and comprizes notes on the moral and political condition of that country of the most stringent character and greatest interest. This manuscript was unknown to Mr. Froude, and it was submitted to his examination. He was so delighted with it that he volunteered to write an introduction when it is published in book form. Meanwhile, it has been secured by Edmund Gosse for THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, where it will shortly begin to appear as a serial, simultaneously in London and New York."

THE HOP MARKET.

The Oneida Union of this week says: "There is not much change to note in the state of the hop market. From 22 to 25 cents has been realized for a good quality of hops within the past week, but buyers are still cautious and are not inclined to buy on speculation. Stock is working off gradually, and there is no visible reason why the present figure should not be well maintained." The Lowville Journal says: "Elijah Elmer authorizes us to state that he received 24½ cents per pound for his hops, and that they were sold to Carlo Risley, a dealer and hop grower of Waterville. A. Holcomb has bought the following lots of hops the past week for W. H. Akin & Son: S. C. Cooran, 11 bales at 23 cents; Clark Davenport, 17 bales at 23½ cents."

Meeting Mr. H. G. Keffer, treasurer of the Cleveland Herald, recently, a representative of the Cleveland (O.) Penny Press, inquired of that gentleman, after stating his mission, if he personally knew anything about the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. A smile played across Mr. Keffer's expressive face and his eyes twinkled merrily as he replied in the affirmative. I will not refuse to state my experience with it, and you may use it as you think best. Four years ago I sprained one of my ankles, an accident which, as you are aware, entails much suffering and sometimes leaves the limb in a condition to remind one frequently of the old hurt. Unfortunately the result ensued. Whenever the weather became damp or my system absorbed the slightest cold my ankles pained me. This went on at intervals for over three years, and I could not obtain relief. Last winter I applied the St Jacobs Oil and it completely cured me. I have not since felt a return of the pain.

Jacob Lockman, Buffalo, N. Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up." He it the best thing in the market.

Cracksmen Arrested.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Larry, Murray and Jas. Rice, notorious cracksmen, confess 15 burglaries here. Goods worth $8,000 were recovered.

Boats Carried Away.

ST. JOHN N.J., Feb. 7.—Nine boats manned by 50 men, were caught by a sudden change of weather in Conception Bay, and imprisoned in a vast field of drifting ice. By extraordinary exertions seven escaped; two boats were carried away. It is supposed the occupants perished.

The Jeannette Crew.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Danenhauer telegraphs he expects to start for United States on Saturday. The men going home with him are seamen, Herbert Leach, Henry Wilson, Frank Manson, George Lanaertack, Ludwig Naros, Raymond Newcomb, Chinese Long Sing, and Indian Ariquir. The condition of all the men has improved since their arrival at Irkutsk. Jack Cole, if fit to travel, will also accompany Danenbaurer. His mind is effected, but there are hopes of his recovery.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Several members of the Legislature visited the produce exchange yesterday to confer with members in relation to canal interests.

Grant has been elected trustee of Madison Avenue Congregational Church.

P. L. Freeman & Co., importers of woollens, have assigned, giving $74,000 preferences.

The passenger rates was advanced by all trunk lines yesterday. There was marked falling off in business from preceding few days.

The Prize Fight.

MISSISSIPPI CITY, Feb. 7.—12.50—Dispute over Referee settled by choosing Alex. Browster of New Orleans and Jack Hardy of Vicksburg, jointly. This is the third time in which two umpires have been chosen.

Ryan bet Sullivan $1,000 which was promptly accepted. First round—and first knock down for Sullivan.

Second round—After considerable struggle the men clinched, Sullivan being thrown by Ryan.

Blood for Sullivan.

Third round ended in Ryan being thrown by Sullivan. Sullivan won the fight in 8th round. Time, 26 minutes.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

The Best Field —FOR— EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON, COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

A POPULAR HOTEL FOR SALE OR TO LET.

MR. SAMUEL KYLE, proprietor of the WILLARD HOUSE, has decided, owing to failing health, to dispose of this very popular and long established hotel. This house has been successfully conducted by the proprietor for the past 23 years, but for reasons stated, it is his intention to retire from the hotel business. The hotel will either be sold, or exchanged for farm property in whole or part.

For further particulars apply to

OVERCOATS!

AT greatly reduced prices, in order to clear balance of winter stock, at

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm has made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider [illegible] first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchase it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

John Brandley read it through aloud in a somewhat faltering voice.

"Married, at Marlwood, on this, Tuesday morning, March 17, Mr. Joshua Penn, Solicitor, to Miss Ethel Brandley, daughter of John Brandley, Esq., both of Marlwood parish. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Rowland Chillip. After partaking of an elegant collation at the residence of Mr. Matthew Penn, the happy pair departed for the Isle of Wight, where they will spend the honeymoon.'

'I think that will do,' exclaimed Joshua, with a beaming smile, as John finished reading.

The old man did not immediately reply, and the paper had fallen from his tremulous fingers to the ground.

'Ye—es, my dear Joshua,' he replied, presently, 'it will do very nicely; 'but,' he added, doubtfully, 'don't you think it would be safer perhaps, considering all circumstance, not to send it until you really are—I mean until after the ceremony?'

'Certainly not John, certainly not! I declare you are growing quite an old croaker!' returned the saguine gentleman in a semi-bantering, semi-defiant, boisterous tone; 'we mustn't be a day behind the fair. No, No! off it goes to day."

As he spoke he picked up the paper, enclosed it in an envelope, addressed it, and off it went by Jenkins, the clerk, to the post.

'Now everything is ready,' exclaimed the satisfied bridegroom, 'and now we have nothing else to do but to be married.'

Nothing else, and that would be accomplished by noon on the following day.

Unless some unexpected fatality should occur to prevent it.

But this was merely a passing thought of the old croaker.

It was a real joy to Deborah Penn as on that eventful eve she displayed the dresses and trinkets in the most dazzling and effective manner in Ethel's chamber.

The apartment was literally strewn with gifts.

'She can't fail to be delighted with them,' Deborah reflected; 'no girl could.'

But Ethel seemed to be a solitary exception to this rule.

The glittering treasures failed to charm her in the least.

She scarcely seemed to notice them at all.

Deborah Penn bore her listless indifference as patiently as she could for a long time until she could bear it no longer.

And then she exclaimed—

'My dear Ethel, see what beautiful things Josh has bought you.'

Ethel, who was sitting in an easy chair, gazing moodily into the fire, took not the slightest notice.

'How do you hear, Ethel?' continued Deborah.

There was no answer.

'All these things are for you; do you understand me?' went on Deborah, beginning to feel very indignant. 'Why don't you look at me?'

Still Ethel took no notice, and Deborah Penn burst out quite in a passion—

'I must say you're the strangest girl I ever met! Here is a room full of valuable presents which my brother has purchased expressly to please you, and you won't even so much as look at them. You are unaccountable.'

Ethel turned her head slowly (her actions were always slow now), and looked at her.

'What are you talking about?' she asked, in a cold, hoarse tone.

'What am I talking about?' returned Deborah, petulantly; 'why, you, of course. Why don't you come and admire your wedding presents?'

'Wedding!' murmured Ethel, strangely, 'wedding!'

"Yes, wedding,' replied Deborah.

'Who is going to be married?' asked Ethel, in the same cold, hard tone as before, and without evincing the slightest interest.

This question struck Deborah as to outrageously absurd that had she not felt too indignant, she would have laughed.

As it was, she answered bluntly—

'Why, you are, I—you know that well enough—to our dear Joshua.'

Ethel started up so suddenly that Deborah thought she was going to fly at her, and drew back apprehensively.

But the poor invalid had no such fierce intentions.

She simply advanced to the centre of the room, and looked round upon the bewildering display of dresses and jewels.

Then suddenly turning to Deborah, she said abruptly—

'Tell Aunt Winifred to come to me directly. I wish to see her.'

'Your aunt is not here. She returned home weeks ago,' replied Miss Penn, in a highly modulated tone.

Ethel looked at her fixedly for a moment, and then, with an expression of mistrust upon her features, and in a tone not unlike that in which she had once issued a similar command to her brother, she said—

'I do not want. I would rather be alone. Go.'

Deborah did not wait to be told twice, but flounced out of the room.

'The girl must be out of her mind,' she muttered to herself, as she went downstairs.

'I can't think what Josh is thinking of. A pretty life he'll have with her.'

Was this the truth?

Had the protracted misery poor Ethel had endured weakened her brain and rendered her no longer capable of guiding her own actions, or even receiving impressions?

It might have been so.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."

Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles (32 doses), 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

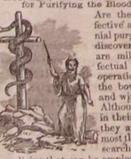
SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness, inflammation and pain. No household should be without it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood.



Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

N. H. DOWNS' Vegetable Balsamic ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not Incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration, and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

CONSUMPTION

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN

ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand.

AMELIASBURGH SABBATH SCHOOL DEMONSTRATION.

An Enthusiastic Gathering, and a Complete Success.

The demonstration, consisting of the S. S's of the two circuits—Ameliasburgh and Rednerville—was held in the "Union" Church Monday evening and was in every way a grand success. The different schools of the township were either represented by goodly numbers or their Superintendents, showing the amount of interest felt in the work. The successful carrying out of this demonstration is mostly due to the zeal of Mr. W. T. Kinney, I. S. S., he having felt for a long time that a union of schools at which prizes would be given for the best percentage of attendance and best average of attendance, would encourage Sabbath School workers and scholars, and place the S. S's. upon a much firmer basis. It would be useless to say that Mr. Kinney was at different times repulsed in his undertaking; that his first schemes were not carried out; but having a good deal of "push" he at last managed, with the assistance of co-workers, to arrange for the demonstration that has taken place with such flattering results, and which must be highly satisfactory to himself as well as others interested in S. S. work. At 7 p. m., the hour appointed for commencing the programme, the body of the church was filled. The presents were tastefully arranged on the altar, furnishing a very brilliant and pleasing appearance. Rev. Mr. Tomblin, the esteemed pastor, acted as chairman. Mr. Wm. Johnson not being present, short addresses upon S. S. work were made by the Pastor and W.T. Kinney, I. S. S. The choir was under the management of Mr. I. R. Eaton, and furnished plenty of well selected music. Mr. Tomblin then proceeded to call upon the Superintendents of the successful schools to say a few words, they taking the platform as they ranked upon the honor roll, which was as follows:—

J. DeLong, Supt, Huffs' Island; W. E Anderson, Rednerville; B. Rothwell, Bushe's; R. Murray, Rossmore; P. C. Dempsey, Albury; D. Frederick Massassaga; L. Redner, Centre. Mr. Eaton replied in Mr. Redner's absence. E. Roblin, Roblin's Mills. Mr. Tomblin replied; J. Wood, Union, Mr. W. Anderson spoke at the request of Mr. Wood. Mr. Rothwell proposed that a few minutes be given to the Superintendents and others to express opinion as to the best time of year to accomplish Sunday School work. Quite a number spoke upon this subject, and were unanimous in favor of the winter season.

W. J. Ostrom was called to speak and upon taking the stand said he had his feelings all wrote out, and would be pleased to read them as soon as the prizes were distributed. The successful schools were then called and the prizes presented by Rev. Mr. Tomblin.

PERCENTAGE CLASS.

First, Huff's Island, honor roll, 45½ per cent.; 2nd, Bushes, bell, 40½ per cent.; 31, Albany, clock, 33½ per cent.

The Rednerville School stood second in honor on this class, but being first on the next class was not allowed a prize, as no school could take a prize in each class.

AVERAGE CLASS.

First, Rednerville, handsome motto, 66, 2d, Rossmore, (2 mottoes), 55; 3rd, Massassaga, (2 mottoes), 54; 4th, Centre, Lord's Prayer, Ten Commandments, 45; 5th Roblin's Mil's, clock, 30½; 6th, Union, bell, 30½.

Mr. Tomblin's prize given to the best school was taken by Huff's Island.

The different prizes, although not expensive, were very handsome and will be valued highly by those receiving them.

This part of the programme being through the most interesting was to follow, and W. T. Kinney was called out on the altar, and Mr. W. J. Ostrom presented him with the following address enclosed in a very handsome ornamental case:—

To W. T. KINNEY, ESQ.,
Inspector S. Schools.

DEAR SIR:—In common with your many friends of either a business or social character, the Sabbath School workers and others, who have the interests of the S. S. cause on the circuits of Ameliasburgh and Rednerville at heart, have heard with regret that you are about bidding adieu (at least for a season) to the people among whom and for whom you have toiled so long and faithfully in spiritual things; to bid a farewell to the scenes of the labors and triumphs of a whole decade; and to bid a good bye to your co-workers in up-building of the S. S. cause on these circuits, and sunder those endearing associations which have been the natural growth of your labor among us. The position which you occupied in relation to the S. S. cause was an honorable, prominent and responsible one, full of trials and difficulties; a position that exposed you to unfair criticism and misrepresentations; a position whose labors were great and rewards few. You filled that position with honor and ability; with credit to yourself and great benefit to the S. S. of these circuits,

You assumed the responsibilities of your position with Christian manliness, and discharged your duties with commendable zeal, unflinching courage, and unswerving devotion. You grappled with the difficulties which beset you and overcame them when resisted by injust criticism and traduced by envious misrepresentations. Your conduct was such as became one who had been taught of Him, "the weak and lonely in heart."

To detail your labors in connection with this cause would be to give the history for the past seven years of each individual S. S. on this and adjoining circuits. It will be sufficient here to say that when you came forward as a teacher in this work, you found the condition of the S. S's. of these circuits a most deplorable one, and the people in general totally ignoring the claims of the S. S. cause. At present, what a great and marvellous change do we behold! A Sabbath School has been organized in every section of these circuits, and these schools are attended on an average each Sabbath by 500 scholars, and the S.S itself holding a place in the esteem of the people second to no other religious organization.

The assembly of enthusiastic Sabbath School workers and supporters gathered here this evening, and the occasion which has called them together, are witnesses of the change that has been wrought, and form a fitting culmination to your labors among us; a fitting close for a career fraught with such important results to the S. S's. of Ameliasburg and Rednerville. Under these circumstances, then, a good many Sunday School friends view this a fitting time and place to make a public acknowledgment of the deep debt of gratitude which they owe you, and of

Not the least important feature in Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is the Comfort, Buoyancy and Vigor which is inspired by its use, and which is developed as the patient recovers from sickness.

From Nathan Pimmer, M. D., Auburne, N. H

"Although averse to countenancing patent medicines, I cheerfully make an exception of your very excellent Lung preparation—DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. This preparation I have used in my practice for more than ten years past, and have always found it to be of more effectual service than anything within my knowledge. I recommend it with the greatest confidence to those subject to coughs and pulmonary complaints."

50 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Camping out in the pine woods has been recommended to consumptive patients, and the Rev. Dr. Murray, in his book on the Adirondacks, mentions a remarkable cure from treatment of this nature. Every one afflicted with pulmonary disease cannot make it convenient to camp out, nor is it necessary, when all the benefits of the treatment are procurable by using GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM, a scientific preparation, which presents, in a concentrated and agreeable form, all the virtues of this native medicinal gum. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and, it is invaluable. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A CURE FOR CROUP.

Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds All dealers supply it, price 25 cents.

A GENERAL STAMPEDE.

Never was such a rush made for any Drug Store as is now at Jas. Clarke & Co's for a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. All persons afflicted with Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, or any affections of the Throat and Lungs, can get a Trial Bottle of this great remedy free, by calling at the above Drug Store.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.

PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the CORN EXTRACTOR will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

Millions of Bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have been given away as Trial Bottles of the large size. This enormous outlay would be disastrous to the proprietors, were it not for the rare merits possessed by this wonderful medicine. Call at Jas Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store, and get a Trial bottle free, and try for yourself. It never fails to cure.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.

are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT. which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift, your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

NEVER GIVE UP.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle, by all druggists.

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

A STUBBORN FACT,

Dr. Fowler's extract of Wild Strawberry is without a doubt, the safest and most reliable remedy in existence, for diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera morbus, sour stomach, sea-sickness, and all summer complaints. It acts like a charm. Its effects are marvellous—relief instantaneous, cure speedy. Physicians and all who use it recommend it. It should be kept in every home at this season, for use in cases of emergency. For sale by all dealers.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

A TONIC WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Dyspeptics and those suffering from chronic diseases should read the following from Rev. John Gregory, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, at Pittiston, Pa.

MY DEAR SIR:—Having at various times personally, and in my own and other families, tested the great value of the meditine called PERUVIAN SYRUP or Protected Solution of Protoxide of Iron, I most cheerfully recommend it, especially to those who are suffering from dyspeptic and nervous disorders. As a reliable and powerful alterative, it is, I think, unsurpassed; and as a tonic, free from all the objectionable features of alcoholic remedies, it is a most efficient auxiliary to the temperance cause. One of the greatest hindrances to the temperance reform at present is, I think, the medical use of alcoholic stimulents. Whatever may be argued as to their necessity in certain cases, we have, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, a safe and efficient substitute for those dangerous remedies. This testimony is given unsolicited with the hope that some who are not yet acquainted with the valuable properties of the medicine may be induced to give it a trial.

Sold by all druggists.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruised Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by James Clarke & Co.

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.,

Graduate of Victoria College, Toronto and Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, PROPRIETOR.

Over 30,000 cases successfully treated during the past 15 years.

From Rev. B. F. Austin, M. A. B. D., Principal Alma Ladies College, St. Thomas Ont.

ST. THOMAS, Ont. Jan. 2nd, 1882.

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D.

MY DEAR SIR,—In September last I contracted a severe cold upon my lungs quite severely afflicting the left one. I had very bad cough accompanied by expectoration indication of Pulmonary Phthisis. My strength decreased and spirits sank very low, and when I called upon you it was in doubt whether any medical treatment would avail in my case. Under your treatment I have already recovered my wanted strength and health, my weight has increased, my cough has ceased, and in every way I feel very much benefitted by your treatment. You are at perfect liberty to use these statements as you please.

Very sincerely yours,
B. F. AUSTIN,
Principal Alma Ladies College,
St. Thomas, Ont.

P. S.—When the above letter was written Prof. Austin had been using the remedies but one month.

acknowledging their appreciation of your labors, which no earthly treasure can repay, and obligations which lengthened years of opportunity can not remove.

The time of your departure is at hand. We sorrow at our loss, and humbly pray that the great Giver of all good may shower his choicest gifts upon you and bless you and keek you blameless until the time of his appearing. May health and prosperity, spiritual and temporal, ever be yours; and may you ever be "steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord; inasmuch as we are well assured that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." We now bid you farewell, and present you with this address as the most fitting way in which we can present you with a moment of our appreciation of your labors amongst us, and of our gratitude and esteem.

Mr. Kinney made a very suitable reply of which the following is a synopsis:—

Dear Friends:—I feel that time is too short and words to few to utter the feeling of my heart. I had flattered myself heretofore with being able to know mostly all that was going on about me, but I must acknowledge that the promoters of this scheme (using a Phrenological term) possess a good deal of secretiveness. The address, which I believe expresses the sentiments of a great majority of the people, affords me a great deal of pleasure to know that my labor has not been in vain. I did not look for an address, much less to be the recipient of so valuable a gift. Referring to the address Mr. Kinney said he had received unfair criticism, but against all that he felt that he had been working for a good cause, and such kind sentiments fully satisfied him that his labors had not been in vain. He heartily thanked them for an address so full of kind feelings towards him. He had been encouraged much at all times with the deep interest his esteemed friend Rev. Mr. Tomblin had taken in the work.

He felt that too much credit had been given him. He had only done his duty. He felt this demonstration was only a small manifestation of what S. S. work would yet be.

After a few complimentary remarks from Rev. M. Tomblin the proceedings came to a close, all feeling well pleased with the demonstration.—Com.

Ladies, if any of the diseases peculiar to your sex, are undermining your constitution, and destroying your beauty, you will find in Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills, a medicine always safe to take and certain to do good.

DAILY ONTARIO

WEDNESDAY FEB. 8, 1882.

—The Pacific Province claims to be in advance of the rest of the Dominion on the female suffrage question. At the late civic election in Victoria nearly a score of lady ratepayers recorded their votes for Mayor and Councillors.

—The Queen's speech, at the opening of the Imperial Parliament on Tuesday, referred to the condition of Ireland as being improved; the approaching marriage of the Duke of Albany; and the trade of the empire. These are the chief points.

—Dr. Stewart is again protesting the election of the Mayor of Kingston, and claiming the seat for himself. This is an annual pastime for the veteran medico, and his persistency in a course so inconsistent suggests a state of mind that might be considered somewhat "crankish."

—Toronto has 75 churches. The total attendance at all the churches of the city and at all the services last Sunday was 58,000. The total population of the city is 86,445. Taking all the Methodist bodies as one church, they head the list with a total attendance of 13,000. The Roman Catholics come next with 12,192; the Church of England third with 11,872; the Presbyterians fourth with 11,815, &c. The largest single congregation is St. Michael's, the total attendance being 3,900. Dr. Wild's comes next with 3,300; and the Metropolitan third with 3,158.

The Quebec tug owners have joined Mr. McCallum, the Tory M. P. for Monck, in petitioning the Government for the removal of the coal duty. This is an incomprehensible act, seeing that the producer pays the duty. We appeal to the Mail.

The Mail remarks:—"One of the most interesting contests of the coming general election will be held between Messrs. Boultbee and Mackenzie in East York." True, it will be an interesting contest, and we don't for a moment doubt the verdict of the moral and intelligent electors of East York. There will be more than the National Policy at stake.

Tory journals profess to be very anxious that Mr. Mowat should appeal the Boundary Award dispute to the English Privy Council. Mr. Mowat has no case to appeal. The award, as rendered by the arbitrators, was accepted by Mr. Mowat and duly ratified by the Legislature. Ontario is satisfied, and only demands the ratification of the award by the second party to the contract—the Dominion Government. If there must be an appeal to the Privy Council, Sir John, and not Mr. Mowat, is to take the initiative.

Mr. Wallace, M. P., of rag-baby notoriety, says he can buy a good axe to-day for $1.00 that would cost $1.40 before the N. P. shed its benign influence over the country. The Globe has interviewed one of the oldest hardware dealers in Toronto, and he says Mr. Wallace talks nonsense. This dealer has never sold axes for $1.40, and says the prices fluctuate with the cost of steel. At present the article is selling at a small advance over the price charged in 1878. So much, then, for Mr. Wallace's contribution to the N. P. controversy.

ABOUT DISALLOWANCE.

The Ottawa Citizen is shocked to see the Ontario assert that the Winnipeg Times and Emerson International do not necessarily represent public opinion in Manitoba. We are reminded in not over-polite language that the Premier of the Prairie Province, the burly Norquay, has expressed his opinion of the act of disallowance referred to, and "the representatives of Grit newspapers" are expected to bow in humble submission to the superior authority. Perhaps our highly sensitive contemporary will admit that the Winnipeg Sun is in a position to know what the people of Manitoba think of the action of the Dominion Government in disallwoing the Southeastern Railway Act. We published extracts from the Sun's editorials yesterday which were explicit enough.

The Ontario has never been under the influence of a subsidy, neither has any person connected with it secured a competence by acting as a contract broker. People who live in big glass houses are always indiscreet, and amuse themselves by throwing stones at others. The present editor of the Citizen must not measure everybody's wheat with his own half-bushel, as there is evidence on record that will show his organ to have been subsidized or mesmerized.

The Provincial Act disallowed by the Mackenzie Government was entirely distinct in its application from either the Streams Bill or the Southeastern Railway Act. The Reform press do not deny the power of the Dominion Government to disallow Provincial Acts, but they insist that it is a power that should be exercised with great care and manifestly in the interest of the Dominion and Provincial rights. What they condemn is an exercise of that power for partisan and monopolizing purposes.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

One of the most intelligent audiences that ever was in the Metropolitan Hall assembled last evening, having for its object the free discussion of the desirability of establishing in Belleville Steel Works. Is is with regret that the main party, Mr. *H*all, a gentleman representing himself as the representative of a large amount of capital from parties deeply interested in the iron industry of the United States, made but a poor show. We regret it the more because it appeared to us that the wealth and intelligence of our city, who were present, seemed desirous of lending aid to any proposal that might lead to the development of the mineral resources of our county; but there can be no doubt that they were quite disappointed. There was no proposition made, although the question was repeatedly asked Mr. Hall. He evaded the question as often as it was asked; and many of the audience seemed to think that the meeting was a mere sham. At last, when it appeared that the meeting was about to disperse, a young merchant got up and stated that the intention of the Company was to ask the city of Belleville to take a certain amount of stock at par, so as to encourage the Company to go on with the proposed works; or rather that the American capitalists, who were interested, should have a certainity that they would be protected in the amount of capital they intend to invest. We will now, and hereafter, lend our aid to encourage any enterprise that may tend to develope the resources of our county, and we will personally subscribe what may be reasonably expected of us; but we would like to be informed from the promoters of the intended enterprise what the real intention is, and what is expected of the citizens of Belleville to carry out that enterprise. While we are thus friendly disposed towards any company having for its object the development of our mineral resources, we insist that the fullest information should be given as to the real object, and what amount of stock is required of us, as well as the amount of capital about to be invested by the American promoters. In short, the people demand to know frankly what is expected of them. There must be no secrets, no hole-in-the-corner meetings. The transactions must be above board, and then Mr. Hall and his company may expect our hearty support.

Why allow that noble animal the horse to go limping along painfully, when the use of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment would be certain to relieve him quickly.

RED TAPE.

And it Effec's upon Mr. J. L. Howell.

The following, which we take from the Bradford, Pr., Sunday News, has reference to a sad errand by our old friend and fellow employee, Mr. Jas. L. Howell:—The baby son of Mr. James L. Howell, foreman of the the Sunday News composing room, died on Tuesday afternoon, aged six months. Mr. Howell started to take the 6:20 train on Friday morning to convey the remains of his child to Oil City for burial, but the conductor of that train, Mr. Barber, refused to take the corpse unless the Health Officer's certificate was made on a blank furnished by the railroad company. No such blanks had been furnished and none could be found, and Mr. Howell was compelled to remain behind with his sad burden when the train left. He was more fortunate with the conductor of the 10 o'clock train, Mr. Bennett, and went out on that, with only the original certificate as authority. He passed over the various roads without difficulty, performed his sorrowful duty and returned to the city last evening.

The Bradford Times also refers to the matter at greater length and condemns the action of the railway officials in forcible terms. It is understood Mr. Howell will test the matter in the courts.

Mr. Wm. Morgan, of Fredericton, N.B. says his wife had been a great sufferer from a cough for over twenty years; "lately it is much worse, with spitting of blood and general weakness, Wilsons Pulmonary Cherry Balsam has made an entire cure of her."

The old adage "The best is always the cheapest" will apply to no article with greater force than to Seeds, Nothing is quite so worthless as poor Seeds. D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Mich., seem to be one of the very few firms engaged in the Seed business who have fully realized the importance of putting up and selling only the freshest and best of all varieties of Seeds, and as a legitimate result their brand of Seeds has become exceedingly popular all over the land We take pleasure in referring to their advertisement in our columns, and would advise all our readers who will be likely to require seeds to send and obtain their beautiful catalogue, giving prices, introductions for planting, etc.

"FEMALE COMPLAINTS."

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I write to tell you what your "Favorite Prescription" has done for me. I had been a great sufferer from female complaints, especially "dragging-down," for over six years, during much of the time unable to work. I paid out hundreds of dollars without any benefit till I took three bottles of the "Favorite Prescription," and I never had anything do me so much good in my life. I advise every sick lady to take it. Mrs. EMILY RHOADS, McBrides, Mich.

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL.

Fifth Annual Meeting of Eastern Association

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention resumed at 2 o'clock, the President in the chair. The attendance was much larger than during the forenoon session, and the prospects are exceedingly favorable for a successful meeting.

The Chairman said he would not undertake to deliver an opening address as Prof. Bell had consented to do that to-morrow morning. At the present time the association receives $1,500 from the Provincial Government, which is expended for the purpose of engaging instructors and holding butter and cheese exhibitions. They have been at considerable expense in securing a good staff of speakers, and he hoped the attendance to-morrow would be larger than it was to-day. The admission being free to the Convention, there could be no reasonable excuse for farmers and dairymen remaining away. He expected there would be a good attendance of the citizens of Belleville this meeting, as the questions to be discussed will doubtless be both interesting and instructive to them—to mothers and daughters particularly. The speaker then announced the names and avocations of the various gentlemen who would address the meeting.

Mr. R. Cullis, Secretary of the West Northumberland Agricultural Association was the first speaker. He read an interesting paper on "Dairy Farming," which contained much information of considerable value to farmers engaged in dairying. He dwelt at length on the various breeds of cows, favoring the short horns as being the best for dairy purposes. Farmers he said paid to much attention to growing grain than to dairying interests, which was a great mistake on the part of our farming community.

The next speaker was Professor Wetherell. At the meeting of Western Ontario Association at Woodstock the other day, he said, a man said the first thing you should have was a cow. He thought that man had gone back pretty well. The first thing he thought that a man should secure was a farm, and then he could get as many cows as he pleased. There is probably no butter in the Boston market that sells as well as that made from milk from Gurnsey cows. He did not believe in artificial coloring either in the manufacture of cheese or butter. For butter the Gurnsey and Jersey cows he thought were better adapted to our climate than any other animals were. The speaker then read an essay on

"DAIRYING EAST AND WEST."

The speaker had attended the ninth annual convention of the National Butter Cheese and Egg Association at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and was favorably impressed with the present contrast between dairy-husbandry in the east and in the west. It was the eminent Bishop Berkley, of Cloyne who said, prior to the middle of the eighteenth century. "Westward the course of empire takes its was." Equally true is it that westward the course of dairy husbandry takes its way. There has been a great change effected in the manufacture of cheese and butter during the past seventy-five years. Many years ago it was thought that the western limits of the dairy section scarcely extended west beyond Herkimer county, New York State, Canada being left out entirely, and not ten years ago the speaker had heard Hon. Harriss Lewis say that neither butter nor cheese of first-class quality could be made west of Central New York; but he took occasion to question Mr. Harris' statement. At the Centennial exposition in 1876, the Gold Medal was awarded to John Stewart of Iowa, for the best butter on exhibition in connection with the world of dairymen in butter-making. This was both a surprise and an eye opener to the dairymen of the east who were well represented, not excepting Hurkimer County and Central New York. At the international dairy fair in 1879, the first prize was again awarded to Iowa butter. The co-operative cheese factory system was inaugurated by Jesse Williams of Rome, N. Y., about 30 years ago, and has completely revolutionized the cheese-making system of the United States and Canada. Canadian dairymen went on to the state of New York and learned the factory business; returned and introduced it here, and at the Centennial exposition at Philedelphia in 1876, a Canadian dairyman took the first prize on cheese against the world, thus leaving old Herhiner to meditate on the past and contemplate how to compete successfully in the future with Iowa in butter and Canada in cheese. Having briefly sketched the advance of dairy husbandry from the east to the west and its rapid growth, especially within the past ten years, it would, he said, doubtless interest dairy men of Ontario to hove a brief sketch of this farm industry as gleaned from the United States census. The number of milch cows in the United States in 1850 was 4,837,043; in 1880 there were 12,442,137. The production of butter in 1850 was 313,250,000 lbs; in 1880 800,000,000 lbs were reported. In 1860 the production of cheese was 103,750,0000, the export of the same year was, 15.750,000 lbs; in 1880 the production was 400,000,000 lbs. In 1860 prime sold at an average of 11 cts per lb. in New York and Boston; in 1870 cheese was reported at 21 cts. per lb., and in 1880 it sold still higher. For the past forty years the dairy crop has been the money crop on farms adapted to dairy-husbandry. A case was cited to substantiate this statement, in which his brother was the person referred to, was given. Notwithstanding the rapid advances and growth of dairy-husbandry in the United States during the past half century, still the cry is heard that the supplies of pure milk, choice butter and fine cheese are not equal to the demand. "What is the difference between factory and creamery butter?" Prof. L. B. Arnold describes a butter factory as "a modern institution for making butter from the milk of several herds of cows on an associated plan, similar to that on which cheese factories are managed. The milk is brought to the factory twice a day by the producer, the same as for cheese factories, and taken back in them the sour skim milk, which is divided among the patrons according to the amount of milk delivered." But says one, pressing the enquiry still further, "Are not creamery and Ladle-Packed butter both factory made butter?". This he said was a pertinent enquiry and one that should be answered. The name "ladle-packed butter" having become unpopular of late it is now called factory butter, "ladle-packed butter" having not inaptly been called "hash." The speaker gave a review of the butter and cheese market in New York for 1881. The receipts were nearly the same as in 1880 and the exports were less by 9,560,013 lbs. Yet, notwithstanding this the stock of butter in New York on January 1st. 1882, was less than January 1st. 1881 by 20,000 packages. The average price during the year 1881 was higher than in 1880. This shows a large indrease in home consumption; there was also a large increase of the home consumption of cheese in 1881.

Prof. J. B. Harris, then read an able paper—Subject—"Grass and the Dairy." He pointed out that the relation existing between animal and plant life is intimate and inter-dependent. The essayist went on to speak of the cost of raising cattle, and then gave the profits to be realized by such a plan. He also spoke of both winter and summer feeding, and referred briefly to the question of ensilage.

MADOC ITEMS.

—Our new council evidently mean business. They seem to take hold of everything the right way.

—The Rev. Mr. Hutton, M. E. Minister, was favored with a genuine surprise party on Wednesday evening of last week. After spending a sociable evening and enjoying the luxuries of a well-filled table, the members and friends of the church presented Mrs. Hutton with a purse of money.

—The protracted meetings in the C. M. Church, closed last Friday. They were attended with great success.

—Our worthy Chief has commenced to look very sharply after the boys out on the street at night. He will allow no boy on the streets after night, unless accompanied by the parents or some other responsible person.

—Mr. E. Langman has been appointed special constable. We expect rows and disorder to be a thing of the past now.

—Valentine Day will soon be on hand and the post office clerks will have their hands full.

—A serious accident occurred on Keller's bridge in this township, on Sunday, Jan. 29th, which might have proved fatal. It appears that Mrs. McLennon, Mrs. Bond, and Mrs. Williams were driving home from church, and when on the bridge, which was bare, the horse choked and fell over the side of the bridge, a distance of fifteen feet, taking Mrs. McLennon and Mrs. Williams and the cutter with him, hurting Mrs. McLennon seriously and slightly injuring Mrs. Williams, but the horse was not hurt. Mr. Coe, of this village, and John Brown, of the Scotch Settlement, escaped a similar accident on Wednesday last; both of the horses fell and came nearly falling over the side. The County Surveyor should see after those bridges, and see that railings are put on them.

—Mr. Barnum, the 'bus driver between the village and the station, has purchased a new 'bus for the convenience of his patrons. It is much lighter than the old one, and more adapted for the route, besides being handsomely gotten up.

—Miss T. Guffin is to give a Bible reading next Friday night. Subject—"Faith."

—The quarterly services in connection with the Methodist Church of Canada were held Sunday morning last. The sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Mr. McFarlane.

—Mr. N D. Peters, grocer of this village, is talking of going to the North West shortly. He has, we understand, a section of land out there, and will go to farming. We wish him success.

—The Township Council meets in the Town Hall next Monday.

—Mr. W. Fuller has been appointed Street Surveyor for this village.

—The village Clerk's salary has been raised $15.

Croup.—This disease in caused by the formation of a false membrane lining the wind-pipe, and obstructing the passage of the air, and is known by the shrill, croup-sounding cough and rattling in the throat. This membrane must be removed by expectoration. Take a double dose of Allen's Lung Balsam every ten or fifteen minutes, which will reduce it, after taking a few doses. The Balsam will and has saved the lives of thousands of children attacked with Croup, where it has been taken in season.

All classes of Professional and business men at times are subject to extreme nerve prostration from excessive brain work and worry, and by advice, commonly resort to stimulants, opium, chloral or bromides to subdue irritability and restlessness. These agents only put to sleep the sentinel that warns the system when overworked, while the waste of vital force continues. Here is a large consumption of phosphates, the source of nerve power, than is furnished by the food, and the deficiency may be supplied by the use of Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an easily assimilable form of these elements of nerve nutrition.

HAVE

YOUR mind made up as to your course of action in the event of anything that is likely to happen. To be forewarned is to be forearmed and if

YOU

are well prepared in advance you are sure to come through with credit. It is almost certain that eighty out of every hunured people in this province will have cold during the coming twelve months. In some instances it will be checked in the beginning by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam and the people will forget that anything was ever the matter with them; but unfortunately in the other cases it, unheeded, will be permitted to grow until the symptoms become alarming, and the family physician will be called in. He may cure or may not, according to the condition of the patient but at what expense of time and money? If Dr. Wilson's remedy had been first used the whole expense would have been a few cents. It is a mistake that

A

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co., during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture,

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

☞ FURS at cost at Davenport's.

THE City Council will probably meet on Monday evening next.

THE civic deputation returned home from Toronto last night.

A QUARTETTE of protectionists were quartered in the cells last night.

☞ Go to Davenport's for Furs. He 's selling out.

THE streets and sidewalks were very slippery this morning, and pedestrianism was a dangerous performance. A good many ugly falls are reported, and not a few painful injuries.

THE Liberal demonstration at Kingston last night was a grand success. The Opera House was crowded and the enthusiasm ran high. We are too much crowded today to do more than refer to the affair.

☞ GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

THE Dairymen's Convention will probably not adjourn until Friday. They will meet this evening when an interesting discussion will take place. Admission free.

MESSRS. W. H. Williams, of the Globe, and John Gemmell, of the Mail, are in the city attending the Dairymen's Convention. The former gentleman will pay a visit to the mines in the north before returning to Toronto.

☞ CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

THE Emerson Express of the 1st. inst. says:—Mr. Charles Hall, of Belleville, Ont., arrived in town on Monday morning from Winnipeg. Mr. Hall has been investing extensively in Manitoba lands, and leaves for his home on Monday next.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons, steamlooms, winceys, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc., etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in small bills.

WHARTON, the old man arrested on Monday morning for stealing a quantity of underclothing the property of James Hall, and who was remanded until Thursday, has, it appears, been guilty of more than one petty larceny. Officer Hayes in making a search one day this week at the second hand-stores, found about a dozen law books and a large quantity of clothing which the proprietors of the two different shops say they purchased from Wharton. The articles were taken to the police station. The books, we are informed, belong to the County Crown Attorney. Wharton will be up before the Magistrate to-morrow morning.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

MR. MCCUAIG, M. P., at the public meeting last night, seemed to fancy that the people had come to the hall to hear him extol the wonderful merits of the N. P. When reminded by Mr. M. B. Roblin that business and not politics was before the meeting, the fussy member for Prince Edward became wrathy, and indulged in some uncomplimentary remarks. He was at length convinced that his N. P. harangue was distasteful to the audience, and subsided. Mr. McCuaig is deficient in the essentials of good judgment and discretion, and hence the exhibitions he is so frequently the hero of.

HEALY'S Hibernian Minstrels are billed for the Metropolitan Hall next Saturday evening. Speaking of their performance in Montreal, the Herald says:—The Theatre Royal was well filled last night, and the popular Minstrels danced, sang and acted in their best form. The Brennans and Captain Liable gave the "Coopers' Chorus" amid loud applause, and the Murrays, at the conclusion of their "Love and Liquor" Act, were encored again and again. Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, as the rival balladsingers, were also very amusing. Mr. Ned West the favorite of the gods, sang and danced in his usual excellent style. The entertainment is a decided improvement upon that presented by the Company when last here.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHŒNIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

THERE was a blank at the police court this morning.

THE merchants and business men of the city have invited the dairymen to take dinner with them at the Dafoe House to-morrow evening.

☞ No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

MARCHMONT HOME.—The ladies of this Sewing Society will meet at Mrs. C. H. Elliott's, Bridge Street West, on Thursday afternoon, at 3 p.m. Bible Reading by F. Lockett, Esq., at 8 p. m. All friends cordially invited.

THE Rev. D. Mitchell will lecture before the students of Ontario Business College to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, and will be followed by R. C. Clute, Esq., a week from that date, and by other gentlemen at subsequent dates.

REV. D. MITCHELL delivered his new lecture last evening to a large audience in the Town Hall, Picton, on "How to get on in the World." He was frequently applauded, and a general request was made that the rev. gentleman should return and give a lecture again.

WEDDING BELLS again. See notice elsewhere. Mr. Davis is to be congratulated. He has won a prize, and Belleville loses one of her fairest and most popular young ladies. We express the wishes of many when we wish the happy couple a prosperous and happy future.

☞ N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

THE following from the Brockville Recorder speaks for itself: We have, in conversation with several members of our local club of curlers, who have just returned from their contest with the Peterboro Curling Club for the District medal, learnt that, although our friends have suffered a defeat at the hands of their opponents, the outing has been to them the occasion of a very pleasant and jolly time indeed. The Peterboro' Club is composed of very friendly gentlemen and keen curlers, and a defeat at their hands can never be termed as an ignominious one, and may happen to the best regulated clubs. Of course our friends have, without denying the severity of their defeat, many good valid reasons for losing the game, viz.:—The bad condition of the rinks, want of concerted practice, &c. One feature of the occasion, however, our Brockville curlers are by no means desirous to forget, and will never forget—and that is the frank and kind hospitality extended to them by the gentlemen of the Belleville Curling Club, and they are glad to make public through the columns of the Recorder their high appreciation of the friendly attentions and hearty hospitality of which they have been the recipients, at the hands of the latter club. Such kindly courtesies softened altogether the keen sense of defeat, and the Brockville Club will look forward with pleasing anticipation to the time when they may have the opportunity to reciprocate the hospitable attentions manifested towards them by their friends of the Belleville Curling Club.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

Proposed Smelting Works.

THE PUBLIC MEETING LAST NIGHT.

Unsatisfactory Explanations by Mr. Hall.

Last evening a large audience assembled in the Metropolitan Hall for the purpose of hearing the project of establishing smelting works in Belleville laid before them by Mr. Hall, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and others. The audience did not represent solely the capitalists of the city, as there were a large number of boys present, but there were a fair number of business men and men of means in the hall, who by their attendance evinced the interest they take in the establishment of such an industry here as Mr. Hall proposes.

MR. THOS. RITCHIE, was chosen Chairman. He regretted that His Worship the Mayor was not present. He then called upon Mr. Hall to explain the scheme he represented.

MR. HALL said he had come to Ontario a couple of years ago to learn if sufficient quantities of iron could be found in the Province to warrant the establishment of smelting works here. He had found plenty of ore and a company was formed to manufacture it, composed of American capitalists, and his business was to ask the citizens of Belleville if they desired that the works should be established here. If they were located in Belleville the population, he said, would be increased by 15,000 people. This was all he had to say, and if there were questions any person desired to ask, he would be only too glad to answer them, it within his power to do so.

Mr. Jas. McCuaig, M. P. for Prince Edward County, was then called upon. The first thing he said to be considered was—"Are our ores of sufficient value to warrant the establishment of smelting works?" He thought they were. The value of our ore, he said, from tests made by different gentlemen, was from 62 to 68 and in some instances 70 per cent. It is therefore important that our citizens should consider whether these valuable ores are not worth manufacturing into steel and iron wares. We should endeavor to induce such capitalists as Mr. Hall represents, to expend their capital here in the establishment of smelting and steel works. The speaker thought the Canadian tariff was not high enough on iron. We should have such a tariff as the Americans have, if we wish to encourage iron works. He quoted statistics from American iron manufacturers showing the enormous amount of money expended by them in the business.

(Mayor Lingham having entered the hall, the Chairman requested that he should provide over the meeting, which he consented to do.)

Mr. McCuaig continued by asking where the Americans get the best quality of iron ore. He thought they imported the most of it from Canada, and especially from the County of Hastings. He believed that the mines in this county supply the best ores in the market. Having expressed his great pleasure at being present, and the interest he felt in the prosperity of Belleville, though residing in the adjoining county, Mr. McCuaig repeated his belief in the beneficial results of a protective policy, especially for the manufacture of iron. Should the proposed works be established here he had no doubt the population of the City would soon increase to 20,000, or more In answer to Mr. H. Ashley he said the Americans needed our ore to mix with theirs to produce a better quality of metal. The speaker continued to laud the effects the N. P. and quote statistics until the audience wearied and Mr. D. B. Robertson interrupted by requesting Mr. Hall to state the terms on which his company proposed to establish smelting works in Canada. Mr. McCuaig then apoligized for taking up so much time, and Mr. H. Ashley took the platform.

Mr. Ashley repeated Mr. Robertson's request for fuller information from Mr. Hall. He had faith in the result of such manufactures, but the people wanted to know more about the particulars—what the cost would be, &c.

Mr. Hall said he believed the company which he represented was the first one that ever undertook such a work in this Province, or as he put it—"on the sacred soil of Ontario." He read the prospectus of the "Ontario Steel Association," which we have published. The speaker suggested the appointment of a committee to meet him, when he would lay before that body all the information that would be necessary, but he did not purpose to give those who might possibly be opposed to the scheme that information which they should not know.

MR. S. SPANGENBERG said the city would be asked to subscribe a certain amount of stock, payable in 25 or 30 years, said stock to bear interest at 6 per cent. If the city and citizens would look upon this project favourably he had no doubt smelting works would be established here at once.

MR. HALL said it would be utterly impossible to lay the details of the project before this meeting. If a committee was appointed to meet him he would then give all necessary information, and if they choose to do so, the information they acquire from him could be published with certain reservations.

Mr. Ashley—Why do you want the supposed profits kept secret.

Mr. Hall—On the same principle that any merchant declines to inform outsiders what the profits of his business are.

Mr. K. Graham moved, seconded by Mr. Jas. Clark, that a committee of six gentlemen be appointed to confer with Mr. Hall, and report at some future public meeting.

The resolution was carried.

The following gentlemen were appointed members of the committee:—Messrs. N. Lingham, H. Corby, Alex. Brown, K. Graham, H. Ashley, T. Kelso and the Finance Committee of the City Council.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at the call of the chairman.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Third Session—Fourth Parliament.

TUESDAY, Feb. 7th.

The galleries were well filled yesterday afternoon, owing to the expectation that the Streams Bill would come up for discussion on the second reading. After routine, Mr. Pardee moved the second reading of the Bill in a speech in which the points in favour of the measure were presented with clearness and commendable brevity. He called attention to the importance of the lumber interest, from which the Government realized over $500,000 yearly. The rivers and streams were natural highways, and the only means by which the lumber industry could be developed.

He was followed by Mr. Meredith, the Attoney-General, Mr. Morris, Mr. Lyon and Mr. Lees. The motion for a second reading was then declared carried.

A slight sensation was caused by the unexpected re-introduction of the Orange Bill by Mr. Merrick yesterday afternoon.

☞ We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat, eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

CHURCH ENTERPRISE.

Dedication of the Roslin Presbyterian Church.

The new Presbyterian church in the village of Roslin was opened on Sabbath 29th ult. The Rev. Professor Gregg, D. D. of Knox College, Toronto, preached in the forenoon, from Revelations, v. 6 ver. "And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the Elders, stood a lamb, as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God sent forth into the earth."

The Rev. David Mitchell, of Belleville, preached in the afternoon from Revelations XXI, 22—"And I saw no temple therein, for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb are the Temple of it." The church at both diets of worship was filled to its utmost capacity. Both preachers delivered eloquent and impressive sermons

Dr. Gregg 35 years ago had charge of Roslin congregation, and his old friends were delighted to meet with him, and to hear from his lips once more the precious Gospel.

On Monday evening a soiree was held. The church was crowded, and many could not gain admittance. After tea the Rev. D. Kelso took the chair, and was supported on the platform by the Rev. Messrs. Young, Gardner, Peake, and Grey, and Messrs. John White, M.P.. and Hugh Walker. The choir from St. Andrews' Church, Belleville, was in attendance, and rendered excellent music. A pleasant and profitable evening was spent, and the large audience seemed highly delighted, although many of them had to stand during the whole evening.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to the speakers, to the choir, to the ladies of who had got up the entertainment, the congregation, and also to the chairman. The meeting was brought to a close at 9.30.

On Thursday evening the church was again filled to hear the Rev. D. Mitchell deliver his interesting and instructive lecture on "How to get on in the World." He kept up the unflagging attention of the audience during to entire evening.

The proceeds in all amounted to $337. The church, which is built of brick, has circular seats, and will accommodated 300. It is well finished, and tastefully furnished. A very handsome pulpit bible was presented by Mrs. Wm. Campbell, senior member of the congregation. John White, Esq., M. P., also presented two circular stairs.

The Building Committee reported that the church is nearly free from debt. The Pastor and congregation are to be congratulated on their beautiful Church dedicated to the worship of Almigthy God under such favorable circumstances. May the great Head of the Church bless them, and make them a power for good in the neighborhood.

That Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Herald's New Orleans special says Ryan's left jaw was broken in two places. While he was fighting a rascal entered his room and stole all his clothes and $300. The contest lasted 11 minutes, but the actual fighting time only 6 minutes. Sullivan's backer intends challenging the world with him for any amount of money, and will probably take him to Europe, should he not find a customer in this country.

People of advanced ideas are never slow to recognize that which will result in the greatest benefit to their wealth, health and happiness; such people never fail to perceive the great benefit resulting from the use of St. Jacobs Oil, when afflicted with rheumatism. Wm. B. Waring, Esq., Asst. General Superintendent Third Division Mailing and Distributing, New York Post Office, in writing concerning St. Jacobs Oil says: The reports from the several superintendents and clerks who have used the Oil agree in praising it highly. It has been found efficacious in cuts, burns, soreness and stiffness of the joints and muscles, and affords a ready relief for rheumatic complaints. Hon. T. L. James, now Postmaster General of the United States concurred in the foregoing.

The Irish Troubles.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A Dublin despatch states a semi-Fenian and military association extends to 24 counties in Ireland. The oath binds the members to be faithful to the Irish republic, and obey superior officers without question. The object is to deter persons from paying rent, punish those who disobey the associations orders, and enlist a large body of men who will be drilled.

The House of Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—House of Commons just in. McCarthy, in behalf of Irish members, gave notice of a long amendment to the address, categorically condemning every point in the Government's Irish policy, and urging immediate return to constitutional methods. Forster confirms the statement that an explosive letter reached Dublin Castle after his departure for London. He sated if he had opened it he would certainly have lost his hands and might have been killed.

The letter to Forster contained a scruple and a half of iodide of nitrogen, a fearfully dangerous explosive difficult to obtain.

Searching for Delong.

INKUTSK, Feb. 8.—A letter from Melville, Jan. 13, says he is searching with three parties. The first headed by Vinderman and Russian Lobekoff. The second by Bartlett and Seargeant Kolinkin. The third by Melville and Groenbeck. The first party were to leave Yakutsk immediately and all were to be in the wilderness by March 1st.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

HUMANE

MEANS to be considerate for others than ourselves. It means kindness to our beasts of burden. A wise man is always considerate for his horse, because it can and will carry him better, faster and farther than if it limps or travels in pain. All like a fine showy horse. But no horse was ever showy with ringbone, sprains, harness galls, strains or other ailments. Why not cure them and have a better horse? This can be done by Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, which accomplishes the results, if properly used. Besides the diseases mentioned, it cures cracked heels, scratches, hard hoofs and other diseases. We many testimonials of the value of this remedy from all parts of the province, and all classes of people. Remember the name,

PEOPLE

ALWAYS

HAVE

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

OVERCOATS!

AT greatly reduced prices, in order to clear balance of winter stock, at

GRAHAM S

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

But a sudden and marvellous change had now come over her.

The dull, vacant, listless life departed from her eyes, and memory seemed once more to have resumed its seat.

In proof of this, the moment Deborah Penn had taken her departure she hastily locked the door.

Then with a fierce energy, of which no one who had seen her a few moments before would have deemed her capable, she made a rapid circuit of the room, gathering up the various costly articles with which it was scattered indiscriminately, as they came in her way, and hurled contemptuously into a corner out of her sight.

Then she walked straight to the glass and gazed for a moment earnestly at herself.

She almost started at the pale, ghost-like reflection it returned.

A bitter wail burst from her lips.

'What a miserable wreck I have become,' she groaned. 'What could love me as I am now?'

Ethel staggered to the chair, and sinking down upon her knees at its side, buried her face in her hands, and wept long and bitterly.

These were the first tears she had shed for many long weeks, and they relieved her.

She felt she could pray too.

It was past midnight when she rose from her knees.

But she was now calm, and her features expressed herself intelligence and determination.

'They think to force me to this hated marriage because I am too weak to resist!' she exclaimed, giving utterance at length to her thoughts. 'They will find themselves mistaken. No, Lionel! in spite of your unkindness! in spite'—her voice sank into a low, deep, and scarcely audible murmur as she added, 'of your guilt, I will never be false to you! I will keep the vow I plighted to you over my mother's grave.'

The night wore on, and still Ethel Brandley had not retired to rest.

Her dark eyes were wide upon and awake.

Her busy hands seemed full of activity.

She was evidently intent upon some important work.

As the clock struck two, a slight crash as of splintered wood was heard.

And then—from that moment—unbroken silence. Did she sleep at last?

* * * * * *

The all-important day—the happy bridal morn, dawned at last.

Cold, bleak, and blustering.

The amiable Joshua, parched, nervous, and feeling unpleasantly bilious for a bridegroom, dragged himself out of bed betimes.

His head ached acutely.

But that was nothing uncommon with him now.

He always suffered from that unpleasant malady in the early part of the morning.

His fire was alight, and burnt cheerfully.

But he stood shivering at the wash stand as he poured copious draughts of the icy element down his throat to cool the inward fever that dried him up.

'Oh, dear,' he moaned, as he pressed his hands to his head, 'I must turn over a new leaf, I must indeed; since that reprobate Stivers has been with me, he has led me into all kinds of bad habits. I am getting to be a confirmed brandy drinker. I must leave it off, for I find it injuries my health. After my marriage I'll become a total abstainer, I'm determined.''

After his marriage.

But this determination need not fetter him before.

He felt so miserably depressed and out of tune, it was positively necessary he should make use of artificial means to screw himself up to concert pitch.

Accordingly the liquour case was brought out, and by its friendly help he brought his shattered nerves to an artificial state of steadiness.

'I wonder how Ethel is this morning,' though he, as he commenced the operation of shaving; 'if her head aches as mine does, I pity her. I wonder how she likes ——'

Joshua Penn's soliloquy was cut short by a hasty knocking at his bedroom door.

And his sister's voice was heard eagerly calling him from the outside.

'Joshua, Joshua, let me in!' she cried excitedly; 'quick!'

Josh, whose face was in a creamy state of lather, thus being imperatively summoned, hurried to the door and unlocked it.

His sister, looking quite scared and terrified, burst in.

'Oh, Josh, Josh!' she cried excitedly; 'what do you think? Ethel Brandley——'

'What's the matter?' almost gasped her brother; 'is she dead?'

'No; she's gone.'

Joshua Penn dropped his razor and felt inclined to drop himself, as he faintly echoed—

'Gone?'

'Yes,' returned Deborah with vehement indignation, 'by the window, it seems, and —and what's worse, she has thrown all your beautiful presents into a corner in a most shameful manner. Do come and see.'

Here he found his father and John Brandley, who looked as bewildered as himself.

The window was open, and the keen March wind came rushing in as though it would have turned the house inside out.

One of the iron bars that secured the window had been partly burnt and partly wrenched away, and the woodwork around in which it had been imbedded looked black and scorched.

A sheet, torn in shreds, and fastened together, hung suspended from the window, and fluttered wildly in the blast.

The mode of exit was palpable enough. There was no possible room for doubt or surmise.

The wedding morn had come, but there was no bride.

The victim had escaped the sacrifice.

The caged bird had burst its prison bars, and flown away at last.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil, is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles, 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recr[illegible]its the health, rouses and developes th[illegible]rvous energies, enriches the blood, pro[illegible]appetite, dispels languor and depres[illegible]ortifies the digestive organs. SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness, inflammation and pain. No household should be without it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

MEANS to be considerate for others than ourselves. It means kindness to our beasts of burden. A wise man is always considerate for his horse, because it can and will carry him better, faster and farther than if it limps or travels in pain. All like a fine showy horse. But no horse was ever showy with ringbone, sprains, harness galls, strains or other ailments. Why not cure them and have a better horse? This can be done by Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment, which

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL.

Fifth Annual Meeting of Eastern Association.

SCIENCE IN THE DAIRY.

HON. H. A. WILLARD, of Little Falls, N. Y., delivered an able address on the subject—"Science of Dairing, its progress, and method of making fancy cheese," the object of which was to discover the method of obtaining most butter from a given quantity of milk. The milk was taken from a dairy of 200 cows, and after being thoroughly mixed, 600 pounds were weighed out for each experiment. This quantity was divided into three parts of 200 pounds each, one part being treated with the centrifuge, and another set on the Swartz plan in ice water, and the third set shallow in common, flat pans. The milk set in ice water was placed in pails, having a capacity of 50 pounds each, the milk having an average depth of sixteen inces, and it was allowed to remain in ice water for the space of thirty-four hours before skimming. The regular skimming time for shallow pans was fixed at thirty-four hours after the milk had been set, though this was regulated somewhat by the condition of the milk from the end of May to the middle of September, when the milk was only allowed to stand from twenty-two to thirty hours. In the following table the first figure shows the results from the centrifuge, the second for the Swartz ice system, and the third the shallow pan system. The figures show the number of pounds of milk to produce one pound of butter:—

The average for the year, or out of twelve simultaneous trials distributed over the whole year, was that skimmed milk on analysis yielded amounts of fat as follows:—By curtrifuge, 0.35 lbs.; by ice method, 0.62 lbs.; by shallow pans, 0 68 lbs. He thought the practical value of these experiments was of importance not only as showing the superiority of the ice system over the shallow-pan system, but that milk at different seasons gives a different result, though treated in the same way. Accounts of other experiments followed at considerable length, but among these was one that appears to be of some practical value to Canadian dairymen This was made for the purpose of discovering a remedy for the deleterious effects of transportation of milk intended for butter-making. The transported milk was heated to Oneious temperature by surrounding it with warm water at a temperature of from 113° to 131° Fahrenheit. The transported and cooled milk when heated to a temperature of 86°, which is about the temperature of milk as it comes from the stables, was found to yield some better results then when heated, but not much; while the resistance of the milk for creaming, caused by the cooling and draining, was almost entirely overcome by heating it to a temperature of 104°. The important lesson taught by these experiments was that all milk that had fallen below 80° when it arrives at the butter factory should be heated to 104° before setting. That the loss on milk cooled at the farm before transportation is very considerable, if set at the factory without heating, amounting to 12 per cent, and as it is essential that milk should be cooled at the farm before transport, buttermakers who purchase milk should understand that a gain of 12 per cent. of butter can be saved by the heating of such milk. It should also be understood, however, that milk for butter making cannot be heated much if any above 104 without injuring the keeping qualities of the butter. It should also be remembered that cool and transported milk was best for cheese-making. These processes arrest or retard the rising of the cream, and as the cream is not separated from the milk it will produce a greater quantity and better quality of cheese, though not suited to the production of butter. Some facts recently developed went to show that the fatty matter of milk was in a free condition as a simple emulsion. He described an ingenious contrivance for making lard cheese. The speaker continued at some length describing the methods adopted by those engaged in the manufacture of artificial milk, cheese and butter, and briefly sketched the great revolutions yet to be effected by science in this direction. After dwelling for some time on the importance of promoting the home consumption of dairy products, the speaker undertook to show how this desirable end could be attained. It could only be brought about by placing before our people a diversified product of fine quality, and in styles and characters to suit the tastes and wants of consumers. Among the small cheeses of great renown and universally esteemed, both at home and abroad is the Stilton. That it has not been more extensively produced in America has been owing to a lack of knowledge as to its manufacture and a supposed difficulty in adapting its manufacture to our factory system. What was needed to induce the production of Stilton was that its manufacture be adapted to our factory system, and that the profits of the manufacture be ample or sufficiently above those obtainable for the ordinary variety. Here followed a long description of the methods of producing Stilton French Cream, Edom, Dutch, Cheddar, and other varieties of cheese. The delivery of the address occupied over an hour and a quarter, and as it was followed by a protracted discussion, the Convention did not adjourn until 10:15 o'clock.

HON. HARRIS LEWIS, of Frankford, N.Y., took the platform amid hearty applause. He said in the season of 1855 he purchased a piece of boggy land in the "Mohawk Valley Bog," and in a humorous manner described the toughness of those bogs. His hired man had attempted to cut one of them with a post-hole angler, and his efforts it is almost needless to say were fruitless, like the farmer seeding his meadow without a certain amount of Kertucky blue grass or orchard grass. With a few further remarks, made in the same humorous strain, the speaker wished to be excused from speaking further, and if permitted to do so he would leave the audience to meditate on the "adaptation or the fitness of things." (Applause.)

Considerable discussion took place here on the remarks made by Mr. Macpherson consisting chiefly in asking and answering questions.

The convention adjourned shortly after eleven.

MORNING SESSION,

Thursday, Feb. 9th.

The convention assembled at 10 o'clock,

TREASURER'S REPORT.

The Treasurer, P. R. Daily, Esq., read his annual report which showed that during the past year ending Feb. 7th. the receipts were $2,713,42; expenditure $2,258,-71; cash on hand $454,72.

The report was received and adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The committee on nominations presented the following report.

K. Graham, President.
D. Derbyshire, 1st Vice,
D. Vandewaters, 2nd do,

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

D. M. Macpherson, No. 1 Division.
Ira Morgan " 2 "
Jas. Birrell " 3 "
Thos. Walker " 4 "
P. Hinman " 5 "
Henry Wade " 6 "
Auditors—James Hamilton and F. H. McCrea.

The report was received and adopted.

BRINTNELL'S MACHINERY.

Several gentlemen were called to give their opinion on A. H. Brintnell's mechanical method and machinery for the manufacture of cheese, a detailed description of which appeared in the ONTARIO last summer. They all spoke exceedingly favorably of the machinery, and recommended its adoption in every factory.

In answer to a question Prof. Brown said that linseed meal or "oil cake" was by far too expensive as a milk producing feed.

WHEN TO CUT HAY.

Hon. Harris Lewis in answer to a second question, said that cutting hay before blossoming was a good practise. It had a tendancy to cause the next year's crop to come on earlier and heavier.

DAIRY KNOWLEDGE.

PROF. ARNOLD next addressed the meeting on the subject "Modes of Acquiring Dairy Knowledge," of which the following is an abstract:—What is true of knowledge in general is equally true in respect to a knowledge of the art of dairying. The dairyman's knowledge is not intuitive. It is gathered from sources outside of himself, with only a few rare exceptions of items developed by investigation or experiment. Since our information upon this subject must be gathered from others, it becomes a matter of interest to enquire how it has heretofore been acquired, and what are now the best facilities for gathering it. Our knowledge of agriculture as an art or an industry has for long ages in the past come to us by tradition. It has been handed down from father to son for generation after generation, with little or no addition to the original stock, and the most we know of the art of cultivating the soil, art which comprises more people than any other still comes to us in the same way. We learn something by reading and studying agricultural publications, but how little we get from this source may be inferred from the fact that in the State of New York, where there is as much if not more agricultural reading than in any other part of the continent, there is but one agricultural paper taken for every twenty farmers in the State. This indicates how very little agricultural reading there is done in that great and enlightened State, and shows pretty clearly that what the great bulk of farmers know respecting their own business has been handed down to them from their ancestors orally or by imitation, and by such observations as neighborhood intercourse could furnish. A knowledge of that division of agriculture in which we are more especially interested, has, of course been transmitted in the same way. Until within two or three hundred years history has said very little about dairying, and during that time what little has been known about it has been transmitted from parent to child like other agricultural information. Nothing more than a very narrow view could thus be obtained. There is very little chance for improvement where people do not go outside of their immediate ancestors for information, and if perchance, and improvement is made by any one, the isolated condition of dairymen and their consequent limited social intercourse causes it to remain confined to the originator, at whose death it lapses again into the abyss of the unknown and is lost perhaps for ever. With skill only obtained by such narrow means it is no wonder that so little progress was made in the art of dairying for three hundred years ending at the middle of the nineteenth century. Less progress was made in all that time than has been made since. If one would make improvements and stand high in his calling, be it dairying or anything else, he must by some means avail himself of the advances made by others or he will fall behind those who do, if indeed he moves at all. The first effort of any magnitude on this continent to push out for information in the manufacture of cheese beyond the narrow limits of tradition was the organization at Utica, New York, January 7th 1864, of what was at first known as "the New York State Cheese Manufacturers' Association."

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

STRATFORD, ONT., Aug 1, 1874.

Having become almost entirely cured of extreme debility through the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I feel it but just to put the fact on record. My case had resisted all other Medicines, but subsumbed to three bottles of Fellows' Hypophosphites,

CHAS. H. ROBERTSON,

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ontario, writes in February, 1868, that after trying many Cough and Lung remedies for a severe cold which he has suffered with for three years, he procured ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and was being much benefited by it. In a letter still later, he said his night sweats were all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better and he felt like a new man.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

CROUP.—This disease in caused by the formation of a false membrane lining the windpipe, and obstructing the passage of the air, and is known by the shrill, croupsounding cough and rattling in the throat. This membrane must be removed by expectoration. Take a double dose of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM every ten or fifteen minutes, which will reduce it, after taking a few doses. THE BALSAM WILL AND HAS SAVED THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN ATTACKED WITH CROUP, where it has been taken in season.

It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

FREE OF COST.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs—are requested to call at Jas Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.

PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the CORN EXTRACTOR will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

A CURE FOR CROUP.

Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds' All dealers supply it, price25 cents.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.

are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT. which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift, your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

If you wish to avoid great danger and trouble besides a no small bill of expense, at this season of the year, you should take prompt steps to keep disease from your household. The system should be cleansed, blood purified, stomach and bowels regulated, and prevent and cure diseases arising from Spring malaria. We know of nothing that will so perfectly and surely do this as Electric Bitters, and at the trifling cost of fifty cents a bottle.—Exch.—Sold by all druggists.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."

Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Bucklin's Arnica salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruised Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by James Clarke & Co.

cold during the coming twelve months. In some instances it will be checked in the beginning by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam and the people will forget that anything was ever the matter with them; but unfortunately in the other cases it, unheeded, will be permitted to grow until the symptoms become alarming, and the family physician will be called in. He may cure or may not, according to the condition of the patient but at what expense of time and money? If Dr. Wilson's remedy had been first used the whole expense would have been a few cents. It is a mistake that

Belleville, Feb. 3rd, 1882. dtf

DAILY ONTARIO

FRIDAY FEB. 10, 1882.

We surrender the greater part of our editorial space to-day to other matter, in a vain effort of dispose of what has accumulated, and still we are behind.

There is general satisfaction expressed with the resolution of the Receiver-General directing the withdrawal of all twenty-cent pieces from circulation in Canada. They are vexatious and useless pieces of coin, and the sooner they are gathered up the better. The Deputy Receiver-General at Toronto recently sent $10,000 worth of them to Ottawa.

A vendor of patent medicine made Sir John a liberal offer the other day which was not accepted. He offered to illuminate Parliament Square free of charge during the present season, provided his firm were permitted to display a large placard above the light containing the name of the medicine they were manufacturing. This was a kind of enterprise in advertising that Sir John was not prepared to contract for.

Colonization Companies to settle the North-West are being organized everywhere. Sir Hugh Allan has initiated one with a capital of $2,000,000. These companies contract to buy land, partially improve it, erect houses, assist emigrants to cross the ocean, and get their money back by instalments. Undoubtedly many settlers without means will be enabled by such assistance to establish for themselves and families comfortable homes in that land of promise, but still there may be objections to the principle.

As a dernier ressort in their desperate attempt to defend the action of the Dominion Government in refusing to confirm the Boundary Award, the Ontario Opposition contend that Mr. Mackenzie should have procured the passage of a bill before the Award was made, binding the Dominion to accept any decision the arbitrators might arrive at. They also contend that the Ontario Legislature should have acted in a similar manner, and accepted the award before they know what it was. Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Mowat are not in the habit of buying pigs in the bag, of such dimensions.

We would respectfully call the attention of the Ottawa Citizen to the fact that notice has been given, by the promoters of the Southeastern Railway of Manitoba, that application for a charter will be renewed at the approaching meeting of the Pcovincial Legislature. It is also stated that from outside members of the Legislature a sufficient number of pledges have been given to ensure the application being carried, "despite any opposition which the obsequious Mr. Norquay and his Government may offer." This does not indicate that public opinion in that province, relative to the disallowance of the charter by the Dominion Government, was just as represented by Mr. Norquay and the Winnipeg Times.

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Lecture by the Rev. D. Mitchell.

Yesterday afternoon the Rev. David Mitchell lectured before the students of the Ontario Business College, the subject being "How to get on in the World." The address was full of instruction and wise counsel and was, besides, humorous and witty. The lecturer defined the meaning of "education" in its widest sense; embracing the cultivation of the memory, the imagination, the physical strength, the will, in short the whole man. Following this the lecturer dealt with the principles of honesty and rectitude, perseverence and industry; and finally counselled the young men to fear God and do their whole duty to their neighbor.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mr. J. H. McMurty, of Ottawa, seconded by Mr. J. W. Parker, of Hazeldean, and carried with enthusiasm.

Mr. Mitchell was exceedingly pleased with his audience, declaring after he had concluded—"What a magnificent audience!" There were about 165 students present.

NOT TRUE.

To the Editor of the Ontario.

Sir.—My attention was drawn yesterday to the following paragraph which appeared in a late issue of your paper:—"There is a little unpleasantness in the choir of the church of Ascension, Toronto, of which Rev. A. Baldwin, formerly Curate of St. Thomas' Church is Rector. Mrs. Baldwin, the Rector's wife, wrote to the Warden objecting to the style of the singing. The Warden forwarded the letter to the choir leader, Mr. Baily. Mr. Baily sent in his resignation, and the choir sustained his action. They sang for the last time on Sunday evening."

Now, you are well aware that Mr. Baldwin has a large family connection living here and innumerable friends, and for their satisfaction let me inform you that there is not one word of truth in the above paragraph.

I shall feel obliged by your inserting this letter in to-night's paper.

Your obedient servant,
N. B. FALKINER.

ADDRESS TO REMENYI

By the Students of Victoria College.

For the Ontario:

It will be remembered by the readers of the Ontario that Remenyi, during his late tour through Canada, was enthusiastically received by the people of Cobourg, and especially the students of the college. So pleased were they with his beautiful renditions, that they drew him through the streets to his hotel, whereupon he promised to return and give a concert for their benefit. True to his promise, he has not only given one, but two concerts, both of which were well attended, and realized a nice sum of money, which the students purpose turning into their proposed gymnasium.

At the close of the second concert, which was given in Port Hope, they assembled in the parlor of his hotel and presented him with the following address:—

Dear Sir.—The students of Victoria University, in presenting you with this address, wish to express their high appreciation of your talent, as a musician. When first you favored our town with the chaste and unequalled rendition of Europe's greatest masters, we were not only entranced by the melodious "Princess," but our heart's also throbbed with enthusiasm for the soul, that so powerfully spoke through her its sublime imaginations. We are fully aware that what we could now say, with regard to your power as a musician, would be of less effect than to recall to your remembrance that evening.

We also wish to express to you our gratitude and respect—gratitude for the interests which you so kindly manifested for our embryo gymnasium scheme, and respect for the very gentlemanly manner in which you have fulfilled your generous promises.

We will also add that the honor you have conferred upon us will greatly enhance our student interests, and the remembrance of it shall ever be a green spot in the heart of each Alumnus and Undergraduate.

When you are enchanting the hearts of other people, whether in the "sunny South" or in the colder North, rest assured, our respected friend and benefactor, you have the esteem and well-wishes of the students of Victoria University.

Signed. C. G. Campbell, A. C. Crews, G. S. Eldridge } Com.

Remenyi replied in a few well-chosen remarks, in which he expressed his high appreciation of the sympathy and co-operation of the students.

TWEED ITEMS.

—A very successful Tea-meeting was held in the C. M. Church on Tuesday evening last. Although the weather was unfavorable, the roads were good and being about the first good sleighing of the season, every one seemed to take advantage of it to get, at least one good sleigh ride. The church was filled at an early hour by a crowd who showed by their looks that they expected a good time. Nor were they disappointed. The ladies had amply prepared of the good things for the inner man, and our esteemed pastor, Rev. Mr. Savage, had done his part nobly in securing talent for the platform.

—Mr. Wm. White filled the chair with his usual ability, opening the meeting with a few very appropriate remarks.

—The following Rev. Gentlemen then occupied the attention of the audience:—D. Brill, R. Walker and J. Kilgour.

—The choir was on hand as usual with plenty of good music, of a superior quality.

—Saw logs are being hauled to the mill rapidly by customers.

—The merchants and others are laying in their supply of ice.

JAMIMA FAITHFUL.

Hic et Ubique.

Mr. Editor,—Again this week I ask a little space in your paper to enable me once more to speak to your readers, and let them know that Jamima is still alive; also to convince them that she is continually watching both the pure and impure minded people of the community.

First, then, she will collect a few thoughts relative to personal observations, and gleamings in connection with where all should be pure and holy. But, is this the case? Jamima blushes to say that she finds black sheep associated with the church as well as in connection with matters pertaining to wordly afiairs. The regular quarterly services in connection with the Methodist Church of Canada took place last Sabbath morning, on which occasion Mr. MacFarlane delivered an able and practical discourse; after which the usual Love Feast and Sacrament of the Lord's Supper were dispensed.

The proposed entertainment of the Sabbath School of this church is on the tapis for certain, and if Jamima is not mistaken it will will be something worth going too.

Now, Jamima turns her thoughts from the seat of purity and for a moment reflects upon the

PARENTAL RESTRICTIONS

of juveniles. It is evident that the boys who robbed the tills of two of our merchants the other week must either have been subjected to too severe restraints at home, or, they have been allowed too much to have their own way, and parade the streets all hours of the night with bad company; hence they were led to do evil. This to a certain extent will be overcome in the future, as our worthy Chief has taken it in hand to allow no small boys without a guardian on the streets at night. This is a step in the right direction, and will surely be crowned with success. The

MODEL SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

on Tuesday evening last was quite a success. The evening, however, was very unfavorable on account of the falling rain. The readings and vocal and instrumental music, in which Messrs. Hicks, Rowe, Weise and Breakell; and Mrs. Wiss; and Misses Riddell, Ketcheson, Rowe and Ross, took part. Jamima was watching those boys who were making a noise; they must not do so again. And now for the ODDS AND ENDS.

Jamima understands Mr. Warham Tuller, has been appointed Street Surveyor by our town fathers.

NEW TOWNS.

There are some places which come into prominence and grow by force of circumstances. Many times their increase in importance is rapid, and they soon assume positions of importance. Again a place will have such natural advantages as to compel a town to start there and grow. It may have reverses, but it always overcomes them, and although it may be checked for a time, soon its increase will be more rapid than before. These apparent checks prove but tests, showing the permanency of the town.

Such places do not need force of circumstances to push them to the front; they compel these accessories to success to come to them. If a railroad is being run through the vicinity it strikes this town, because it has to do so; a large local trade can only be secured by taking in the town, and thus it prospers, grows and thrives.

Crystal City, Manitoba, attributes her wonderful growth and brilliant future to the full application of these principles. Lots to be sold at Purdy's rooms on Wednesday 15th. inst.

CURLING

Old Countrymen vs. Canadians—Playing for the Pitceathly Medal.

Yesterday afternoon the fourth rink of the annual match for the Pitceathly Medal—Canada vs Old Country—was played, and resulted in a majority for the latter of 8 shots, leaving them 7 in all ahead of their competitors. The first rink resulted in a tie; the second in a majority of 4 for the Canadians, and the third in a majority of 3 for the Old Countrymen. The score was as follows:

Old Country	Canadians
W. Sutherland	J. L. Biggar
W. Webster	W. Bullen
D. M. Waters	E. Corby
A. McFee, skip—17	S. S. Lazier, skip—9.

This is probably the last rink that will be played this season for the above medal, but the Old Country team will play at some future date to determine who shall hold the trophy until next winter.

☞ We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat, eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

A meeting of the Railway Committee was held yesterday forenoon, commencing at 11 o'clock. Mr. Pardee in the chair.

There was a large number of railway men and solicitors present.

A Bill respecting the Prince Edward County Ralway was advocated by Geo. W. McMullen, Vice-President of the company. The Bill asked for extraordinary privileges. For instance: First, to allow municipalities to purchase the company's debentures and cancel the interest coupons attached thereto, which is only another way of receiving a bonus; 2nd, To extend the road to any mines that may be, or may have been, discovered in the County of Hastings, and to make connection with the Canada Pacific at a point not named, so that the company could, if it choose to go that far, connect away up at Lake Superior. The Bill was pretty well cut up by the committee, the above sections and other clauses being struck out; further consideration was postponed.

From the start the Railway Committee has made it is apparent that the Government intend to be very conservative in dealing with railway matters this session.

☞ Why allow that noble animal the horse to go limping along painfully, when the use of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment would be certain to relieve him quickly.

An Editor Assaulted.

Atlanta, Feb. 10.—Hake Smith, a young lawyer, yesterday knocked down Editor Dewett in the Post-Appeal editorial rooms, because of an article in the paper charging Smith with having seduced and deserted a young lady. Smith stands high socially. Further trouble is apprehended.

The best form in which electricity is embodied is Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, as sovereign and highly sanctioned specific for rheumatic pains, and a thoroughly reliable remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, used externally and internally.

—In the Imperial House of Commons yesterday Mr. Smyth introduced an amendment to the address providing for the repeal of the Union; and Mr. Justin McCarthy an amendment condemnatory of the Government's Irish policy.

—Tobin, the Fenian who was arrested at Leeds in connection with a little dynamite plot got up for the benefit of the Irish Republic, has been sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for the benefit of society.

—Mr. Alexander Begg has been appointed to the management of the Canadian Pacific railway immigration agency in England, vice Mr. St. John, who has accepted a position in a large land and colonization company recently organized in England, and which will operate in the North-West.

—State legislation having thus far proved entirely ineffectual to prevent prize-fighting, Senator Titus, of Buffalo, has taken a new departure by proposing in the New York Legislature a measure making persons who leave the State for the purpose of engaging in a prize fight liable to indictment in any county of the State.

—The old-fashioned dodge of scooping out a hole in a stick of wood and fitting it with gunpowder, with the object of giving wood-stealers a surprise party, has been improved upon by the Nihilists, who have been doctoring in a similar fashion, but with dynamite, the wood intended to be burnt in the Czar's private study. Several members of the imperial household have been arrested in consequence.

In reply to certain questions by our representative, E. L. Loweree, Esq., cashier of the Cincinati Southern Railway, observed: "I was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism in my right foot; it was in a terrible condition; the pain was almost intolerable; our family physician waited on me without success; I sent for another well-known M. D., but even the twain could do nothing for me; I could not get down here to the office to attend to my duties; in fact I could not put my foot under me at all and after nine weeks suffering I began to grow desperate. My friend (whom of course you know, for he is known by everybody), Mr. Stacey Hill, of the mount Auburn Inclined Plane Railway Co., called to see me; he spoke very highly of St Jacobs Oil, and recommended the remedy to me in glowing terms. I laughed at the idea of using a proprietary medicine, and yet the party recommending it, (Mr. Stacey Hill, remember), being a man of sound judgment, set me to thing in the matter over. The next day when the physicians called, I dismissed them, and said to myself that I would let nature take its course. This resolution lasted only a day. On the following morning I, in a fit of desperation, sent a servant for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. I applied that wonderful remedy, and it penetrated me so that I thought my foot was about to fall off, but it did not; in fact it did just the opposite. The next morning the pain had entirely left my foot the swelling was reduced, and really the appearance was so different altogether from the day before, that it actually surprised me. I applied more of the St. Jacobs Oil, and that afternoon I walked down here to the office, and was able to attend to my duties and get around as well as any one. Let me say for St. Jacobs Oil that it beats railroad time, and is always sure to win.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Terrible Gatastrophe.

FIVE PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH.

The Result of Carelessness in Huntingdon.

A most disastrous fire occurred yesterday evening near Pringles Mills, Huntingdon. The house of John Morland was burned to the ground, and his wife, Mrs. Morland, his stepdaughter and three children were burned to death before they could make their escape. Two young men, Simon Rombough and Minard Huff, who were stopping at the house were so badly burned that they are not expected to recover. It would seem a large vessel of coal oil had just been brought home and was leaking on the floor, when a man of the name of Peter Vanallen thinking to remove the oil from the floor, put a light to it and in a moment the whole thing was in a blaze, and the disastrous consequence above recorded was the result. The man Vanallen, whose carelessness caused the disaster, escaped without any harm.

A latter report says one of the men burned cannot recover and both may die. It is terrible to contemplate so great a calamity as the burning to death of five persons the result of ignorant, if not criminal, carelessless by the man Vanallan. People are slow to learn the dangerous nature of petroleum, and seem to trifle with it in a way that not unfrequently would indicate a want of judgment.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Third Session—Fourth Parliament.

Thursday, Feb. 9th.

Yesterday afternoon the House after a division went into Committee on the streams Bill, which was reported without amendment. The principal feature of the sitting was a rather lively debate arising from a motion by Mr. Meredith for a return showing what members of the House have been appointed to office, and details with regard to such appointments, the motion having special reference to the ex-members who have been appointed to the position of Sheriff.

After some other business, Mr. Hay moved for a return respecting the aid to Electoral Division and Township shows, and favoured a system of aiding exhibitions according to results. In reply Mr. Wood pointed out that such a plan as that proposed would give the most assistance to wealthy associations, which did not really need it, while the newer and poorer sections would be deprived of the aid they required. The motion was adopted with an addition proposed by Mr. Wood, providing for a return of the amount granted as prizes for these associations.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Fourth Session—Fourth Parliament.

Thursday, 9th.

On returning to the Commons, after the delivery of the Speech from the Throne, the Speaker read a formal statement of the changes by death, resignations, or unseating of members, with the names of those returned instead, after which Messrs. Reid, Amyot, Cimon, McDougald, Guillett, and McLelan (Ministerialists), and Crouter (Liberal) were introduced, and took their seats. The report of the Librarian of Parliament was submitted.

It was resolved to proceed with the consideration of the Speech from the Throne to-morrow.

After the usual formal motion the House adjourned till three o'clock to-morrow.

In the Senate, Donald McInnes, Thomas McKay, A. W. Ogilvie, and James Skead were introduced and took their seats, having previously subscribed to the required declaration.

Allen's Lung Balsam excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or ucts; changes the secretions and purifies the Blood: heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Sold by Druggists.

All classes of Professional and business men at times are subject to extreme nerve prostration from excessive brain work and worry, and by advice, commonly resort to stimulants, opium, chloral or bromides to subdue irritability and restlessness. These agents only put to sleep the sentinel that warns the system when overworked, while the waste of vital force continues. Here is a large consumption of phosphates, the source of nerve power, than is furnished by the food, and the deficiency may be supplied by the use of Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an easily assimilable form of these elements of nerve nutrition.

TWO HUNDRED LOTS

—IN—

Crystal City!

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba will be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and natural advantages of its surroundings.

BY FAR THE LARGEST TOWN IN THE ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section.

The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.), and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced over 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

Over Forty Buildings Now Under Contract for Early Spring Completion.

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdest of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture.

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

Are you disturbed at night and broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor tittle sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases

City and Vicinity.

☞ FURS at cost at Davenport's.

Mr. A. Wensley, of this city, is expected to sing at a concert in Campbellford on the 14th inst.

Prof. Jno. Macoun, Dominion Botonist, will lecture on Manitoba and the great North West in Brighton on the 3rd of March.

The fancy-store windows are filled with Cupid's missives. Some of them suggest the idea that the coy nymph is not such an innocent spirit as he is represented to be.

☞ Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

The Campbellford Herald says there are not fifty employees at the woollen mill there, and the greatest capacity of the building for some time will not exceed 120 hands.

The Brighton Ensign says:—We are sorry to learn that a fierce fire swept fully one-half of the business part of Castleton out of exestence on Wednesday afternoon of this week. We are not in possession of any particulars up to the time of going to press.

☞ Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

To accommondate the anticipated large Canadian emigration to Manitoba and the North West territories, the Grand Trunk are arranging to run special trains leaving Brockville on Wednesdays during the months of March and April, and fortnightly during May and June.

The Whig describes the dresses of the following Belleville ladies at the Bachelors' ball:—Miss Julia Henderson, Belleville—Cream satin, lace overdress; ornaments, emeralds and pearls, crimson flowers. Miss Sisson, Belleville—Pink tarlatan, swansdown trimmings; gold ornaments.

☞ GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

We must not omit to mention that Mr. Geo. H. Anderson, law student with Messrs. Holden & Anderson, passed his Second Intermediate examination recently very creditably. We congratulate him, more especially as the examination was unusually severe, and nearly half the applicants were plucked.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons steamlooms, wincies, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc., etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in smal bills.

We announced the death of Mr. T. B. Tracy of Kingston yesterday. The deceased was father of Dr. Tracy of this city, and well known here. He was born at Nottingham, England, in 1800, and accompanied his father to Waterloo, when 14 years of age. He witnessed that terrible battle and afterwards nursed his brave father, who received seventeen lance wounds. He had resided 34 years in Kingston, and was much respected. His life record was without a stain.

☞ CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

The Whig, reporting the proceedings at the Reform demonstration and banquet at Napanee on Wednesday evening, says:—Mr. Clute, of Belleville, made an able, fluent address, his references to the leaders of Reform in both Houses bringing forth marked enthusiasm. He reviewed the legislation in both Houses, and pointed out to the young men, his contemporaries, that the battles for rights and constitutional freedom were not yet ended. Mr. E. D. O'Flynn, of Madoc, also made a lengthy and entertaining address.

TO-MORROW evening Healy's Hibernian Minstrels appear in the Metropolitan Hall. The Montreal Post says in their colloquial sketch "Retaliation, or what's the odds," Mr. and Mrs. Brennan afforded the audience considerable pleasure. Little Captain George Liable is a thorough comedian,; he acts and sings with great ease and grace, and in his humorous selections elicited loud applause. Ned West, an old Montreal favorite, is simply immense in his Ethiopian eccentricities, and never fails to bring down the house by whatever he says or does; he had to raspond five times to encores before the audience was satisfied. Mr. Myles Morris gave a number of patriotic songs, which were warmly received. The Murrays, Tom and Henrietta, contributed largely to the success of the entertainment. Their Irish sketch of Courtship, varied with songs and dances, was well performed, and won the plaudits of the audience. The performance was brought to a close with Ned West's laughable afterpiece "The Doctor's Studio," during which the house was kept in continual roars of laughter.

☞ N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sa'es.—N. DAVENPORT.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a servicable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHŒNIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

AN inebriate from Sidney was quartered in the cells last night.

FACTORYMEN throughout the county are now securing their next seasons supply of ice.

THE Herndon Company have been doing a good business at Picton and Trenton this week.

THE dairymen from the west, attending the convention here during the week, returned home by the early train this morning.

☞ You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

DR. KINCAID is demonstrating his independence in the Legislature by voting with the Government, which he did on Wednesday.

Mr. Hall, the gentleman interested in the Ontario Steel Association, will give a dinner to a number of his friends at the Dafoe House this evening.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

THE Finance Committee of the City Council, and those appointed at the public meeting on Wednesday night to meet Mr. Hall, will do so this evening.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

CLARENCE HUFFMAN was before the Magistrate to-day charged with being drunk on Front st. last night. Dismissed. Cornelius Monaghan, up on remand for vagrancy, was discharged.

☞ No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

The fifth convention of the Dairymen's Association of Eastern Ontario came to a close here late yesterday afternoon. On the whole, the meeting was a success, and the highly satisfactory result is in a great measure due to the local committee of management, who took such a deep interest in the convention.

ON the 17th. inst. the choir of the M. E. Tabernacle, assisted by the 15th. Battalion Band, will give a grand musical concert in the City Hall. The programme, which has been published, contains the names of many well known amateurs, and there is every reason to believe the popularity of the choir will draw a good house.

BACHELORS' BALL.—The bachelors of Kingston gave a ball last Wednesday evening that was set down as "the most brilliant affair of the kind occurring this season." Among the invited guests we notice the following from Belleville:—A. Campbell, Geo. Dean, Mr. and the Misses Henderson, J. King, A. LaRue, Mr., Mrs. and the Misses Ponton, A. Ponton, Mr. and Mrs. T. Plummer, Mr., Mrs. and the Mises Sisson, S. A. Spangenberg, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Tannihill, F. S. Wallbridge, Lewis Wallbridge, the Misses Wallbridge, Mr. and the Misses McWhirter.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

DAIRYMEN'S BANQUET.—The Banquet tendered the Dairymen's Association of Eastern Ontario at the Dafoe House last night was largely attended by citizens, and dairymen from all parts of the Province, United States and Quebec. The gathering was a great success. The menu furnished by Mr. Huffman was fully equal to his previous efforts in this line, and the elaborate bill of fare was discussed with much relish for over an hour, when the Chairman, Mr. Thos. Kelso, called the assemblage to order, and proposed the usual loyal and patriotic toasts, which were ably responded to. As several of those present from the east were anxious to leave for home on the midnight express, the banquet was brought to a close shortly after eleven.

IRISH CATHOLIC COLONIZATION.—For some time a scheme has been on foot among the members of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union of Canada to secure from the Government, if possible, a large tract of land in the North West, to be used for colonization purposes. About 20,000 acres will be purchased if the government favourably considers the scheme proposed by the Union, and their Irish brethren in the mother country will then have the privilege of setting upon this land by paying the Union the same amount per acre as the cost. A stock company will be formed, and throughout the Dominion any branch of the Union or any private member thereof will have an opportunity of taking stock in the company, but in order to prevent monopoly, the Union will retain a controlling amount of stock. In endeavoring to secure this land, the Union is assisted by the clergy and other influential men, and it is probable the Government will grant the request. Mr. E. McMahon left last night for Ottawa, for the purpose of interviewing the Government in the matter.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.
BROCK & Co. The Photographers.

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

—An inquest was held on the body of Mrs. Stephen Dudley, who died suddenly on the 25th ult. at her residence in Cramahe, as there was thought to be ground for suspicion. The verdict was—"Died from natural causes."

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

A PAINFUL TRAGEDY.

A Small Boy Fatally Shot at Brockville

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 10.—Our usually quiet town was thrown into a wild state of excitement about 8:30 o'clock this morning, over a tragedy which, though meagre in detail is unequalled in its tragic nature, and probable results. At the hour above named, a stone-mason named Cormack, living on the corner of Main street, and a lane running back toward Pearl street, heard a pistol shot. On looking out he saw a boy running down the lane. On going out he found at the corner on a pile of stones the inanimate form of a little boy named William Borke, seven years of age, with blood flowing freely from a large hole in the centre of his forehead. The body was at once taken into the house, and Dr. Moore summoned. Upon his arrival he pronounced the case as hopeless, though at the time of writing the sufferer was still alive. The boy who fired the shot was subsequently found and arrested. He turns out to be a youth named James Johnson, 14 years of age, and upon his person was found the pistol with which the deed was done. It had no trigger, and Johnson says that while he and Borke were examining it, it went off. Johnson was remanded to jail until Monday. Burke cannot live many minutes.

A Billard Tournament.

PARIS, Feb. 10.—An agreement is signed between Schaifer, Vignau, Daly and Piot, to play a tournament of cushion coram billards, Feb'y 27th and 28th, and March 1st, the prize to be the table on which the match will be played.

Thieves at Liberty.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 10.—Within a fortnight, the terms of more than 50 of the most expert, desparate, professional thieves in Eastern Penitentiary expire. A majority of the convicts who served long terms spent nearly all their savings to endeavor to secure pardons. The terms of an unusual number of professional thieves expired this winter. This accounts for the noticeable increase of burglaries, house-robberies, highway assaults and other crimes. In two districts the police have 50 professional malefactors under surveillance.

A War of Color.

MARYSVILLE, TENN., Feb. 10.—The college here is attended by whites and blacks. A literary society composed of white students rejected application of a negro for admission. The faculty threatened to abolish the society if the negro was not admitted. The society refused, and 23 of its members were expelled. The society carried the furniture and library to other quarters, the faculty cannot recover them. Fifty students who did not belong to the society have withdrawn from the school. The faculty is endeavoring to make terms with no apparent succes. The college, which is one of the oldest places of learning in the state taught anti slavery doctrines previous to the war. The faculty has been looked upon by the community as quite extreme upon the subject of race equality. Many believe the trouble grew out of some sentiament by Congressman Hauk, who represents this district.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchase it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

Leaving the exemplary gentleman to recover his usual serenity of mind and his natural complexion, let us follow Ethel Brandley, and endeavour to ascertain what has become of her.

Ethel was not dead.

She was too conscious of her own right intentions, and too trustful in the protecting hand of an overruling Providence ever in her right mind to contemplate the awful alternative of suicide.

On the contrary, from the moment when, in the return of her temporarily paralysed senses, she resolved by a desperate effort to break from her thraldom, she grew better.

From the instant her feet touched the hard road (the first time for months,) and she felt the keen—but, to her—welcome wind, blowing upon her enfeebled frame, she seemed to become strong in the sense of freedom.

Her progress was slow, but before dawn, she had travelled several miles.

She sought shelter in a cottage on the road, where, fortunately for her, her story was listened to with sympathy and believed.

Here, then, in this humble dwelling, she remained whilst the hue and cry after her was loud, her retreat entirely unsuspected and consequently undiscovered.

By the time the April sun broke forth, and the spring flowers began to bloom in the hedges, she had gained much of her former strength, and began to look a little like her old self.

But only a little—a very little.

The wound she had received had been too deep, and she was but a faint shadow of the fair girl that stood with her lover in the Elm Lane at Marlwood, when our story first commenced.

It was about the middle of April, when our heroine reached the great Babel of London.

Alone and friendless, she stood amidst the whirling throng for a time like one bewildered.

But she was not permitted to be carried on the current of the noisy stream into any peril.

She found a friend, a young, motherless girl like herself, who pitied her solitary condition, and offered her a share of her home.

It was humble, but honest, and Ethel enjoyed more peace in that small back room, with its two flower pots in the little window, than she had known for many a day.

Here, then, she remained with her young companion, until at length a situation offered itself, which she thought would suit her.

It was that of assistant pupil in a fashionable boarding school at St. John's Wood.

She answered the advertisement in person.

The principal liked her appearance and manner, and engaged her at once.

In a few weeks Ethel, by the sweet affability of her manners, made herself a favourite with the entire establishment.

There was, moreover, a gentle sadness that pervaded all she said and did, which, together with a certain mystery that seemed to attach itself to her past history, increased the interest of the young ladies greatly.

The pale, dark-eyed young stranger was already in their minds the heroine of a romance, and that was quite sufficient, and if there had been no other reason, to make her popular.

It was about this time a new pupil joined the school.

A young French lady who had come to England to perfect herself in the English language.

Mademoiselle Julie Fonblanque was preeminently beautiful.

But her beauty was of an opposite description to that of the lovely and unfortunate Ethel.

Julie's beauty was also (for a Frenchwoman) wonderfully English, as was also the rapidity with which she acquired the accurate pronunciation of words most difficult, and indeed scarcely, if ever, mastered by an alien. She was about the middle height, and gracefully and symmetrically formed. Her eyes were hazel, large, bright, piercing almost to boldness. Her mouth, charmingly shaped, with luscious, tempting lips, ever ready to smile, and which, when they opened, revealed a set of teeth like two rows of pearls. Her hair of a rich golden hue—not red, but glittering with its deep yellow threads, like the metal to which it bore comparison. Her complexion, too, was English, being pure red and white, and of that clear, brilliant transparency, that allowed the delicate crimson beneath to tinge her cheek at the slightest emotion.

Of course, all the young ladies who were not up to Mademoiselle Julie in the article of complexion, declared she painted.

But none of them could prove this.

Mademoiselle Fonblanque's beauty was not of the French cosmetique order; and if she resorted to art to enhance her attractions, it was done so skilfully as to defy detection.

Such, then, were Julie's physical perfections, whilst in her temper and manner she united the life and esprit du cœur of the country to which she belonged with the more sympathising qualities which distinguish the women of the country she had come to visit.

Almost the first sight she seemed to take a violent liking to Ethel.

Ethel also felt inclined to like her.

'I am sure that we shall agree together, machere,' said Julie warmly, to our heroine, almost the first time they were alone together. 'I love you at once for your black eyes and raven hair. I am so fond of that colour; I wish mine were like yours.'

'I think you would be a loser by the exchange,' said Ethel, generously.

Julie shook her head and smiled.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, Lo[illegible] Eng.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

COMING BACK.

They say, if our beloved dead
Should seek the old familiar place,
Some stranger would be there instead,
And they would find no welcome face.

I cannot tell how it might be
In other homes; but this I know,
Could my lost darling come to me
She surely would not find it so.

Twelve times the flowers have come and gone,
Twelve times the winter winds have blown
The while her peaceful rest went on,
And I have learned to live alone.

Have slowly learned from day to day,
In all life's tasks to bear my part;
But whether grave or whether gay
I hide her memory in my heart.

And if my darling comes to share
My pleasant fireside warm and bright,
She still will find her empty chair
Where it has waited day and night.

Fond, faithful love has blessed my way
And friends around me true and tried;
They have their places; hers to-day
Is empty as the day she died.

How would I spring with bated breath
And joy too deep for word or sign.
To take my darling home from death
And once again to call her mine.

I dare not dream the blissful dream,
It fills my heart with wild unrest;
Where yonder cold white marbles gleam,
She still must slumber. God knows best.

But this I know, that those who say
Our best beloved would find no place,
Have never hungered, every day,
Through years and years, for one dear face.

SELECTED SERMONS.

FOR CHRISTIAN PARENTS.

God's Promises for our Children.

BY REV. E. H. BICKERSTETH, M. A.

I do not know, if I were asked to select the strongest prayer in the Scripture, any more powerful supplication and plea than that in the 19th Psalm, where the Psalmist says, "Remember the word unto Thy servant, upon which Thou hast caused me to hope." Some prayers and some supplications in the Bible are more powerful by reason of their importunity and pertinacity as when Jacob wrestled all night till the breaking of the morning light, and he said, "I will not let thee go except thou bless me;" as when Daniel prayed for three weeks to God; and when the Syro-Phenician woman persisted, in spite of silence, till the Lord answered, "O woman, great is thy faith; be it unto thee even as thou wilt." But there is something so exceedingly calm, so quiet, and yet so strong in its quietness, "Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which Thou hast caused me to hope." I question very much if any prayer has more power with God, and can prevail more than that. You know that if a servant can establish to his master's satisfaction that a promise has been given, it may be inconvenient, but it will be granted. If the servant say, "You know, sir, you led me to expect it," that is a strong plea; and if a child, whose dealings with a parent are closer still can say that to his parent, "Papa, you know you promised me." Of course the unwise parent may make a promise he is unable to perform, but the wise parent is cautious to promise but constant to perform.

Now I think the promises on this subject are so great and full. I remember asking a dear friend of mine (now 70 or 80 years of age; one who I believe is mightier with God than almost any man I know; a man who has been owned by God in the ingathering of so many souls into the fold), I said to him, "Do tell me the secret of your success in prayer." He replied, "I tell you what it is, Bickersteth, I make sure that what I have asked is according to the promise of God, and if so I put my foot down as on a firm rock, and never allow myself to doubt that my Father will give me according to His promise."

Now we are dealing to-day with the instruction of the young. One of the most striking passages in the Word of God, bearing on this, is that one where God, says, "I know Abraham, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord." Now I believe with every promise there is a command, and with every command a promise. God never mocks us, when He gives a command, by witholding the necessary strength and grace to obey. He has, then, commanded us to bring up our children in the nature and admonition of the Lord, and we may be quite sure He will give the grace for it if we ask it. We may learn a good deal from the words of Moses when he says to Israel (Duet. vi.), "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God. . . and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children." They are classed together, love and teach. We are to teach our children, but if it is to be successful it must spring from overflowing love. My dear friends, especiall you who are parents, may we not have a double assurance in coming to the throne when we ask our loving Father in Heaven to fill our heart with love so that we may be permitted to draw our children to the feet of the Lord Jesus Christ? We want more of this love to God and love to our children too. What a wonderful prayer that of the apostle, "The Lord direct your hearts into God's love and Christ's patience;" for so the words ought to be rendered. The Lord the Holy Spirit, whose office it is to shed abroad the love of God in our hearts, will keep us in patience when we are in the line of promise. Thus we may come in unwavering confidence to the throne of grace. So my Father, do Thou fill my heart with love to Thee and love to my children too. "Of course" you say "I love my children." I do not think it is a matter of course at all. Certainly it is not "of course" to the world, and it is not always a matter of course to Christian parents that they love their children as they ought to do. How do we show it by our choice of schools, our choice of companionship, our choice of society, our choice of alliances as they advance in life, and our choice of business and profession? How is it with us? Is our first thought for them that their souls may prosper? May God fill our hearts with intense love to our children, that we may always first and foremost consider their spiritual good. It is well that we should come unto the presence of God, when we are alone with God, when we are pleading with Him and opening out our case before Him. Let us remember that eternity is opening out to our view, and the earthly life is but as the dust of the balances. Are we crying thus before God—"O God, my prayer is before Thee, my whole heart goes forth for my children"?

And what is the promise? "I will pour out My Spirit upon thy seed, and My blessing upon thine offspring." The promises are to faithful Abraham and his seed; these promises are Yea and Amen in Christ Jesus; the promise is to us and to our children. Let us, then, take the experience of my dear old friend, and plant our feet first and foremost on that promise where God had said He will pour His Spirit on our seed and offspring. O my Father, Thou hast promised me, and I come according to Thy word. Thou hast put it into my heart to love and long for the salvation of my children, and now I remind Thee of Thy promise, wilt Thou say me nay? May we not, dear friends, take up the words spoken to Monica when she came to one full of grief about her son Augustine, "The child of so many prayers can never be lost"? May God put it into our hearts to expect the salvation of each one of our children. So shall there be a song of praise from every one of our lips from henceforth and for ever, and so shall a stream of blessing flow forth to the glory of His name.

So much with regard to the parents, and now a word in regard to the teachers. It is remarkable that in Dan. xii. we have a beautiful promise to teachers intertwined with the last days. That passage which tells of the resurrection morning, when many shall awake, also tells us that "they that are wise (or, see margin, they that are teachers) shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever." It is a special promise to teachers, and if there be one thing more remarkable than another as a characteristic of the present day, it is the immense impulse given to education; and the impulse is gathering fresh force. What is the promise? "All thy childern shall be taught of the Lord, and great shall be the peace of thy children." What a power for good is in the hand of those who are teachers! Would that we remembered that the youngest child may be won to Christ!

What a beautiful instance in the life of Christ we have recorded in the 18th chapter of Matthew! We see there how our Lord, in order to rebuke the pride of His disciples, called a little child to Him. He called, and the little one came naturally and trustfully to Him, for there was nothing repellent about Jesus. That child gives us a beautiful example of trust, which is just hearing the call and committing ourselves to arms that are ready to enfold us. Then He says "That in Heaven their angles (gurdian angles I believe) do always be hold the face of My Father."

After a most solemn warning addressed to those who put stumbling blocks in the way of the little ones, He goes on to tell of these guardian angels who beheld the face of the Father in Heaven; and then gives the blessed assurance that the Father is not willing that any of these little ones should perish. Do we as parents take that promise and plant our feet upon it—stand upon it? It is a firm rock; it is not modern cracked ice; it won't give way when you stand on it, believing it, and saying, "Remember, O Lord, the word unto thy servant, upon which Thou hast caused me to hope."

And then as to instruction in schools and Sunday schools, and the higher education given in the universities of our land. Last March I was at Jericho, and encamped by the old fountain which was Elisha's. It was beautiful to see the verdure that spread out from that well, from which flowed channels and rivulets which fertilized the whole valley. It was, I thought, a wise providence that ordered that that fountain should be healed at Jericho; and it is a parable to us. Jericho was the school of the prophets, and probably was so, with some interruptions, for hundreds of years. Now, as that healed fountain diffused life and verdure over that beautiful valley, so would the school of the prophets, and so, as this parable teaches, will our schools for the young, if there be the Gospel healing, and if there be found therein a fountain of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which will diffuse life and beauty, and freshness and verdure, over our land. May we not, then, pray boldly for these things, as in accordance with our Father's will?

We are asked also to pray for writers in the press and authors. I would that we had men like those 200 of Issachar who had understanding of the times, and knew what Israel ought to do. May the men of influence of our day have grace to emulate these wise men of Issachar. We must, I think, all be impressed with the way in which literature builds up character; not only the books we read, but also the periodicals we peruse are moulding our characters, unconsciously it may be. These books and periodicals are building up temples of living stone, in which God will dwell for ever. So then if for building the material tabernacle God filled with His Spirit and taught Bezaleel and Aholiab, may we not have the most profound confidence that God will answer our prayer for those Christian writers and authors who are called to build up the temple of the living God? May I close with a verse that is sometimes printed in the preface of Kebel's Christian Year—

"Prayer is the secret of myself I send,
Strong supplication must draw down the charm;
And so, with up'urned heart, I feebly prayed.
Knocking at Heaven's gate, with earth-palsied arm."

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

STRATFORD, ONT., Aug 1, 1874.

Having become almost entirely cured of extreme debility through the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I feel it but just to put the fact on record. My case had resisted all other Medicines, but succumbed to three bottles of Fellows' Hypophosphites.
CHAS. H. ROBERTSON,

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ontario, writes in February, 1868, that after trying many Cough and Lung remedies for a severe cold which he has suffered with for three years, he procured ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and was being much benefited by it. In a letter still later, he said his night sweats were all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better and he felt like a new man.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

CROUP,—This disease is caused by the formation of a false membrane lining the windpipe, and obstructing the passage of the air, and is known by the shrill, croup-sounding cough and rattling in the throat. This membrane must be removed by expectoration. Take a double dose of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM every ten or fifteen minutes, which will reduce it, after taking a few doses. THE BALSAM WILL AND HAS SAVED THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN ATTACKED WITH CROUP, where it has been taken in season.

It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

FREE OF COST.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs—are requested to call at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.

PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the CORN EXTRACTOR will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

A CURE FOR CROUP.

Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds. All dealers supply it, price 25 cents.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.

are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT, which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift, your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

If you wish to avoid great danger and trouble besides a no small bill of expense, at this season of the year, you should take prompt steps to keep disease from your household. The system should be cleansed, blood purified, stomach and bowels regulated, and prevent and cure diseases arising from Spring malaria. We know of nothing that will so perfectly and surely do this as Electric Bitters, and at the trifling cost of fifty cents a bottle.—Exch.—Sold by all druggists.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed ports, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."

Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruised Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by James Clarke & Co.

DAILY ONTARIO

SATURDAY FEB. 11, 1882.

—The little village of Niagara Falls is still agitating for a world's fair to be holden there in the near future, and such a thing may not be among the impossibilities.

—Three hundred Jewish refugees from Russia sail from Liverpool to-day for the United States. It is stated that tens of thousands of Jews are likely to flee from Russia.

—There is considerable agitation in Jamaica in favor of annexation to the United States, owing to dissatisfaction with the new criminal code. American emissaries are fanning the blaze which may assume quite a dimension soon.

—The contrast between Ontario and Quebec is shown in a peculiar light by the instructions recently issued by Bishop Fabre to the secular press. The freedom of the press in the latter province, where the authority of the Roman Catholic Church is acknowledged, is rather a name than a reality.

—Senator Lapham, who was elected in Conkling's place, has been made the victim of a cruel joke. A report was circulated to the effect that he had appointed Dr. Mary Walker clerk of his committee, and hundreds of indignant letters have been sent him. In fact the worthy Senator's life has become almost a burden to him, and he offers a handsome reward for the name of the joker who started the story: He says he never had the slightest idea of appointing Dr. Mary.

A Deputation from Napanee and adjoining localities interviewed the Government at Toronto on Thursday, relative to a bonus for the Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec railway. They were introduced by Mr. Deroche, who explained the object and position of the road. After several members of the deputation had spoken, the Attorney-General said the subject had for sometime received the attention of the Government, similar applications having been made during previous sessions. Had the railway company applied for aid early enough it would no doubt have obtained it. But a difficulty had arisen owing to the marked change in public sentiment on the subject of railway grants. It was impossible to adopt any policy of granting aid to railroads during the present Parliament, and whether it would ever be practicable would depend altogether on the view taken by the public at the next election. So far as the Municipal Loan Fund was concerned, he could tell them that there were other counties in the same position as themselves. Should the public decide in favor of a return to the old policy of granting subsidies to railways, he would carefully bear in mind all that had been urged in favour of their claims.

MORMONISM DOOMED.

There can be no mistaking the drift of public opinion in the United States with reference to the Mormon question. It is irresistibly and almost unanimously towards the extinction of so foul a blot upon the fair escutcheon of the republic. The recommendations of the President and the action of Congress also point in the same direction. There is, however, a constitutional or legal difficulty in the way which must be got rid of before the desired result can be reached. There is an organic law constituting Utah a self-governing territory. This law must be repealed, and the government of the territory provided for by the direct authority of the United States, through a commission representing and exercising this authority, and so far as necessary sustained by the military arm of the Government. No half-way system, nothing that does not dispossess them of all power and absolutely compel them to bow to the authority of the law will answer the purpose. As a people, they hate the Government, and are taught to do so by their leaders. To tamper with them is only to encourage them and prolong the struggle.

Governor Murray, in his message to the Legislature of Utah, after speaking of the resources of the territory, and the desirableness of bringing its institutions into harmony with the rest of the country, proceeds to lay down the following propositions:—"That in no sense is the sovereignty of church over state in unison with the constitution and laws; that political power is wielded by Church authority throughout Utah; that officers of the Church exercise authority in temporal affairs; and that the sovereignty of the Church is supreme and its practices are followed, the laws and courts of the United States to the contrary notwithstanding, this being true in whole or in part." Addressing himself to the Legislature, nearly all of whose members are actual pylygamists, the Government says: "Do you believe that the Governor of the United States will much longer forbear to assert its sovereignty?" Referring to polygamy, he adds: "The system of plural wives was by act of Congress in 1862 denounced as a crime. The constitutionality of this act has been fully sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States. It being claimed that the people of Utah are a law-abiding people, I submit, as a necessary sequence, that you, as their representatives, should enact laws in accordance therewith." The legislature, composed as it is almost wholly of polygamists, will, of course, pay not the least attention to these monitory appeals of Governor Murray. The purpose of the Mormons is to persist in the practice of polygamy and to fortify it by their local laws. They spit upon the law of the United States in absolute contempt, and will continue to do so until Congress shall compel them to respect the law by providing for its vigorous execution.

☞ Why allow that noble animal the horse to go limping along painfully, when the use of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment would be certain to relieve him quickly.

A. Maybee, Merchant, Warkworth, writes:—"I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public 'one of the best medicines they have ever used;' it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence."

THE SPEECH.

The local Tory organ labors through two-thirds of a column in a very sickly effort to extol the Speech from the Throne. A few others of the same political ilk make an equally nauseating attempt to commend the document. We are willing to let the public judge the production on its merits. If they can find much to commend they must be possessed of peculiarly magnifying optics. With the exception of two or three promised measures, the whole speech, which was almost as long as a Presidential message, is as barren of interest as one of J. B Plumb's political harangues. Congratulatory platitudes may pass for evidence of statesmanship, but a test must be applied. Unless there are an unusual number of private bills introduced, the session should be short, as the Government bill of fare can be disposed of in a few weeks.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says: "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

WHEAT THE TOWN BUILDER

What has given to Manitoba its most distinguished prominence over all other portions of the world yet opened to agriculture? Wheat, it is needless to assert, is the most important cereal grown, forming as it does the principal staple of food for the entire human family. It is the only vegetable production of the soil which at all times and in every portion of the world represents money. The farmer may experience a delay in selling his oats, his corn or his potatoes, but wheat always brings cash. A bushel of wheat represents an immediate available value as surely as a coined dollar. What has built up the mighty cities of the Mississippi Valley but wheat? With a capacity to produce 450,000,000 bushels in a year, in the North West, who can foretell the future of Crystal City to be sold at Purdy's Rooms on Wed. 15th inst.

FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING

Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner.

A large number of friends gathered at the residence of Mr. John W. Turner, 7th. Concession of Sidney recently and presented him and Mrs. Turner with an address of considerable length, accompanied with a Fur Cap and Album. After the presentation the visitors partook of a sumptuous tea which they had brought with them. We are unable to find room for the whole of the address, which was composed of poetry and prose, and therefore give only part:—

From the Christian Workers of Holloway Church,

To Mr. and Mrs. John W. Turner.

We now meet, dear Christian pilgrims,—
We assembled at your home;
All your kind and loving neighbors—
Nearly all to-night have come;
Who were settled o'er the country,—
And from distant homes are we,
But we hasten, dearest Christians,
To this happy jubilee.

Our full hearts with love are swelling,
But our words are poor and faint,
And our utterance is too feeble
All emotions now to paint,—
When we think how great the favor,
You confer on us to-day,
As you bow beneath the honors
Of the locks of silvery grey.

Near this spot, an humble dwelling
Midst the forest, your first home,
Here succeeding years have found you,
With no wish—like us, to roam;
But in quiet perseverance
Working on from year to year,
You have reared this good, old homestead,
And its walls have filled with cheer.

We have long felt that something should be done to express our heartfelt gratitude for your great services to us, and we have chosen this, the eve of our financial and religious services, to manifest our thankfulness. We know that, in the order of things, it will not be long before, with you, "the silver cup will be loosen," the golden bowl broken, the pitcher severed at the fountain, and the wheel broken at the cistern.

By and by we shall miss you, but we shall never forget you. We have often been inspired and strengthened by your example, and it is to convey some tangible token of our regard and esteem that we ask you to accept this cap and album.

We are glad that this life has some bright spots like this,
When the joy of communion enhances the bliss;
And we hope when we join in the song of the blest
We shall meet and rejoice with the friends we love best.

We shall never forget your kindness; and we pray that the favors you have bestowed may be returned unto you by the God of all goodness, who is able to build you up, and make all riches abound toward you. We trust that we all may eat bread together in our Father's home, and sit down with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the Kingdom of God.

Now, dear Christians, let a blessing,
Ere we part on each descend:—
Ere we scatter to our places,
Life's stern duties to attend;
It will strengthen for the conflict,
When your friends are far away,
To receive your benediction
On this long-remembered day.

A mighty hard-working set of men are Uncle Sam's letter-carriers who are liable to contract rheumatism because of the constant exposure to which they are subjected. Calling at the postoffice the reporter had a pleasant conversation with Mr. J. H. Mattern, one of the most popular and clever letter-carriers in Indianapolis. Mr. Mattern said that, while in the army during the civil war, he sprained one of his ankles, which was always worse in the spring during the period of the rapid changes in the weather. He did not find much relief from the several remedies he applied. But two years ago he hit upon St. Jacobs Oil, and experienced wonderful relief from its use. Several applications of the Great German Remedy relieved him entirely. The reporter talked with others among the letter-carriers and found that the Great German Remedy was popular in the postoffice. They use it for sore feet, rheumatism, etc., and praise it highly.—Indianapolis (Ind.) News.

Is it a Humbug? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

The Huntingdon Tragedy.

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE TERRIBLE AFFAIR.

The two burned Men not expected to Recover.

A Ghastly Sight No Inquest to be held.

Immediately after receiving the telegram yesterday afternoon, announcing the terrible catastrophe in the township of Huntingdon, our reporter left for the scene to obtain further particulars. The distance from Belleville to Morland's place, in the 7th concession of Huntingdon, is about 24 miles, and the destination was reached at 6 o'clock in the evening. Proceeding at once to the residence of Mr. Isaac Peck, about a mile from the ruins of Morland's house, the two men Huff and Rombough, were found lying in separate beds suffering intense agony. The doctor has no hopes of their recovery. But before discribing the injuries of these two, it will be necessary to detail the circumstances of the case as gleaned from those present at the scene during and immediately after the fir .

It appears that John Morland, his wife and Peter Vanallen left the residence of the former about six o'clock Thursday morning for Belleville, where they did some trading. When en route home, they stopped at Foxboro and purchased four gallons of coal-oil, which was put into a glass jug encased in wicker-work. They reached home about 11 o'clock p.m., and found most of the family, including the two young men, Huff and Rombough, up and waiting their return. It should be mentioned here that Morland had contract to get out 200 cords of wood for Vanallen, to be delivered along the G. J. Railway, and the latter had employed the two men as choppers, having them board with Morland.

The coal oil jug was carried into the house and set near the door. Supper was prepared, and after eating Huff and Rombough went up stairs to bed. The family, besides the boarders consisted of Morland; his wife; Susan Douglass, sister of Mrs. Morland, aged 14; Wm. John Morland, aged 12; Henry, 10; Lizzie, 8; Sara, 6; Charlie, 2; and a baby of seven months. The house was a small frame of 1½ storys, containing one room down stairs. In this room were two beds, a large lounge, cradle &c. for the family to sleep on, and a large stove stood near the foot of the beds. In one of these beds were sleeping Wm, Henry and Chas., and on the lounge Lizzie and Sara while the bady was in the cradle near the bed containing the boys. Mrs. Morland and Susan Douglass were up with Morland and Vanallan.

Shortly after supper one of the men was trying on a pair of new boots, and walking over the floor stepped into the coal oil that had run from the jug. At that moment the jug cracked with a loud noise, the bottom nearly severed from the body, and the oil poured out over the floor. Two tin sap buckets and a gallon tin can were immediately procured and the oil emptied into them from the broken jug, but considerable remained and spread over the floor. There being a number of cracks in the floor the oil ran into them and underneath the house. A broom was procured and the oil brushed up as much as possible. Fearing that a spark from the stove might ignite the oil, the men applied lighted matches to different parts of the floor to burn the oil off. Morland also took a piece of paper and with it fired the oil in two or three different places. The flames shot up with some force, and becoming alarmed Morland seized the broom to extinguish them. This being saturated also only added to the fire, and in a moment the whole room was filled with flames and suffocating fumes.

The door was on the south side of the dwelling and the oil that had been empted into the buckets and can, it is supposed, caught also, thus rendereng egress difficult and hazardous. Vanallen succeeded in opening the door and getting outside. There was a door on the north side, but it was closed, and to this he ran and began breaking it open. Morland appeared to be stupified or frightened at first, but Vanallen calling him to help save the women and children, he succeeded in breaking open a window. It appears that Miss Douglass approached the broken door but Vanallen fearing a draft would increase the flame closed the door against her, not knowing that she was near. He soon after opened it again, and the three boys who were sleeping in one bed, awakened by the women sprang out. Willie, who is a bright lad, says when he got out of bed his little brother Charlie followed with his hair on fire. He threw Charlie down and with his hands rubbed the fire from his head and then carried him out. Harry followed and was much burned. Willie was slightly injured in his heroic efforts to save his little brother, but not seriously. The two women—Mrs. Morland and Miss Douglass—it is supposed tried to rescue the girls who were on the lounge and the baby. They must have suffocated and fallen upon the children, as the charred remains of the whole five were found in the cellar next morning burned to a crisp. We were told that but few bones were left, the whole forming but a small quantity which was put into one coffin. The house burned with great rapidity, and nothing could be saved.

Minard Huff, one of the injured men, is 19 years of age, and son of the late Asa Huff of Thurlow. He had been working for Vanallan for about a week. Wm. R. Rombough, the other man injured is about 21 years of age, single, and a son of R. Rombough of Thurlow. He also had been working for a week. As previously stated, when the fire occurred, they were both up stairs sleeping. Rombough was the first to discover the danger and called to his companion to get up as the house was on fire. When descending the stairs he missed his footing and fell into the flames at the bottom. Being blinded by the fire which enveloped him, he crawled on his hands and knees through the flames to the door. In this position he was terribly injured. His abdomen is so burned that the bowels protrude; the flesh hangs from his shoulder leaving the bone bare; his ears are burned to a crisp, and not a particle of hair is left on his head. His feet being covered with woollen socks were not so much injured. Huff ran down stairs after Rombough, and suffered fearfully before reaching the door. His feet, body, face and head were burned so that there is no hope of his recovery. These two sufferers, as we state above, now lie at Mr. Isaac Peck's house, where all that can be done for them is being practised. They were taken there by Mr. Vanallen as soon as he could procure a conveyance.

The nearest neighbors to to the scene of this great tragedy lived nearly a mile away, and it was not till near morning that they knew anything about what had happened. Then willing hands and sympathizing hearts were ready to assist in the search for the burned bodies and comfort the afflicted. The scene, we are told, beggared description. The husband and father who had suffered such a terrible loss, was crazed with grief and remorse, and could do little else than weep and wring his hands in despair. His wife, sister-in-law and three children, who a few hours before were with him full of life and happiness, were consumed to ashes, their remains lying among the bebris of his house. He had drawn $75 from the bank—all the money he had, and this with his furniture and provisions was consumed, leaving him with three motherless and destitute children without any means of support. When our reporter visited the scene last night the poor man was wandering about the ruins in a half-demented state, and lamenting his misfortune. His case is indeed a pitiable one.

The neighbors collected as soon as the terrible intelligence spread, and searched for the remains of the burned ones. When gathered they were token to the house of Mr. John Douglass, step-father of Mrs. Morland, and the funeral took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Morland's house was not insured, so his loss is a total one. He came to this county from Quebec about 20 years ago, and subsequently married Miss Catharine Gallagher, step-daughter of Mr. John Douglass, who has met such a horrible fate. Both he and Vanallan feel keenly the position this terrible accident places them in, as they were a little careless in their use of the matches to burn off the oil from the floor.

Dr. Hudson was summoned from Roslin, and is administering to the sufferings of Huff and Romborgh. He does not deem an inquest necessary.

We would suggest that a subscription be started at once for the benefit of Morland, whose position is one to excite sympathy and charity.

OUR FATHERS—WHERE ARE THEY.

Reminiscenses of the Early Settlement of the Old Bay of Quinte District.

THE SIEGE OF BATH.

How many of our readers have looked with veneration upon the shabby old buildings and decaying monumants of "ye olden times" as they passed the little village of Bath, which forms the first stopping place for the bay steamer west of Kingston? We apprehend that most of them who have glanced towards the score of more weather-beaten houses that straggle along the shore in irregular fashion did not think that the place once had a name in the history of our country. We write now in defence of the loyal old hamlet, and shall attempt to picture an anterior history quite different from the present. The village and townships adjoining were surveyed in 1783, and were settled chiefly by Roger's corps of Sir John Johnson's regiment early in the following year. These pioneers, when they took possession of the place, were disposed to find some fault with official arrangements, and charged partiality in favour of Michael Grass' company, who were allotted the First Township (Kingston). However, when the quality of the soil was compared they became reconciled, and soon believed that, in their village site, they possessed advantages for a city rivalling those of their neighbors. A reserve for a town was left when the survey was made, and immediately after settlement began the lots were rapidly taken up by hopeful spirits. We do not know the source of their inspiration, but for some reason they chose the name of one of the most venerable and picturesque cities in old England, which is located near Shakspear's Avon—

> "That silver current flowing
> With uncontrolled meandering."

Like their fellow Loyalists in other parts of the country, they believed that

> "In struggling with misfortune > Lies the proof of virtue," and manfully went to work to hew the dark old woods away. For some time subsequent to settlement the circumstances were such as to make Bath a much more promising city in embyo than Kingston. Gourley, one of our earliest historians, writing in 1811, says: "It promises to be a place of considerable business." The first steamboats that disturbed the waters of the Bay of Quinte were built at Bath—the Frontenac and Charlotte—and this fact is sufficient to establish a claim to distinction. But, alas for the prosperity of Bath! Our republican neighbors took umbrage at a simple right claimed by England to search their vessels for deserted seamen, and declared war in 1812. This, of course, meant particularly war against Canada. There were no railroads and similar means of transit then, and all commercial transactions were carried on by water.

The beginning of hostilities seriously interfered with uch projects, and, as a consequence, fell heavily upon the flourishing village. The indignation of its denizons rose to a boiling point, and coupled with their chronic antipathy towards anything American, induced them to volunteer almost en masse. Nearly every able-bodied man enlisted leaving only the old grey-headed sires and beardless boys, with the women and children, to manage domestic concerns and guard the sacred treasures at home. But the very acme of their martial ardor was yet to be reached. One warm night during the summer of 1813, after a wearisome day's work had ended, and the industrious villagers had sought rest and refreshment where so many have found it, in "tired nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," watchful eyes discerned several vessels approaching the place. They proved to be American cruisers, which had crossed the lake and entered the bay by way of the Upper Gap. The alarm was instantly given, and up from their slumbers sprang the affrightened people, girding on their armor for a deadly struggle with the enemy. The hopelessness of their case only nerved them to deeds of daring. The patriarchs of revolutionary memory forgot their age and feebleness, and

> "Shouldering the crutch, > Showed how fields were won."

The morning's light found a medley of warriors of all ages, ranks and qualities swarming through the villages and "armed to the teeth" with such weapons as could be improvised for the occasion. We shall omit further particulars regarding the preparations made to receive the Yankees, for fear they would not compare very favorably with modern inventions. But no deficiency of this nature intimidated the defenders; and in order to emphasize their loyalty a dilapidated specimen of the Union Jack was elevated upon the highest peak. The enemy continued to advance slowly, the wind being very light, and

> "As they drifted on their path,
> There was silence deep as death,
> And the boldest held his breath
> For a time.

But it was only "for a time." Instead of shattering the architectural pride of Bath with grape and canister, as was expected, the visitors merely took an impudent look at the place and passed on, carrying with them the Benjamin Davy, a small schooner anchored in the harbor. The long pent-up feeling of wrathful indignation then burst forth in hilarious shouts of relief; and we are told, some of the more enthusiastic proposed to follow the cowardly intruders with small boats and capture the whole feet. More moderate counsel finally prevailed, and after congratulating each other on the heroic defence offered, and relating in glowing terms deeds of individual prowess, a volunteer company started for Kingston, expecting the enemy would attempt a landing there. Conscious danger had obliterated for the time being all feelings of local jealousy, and made them magnanimous to a fault. Though the fortunes of war had annihilated their commercial prospects, while at the same time it had contributed to the prosperity of their rival, they hopefully predicted a favorable revolution when peace again spread her white plumes over the scene. Time passed on and the struggle ended, but redivivus could not be applied to the business enterprise of Bath. Spasmodic efforts were made, and sometimes with transient success, but the decided advantages gained by Kingston during the war could not be overcome, and "Ichabod" was written upon the walls of Bath.

Enough has been written here, we think, to redeem the prestige of the loyal old hamlet, and elevate her history in the estimation of modern visitors. Those who are disposed to judge harshly from present appearances should recall that critical summer morning in 1812, when a well-provided Yankee fleet was frightened away by the resolute defence offered, and when only old men and women were present to dispute their landing. Is it all very well for cynics to say that the Americans had no intention of landing; that they repudiated the barbarous thought of plundering a small, defenceless Canadian village. Those who mustered that morning knew better, and have left it on record that Bath, and perpaps the whole country, was saved through the intrepid conduct of that phalanx of Knights and Amazons, marshalled with such unerring military discretion.

☞ We have, like many others, suffered from influenza and cough, during the cold and stormy weather, and nothing which we have tried has relieved us so much as Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. It soothed the throat, eased the cough—in short, it cured us.

TOWN LOTS!

R. PURDY is instructed to sell on

WEDNESDAY, FEB'Y 15TH

at his rooms in the Robertson Block

TWO HUNDRED LOTS

IN

Crystal City!

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and nat advantages of its surroundings.

BY FAR THE LARGEST TOWN IN THE ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supporting the wants of a thickly populated section. The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.), and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced over 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

Over Forty Buildings Now Under Contract for Early Spring Completion.

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdest of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will e sold on the same.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture.

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases

City and Vicinity.

☞ FURS at cost at Davenport's.

THE cells were empty last night.

WITH snow, would not this be ideal winter weather?

THERE is tolerably good sleighing in the northern section of the county.

THE Hibernian Minstrels will appear in the Metropolitan Hall this evening.

☞ CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

NEARLY all the merchants of Stirling are "selling off at cost for cash." It is the N. P., of course.

THE Belleville Histrionic Association will appear in Trenton next Thursday evening. They will play "Engaged."

☞ Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

THE Hibernian Minstrel Band paraded the principal streets of the city this morning discoursing some very fine airs.

Special services are being held in University Church. Meeting every night next week except Wednesday. The Rev. Mr Burns will preach on Monday and Rev. Mr. Shorey on Thursday night.

Albert College is "booming." The attendance is larger than for several years. Every effort is being made to make it, in all its departments, a first class College. Success is crowning the effort. The Commercial Department is growing rapidly, the attendance being larger than ever before.

☞ Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

ON Wednesday, 15th Feb., at 7 p.m., Mr. S. B. Burdett, LL.D., the President-elect of the Historical Society, of Albert College, will be duly installed, after which the members will give their annual exhibition. Unusual efforts have been put forth to make it a success. The public are cordially invited.

THE REV. H. J. NOTT, editor of The Observer, will deliver his popular lecture entitled "The Solar System" in the City Hall on Tuesday evening next, 13th inst. The public may expect a rare treat. Proceeds, in aid of the Bible Christian Church. A. G. Northrup, Esq., will occupy the chair. Tickets 25c.

☞ GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons steamlooms, wincies, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc., etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in small bills.

S. B. Burdett, Esq., lectured before the students of Albert Commercial College yesterday afternoon on "Mercantile Persons." The lecture was practical, carefully prepared, and was listened to with marked attention. The students took notes and will be examined on the subject matter of the lecture. Many of the other students attended and the Commercial Hall was crowded.

Mr. A. Wensley, of this city, is expected to sing at a concert in Campbellford on the 14th inst.

MINING IN CAMDEN. The Beaver says: A meeting of parties interested in the mining lands in the township of Camden, was held at Tamworth last week, and a syndicate formed with a capital of $500 to sink the shaft in the Kellar mine some seventy feet further, with a view to test the extent of the lead and quality of the ore. Operations will be continued and it is expected that in a few weeks we shall know the true inwardness of this supposed bonanza. Mr. Gideon Tugwell, of Napanee, is interested in the scheme.

THE fussy little President of the joint-stock company over the way, has more cheek than any other person we know of. As soon as the telegram reached the city yesterday afternoon announcing the terrible calamity that had occurred at Huntingdon, he, with characteristic pomposity, drew up a flaming placard and placed it upon the bulletin board of the Montreal Telegraph Office, and also on shop windows, stating that the "Intelligencer of Saturday would contain the particulars of the accident." If this is not "pure cheek," we would like to know what is. Our advice to merchants along the street would be to locate one of their clerks, or instruct a policeman to keep an eye to their shop window, less this gentleman, who is so free to advertise at the expense of others, disfigure them with his fancy penmanship, extolling the enterprise of his organ. We are not so pompous, but contrive to beat the wonderful organ every time.

☞ N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3 95 and a servicable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHŒNIX HALL.

The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞ No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

THERE was no session at the Police Court to day.

GOSPEL MEETING.—Mr. Lockett, of Kingston, will (D.V.) address the meeting at Bethel Hall, Sunday evening at 8:30. All are welcome.

A SISTER of the young man Rombough, who was so terribly injured at the fire in Huntingdon, is living with Prof. Badgley of Albert College.

☞ FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

SHOULD Rev. A. Schuster decide to erect a building next season for city mission purposes, a well-known gentleman has offered to assist him to the amount of $100 or $150.

A SPECIAL meeting of the Council is called for this evening to discuss matters appertaining to the Railway Amalgamation Bill now before the Legislature. The "Chairman of Finance" is no doubt arranging for another trip (at the city's expense) to the Queen City.

☞ No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

City Mission Services to-morrow. At 10 o'clock S. School at Mr. Minner's, preaching service. At 11 at Mr. Kaiser's, Franklin-st., Bleecker's Mill. At 2.30 o'clock Sabbath School in the Mission School Room, Covert's store, Church-st. At 6.30 o'clock at Mr. Thompson's, preaching service.

THE Stirling News-Argus says:—In October last Mr. Henry McMullen bought Philip Vandewater's farm, below Foxboro', and has since, at three different times, been offered $1,000 advance on the price he paid. He thinks there is no necessity of going to Manitoba to speculate in land.

☞ THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

THE PARISH OF TRENTON.—The Annual Church Missionary meetings for the parish of Trenton will be held in the following order:—On Monday evening, the 13th instant, Canterbury Hall, Trenton, at 7:30. On Tuesday evening, the 14th, instant, in Trinity Church, Frankford, at 7 o'clock. The deputation that will address the meetings consists of Rev. R. Lewis, M. A., Rector, Maitland, Convener; Rev. Archibald Elliott, B. A., Camden East, and Mr. H. G. Parker, Deaf and Dumb Institute Belleville.

SMELTING WORKS—Last evening the Finance Committee of the City Council and the committee of citizens met Mr. Hall at the Dafoe House for the purpose of ascertaining from him the terms upon which he purposes establishing smelting and steel works in Belleville. As no reporters were allowed to attend the conference, we are unable to state positively the exact terms of Mr. Hall's proposition, but it is said the committee with one exception were favorably impressed with his system of making steel; and in order that the gentlemen may all come to some definite understanding, the committee were given Monday night to report. They will then meet in the Council Chamber. We are informed on very good authority that Mr. Hall will ask a bonus of $200,000 from the city, but it is not definitely stated that this is a fact. We shall await with interest the decision of the Committee and the terms upon which Mr. Hall is going to give us the smelting works. The Committees, after they adjourned were entertained by Mr. Hall at a dinner, which was prepared in good style. The usual toasts were proposed and responded to, and a jolly time was spent for a few hours. The dinner was purely American in its character—whatever any guest desired, Mr. Hall ordered and footed the bill. It was about three o'clock this morning when an adjournment took place.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

DASHES.

—One Gannon is wanted at Napanee for embezzlement.

—The great tragedy in Huntingdon absorbs all conversation.

—The market was largely attended today, and the streets thronged.

—The house of Mr. Reuben Hicks, of Clarendon, was burned, last week. Himself and family were absent at the time.

—Mr. Chas. Blackwell, who has held the position of Chief Engineer of the Midland for some time, has resigned his place to accept another on one of the southern railways.

—Mr. John Ackers says in a private letter from Ottawa: "The exodus from this par, to Manitoba next spring will be something extraordinary. All the cry is 'to Winnipeg, where a fortune can be made in no time.' I am afraid that some will be sadly disappointed."

—Mrs. Commodore Vanderbilt, who is only 36 years old and personally attractive, is much sought after by unmarried gentlemen. Her friends estimate that she has received from 500 to 2,000 proposals of marriage since the Commodore's death, and that it takes a great deal of her time to open and read love letters, many of which contain photographs, and are graphically descriptive of the fine points of the applicants.

WOOL.

The Coarse Quality a Drug in the Market.

The Orillia Packet says:—Our woollen manufacturers inform us that a complete revolution has taken place in this commodity, and that the farmers will have to accommodate themselves to circumstances. To quote their own words, "coarse wool is played out, and become a drug in the market." Many persons, unobservant of the signs of the times, have got large stocks on hand, and find it impossible to dispose of them except at a serious and increasing loss. Even in this town there is a good deal purchased from the farmers which can only be sold at a sacrifice, and vows are registered that no more shall be sought. We enquired what use can now be made of Cotswold wool? and were informed that it was only fit for carpets and common stocking yarn, which purposes need but a limited supply. Down wool and Down crosses are required, and we strongly advise our agricultural readers to act accordingly, for the laws of supply and demand are imperative. There is considerable variety to select from, according to fancy and the state of the purse, but dark faces of some sort must be obtained and bred. Hampshire, Shropshire, Oxford and Sussex downs can easily be procured in the Province of Ontario, at rates more or less reasonable. We think, however, that in wiew of a certain and increasing demand for these sheep, the sooner a change is set about the smaller will be the necessary expense.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY 10th.

The House adjourned early yesterday afternoon, and the business done was largely of a routine character, a number of unopposed bills being advanced a stage. The principal discussion arose on a motion by Mr. Meredith for correspondence respecting the removal of County Court judges, and other documents in connection with investigations into the conduct of any County Court judge. The special case referred to was that of Judge Squires, of Huron County, respecting which the Attorney-General entered into a lengthy explanation, stating that owing to his habits an enquiry became necessary; that he promised to resign, but that a constitutional question having meanwhile arisen as to the validity of the Act abolishing the Court of Impeachment, the judge determined to hold on to his position and the Government were unable to compel his resignation. Mr. Morris took the opportunity to propound the favourite Tory view in favour of centralization, contending that the frequency with which constitutional difficulties arose rendered it desirable that all acts of the Local Legislature should be rigidly examined by the Minister of Justice on their passage, and their defects pointed out to the Provincial Governments. The Attorney-General quite agreed with him as to the serious nature of the evil, but held that the Dominion Government should remedy it by passing Acts from time to time validating all local legislation, which, though technically unconstitutional as being ultra vires was admitted expedient. The motion was adopted.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

FRIDAY, 10th.

The debate on the Address yesterday, in the House of Commons was quite brief and unexciting. Mr. Bergeron moved, and Mr. Guillett seconded it in speeches rather below than above the average of first speeches in point of merit.

Mr. Blake gave a general review of the points in the speech, and dwelt on some things conspicuous in it by their absence.

Sir John then occupied the remainder of the time till six o'clock, at which time the House adjourned after passing the Address.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent alterative, or blood-cleansing remedy that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humor, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption, to the formidable scrofulous swelling, or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration, yield to its benign influences. Consumption, which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a free use of this God-given remedy. LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

THE SCHOOLMASTER.

Depicted by a Man Who Knows Him.

The curiosity that I have to show you to-day, children, is perhaps the most wonderful in the collection. He beats all.

The schoolmaster, it is said, trains the young idea how to shoot. He is not himself given to shooting, however. He takes more delight in the rod than the gun.

The schoolmaster is not a military man, but his principal assistant is. The name of his assistant is Corporal Punishment. It is to be hoped that the corporal will soon be remanded to private life.

The schoolmaster is sometimes called a tutor, and occasionally he is called ass. On the whole, an astutor man is seldom found.

The schoolmaster thoroughly understands the rule of three, but always insists upon the rule of one. So you see his understanding is out of all proportion to his rule.

Although the schoolmaster is a ruler of boys, he has his own ruler. If he be no stick himself, his ruler always is.

The schoolmaster is a very inquisitive person. He is always asking questions. His is a question able calling.

The schoolmaster can be found in all classes. He is also given to classifying knowledge. I sometimes think I would be in his classify could.

The schoolmaster is good at figures. He would cut a pretty figure if he were not. He is the figure head of the school, or should be; but sometimes a boy gets ahead of him.

He is also too good at spelling. He can stand a long spell in a good situation without flinching.

He is always correcting the errors of his pupils, and consequently has but little time to attend to his own.

The schoolmaster is not the man of war, but he often employs a monitor. He gets the monitor to see in his place.

Oh shun misbehaving children, or the see of the monitor shall overwhelm you.

The schoolmaster teaches the A B C, but he cannot make a bee see.

Every sort of ology is taught by the schoolmaster, but tautology is in no better coming from him than from anybody else.

In a school of young rascals the schoolmaster is always the principal.

Some schoolmasters are actuated entirely by the law of love—love for their situations. Some entirely by hate—hate to give them up.

The schoolmaster loves to have callers at his school; but habit has so possessed him that he not only collars his scholars, but also scholars his callers.

I used to wonder at the schoolmaster during my school days, but my school daze will never return.—Boston Transcript.

—It is said that Mr. Drouan, barrister of Quebec, and law partner of Hon. E. J. Flynn, will be appointed Judge at Gaspe, in place of the late Judge Lamfromboise.

—The New York Herald has received a despatch from Lieut. Danenhower, dated Irkutsk, Jan. 4, stating that Lieut. De Long's party is between the stations Buleur and Tisteronck, in a narrow wilderness, eighty miles long, devoid of habitations and game.

—Mr. Patterson at Kingston—Young men should study the history of their country, understand its position and sentiment. It was moving forward, not defiantly but calmly and majestically, to the fulfilment of its grand destiny. Canada, fair Canada for the Canadians.

—Tobin, the Fenian who was arrested at Leeds in connection with a little dynamite plot got up for the benefit of the Irish Republic, has been sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for the benefit of society.

—Mr. Alexander Begg has been appointed to the management of the Canadian Pacific railway immigration agency in England, vice Mr. St. John, who has accepted a position in a large land and colonization company recently organized in England, and which will operate in the North-West.

—State legislation having thus far proved entirely ineffectual to prevent prize-fighting, Senator Titus, of Buffalo, has taken a new departure by proposing in the New York Legislature a measure making persons who leave the State for the purpose of engaging in a prize-fight liable to indictment in any county of the State.

In reply to certain questions by our representative, E. L. Loweree, Esq., cashier of the Cincinati Southern Railway, observed: "I was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism in my right foot; it was in a terrible condition; the pain was almost intolerable; our family physician waited on me without success; I sent for another well known M. D., but even the twain could do nothing for me; I could not get down here to the office to attend to my duties; in fact I could not put my foot under me at all and after nine weeks suffering I began to grow desperate. My friend (whom of course you know, for he is known by everybody), Mr. Stacey Hill, of the mount Auburn Inclined Plane Railway Co., called to see me; he spoke very highly of St Jacobs Oil, and recommended the remedy to me in glowing terms. I laughed at the idea of using a proprietary medicine, and yet the party recommending it, (Mr. Stacey Hill, remember), being a man of sound judgment, set me to thing in the matter over. The next day when the physicians called, I dismissed them, and said to myself that I would let nature take its course. This resolution lasted only a day. On the following morning I, in a fit of desperation, sent a servant for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. I applied that wonderful remedy, and it penetrated me so that I thought my foot was about to fall off, but it did not; in fact it did just the opposite. The next morning the pain had entirely left my foot the swelling was reduced, and really the appearance was so different altogether from the day before, that it actually surprised me. I applied more of the St. Jacobs Oil, and that afternoon I walked down here to the office, and was able to attend to my duties and get around as well as any one. Let me say for St. Jacobs Oil that it beats railroad time, and is always sure to win.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ALL CLASSES OF Professional and business men at times are subject to extreme nerve prostration from excessive brain work and worry, and by advice, commonly resort to stimulants, opium, chloral or bromides to subdue irritability and restlessness. These agents only put to sleep the sentinel that warns the system when overworked, while the waste of vital force continues. Here is a large consumption of phosphates, the source of nerve power, than is furnished by the food, and the deficiency may be supplied by the use of DR. WHEELER'S Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an easily assimilable form of these elements of nerve nutrition.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, Loud [illegible] Eng.

SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness, inflammation and pain. No household should be without it.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Costiveness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Foul Stomach, Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed: cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL

Fifth Annual Meeting of Eastern Association.

That the object of this Association was educational and designed to obtain information outside of the limited traditional sources is evident from the preamble and resolution adopted previous to the adoption of the articles of the Association. They were as follows:—"Whereas it is deemed expedient to organize an association through which the maximum results of the practical experience of dairymen may be gathered and disseminated to the dairying community; therefore resolved that we the undersigned do hereby associate ourselves together for mutual improvement in the science of cheese-making, and more efficient action in promoting the general interest of the dairy community" This was an important movement, as subsequent events have shown, toward improvements in the whole art of dairying, though at first designed to be confined to the manufacture of cheese only." He traced the history of these associations, expressed himself in favour of local rather than national associations, and of confining the subjects discussed to those in which the members were most interested. Continuing, he said "Another means for the education of dairymen has been afforded by the public press, which is always a powerful lever for pushing any object to which its attention is turned. Enterprising publishers have opened their columns to dairy writers, who have not been slow to occupy them with matter relating to the dairy. Through their agency a large amount of useful reading relating to the dairy has been spread out before dairy readers for their pleasure and instruction; but there is a heavy drawback to this source of information. The statements of those who write for the dairy cannot always be taken with implicit confidence, even though the authors have had large experience. Different men do not always see things in the same light nor in the right one. But, what is more unfortunate, there is a pretty numerous class of writers for the dairy, as well as for other agricultural departments, who have neither experience nor knowledge of dairy matters, but who nevertheless coolly assume to write for the edification of those who have. The effect is to confuse and mislead those who cannot sift out the truth for themselves, and to seriously detract from the usefulness of the press as a means of improving the dairy interest. An exhibition of dairy goods, with prizes for the best, in connection with agricultural shows has been resorted to almost time out of mind for the purpose of educating dairymen in their art, and of stimulating them to a higher skill by the pride of distinction and the hope of reward. So far as the exhibition of dairy stock and dairy apparatus is concerned the exhibits in the dairy department of such shows have been the means of doing much good. The display of dairy apparatus has been a very effective means of keeping dairymen posted in regard to the latest and most improved devices for the execution of their work and for the improvement of their products. In respect to stock and apparatus, dairy shows may be catalogued with the active agencies for advancing the dairy interest, but so far as the influence of displays and prizes for dairy products, with the intent to level up the lower grades of manufacture to approximate those higher grades is concerned, I question whether they will ever pay for the ink and paper used in advertising them. The mode of exhibiting and and awarding prizes precludes the possibility of any material benefit. The nature of dairy products is such that they cannot like stock and tools, be judged of by inspection with the eye only. They must be touched and tasted to form any correct idea of the comparative merit—a privilege accorded to nobody but the judges. Butter is so sensitive to atmospheric influences that it cannot stand open at the show, so it is kept chiefly covered. The judges can look at the contents of the packages—the spectators can see only the packages. How much information they will gain by looking at the outside of a lot of butter packages you can judge as well as I. He referred to transient or moveable dairy schools for operation in some counties the object being to give practical instruction at their own houses to those so desiring. He knew nothing better than a system of teaching of this character. This Association would accomplish more by sending out one or more experts for this purpose than by all the exhibitions it could hold. He impressed upon the meeting the necessity for improved methods of dairying in view of future competitions. The dairyman of the future would be required to be equipped with a fund of knowledge far beyond that of the dairymen of to-day, much of which knowledge he would have to draw from technical schools yet to be established. (Applause.)

In answer to a question Prof. Arnold said rennets should not be extracated from the calf until the latter is five days old—they should not be killed before.

Question—What would be the value of a rennet taken from a calf as soon as born.

Answer—Just as valuable as the rest of the calf. (Laughter.)

The Secretary read a letter from the British Counsel General for Brazil, who is at present in Canada, stating his willingness to give any information to dairy men that might be desired on the condition of foreign butter and cheese markets, also the mode of manufacture.

Prof. Arnold—Salesmen should be good judges of cheese; and if a patron can be found who is a competent judge of cheese and has a good knowledge of foreign markets, he should be the one secured to sell the cheese. (Applause.)

The convention adjourned for dinner.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The convention assembled at 2:15.

GREEN FODDERS.

PROFESSOR BROWN submitted a diagram showing the green fodder plants that have been successfully cultivated at the Guelph Experimental farm during the last five years. They are in order of the diagram; Lucerne, St. Foin Prickly Comfrey, Red Clover, Rye, Tares and Oats, Millet, Rape, Corn and Cabbage. The question was not so much one of "soiling vs Grazing," as what fodders are reliable in Ontario in connection with dry summers when the ordinary pastures are poor. It would not be difficult to prove that on a scale sufficiently large to employ two men and one horse and cart, the brousing of cows during summer, fed on such fodders would post double the quantity of milk, as against the common system of pasturing upon the average timothy and clover runs. It was recommended to house cows from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily from 1st. June to end of August when it was desired to adjust light pressure in the production of milk—The cool of evening and morning being enough and best upon pastures under our present provincial condition.

A Village merchant says: "Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment is taking the shine off all the liniments I sell. Would you like any certificates? If you would, say so, and I can send dozens from the best of my customers.

SENDING A VALENTINE.

I might begin, "The rose is red,"
(Though that is not so very new),
Or this the boys all think is good:
"If you love me as I love you."

But—seems to me—a valentine
Is nicer when you do not say
The same old thing that every one
Keeps saying, in the same old way.

And I asked Jane, the other night,
What grown-up people write about.
She would not answer me at first,
But laughed till I began to pout,
That stopped her, for she saw I meant
The question (and she will not tease),
"Why—love," she said "and shining eyes,
A kiss, soft hair—just what you please."
It cant be hard, if that is all,
So I'll begin by saying this:

"To my dear lady beautiful
I send a valentine and kiss,
The valentine, because she has
The lovliest hair and gentlest eyes,
The kiss, because I love her more
Than any one beneath the skies;
Because she is the kindest, best,
The sweetest lady ever known;
And every year I'll say the same,
The very same, to her alone!"

There! Now it's finished. Who will do?
I've thought of one and then another.
Who is there like it? Why, of course,
I'll send it right away to Mother!

—Kate Kellogg, in St. Nicholas for Feb., '82

Mr. Tim Gleeson, ex-member of the Council from the Fourth ward Cincinnati says he suffered terribly with rheumatism all last winter and spring. He tried all kinds of liniments and medicines without any benefit until he used St. Jacobs Oil, the first application of which insured a full night's repose, and its subsequent use entirely cured him. It is a great remedy, and the sufferer's hope.

"It is a great public benefit."—These significant words were used in relation to Dr. Thomas's Eclectric Oil by a gentleman who had thoroughly tested its merits in his own case—having been cured by it of lameness of the knee of three or four years' standing. It never fails to remove soreness as well as lameness.

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J.C.Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

HAVE HOPE.

Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others, why may it not cure you? All dealers sell it.

STRATFORD, ONT, Aug 1, 1874.

Having become almost entirely cured of extreme debility through the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, I feel it but just to put the fact on record. My case had resisted all other Medicines, but subcumbed to three bottles of Fellows' Hypophosphites.

CHAS. H. ROBERTSON,

ADAM WALKER, of Tavistock, Ontario, writes in February, 1868, that after trying many Cough and Lung remedies for a severe cold which he has suffered with for three years, he procured ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and was being much benefited by it. In a letter still later, he said his night sweats were all gone and he was rapidly recovering—his appetite was much better and he felt like a new man.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM

Cures coughs, colds, asthma, croup, whooping cough, sore throat, broncitis and all lung complaints that lead to consumption. Price 25 cents.

CROUP,—This disease in caused by the formation of a false membrane lining the windpipe, and obstructing the passage of the air, and is known by the shrill, croup-sounding cough and rattling in the throat. This membrane must be removed by expectoration. Take a double dose of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM every ten or fifteen minutes, which will reduce it, after taking a few doses. THE BALSAM WILL AND HAS SAVED THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN ATTACKED WITH CROUP, where it has been taken in season,

It always gives us pleasure to draw attent to articles which are deserving of public patr ronage. Probably no article ever offered to public has met with the same success as GR SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Thousands families in the Dominion keep it in th homes as the standard Cough Remedy. T sale of this article has assumed enormous p portions. Our advice to the public at larg to try its virtues if they should at any ti unfortunately contract either Coughs or Col It is sold by all chemists.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.

Some shrewd Yankee has invented a k that will wind any watch; it is a neat attac ment to a charm, and it is said to work like charm. are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT, which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, you were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift, your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

FARMERS AND MECHANICS.

If you wish to avoid great danger and trouble besides a no small bill of expense, at this season of the year, you should take prompt steps to keep disease from your household. The system should be cleansed, blood purified, stomach and bowels regulated, and prevent and cure diseases arising from Spring malaria. We know of nothing that will so perfectly and surely do this as Electric Bitters, and at the trifling cost of fifty cents a bottle.—Exch.—Sold by all druggists.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.

Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.

"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."

Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

Belleville, Feb. 3rd. 1882. dt'.

DAILY ONTARIO

MONDAY FEB. 13, 1882.

—During 1881 there were 17,331 evictions in Ireland, and of this number 10,062 were readmitted.

—In New Hampshire the snow fall this winter has been 70 inches. In this section of Ontario the surface of the ground has not been covered once.

—Mr. Gladstone has made a speech in the House of Commons that is construed as an encouragement to the Home Rulers to persevere in the agitation. The Daily News is alone in defending the Premier, and it only contends that Mr. Gladstone has been misunderstood.

—If half what is reported of the sufferings of the persecuted Jews in Russia be true, the Government of that country must be held responsible for wrongs that disgrace savages. A refugee reports that he has seen Jewish maidens stripped naked and flogged through the town.

—The Mail says wealth must always precede culture in a new country like this. Admitted, but does the N. P. distribute wealth equally or generally? Only a few enjoy the benefit of monopolies which bring wealth. Under these circumstances culture in Canada must be confined to a few, while the masses go unlettered. This view of the case does not open a very bright vista for the future of Canada.

—Sir John says the Syndicate are getting along so well with the construction of the Pacific Railway that he, although now an old man, might yet live, to see the work completed, and himself going on a journey to the Pacific coast. He had, however, on one occasion predicted that it would be from a higher sphere that he would behold the great work ina finished state.

—The Reformers of West York, in convention assembled, have unanimously nominated Sir. W. P. Howland, ex-Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, as their candidate to represent the riding in the House of Commons. The distinguished Knight has accepted the nomination, and will at once enter upon the work of redeeming the constituency. Mr. Wallace may hang his harp upon the willows.

—Mr. Blake, in his speech on the address last Friday, contended that Canada should have power to negotiate directly with foreign countries in regard to trade, because our own people ar far more able than any one else to do justice to their own interests when treating with a foreign nation. The fact that these remarks were greeted with applause indicates a growing sentiment in favor of a more distinct nationality.

MR. GUILLET, the member for West Northumberland, seconded the address in reply to the speech from the Throne on Friday. Unless he is unusually ambitious, this may be his first and last Parliamentary effort. His election is protested, and the Port Hope News says the day after the protest was filed Mr. Guillet acknowledged to several friends that he would be unseated, or, in other words, that his election had been secured by bribery and other corrupt acts. One would suppose that an ordinary sense of propriety would have kept Mr. Guillet quite, but he appears to be as regardless of "the eternal fitness of things" as the member for Lennox in the same House. There is no doubt of the existence of abundance of evidence to establish all that has been charged in the affidavits, and the result of the trial must be the unseating and probable disqualification of the gentlemen who seconded the address and, according to the Mail, received such an ovation when introduced to the House.

THE speeches of Mr. Blake and Sir John Macdonald on the address, last Friday, were characterized by an absence of political rancor and a grace of expression that formed a very appropriate introduction to the debates of the session. As the leaders of the two parties in the House, their examples should be imitated by the "lesser lights," and the moral tone of Canadian politics will be elevated and popularized. It is to be feared, however, that when the heat of battle is upon them, the leaders themselves will indulge in something else than mutual congratulations and the expression of kind regards. Mr. Blake rejoiced to know that the recent illness of Sir John terminated so favorably that he appeared amongst them again restored to health and strength; and although he hoped Sir John would change his place in the House at an early day, he also hoped that he would continue to grace its halls with his presence for many years to come. Sir John retaliated in spirit as follows:—I congratulate my hon. friend on the kindly and pleasant tone in which he has addressed us so early in the season. I thank him especially and sincerely for his very kindly allusion to myself. If we are to remain looking at each other, and I cannot hope to be arranged on the same side with the hon. gentleman, I hope we will always look at each other as we can and as we generally do.

TRADE AND NAVIGATION.

The Trade and Navigation Returns brought down on Friday show that the exports for the year 1880-81 amounted to $98,290,825, said to be "principally composed of Canadian produce and manufactures." The Commissioner of Customs, however, refrains from specifying how much of this is due to produce and how much to manufactures. As the increase in the last year is wholly in the trade with Great Britain it is easy to guess at the relative proportions of the two. The largest export of any preceding year was in 1875, when it aggregated $89,789,922. The total trade of the Dominion amounted last year to $189,903,427, the largest total of any year except 1874-75, when it ran up to $197,505,636. The total imports of 1880-81 exceeded the total exports by $7,040,017, a complete rejoinder to the arguments of those who saw that in order to have a country prosperous its exports must exceed its imports. The table of total imports and the duties thereupon for each year since 1867 is exceedingly instructive. It shows that while $14,421,882 was collected on a total import of $128,213,582 in 1874, and $15,361,382 on a total of $123,070,283 in 1875, and less than $13,000,000 each subsequent year to 1879, there was collected this year no less than $18,500,785 on a total of $105,330,840. While in the 1st year of the Mackenzie Administration each dollar of imports paid about 13¼ cents, last year each dollar paid 17¼ cents. Taking only the goods entered for consumption, these percentages became 14 and 20 respectively. that is on all goods imported to be consumed. Last year there were 6 cents more paid by way of taxation on each dollar than there had been in 1870. The percentage on the total imports into Ontario for 1881 was 18.27; into Quebec, 15.79; into Nova Scotia, 18.35; into New Brunswick, 11.25; into Manitoba, 22.6; into British Columbia, 24.08; and into Prince Edward Island, 26.58. The rate of Custome per head of the population of each Province is as follows:—Ontario, $3.32; Quebec, $5 94; Nova Scotia $3.40; New Brunswick, $3.91; Manitoba, $8.84; British Columbia, $9.99; and Prince Edward Island, $2.38. These tables of collections by Provinces are, however, extremely misleading, as the merchants in Ontario frequently sell imported goods to consumers in other Provinces.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says: "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

MARKET FEES.

The text of the Bill respecting market fees introduced into the Ontario Legislature forbids the collection of fees by any municipality unless a fit sheltered place is provided for the convenience of sellers. At certain hours of the day sellers can take loads to customers without going to the market or being subject to any fee, provided they do not stop to hawk their merchandise in the streets. The purchaser can demand the wighing of hay and measuring of wood in the appointed public place. Sellers who go upon the market can loave to sell their goods elsewhere after nine o'clock in the summer and 10 o'clock in the winter. The scale of fees is mixed, with 10 cents as the outside charge for a load in a two-horse vehicle. The corporation is permitted to regulate sales on streets and vacant lots, so as to prevent crowding. The operation of a law like this will turn trade in farm produce into the hands of the green grocers. Some municipalities will close up their market squares rather than provide shelter. The provision to prevent pedd ing from house to houseis a good one. As middlemen will stand, between producer and consumer, the farmer will either have to be content with lower prices, or the citizen will have to pay higher prices. The middleman's profit will certainly amount to as much as has been paid heretofore in market fees.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Peterboro' Review.

All the Midland cars, of all kinds, are to be repainted a bright yellow color. Some have been finished and present a neat and tidy appearance. The work is being done at the Port Hope shops and affords work for a large number of painters. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

We are authorized to announce by Mr. Geo. A. Cox, President of the Midland Railway, that the contract for the construction of the 'Missing Link" has been let to Mr Beemer of Montreal. That gentleman intends to commence work as soon as possible and is already making extensive preparations. He has two large steam shovels that are to be placed where the heaviest cuts are to be made, some few miles from town.

The consideration of the Midland, Grand Junction, Nipissing, Port Perry and Lindsay and Victoria Railway amalgamation scheme, will come before the Railway committee of the Local House on Tuesday.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

HOW POE DIED.

Dr. J. J. Moran, of Falls Church, Va., in his lecture in Washington city Wednesday night on the life and character of Edgar Poe, said (quoting from the Alexandria Gazette) that when Poe was brought to Washington Hospital, Baltimore, he examined his condition and discovered nothing whatever to indicate that it was the result of liquor or any intoxicating drink. The speaker said the slander had been reiterated that Poe died while under the influence of liquor, and nothing could be further from the fact. Upon his arrival at the hopital the Doctor questioned the hackman who brought him there and he declared that Poe was not drunk, nor was there the smell of liquor about him when he lifted him into his vehicle. As Poe's last hour approached Dr. Moran said he bent over him and asked if he had any word he wished communicated to his friends, Poe raised his fading eyes and answered, "Nevermore." In a few moments he turned uneasily and moaned, "Oh, God, is there no ransom for the deathless spirit?" Continuing, he said: "He who made the heavens and upholds the universe has His decrees written on the frontlets of every human being." Then followed murmuring, growing fainter and fainter, then a tremor of the limb, a faint sigh, and the spirit of Edgar Allan Poe, had passed the boundary line that divides time from eternity.

☞ One cold after another will, with many constitutions, securely establish the seeds of consumption in the system. Those in need of a remedy will find Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam always prompt, thorough and efficacious.

PROFESSORS CONNOR AND LYONS, of the Detroit Medical College, say: "We have used Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya with great satisfaction and think it will accomplish that for which it is recommended. We have exhibited it to our Academy of Medicine, and, in other ways, have brought it to the notice of a large number of physicians. It being a good thing, we are pleased to do more than is our custom to learn its virtues and exhibit them to others."

FROM MANITOBA.

Investing in Bradon—The property "Boom"—Real estate agents—Good Advice—'Robertson's Roost"—The Dogs—Water and Weather.

ROBERTSON'S ROOST
Winnipeg, February 8th.

A residence of over two weeks in this city has fully confirmed any ideas I may have formed in respect thereto.

Two weeks ago the city was all excitement, the only topic "Brandon." Every body was buying "Brandon." We arrived too late, Saturday evening, to buy, and owing to our going to church and spending the time between morning and evening service with kind friends, we did not invest that day, but no sooner was breakfast over Monday morning when the excitement commenced. A disinterested former townsman, in the generosity of his soul, gave as a special offer, good only for 5 minutes, or the golden opportunity would be gone for ever. Before we knew it we were possessed of a large number of lots in the new Chicago, and the old friend had made $500,00 in the transaction, although he had not invested a dollar. There are hundreds of real-estate agents, and their cut ile confederates, who are ever on the watch for "tender-feet," as they call the innocents from Ontario. The many illustrations of the rapid rise in the value of real estate I have had, convince me that it is not all talk, but on the contrary that we have not heard one twentieth of what might be said. If the lots I got at $20 each should rise in the next week to a thousand dollars each, do not be surprised. However, if any of our friends would like a few at cost they can wire me and the transfers will be forwarded immediately. Property on Main street near the Post Office is valued at a thousand dollars a foot. Portage Avenue is the next most costly, as it is supposed the leading wholesale houses will locate there. Lots on this avenue run from fifteen thousand up.

Such a demand for building sites is anticipated next spring, it would not be perhaps too strong to say this province is being divided into lots 25x100 feet. There will, of necessity, be a few left over, which later on can be had at a reduced rate.

How our hearts have bled for the unfortunates at home, who have been induced to invest in lots in some very important place, but which the oldest inhabitant out here has never heard of. How amusing it is to think of some people, who would not buy a row of pins without the most searching examination, and a request to throw in a couple, spending their hard cash for a plot of ground located in the middle of a lake. Of course, no one can say a word against the soil, but who wants to go caverting around in a diving bell to dig potatoes. It sounds well in poetry to talk of "ploughing the raging main," but when you reduce it to ordinary farming, it is impracticable for divers reasons.

The great boom of two weeks ago, which lasted all the week, was followed by a decided lull, but this in turn will be followed by another, and its to be hoped a more violent spasm, in which I trust to double my money in those lots if I can't sell them at cost before. Of course I have every confidence in the alternate result, but I am so impatient to make my funeral pile—as I fear the many large fortunes made by the sudden change from poverty to affluence, will be to their possessors.

Mr. Niles arrived here last week, and is in the real estate line, as are also Messrs. Baker and Gillen, who got here only nine days ago. The real estate agent, to do a successful business, must be well up in the multiplication table. One agent last week was reported to have made between twenty and thirty thousand dollars. The rate charged for sales is 2½ per cent. and as no sale means no pay, the land is likely to be first-class.

The report that the Marquis of Lorne was about to open a land office is not credited here.

Before dropping this, the only topic, I would say to those wishing to invest—go to a reliable agent, one that can be depended on, and your money will be secure; but to invest without the posibility of loss, though the profit may not be so much as in town lots, buy good farms.

The many Bellevillians stopping at the "Winnipeg," when we got there, made us feel at home, but now only two remain. Messrs. Robertson, Flint, (Col. Sellers), Campion, Holton, and your correspondent took a house on Carleton Street, near St. Mary's, and are enjoying all the comforts of bachelordom. "Robertson's Roost" is now one of the institutions of the city. Here some of the most stupendous schemes for accumulation of wealth are concocted. Corner lots, which are not worth a cent, are here transferred to imaginary purchasers for fabulous amounts, and the profits reinvested in more lots, and so the transactions multiply and the profits magnify—and then we take some ginger tea (it's a capital thing for wind) and go to roost. To find a good boarding house is next to impossible. The Doctor and I started out to find one shortly after we came, but the prices asked for small rooms, large enough to hold a bed, and allow one to dress at a time, were so high we gave it up. It is quite the thing for people in well-to-do circumstances to let a room or two, without board, and get more for the same than the rent of the house. "Robertson's Roost" is a small but neat house, containing three bed rooms, parlor, sitting room, kitchen and two water barrels for which only $300 a year rental is paid. The same house in Belleville would perhaps bring $7 a month. But people who are making money so fast don't mind the expense. Butter is only 30cts. per pound, and bread 20cts. a loaf; potatoes a dollar or more per bushel; water 25cts per barrel; beef or mutton 15cts a pound; bear, buffalo, deer, beaver, and dog vary according to the quality. I never saw such a place for dogs; but they are none of your miserable little sore-eyed curled-all-up-in-a heap kind, requiring a blanket, but large, noble-looking and strong; able to draw you about on sleds or toboggins as fast as a horse; and then when their usefulness as a beast of burden is past, able to fill a bill in another capacity, as well as the cat. Sausages are 15cts a pound.

Water is delivered through the city by male carriers at the price above mentioned, and is so hard and slippery you feel as if washing in dish water; and after you have wiped your face and got dried you have a desire to stand off for fear of being scratched like a hewed post just varnished.

We melted some snow and took a good, thorough scrub and soon discovered why all our clothes were getting so tight, but the result was most disastrous, as all caught cold. Our advice to intending emigrants is—wash before leaving home.

The weather is most delightful, the mercury varying from 40 or 50 below zero to zero, but the air is light and invigorating. One does not mind how the mercury is. I cannot help feeling sorry for the poor little Ontario thermometers, when they get up here. They do their best to perform their functions, but the fate of one that shrunk down to nothing then burst the bulb, slid down and climbed up the back, should be a warning sufficient to prevent any further importations.

Mr. J. J. B. Flint left for the east last Thursday, but we fear nothing short of a bonus and freedom from taxation will be able to keep him at home.

Messrs. Donnelly, Phippen, and Hall have also departed for home, and long before this reaches you will be shouting the praises of Winnipeg before groups of gaping listeners. The regular 25 per cent. discount should be allowed.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

The Robinsons Again.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT ARREST, AND A SERIOUS MISTAKE.

Chief McKinnon and Officer Cook Injured.

One of The Robinsons Shot in the Arm.

The notorious family of Robinsons, living a few miles north of Madoc, have again been guilty of assault on an English farm laborer of the neighborhood, in which they reside, and subsequently, of resisting arrest. On Friday afternoon Chief McKinnon and Officer Cook left the city with a warrant charging Richardson Robinson with assault. When they arrived in Madoc the Chief set out to obtain another man to assist them in making the arrest, as it was expected that considerable difficulty would be experienced. Constable Langman, of that village, offered his assistance, and about midnight the two started for Robinson's dwelling. It was soon ascertained that word had been sent to the Robinsons, and in this case they would have ample time to prepare for resisting the police officers. The Chief, however, was not disposed to back down, and the rig being ready the three gentlemen started for their destination. They arrived at the house about day break, and as they approached the door a creaking noise was heard coming from within, as if the inmates were breaking up pieces of wood, to be used when brought face to face with the police. The Chief stood at the door and the other two officers were stationed at different places about the building to watch if the inmates attempted to escape. After repeated knocking at the door, and receiving no answer the Chief concluded to break it open, but before doing so ordered is assistants to follow him into the house if no attempt was made at at once to escape through the window or back door. The door was soon standing ajar, and as soon as the officer entered, he saw before him three powerful looking men each with a large club in his hand, evidently prepared to resist arrest to the uttermost, Richardson Robinson was described to the officers as being a tall, thin, person, and the Chief at once caught sight of him, with a large club (a table leg) drawn across his shoulder, and apparently prepared to use it. The boys then sprang before the Chief and drew their clubs when the latter drew his revolver and shot (as he supposed) Richardson. The ball took effect in one of his arms, but it turned out to be Hiram a younger brother, who was shot, and not Richardson. Officer Cook hearing the report of the revolver, supposed the Chief had been shot, and at once pushed his way into the house, but as soon as he entered, a blow from one of the boys within drove him back again into the yard. He re-entered the house again, and drew his revolver with the intention of shooting William Robinson, but he had no sooner taken the weapon from his pocket, than a severe blow with a club hurled it from his hand. In the meantime the Chief and the Robinsons had fired several shots, but it being still dark in the room and the smoke from the discharge of revolvers, made it difficult to take a correct aim. What occurred after this it is difficult to state correctly, as everything was in confusion, but Langman was the only man with a baton, and he having received instructions from P. C. Cook to use it on the first man he met after entering the house, mistook Chief McKinnon for one of the Robinsons and dealt him a terrible blow on the head, which rendered the Chief almost unconscious. The Chief having called to Cook, the latter at once turned around and told Langman his mistake, but not until it was too late. The Chief not only received an ugly cut along the side of his head, but was otherwise badly injured about his head and shoulders. Officer Cook at once saw blood flowing profusely from the large gash in the Chief's head, and pushed him into the yard. But he recovered at once on reaching the fresh air, and, determined to carry out his intentions, re-entered the house again with the other two officers in the rear. All was quiet then and the Robinsons were quite prepared to surrender, but Richardson the one wanted had in the meantime made good his escape from the back door or window. As it was impossible to capture him then, the three officers returned to Madoc and the Chief and Officer Cook had their wounds dressed, when the latter started home on the afternoon train. The Chief was driven down Sunday morning. It is said that Hiram Robinson, who received the bullet wound in the arm will have to have the arm, amputated, as the elbow is badly shattered.

LATER.

Our reporter called on Chief McKinnon this afternoon and found him in bed. He received two ugly wounds on the head, but his condition is not serious. From him we learn that when he entered the hall of Robinson's house, the three brothers stood in front of him. The Chief said:—"Boys, I mean business; you may as well surrender quietly." They said nothing but stepped backwards into the main room, and when the Chief got there they sprang upon him. As already stated he shot Hiram in the arm and thus disabled him, and in another second knocked William over the stove. He was then preparing to shoot Richardson when he received a blow from Langman, which brought him at once to the floor. Had Langman remained outside, there is no doubt but McKinnon and Cook would have overpowered their assailants and arrested the man they were after. As it is, the services of the Madoc policeman will not be required again for a time, though he greatly regrets his stupidity.

It should have been mentioned above that the Chief endeavored to procure the assistance of a pilot, but no person could be found willing to venture within a gun shot of the house. P. C. Cook who gave such valuable assistance to the Chief, received two severe cuts on the head, but he was on duty again yesterday as usual.

Grand Auction Sale!

MANITOBA

TOWN LOTS!

R. PURDY is instructed to sell on

WEDNESDAY, FEB'Y 15TH

at his rooms in the Robertson Block

TWO HUNDRED LOTS

—IN—

Crystal City!

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and nat advantages of its surroundings.

BY FAR THE LARGEST TOWN IN THE ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section.

The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.), and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced over 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

Over Forty Buildings Now Under Contract for Early Spring Completion.

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdest of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

TITLE PERFECT. TERMS EASY. SALE AT 2 & 7.30 P. M.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture.

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

City and Vicinity.

☞Furs at cost at Davenport's.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Alex Robertson, M. P. P., who has been quite ill in Toronto, is recovering.

Just think—while we are Luxuriating in mud and slush, the people of the Maritime Provinces are snowed up. The railways are blockaded, and the roads quite impassable.

YESTERDAY forenoon, when the sun was shining, the honey bees came out of the hives and swarmed about the yards as if it was the middle of May, instead of the middle of February.

☞CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

UNLESS we get a change of weather soon, the reputation of that New Jersey weather prophet will suffer in Canada. He said we were all to be frozen into icicles here before the first of March.

Ald. Campion finds his private affairs demand all his time and attention, and not willing to neglect them, nor his municipal duties, has resigned his seat in the Council, as Alderman for Bleecker Ward.

Fifteen thousand blue-books were sent out from the Ottawa City post office on Friday, and tons of the same description of literature were mailed on Saturday. We acknowledge a share of the big mail.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

WE acknowledge the receipt of a cart-load of Parliamentary documents this morning, mostly from Ottawa. The blue books contain a vast amount of useful information, which we will notice as soon as convenient. The Trade and Navigation Returns receive attention to-day.

Mr. Herrington is preparing to build on his lot near the Agricultural Hall. He has stone and lumber on the ground, and work at excavating for the foundation of the house will soon begin. Mr. John Pepper has the contract for the carpenter work, and he will make a good job of it, too.

MR. LANGMUIR sends us his fourteenth annual report of the prisons and public charities of the Province of Ontario, and which, we suppose, will be his last. By Mr. L.'s resignation, the Province loses the services of an able and honest man. His reports are models for brevity and comprehensiveness.

☞Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

THE REV. H. J. NOTT, editor of The Observer, will deliver his popular lecture entitled "The Solar System" in the City Hall on Tuesday evening next, 13th inst. The public may expect a rare treat. Proceeds, in aid of the Bible Christian Church. A. G. Northrup, Esq., will occupy the chair. Tickets 25c.

On Thursday morning 2nd of February, the dwelling house on the premises of Mrs. Elizabeth Delong, Huff's Island—occupied by Mr. A. D. Delong—took fire about 5 o'clock in the morning and was destroyed, the occupants barely escaping with their lives. Nearly all of the contents were destroyed. Loss $1,000; insured in the Lancashire for $450.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons, steamlooms, winceys, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc. etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in small bills.

JAMES BELL and William Hough were arrested on Saturday evening for fighting in the Queen's hotel. They remained in the cells until this morning, when the Magistrate dismissed them with some good advise. Jas. Boyle and A. Brickman were also up on a charge of drunkenness. The former was discharged, but the latter being an old offender, was fined $2 and costs.

☞N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

Adam Forepaugh, the famous showman, who has visited Belleville several times, will be around this way again early in the summer, with "the greatest show on earth." He has not notified us to this effect, but his agent, Mr. Chas. H. Day, sends us a magnificent portrait of the showman, executed in the highest style of art, and true to life. We return thanks for such an acceptable present, and assure Mr. Day, we shall keep the portrait until the original again visits us, and a good deal longer. Adam Forepaugh never deceives his friends and the public. He always exhibits what he advertises.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHŒNIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No decepti [illegible] Furs at less than manufacturers [illegible] Davenport's.

THERE were four drunks in the cells on Saturday night.

The deputation referred to in another column will leave for Toronto to-night.

The friends of Mrs E. Wood will be pleased to learn that she is improving, and though still very weak, is in a fair way of recovery.

☞FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

A MISS DOUGLASS, milliner of Toronto, and sister of two of the unfortunate Huntingdon victims, arrived in the city Saturday night on the "local." She went out home yesterday.

A DEAD whale about fifty feet in length passed the Grand Trunk depot Saturday evening. It was carried on two flat cars, over which was built a temporary shed. While in the yard here it was inspected by a large number of people. It was probably intended for the "zoo," Toronto.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

REMEMBER the lecture in the City Hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. H. J. Nott, editor of the Observer. Subject, "The Solar System." As this is a very interesting as well as an instructive subject, and the ability of the lecturer undoubted—you would do well to make it a point to be present if not otherwise engaged. Admission, 25c.

Friend Williams, of the Globe's "flying column," has been in luck lately. He left Belleville for Madoc immediately after the adjournment of the Dairymen's Convention, and was on hand to report the recent holocaust in Huntingdon and the attempt to arrest Robinson of El. Dorado. This accounts for the Globe's advantage over most of its confreres.

☞THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The annual Missionary Meeting will be held (D. V.) on Tuesday evening the 14th inst., at half past seven o'clock p. m. The Rev. Rural Dean Baker and Rev. D. F. Bogert, M. A., will deliver the addresses. The Incumbent will read the official declaration of the Archdeacon and Bishop, by which St. John's is made a legal Parish

FRIENDS of Albert College may expect a rare treat on Wednesday evening 15th. inst., at 7 p.m. when the Historical Society will give their annual entertainment in commemoration of the charter. This is expected to be the best that has ever been given in the College. We have the programme, which is Latin from top to bottom and from diameter to circumference. It must be a good one.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

At the meeting of the Council Saturday night, Ald. Dickson said that while in Toronto the civic deputation saw Mr. Bell and offered to purchase the Phillips lot for $3,000 if the Women's Christian Association would withdraw their petition now before the Legislature. Mr. Bell informed them it was not in his power to make this compromise now, but referred them to the Association. It was subsequently learned that if this lot was purchased, and a home erected thereon at a cost of $1 000, subject to Government inspection, the city would be given a patent of the old hospital lot. Two months ago the Phillips lot could have been purchased for $2,800, but owing to the short-sightedness of the Chairman of Finance the matter at present stands is stated.

MISSIONARY MEETING.—~~Last~~ Sunday evening the annual missionary meeting in connection with Christ Church was held in Metropolitan Hall, and it must be said, the proceedings varied somewhat from other meetings of a similar character. His Lordship the Bishop of Ontario had appointed the Rev. Messrs Elliott and Lewis to visit this parish; and three laymen—Messrs H. G. Parker, Hon. Lewis Wallbridge and J. H. Simpson—were asked by the Pastor to assist the deputation. They consented, and took seats upon the platform. When the rest of the speakers had addressed the congregation urging upon them the necessity of contributing liberally to the support of their forty-two missions, as well as the opening up of others, Mr. Simpson was asked to speak. He certainly took a different view of the subject and in a short but able address referred to the history of Christ Church congregation for the past few years, and to their relations with the Synod. They had, he said, only succeeded in removing the debt from their church when it was burned to the ground, and again the congregation was "turned out of doors," so to speak. Strange to say, they received no offer from the sister congregations of the city to worship in their churches, and driven from their own, were compelled to meet in a building not even fit for a vinegar factory, without repairs. Here they were obliged to worship for a time until the Metropolitan Hall was secured, which, he said, was better adapted for a negro minstrel performance, than a house of worship. But they were building a church which, when completed, would be an ornament and a credit to the city, and until that was paid for, or a part of it, he urged upon the congregation not to contribute one cent to the mission fund. Further than this the speaker said Christ Church congregation had never received that consideration from the Synod that they should, and until this indifference or hostility on the part of the latter body was abandoned he advised them to keep within themselves. When they were free from debt, he said, it would be a proper time to contribute to the support of other parishes, and not till then. His remarks were, we are sure, a surprise the congregation but they were generally admitted to be true, and had considerable effect upon those present.

Mr. A. Wensley, of this city, is expected to sing at a concert in Campbellford on the 14th inst.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. MURCHISON SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY.

H. JAMES, ESQ., M. D., IN THE CHAIR.

The Secretary informed the meeting that he had received an invitation from Wm. Johnson, Esq., Inspector of Weights, Measures & Gas, to inspect the arrangements in his office for testing gas-meters, &c. It was resolved that the invitation be accepted, and the members went in a body to Mr. Johnson's office, where they spent a very pleasant evening in witnessing the operation of testing gas for its light-giving properties, and also for the percentage of sulphur. The process is a most interesting one, and as Mr. Johnson took pains to thoroughly explain every step he took, it was perfectly intelligible to all. The result of the test was a light of 15 candle power gas burning at the rate of five cubic feet per hour, which is a good average. The sulphur test showed only a small percentage, so that the test showed that the gas was in a satisfactory condition. As a proof of the necessity of these tests, Mr. Johnson said that the Gas Co. were now about putting in a new purifier to cost $6,000, to enable them to keep up more fully with the requirements of the Act. Mr. Johnson also exhibited the standard weights and measures, and the results of some of his visits of inspection in the shape of confiscated weights and measures, some of which showed a good deal of fraudulent ingenuity in their construction. In one case a man had kept a set of heavy weights for buying and light weights for selling. He does not use them now. Before leaving a resolution was passed thanking Mr. Johnson for his kindness, and the care which he had taken, in explaining all the processes which he had carried out, in which all present heartily concurred.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Amalgamation Scheme—Another Deputation to Toronto.

A special meeting of the City Council was held Saturday evening. There were present Ald. Tickell, Farley, Lingham, Frost, Clarke, Petrie, LaRoche, Watson, Diamond, Smith, Dickson, Blair, Taylor, Dunnett and Vandusen. In the absence of the Mayor, Alderman Vandusen was appointed Chairman.

Ald. Dickson explained the object of the meeting, after which the Solicitor referred to the Amalgamation Bill now before the Ontario Legislature. He said the terms upon which the city gave the Grand Junction a bonus of $100,000 was among other things that the city should have a controlling voice on the Board of Directors. Another clause was that the head office should be at Belleville. If the Bill now before the House passes, this city will be deprived of having a single voice in the Board, not even the Mayor being an ex-offico member. He inferred from the Bill that all the western freight passing over the road would do so on the Toronto and Ottawa road, thereby avoiding this city entirely, and would be under the contract of the Grand Trunk. If it were proposed to do this the speaker thought the city should be recouped. Mr. Bell, he said, rediculed the idea of the amalgamation injuring the city, but he could not see it in the same light.

At the time the Solicitor was in Toronto there were two other deputations present asking that their bonuses be paid back.

The Bill also specifies that one and a half million dollars of stock shall go into the hands of people for services rendered, or to be rendered, which means the Grand Trunk.

Ald. Dickson—By putting this large amount of money in the hands of outside stockholders—which means the Grand Trunk Company—the House will be depriving the people of the bonuses they gave those roads. If the Grand Trunk ever builds a double track, it will be many miles north of the present line, and why Toronto stands idly by in the face of this monopoly he could not understand.

Ald. Frost contended that our vested rights should not be wrested from us, and he had no doubt if the matter was laid before the House in a proper light, the Bill would be modified.

Ald. Dunnet suggested the appointment of a deputation to go to Toronto again. A smaller deputation than the former one he thought would be sufficient.

Ald. Diamond spoke at some length regarding the Market Bill.

The deputation appointed to go to Toronto are Ald. Dickson, Frost, the Solicitor and Clerk.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means o which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PARRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 40 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.
Ethel's Vow.

But from this moment an intimacy commenced between the young ladies that ripened rapidly into friendship.

One circumstance tended to increase this feeling.

The school was full, and there had been some difficulty in providing the young foreigner—who required a room to herself—with a sleeping apartment.

This difficulty was got over by Ethel's asking her if she would object to share hers with her.

The answer was prompt and impulsive; she would infinitely prefer being with her to being alone.

Accordingly, they slept in the same chamber.

This, of course, led to many a cozy chat by the fire after they were supposed to have retired to rest.

Mademoiselle Fonblanque amused Ethel with many anecdotes of Parisian life, and from her manner of speaking and the names of the people she mentioned as familiar acquaintances, it was evident she had been accustomed to move in the best society.

But she gave her listener, at the same time, a word of caution.

'You will never repeat to anyone these little stories I tell you, machere?' she enjoined. 'I make you my confidante, you know, because I believe you are to be trusted. I have a reason for requesting your silence.'

Ethel thought it rather strange, but she promised faithfully not to repeat the subjects of their conversations.

Shortly after, a strange incident happened, which startled Ethel for the moment, and for a time caused her to regard her new friend with some suspicion.

They had retired to rest one night when suddenly Ethel was aroused from her sleep by the voice of her companion, who was talking loudly.

'Hark l hark!' she cried, in an excited tone. 'Don't you hear them?'

Ethel, imaging the words were addressed to hes, inquired—

'What?'

There was no reply to her question; but Mademoiselle Julie continued, in her former excited tone—

'Quick, Pierre, quick, or we shall be discovered!'

Her voice then died away into broken murmurs, and she moaned as if in pain.

It was apparent to Ethel that she had been talking in her sleep, and that she was under the influence of some terrible dream, from which it would be a charity to arouse her.

With this intention she arose and lit the lamp, and shading it with her hand, that the light might not startle the sleeper, she approached the bed in which she slept.

But suddenly she started back, almost with a cry of horror.

Who was it she saw lying there?

Could it be Mademoiselle Fonblanque?

Yes, it was she, but so strangely altered that at the first glance she scarcely recognised her.

Where were her magnificent golden tresses that she had seen the last thing that night, waving in dishevelled luxuriance over her pillow?

Gone! not a vestige of them left, but in their place a close, short crop of hair, jet black as her own.

What did it mean?

But this was not all.

The pearly teeth she had so often admired were no longer in the sleeper's mouth!

They had been removed, and the mouth was entirely destitute of its fictitious ornaments.

Ethel stood for a moment like one bewildered.

But presently her glance lighted on the floor.

There, by the side of the bed, lay the golden hair in a shining heap.

One thing was palpable; at least, the beautiful young French girl wore false hair and teeth.

Ethel extinguished the light without arousing her companion.

The discovery she has made following upon the words she had heard somewhat disturbed her.

And she fell asleep pondering upon both.

On awaking in the morning Mademoiselle Julie was already up and dressed.

But the golden locks and the snow-white teeth were in their usual places then.

'Good morning, ma belle Ethel,' exclaimed Julie, as she bent down, and throwing her arms round her, kissed her affectionately. 'You see I am up before you for once.'

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all hemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, Lo[illegible] Eng.

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL

Fifth Annual Meeting of Eastern Association

The establishment and maintenance of these fodders was slightly sketched; their individual feeding value indicated in comparison with rich permanent pastures, and in this regard considerable interest was manifested. An average annual production of thirteen tons, green weight per acre was made, evident or fully three tons dry weight. While admitting the value in obtaining a variety of plants in this way for animal life, it was nevertheless shown that $6.40 per ton was the full hay value in comparison with timothy and red clover, and that upon the basis of chemical feeding properties, these fodders were not worth more than $2.15 per ton green weight—ranging from $9 in the case of lucerne down to $5 for corn. In all this it was made clear that the true aim of green fodders was as aids to pastures, and also of much value to such animals as bulls, calves and cows near calving, when housed. Brown's paper was one of unusual interest to farmers generally, and provoked considerable discussion.

BUTTER MAKING.

MR. IRA MORGAN read a paper on butter making, recommending the adoption of machinery in which he was interested.

HON. HARRIS LEWIS was warmly applauded on taking the platform. He delivered a brief address, taking for his subject "Bread and Butter." After a few introductory remarks the speaker urged upon dairymen the advisability of giving cows pure clean water. Milk should be put in large flat pans; if no more cream can be secured with less labor, than by placing it in other dishes. When sufficient cream is not secured for a churning, he would recommend adding a small quantity of salt during warm weather, and every time a skimming is placed in the cream pan it should be thoroughly stirred. It can the be churned twelve hours afterwards. When this process is followed out, there is no necessity for ice. Butter packed in 50 lb. tubs—or ice boxes—meets the exact requirements of the trade. Butter packed in this manner has been sold by himself recently for 35cts. per pound. Butter-makers should never handle the butter with their hands. He would just as leave "work" the butter with his feet as with his hand—the only difference being, the one is more repulsive than the other; and butter should never be ornamented with hairs of any color (Laughter). He was not opposed to the artificial coloring of butter for incidental purposes.

In answer to a question of Prof. Bell's, Mr. Harris thought sweet cream butter was preferable if consumed within eight or ten days.

Mr. Harris, in replying to another question said corn meal alone was too heavy food for cows.

FEEDING DRY FODDER.

MR. LEANDER WETHERALL of Boston was called upon to address the Convention on cutting, curing, and feeding dried fodder for cows. After repeating some remarks made by him at Woodstock, Mr. Wetherall began the definite consideration of his subject, by remarking that timothy hay, rowen, and pasture grass, with Hungarian grass, fodder, corn, stover, and ensilage, were the popular forage plants that directly concerned the masses of dairy farmers, and it was his purpose for a few moments to invite the attention of the Convention to the consideration of these. The fact had to be admitted that the quality of the grass depended upon the character and fertility of the soil. Especially was this noticeable in reference to the nitregenous constituents of forage. The grass of a well manured meadow contained as shown by analysis, 12 per cent of proteine, while that from an unmanured meadow produced only 9 per cent. Proteine was defined as the basis of animal tissue of some vegetable substance. Well grown plants of oats, rye, barley, and wheat contained when beginning to flower 16.14 of proteine in the dry matter, while weaker plants contained only 10.4 per cent, Samples of timothy slightly mixed with clover in Germany one grown in a soil of ordinary fertility only, and the other in a rich soil, were analyzed as follows:—No 1, proteine, 11 0 per cent; crude, fibre, 22.5 per cent.; fat 4.2 per cent; nitrogenous free extract, 56.3 per cent.; ash 6.0 per cent., No. 2. proteine, 20 3; crude fibre, 26.6; fat, 4.8; nitrogenous free extract, 41.3; ash 7 0. The difference in the amount of proteine nitrogenous free extract in the first and second cutting is very considerable. The method of curing grass among farmers varies some drying it more than others. Too much drying impairs the feeding quality of the hay. In curing some put hay into the mow while green in colony, but not so green in condition as to heat. This method was deemed the best. One day of curing of grass that had been cut free from dew was ordinarily enough to cure the grass. When or at what stage of growth should grass be cut for hay was a question often discussed. It was generally conceded that early cut grass made hay of a better quality than that cut late. Early cut fodder was more digestible than late cut, the digestible nutriment being the measure of value. Young plants were richer in proteine than later cut, and therefore more nutritious, but not only the quality but the quantity from a given area had to be considered, which complicated the problem, The proteine after the grass blossoms was transferred to forming seeds, the stem, or stalk. As the woody fibre was forming the proteine, decreased in both leaves and stalks. The older the plant the less digestible it was. The increase of quantity was at the expense of quality. Seeds were not masticable, and for practical purposes hay that was fully ripe was little, if any, better than straw. If but one crop had to be cut the cutting ought to be done when the plants began to bloom. The lecturer then went on to give the results of experiments calculated to show that it was more profitable to cut two or three crops of young grass than one crop of ripegrass. In practice, however, it had to be remembered that the fertility of the soil, the length of the season, and the cost of labour were all elements that must enter into the calculation. No general and inflexible rules could be laid down in these matters. Early cutting favored quality, while late cutting favored quantity. The quality of rowen on second crop varied in quality according to the richness of the soil and the time of cutting the first crop. The question of soiling or pasturing milch cows, was one dependant upon the condition of the soil, etc. Clover was richer in nitrogenous matter than grass. Clover mixed with grass improved the quality of the hay. As to the period of cutting, the results of experiments at Honlenheim had given the following Clover cut at different times had given the following percentages of proteine in the dry matter:—Cutting of May 1st, 23 3 per cent.; June 13, 16.6 per cent.; June 23, 13.4 per cent.; July 20, 11.4 per cent. In Mockern similar experiments had given the following results:—Cutting of May 20, 19 6 per cent.; June 7, 16.3 per cent.; June 20, 13.2 per cent. Hungarian grass had long been grown as fodder in Southern Europe, where three species are known. It was said to stand drought well, was a rapid grower, and occupied the soil only about three months. The lecturer then gave the result of the analysis of Hungarian grass made at the Conneticut experiment station, as follows:—Water, 16.70 per cent.; ash, 5.82 per cent.; protine, 5.91 per cent.; crude fibre, 28.06 per cent.; nitrogenous free extract, 42 15; fat 1. 36. Its composition was about the same as the poorer grades of hay. It was rich in non-nitrogenous nutrients, and must therefore be supplemented by some nitrogenous fodder, such as oil-cake, to form suitable feed rations. Fodder corn, early cut, that is to say when in bloom, for soiling or curing for winter fodder was a valuable forage plant, and one of the best of all the plants on the farm notwithstanding its wholesale denunciation by some who reckoned themselves good farmers. Green fodder corn contained from 80 to 90 per cent. of water. When cut early (when in bloom) it was quite rich in proteine. Cows were fond of it, and it was well suited to supplement short pasture in August and the fore part of September. Cut later and cured for winter fodder, it was rich in carbo-hydrates, but poor in albuminoids. It needed to be supplemented by nitrogenous feeding stuffs. Ensilage had been mostly made of green cut maize put in siloes. Grandean's analysis of ensilage showed but a slight difference between fresh or green maize and ensilage. Ensilage was therefore to be regarded as a method of preserving corn fodder, and the question of its adoption was to be looked upon as purely economical. The composition of ensilage and its nutritive value as feed must be as variable as that of fodder put into the soil, and even more so. It was poor in proteine and rich in non-nitrogenous nutriments, requiring the addition of by-fodder rich in proteine, hence the liberal use of cornmeal as already stated and enough to keep the cows in condition without any other food. Its acidity also injured its feeding value very materially as forage for dairy cows.

The Committee on dairy interests presented their report which was received and adopted.

BUTTER MAKING.

Mr. S. M. Barre, representing the Province of Quebec, addressed the Convention on the subject of butter-making. He called attention to the fact that though sweet cream butter had been condemned at this Convention on the ground that it would not keep in hot weather. French butter sold in Brazil for 75c. per lb., white American sour cream butter sold in the same market at 40c. per lb. England required an aromatic butter, and therefore those making product for that market should have their cream slightly acidulated. He held, however, that the less the acidulation of the cream the more apt the butter would be to keep in good order.

MR. DERBYSHIRE moved a vote of thanks to the various speakers for their able addresses.

The resolution having been unanimously adopted, the Convention adjourned, after thanking the press, and the Mayor and corporation for courtesies extended to the association.

AN EXTRAORDINARY POSITION.

Belleville's Opposition to the Amalgamation Scheme.

The Peterboro' Review of Saturday says:—

If we are correctly informed, the position assumed by the representatives of the city of Belleville with regard to the railway legislation now before the Ontario Legislature is, according to our way of thinking, a most extraordinary one It seems that while they have sent a deputation to Toronto to lobby against the amalgamation of the Grand Junction and Midland Railways, the same deputation had not a single word to say against a bill which came before the Railway Committee for the construction of a rival line, designed to take the iron ore trade away from their city and land it at Weller's Bay on Lake Ontario. Now it seems to us, that if we belonged to Belleville, we should pursue the very opposite policy to that which they are doing, for the simple reason that we should consider it to our interest to promote the practical completion of the Grand Junction to the Georgian Bay and the securing of the grain and timber trade from that point, as the amalgamation undoubtedly will for their city, and oppose the construction of a road whose sole object is to transfer from their city the iron ore trade and its casual advantages. The Belleville people, however, seem to think differently, and we suppose we have no right to find fault. We should, however, like to have seen Belleville give a hearty support to the present amalgamation scheme, because we believe it would be the means of building up Belleville, and drawing a trade through Peterborough which, should their present course be successful, will no doubt find an outlet at Port Hope. Of course so far as the iron ore trade is concerned, it can make no difference to us whether it goes to Belleville or to Weller's Bay. Indeed the chances are that in the event of the Grand Junction not becoming a part of the Midland, the Midland will, in due time, be compelled to construct the missing link of the Toronto and Ottawa between Peterborough and Madoc, and thus give us more direct connection with the mining district than we would have by way of Stirling, and thereby increase our facilities for competing for the supply trade of that district.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

HAVE HOPE.
Before you despair of curing a troublesome cough just verging on consumption try Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it has cured others

It always gives us pleasure to draw attention to articles which are deserving of public patronage. Probably no article ever offered to the public has met with the same success as GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM. Thousands of families in the Dominion keep it in their homes as the standard Cough Remedy. The sale of this article has assumed enormous proportions. Our advice to the public at large is to try its virtues if they should at any time unfortunately contract either Coughs or Colds. It is sold by all chemists.

INGENIOUS INVENTION.
Some shrewd Yankee has invented a key that will wind any watch; it is a neat attachment to a charm, and it is said to work like a charm. So does that grand Key to Health—Burdock Blood Bitters, the greatest discovery of the age. It unlocks all the secretions, and cleanses and invigorates the entire system. Sample bottles, 10 cents; large size, $1.00 of all medicine dealers.

FREE OF COST.
All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure Consumption, Coughs Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat and Lungs—are requested to call at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store and get a Trial Bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do.

A REMEDY FOR WARTS.
PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR will remove warts in a few days. No matter how long standing they may be, or how often other remedies have been tried without success, the CORN EXTRACTOR will remove them. No possibility of failure; no discomfort nor pain; no holes are produced in the flesh, but warts by its disappear as if by magic. Use PUTMAN'S CORN EXTRACTOR for Warts. Sold everywhere. Try it.

A CURE FOR CROUP.
Apply flannel saturated with Hagyard's Yellow Oil and administer the Oil internally on a little sugar as directed on the bottle. Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Lameness, and all flesh wounds' All dealers supply it, price 25 cents.

THE QUEENS OF SOCIETY.
are among the stanchest advocates of beautifying SOZODONT, which communicates to the teeth the glistening whiteness of snow, arrests their decay, renders spongy and ulcerated gums healthy, and breath made offensive by defective teeth as sweet as honey suckle. Ladies, ye were made to captivate, make your conquests sure and swift your empire over male hearts lasting by its sovereign aid. The fashionable world declares there is nothing like it.

FARMERS AND MECHANICS.
If you wish to avoid great danger and trouble besides a no small bill of expense, at this season of the year, you should take prompt steps to keep disease from your household. The system should be cleansed, blood purified, stomach and bowels regulated, and prevent and cure diseases arising from Spring malaria. We know of nothing that will so perfectly and surely do this as Electric Bitters, and at the trifling cost of fifty cents a bottle.—Exch.—Sold by all druggists.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS 'TIS FOLLY TO BE WISE.
Dr. Bliss, if not a success at probing for bullets, was highly successful in despatching bulletins; but the grandest bulletin of success is that which heralds the wonderful cures performed by Burdock Blood Bitters, that matchless tonic and blood purifier which acts at once upon the Bowels, the Skin, the Liver and the Kidneys, while it invigorates and strengthens the whole system.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect speedily follows in an incurable lung disease or consumption BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed ports, allaying irritations, giving relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well merited rank among the staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c a box everywhere.

FROM REV. H. L. GILMAN, OF GLOVER, VT.
"I have been troubled for several years with a difficulty of the heart and lungs, have applied to several physicians for help, and have tried almost every remedy recommended, without receiving any assistance; but had been growing weaker and weaker, until, hearing of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY about a year since, I commenced using it, with immediate relief. It not only restored my lungs to a sound state, but I am entirely relieved of the difficulty or disease of the heart. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best lung medicine before the public; and I cheerfully and conscientiously recommend it to all persons suffering from pulmonary complaints."
Fifty cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

DAILY ONTARIO

TUESDAY FEB. 14, 1882.

—The Toronto World is well represented at Ottawa. Its correspondence from the Capital is interesting reading.

—The Globe has five representatives at Ottawa and the Mail four. Altogether there are about thirty in the gallery.

—Knowing ones at Ottawa assert that the present session of Parliament will not last more than nine weeks. We hope it will not not last that long.

—There were 9,229 persons confined in the various jails and prisons of the Province last year, and of this number 2,296 could neither read nor write.

—The belief in London is that no serious difference of opinion can arise between the people of Great Britain and the United States regarding the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

—The prospects of another telegraph company has been published. It is to be called the Canadian Co-operative Telegraph Co., and its aim is to give the Canadian public cheaper, prompter and more efficient telegraph facilities.

—Rev. Dr. MacNish, of Cornwall, has written a paper, which was read before the Canadian Institute, Toronto, to prove that Ossian's Poems, which were given to the world in 1760 by Mr. Jas. MacPherson, were not forgeries, and that they were of Scotch and not Irish origin.

—At the reception given by the Marquis of Lorne last Saturday night in the Senate chamber, the wearing of a full dress was observed with great strictness, and not a soul was permitted to remain within the precincts of the chamber who did not appear on grand tenue.

—The Toronto World puts it this way: Thirteen carpenters, 10 clerks, 93 domestic servants, 107 farmers, 101 laborers, 4 students, 4 bakers, 6 seamstresses, 7 housekeepers, 9 teachers and 6 tailors were put in the provincial asylums during the past year. Not one editor has yet been caged.

—It is announced that the Gladstone Government has determined to stand or fall by the cloture, and if defeated to dissolve Parliament. A careful count by the Ministerial "whips," however, shows that the combined vote of the Conservatives and Parnellites will not exceed 280, while the Ministerial vote is 300 or more.

THE debt of the Dominion, according to the public accounts for 1881, is $178,002,929. The total receipts for 1881 amounted to $29,635,297, and the expenditure to $25,502,554, besides $8,176,316 on capital account. A large proportion of the public debt is now bearing only 4 per cent. interest.

GOV. CORNELL of New York State, in his recent address to the Legislature, says the prisons of the State are now self supporting. The penitentiaries of the Dominion cost us $300,000 annually; i.e., the honest and law-abiding people have to pay this sum to the support of the rogues and the rascals, who have been found guilty of glaring crimes.

WE learn from the annual report, that while the revenue from the inspection of weights and measures was $34,584 in 1881, or more than double the amount of the previous year, the expenses had increased from $44,623 to $59,270, or 32 per cent. The receipts for the inspection of gas were $2,210, and the expense $14,149. These figures show that this branch continues to be a serious charge on the revenue of the Dominion.

THE report of Commissioner Brunell, on the adulteration of food, has been received. Out of 1,240 samples of various articles of food, 260, or nearly 25 per cent. were adulterated, and 38 returned as doubtful. Unpleasant as these figures may appear, they show an improvement on those of 1876, when over 51 per cent. of the samples tested were found to be adulterated. The following is the result of the analysis of samples examined by the public analysts:—

	Samples.	Number adulterated.
Allspice	25	17
Bread	50	2
Butter	209	56
Coffee	58	41
Milk	209	42
Pepper	45	29
Tea	80	17

MR. LANGMUIR'S REPORT.

As we mentioned yesterday, the 14th annual report of the Inspector of prisons and public charities for the Province of Ontario, and for the year ending the 30th September, 1881, has been received. The following is a summary of the most important facts:—During the year 554 persons of unsound mind were admitted to the five asylums of the province; 166 were discharged recovered, 41 improved, and 34 unimproved; and 166 died. The number of patients remaining in the asylums at the close of the year was 2650, as compared with 2521 on September 30, 1880; and the total number under care and treatment during the year was 3065, being an increase of 166 over that of the preceding year. As the accommodation of the five asylums aggregates 2708 beds, there was, at the close of the year, only space available for 58 additional patients.

The Inspector reports a continued decrease in the number of commitments to the common gaols. In 1877 the number of commitments reached the maximum, namely, 13,481; in 1878 it fell to 12,030, and in 1879 to 11,220; in 1880, however, a slight increase took place, the number for that year being 11,300; but during the past year it fell to 9,229, the lowest since 1873. The decrease is very general throughout the province, but is greatest in the city gaols, and it extends to every class of prisoners except girls under 16 years of age, in which there is a slight increase.

The discipline and management of our common gaols have, with few exceptions, much improved during the past few years, and during the twelve months just ended, instances of gross carelessness and dereliction of duty on the part of gaol officials, which in former years were of constant occurrence, were extremely few.

The central prison continues to merit a favorable report with respect to both the state of discipline and the financial results of the prison labor, which for the past year amounted to $44,332.73. The number of commitments during the year was 745.

After more than a year's observation of the working of the Andrew Mercer reformatory and the industrial refuge for girls, the Inspector considers he is justified in reporting that both are doing a good work. During the year, 221 women were committed to the reformatory, and 33 girls to the refuge; and at the close of it there remained in custody 127 women and 20 girls.

There were 296 inmates in the deaf and dumb institute at Belleville, the educational and disciplinary condition of which are reported to be in an eminently satisfactory condition.

The blind asylum at Brantford is also filling its design in a satisfactory manner. There are no less than 200 pupils under instruction.

Our total indigent, prison and asylum population is as follows:—

	1881.
Prisoners confined in gaols, prisons and reformatories	10,468
Persons in insane asylums	3,065
Deaf-mutes and blind persons in the two institutes	497
Patients in hospitals aided by government	1,503
Inmates of orphan asylums and other charities aided by the province	3,437
Total	24,227

These institutions cost the province $632,924 and the revenue they produced was $92,208.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says: "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

PLUCK.

We always admire pluck, but especially plucky advertising, and Belleville is now being astonished at the way the manufacturers of the "Cook's Own" Baking Powder are advertising. They are certainly doing it in a fair way, as they send a sample tin to every house in the city. When we see anything like this it proves there must be some special merit in the article, and from what we have heard from other cities there no doubt is. We strongly advise all our lady friends, to give the sample left with then a good trial.

THE MARKET FEES BILL.

To place the provisions of the bill lately introduced into the Local Legislature, governing market fees in a clear and succinct form, we may state no municipality shall collect tolls upon any of the following kinds of farm produce:—

Wheat,
Barley,
Rye,
Corn,
Oats,
Other grain,
Hay or other seed,
Wool,
Lumber,
Lath,
Shingles,
Cordwood,
Other firewood,
Dressed hogs,
Poultry
Cheese,
Hay,
Straw,
Other fodder,

And upon the following kinds of produce no fees are to be levied unless the municipality has provided a convenient and fit market place which shall afford shelter in summer and reasonable protection from cold in winter:—

Butter,
Eggs.

Garden truck, it will be observed, is not included in either of the above lists. It will, however, be included in the operation of the second section, which provides that no market fees shall be levied on any kind of produce which is taken, in pursuance of a prior contract, direct to the place of delivery without being hawked on the streets, and which is not taken in the market place; and fees are not to be levied upon any kind of produce that is brought in after 9 a. m. between 1st April and 1st November, and after 10 a. m. in the other six months, provided such produce be not taken to the market-place or hawked upon the streets for sale. No person who takes produce to the market-place is to be required to stay there later than 9 a. m. between 1st April and 1st November, or 10 a. m. in the other six months.

☞ One cold after another will, with many constitutions, securely establish the seeds of consumption in the system. Those in need of a remedy will find Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam always prompt, thorough and efficacious.

Lost in a Gale.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The schooner Sanquinter from Mexico, yesterday brought the sole survivor of the crew of American brigantine Sarah Ann, lost in the Gulf of Mexico during a gale. Captain Blrckford and six men were drowned. The Sanquinter lost a man on the passage.

OUR DRAMATIC MELANGE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10th 1882.

Æsthetics are all around us—thick as peas in a pot—but I am glad to say, for the credit of the more sensible portion of our society people, they are not taking pattern after the latest English model. In fact, Oscar Wilde, as lecturer, poet or poser, has proved to be a stupendous failure, and there are a brood of managers who respectfully decline to give him an engagement unless they are assured against loss. Some of the press despatches publish only the sunflower side of his experience, but private advices received here indicate that his popularity, if he had any, is on the wane.

Speaking of the Englishman, I saw the other evening a neat social burlesque on his peculiar doctrines. During an interval in a dramatic reception, the young ladies who passed the refreshments astonished everyone present by making their appearance in the most outlandish dresses that women ever conceived. They wore a cross between a highly frilled night-gown and the picture side of a Japanese teachest, the prettiest part of the whole outre costume being the dainty ten-button kid boots with which it was terminated. I asked an artist friend to describe the thing, but he said it was "a huckleberry above his persimmon"—too utterly much for human brain to comprehend.

The amusement season is just now in full blast, and what with balls, parties, weddings, wining and dining, our fashionable people will have their hands full between this time and Lent. The Charity Ball is, of course, the event of the year, because one is always sure to see there the wealth and beauty of the metropolis.

The luckiest playwrights and managers in New York are Harrigan and Hart, of the Theatre Comique, unless, by the way, you except Col. J. H. Haverly. Think of a manager with seven large theatres on his hands, and seven large companies on the road. In a recent conversation with Mr. Harry Mann, his principal representative here, I learned a number of facts concerning Col. Haverly that are not generally known. He is by birth a Pennsylvanian, and about twenty-eight years of age, although he looks ten years older. In person he is a slightly built, spare man of middle height, without an ounce of loose flesh on his bones, and not a wrinkle in his face to indicate the tremendous strain he must necessarily undergo in directing organizations that are sometimes a thousand miles apart, and several of which are now in foreign lands. He dispatches business with wonderful rapidity, and impresses on all of his employes the go-ahead-and-be-quick-about-it style of business that is characteristic with himself. The secret of his success is generous advertising and the energy of an able corps of assistants, the latter aggregating about 960 people, who are every night somewhere in Christendom, drawing a handsome salary, and contributing to the amusement of the theatre-going public. His general banking business is done in New York by Mr. Mann, and owing to the systematic manner in which the accounts are kept, the chief knows by telegraph every morning the receipts and expenses of the previous night. The amount of the latter he can tell within fifty dollars a week.

One of the saddest sights frequently to be seen during these bitter, cold winter days, is the bent and wasted form of poor Signorina Venturoli, once the beautiful Italian premiere danseuse in the Black Crook. Years ago she lost her speech, her features became twisted out of shape, her handsome dark eyes were tremulous from the loss of muscular control, and to-day she is still a a mere wreck, tottering up and down Wall street and Broadway, able to step no more than three inches at a time, and soliciting such small alms as the passers-by choose to bestow. At one time the dramatic profession raised several hundred dollars for her relief, but this being exhausted, she has become a common street beggar, and in a little while will find her final rest in Potters Field; and so goes the world. Many a poor actor and actress is suffering comparatively as much, and with no hope of relief this side of the grave.

Col. Sam. Carpenter, the General Eastern Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and a gentleman as well known to the theatre people as Edwin Booth or any other star, has removed his quarters to No. 849 Broadway, and that will be his future managerial address.

F. G. DeFontaine's compilation of "The Best thoughts of Chales Dickens" is meeting with a large sale, especially among the dramatic profession. Considering its 600 pages of contents, it is one of the cheapest and most valuable five-dollar books of the day.

Among others referred to in a recent issue of the Norristown (Pa.) Herald, were the following cases of special interest. They are their own commentary. Mr. Samuel C. Nyce, resides at 303 Marshall st., and holds the responsible position of journal clerk in the Pennsylvania Legislature, at Harrisburg. While Mr. Nyce and family were in the country recently, his boy, aged three years, fell and broke the limb. He recovered, but a very troublesome stiffness set in and he could scarcely use the leg. The injured limb was was rubbed several times with St. Jacobs Oil, and the stiffness was so much reduced that the boy was able to use his leg freely. Dr. Knipe said it was the use of St. Jacobs Oil that cured the stiffness. Nr. Nyce himself used the Great German Remedy for toothache with good effect, and also for a sprain and pains of a rheumatic nature, and always with good effect. Mrs. Nyce also says she thinks the Oil is a splendid thing, and she always keeps it on hand.

Joseph Rusan, Percy, writes:—"I was induced to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for a lameness which troubled me for three or four years, and I found it the best article I ever tried. It has been a great blessing to me."

Birth-day Banquet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Justice Field of U. S. Supreme Court gave a birth-day banquet last night to his brother, David Dudley Field, who begins his 78th year. Justices Wood and Matthews, the British and Turkish Ministers, Senator Millard of Cal., representatives Knatt, Tucker, Springer, Jere, Black, ex-speaker Randall and O. C. Parkes were present.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

Robbed.

DENVER, Feb. 14.—The driver of Fargo Express wagon, was robbed of five thousand, consigned to First National Bank, by Topeka parties.

Peculiar Horse Disease.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 14.—A peculiar disease has appeared among horses here, affecting the feet and ankles. Attributed to salted railroad tracks.

Backed Out.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—It is probable the international billiard tournament will not be played. A difficulty has arisen. The French players have backed out.

The Panama Canal.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A Panama letter says over a thousand employees of the canal company have already died; 150,000,000 francs have been sunk in the swamps and nothing to show for it.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

Oleomargarine.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The Tribune says considerable interest is shown by Congressmen in the efforts to secure the enactment of a law to prevent the sale and exportation of olemargarine except under the proper name. The districts which have large dairy interests are especially active and declare the exportation of imitation butter has already worked a vast injury to the American dairy products in European markets. Congressman Jacobs, who, before the Ways and Means Committee advocated a bill imposing a stamp tax of 10 cents a pound on every package of olemargarine or other imitation of butter, and also a tax on every manufacture thereof, presented interesting statistics drawn from a report of Dr. Tenner to N. Y. Legislature, which, it is understood, produced an evident impression upon members of the committee.

PROFESSORS CONNOR AND LYONS, of the Detroit Medical College, say: "We have used Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya with great satisfaction and think it will accomplish that for which it is recommended. We have exhibited it to our Academy of Medicine, and, in other ways, have brought it to the notice of a large number of physicians. It being a good thing, we are pleased to do more than is our custom to learn its virtues and exhibit them to others."

Grand Auction Sale!

MANITOBA

TOWN LOTS!

R. PURDY is instructed to sell on

WEDNESDAY, FEB'Y 15TH

at his rooms in the Robertson Block

TWO HUNDRED LOTS

—IN—

Crystal City!

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and nat advantages of its surroundings.

BY FAR THE LARGEST TOWN IN THE ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches, Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section.

The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.), and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimat industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced over 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

Over Forty Buildings Now Under Contract forEarly Spring Completion.

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province, or to the shrewdest of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

TITLE PERFECT. TERMS EASY. SALE AT 2 & 7.30 P. M.

☞Furs at cost at Davenport's.

A TRAMP was quartered in the cells last night.

A REGULAR meeting of the Board of Education will be held this evening.

THE concert in the Workingmen's Hall the evening should receive a liberal patronage.

☞CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

The monthly report of the Women's Christian Association has been received and will appear to morrow.

VENNOR predicts for the close of this week storms of great severity from Toronto westward, and also in the St. Lawrence valley.

YESTERDAY afternoon Mr. Walter Fanning shipped eighteen horses to Mr. S. Vogul, Roundent, N. Y. They were a superior lot.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

THE Whig mentions the name of Major Ridout for the situation vacated by Mr. Lingmuir. The Major lately retired from the Military College.

The famous Utica Curling Club, now champions of the United States, will probably visit Brockville this month—if the weather turns cold again.

IF Ald. A. A. Farley receives the appointment to a position in "B" Battery, referred to elsewhere, it is probable he will resign his seat in the Council.

☞Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

MR. W. R. MCRAE, who has been much indisposed for some time, is now quite himself again. He says he is enjoying better health than for ten years past.

MITCHELL'S hair dressing rooms will be re-opened on Monday next, Feb. 20th, in the Metropolitan Block, Campbell street—see small circulars. W. W. Mitchell,

MR. J. W. CAMPION having resigned his seat at the Council Board, the chairmanship of the Harbor Committee is left vacant. Who will be appointed to the position?

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

CAPT. FARLEY is an applicant for the position vacated in the staff of "B" Battery, caused by the retirement of Major-General Strange, and the promotion of those formerly serving under him.

This was St. Valentine Day. At an early hour the post office was thronged with lads and lasses, most of them carrying large envelopes with something inside. The clerks were very busy, but kept tolerably good natured.

THE deputation to Toronto was composed of the following:—L. H. Henderson, J. G. Frost, and D. B. Robertson. They left on the evening train last night. The Amalgamation Bill and Hospital Lot petition will be before their respective committees to-day.

☞N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

In reply to Mr. Jno. White yesterday, Sir Chas. Tupper stated that the final location of the route of the Murray Canal is now being determined; that contracts would be called for as soon as the location was completed, and the work vigorously prosecuted.

Among those presented to His Excellency at the reception in the Senate Chamber, Ottawa, Saturday evening, we notice the name of Miss Emma Knight, of Belleville. The Free Press describes this lady's dress as follows: Black satin de Lyon, Spanish lace; ornaments, gold garnets.

Mr. J. Russier, of Shannonville, shows us a bible and prayer book combined, which was printed at Oxford University in 1758. The edition is, therefore, 124 years old, and is in an excellent state of preservation. It is a family heirloom of which the owner is very careful, and upon which he sets a high value.

Mr. A. Wensley, of this city, is expected to sing at a concert in Campbellford on the 14th inst.

DESERONTO INDUSTRIES.—The factories in Deseronto are doing a fine business. Eight new boilers are being put in one of the mills. The chemical works have been successful, and sixteen new furnaces will be added. Acetic acid is made from the sawdust. Car works will also be built at the village.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons, steamlooms, wincies, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc. etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in small bills.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT LOW, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phoenix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHOENIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

A blank at the police court again to-day.

POLITICS AT NAPANEE.—The Reformers of Napanee feel quite jubilant over the late demonstration, and are now very confident of carrying the Riding at the coming general election. The Conservatives are also waking up, and have placed the renowned, and previously defeated, A. H. Roe in the field as their candidate.

Mr. J. Stanley Hough, lately of the law firm of Blair & Hough of this city, and now of Winnipeg, Man., has been visiting friends here and in Prince Edward. He lately passed a highly successful examination as Solicitor, at Osgoode Hall, standing third on the list. Mr. Hough left for Manitoba again last night.

☞FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.—The annual Missionary Meeting will be held (D. V.) on Tuesday evening the 14th inst., at half past seven o'clock p. m. The Rev. Rural Dean Baker and Rev. D. F. Bogert, M. A., will deliver the addresses. The Incumbent will read the official declaration of the Archdeacon and Bishop, by which St. John's is made a legal Parish.

Mr. J. W. Mason, the well known artist, has some very creditable specimens of his handiwork in the show window of Mr. Ford's art gallery. Two crayon portraits and one oil portrait attract very favorable notice. Mr. Mason is negotiating with the City Council for a contract to paint the portraits of the Mayor and ex Mayors of Belleville, to adorn the City Hall.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

The Ottawa Free Press thinks the result of such conferences as were lately held by the dairymen of Ontario at Woodstock and Belleville must be very beneficial to the agricultural interests of the Province. Those who took part in the discussions were men of experience and ability in their several specialties, and farmers would do well to heed their counsel.

MR. E. MCMAHON returned from Ottawa this morning. While in the capital he had an interview with Senator McPherson and the Minister of Customs relative to receiving colonization lands in the North West. He has no doubt the quantity of land asked for will be given, but the difficulty will be to secure it in a desirable locality. Mr. McMahon willl return to Ottawa on Friday.

MR. THOS. BENGOUGH, of the firm of Bengough, Moore and Bengough, publishers of Grip &c., Toronto, was in the city to-day. He is sole agent in Canada for the celebrated Fan Steet Letter Foundry, of Sir Chas. Reed & Son, London, England, which has been established for 120 years, and has a world-wide reputation. Mr. Bengough reports the prospects of the Grip publications as being very gratifying.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

Ald. Dickson's motion, which was seconded by Ald. Diamond, that the Solicitor alone be sent to Toronto, to further interview the Government relative to railway amalgamation and other matters, was a wise move. Mr. Henderson understands the matter to be represented as well, and perhaps better, than any other man in the city, and he goes empowered by the Council to act for the corporation. There is no need of anybody else accompanying him.

WHAT "POTAPSCO" MEANS.—We have made inquiries as to the meaning of the word "potapsco," with the following result:—It is the name of a baking powder, which is considered the best manufactured in the United States. The manufacturers of the "Cooks' Own" Baking Powder, at great expense, a short time ago, bought from them the right to put up this mixture in Canada under their old name "Cooks Own." They are now selling it in large quantities all over Canada, and everyone is loud in its praise.

In our brief report of Mr. Simpson's remarks at the missionary meeting, published yesterday, we made him say that the congregation of Christ Church had received no offer from other churches in the city for a place to worship in, when burned out last spring. What he did say was that no offer of assistance had been made by churches of the same denomination in the city—St. Thomas' and St. John's—and hence he felt that Christ Church congregation was under no obligations to the Synod for favors received. All the other Protestant churches in the city did offer prompt and generous assistance, for which the unfortunate congregation felt truly grateful.

☞THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

HORSE SUBMERGED: Two young men named Munroe and Jones, from Ameliasburg, left the Commercial House yesterday afternoon for home, but before reaching the other side of the bay, the horse broke through the ice in the vicinity of Cow Island, and came near being drowned. The buggy attached to the animal remained on the surface of the ice, and in a short time was taken away, but the horse in the meantime was in a dangerous position. He was entirely hidden from sight, save a small portion of his head, which was kept above water by one of the boys while his companion hurried to Ferry Point for assistance to draw the animal out upon the ice. When he returned the horse was removed from his perilous position and drawn some distance by ropes. The boys returned to the city and stopped over night. Persons crossing the ice with horses should avoid that section, as at present it is unsafe for travel.

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

The annual trotting races at Shannonville will take place on Tuesday next.

THE Belleville Auction Company will open their rooms in a few days—see their advertisement.

The police found a number of brushes hanging in front of a Front-st. store last night. They are at the police station.

A telegram from Toronto says:—The choir of the Church of the Ascension have struck because of certain conditions attached to leader Bayley's resignation.

SOMETIME during the first week in March a concert will be given under the auspices of the choir of Bridge-st. Church, assisted by other church choirs of the city.

ANOTHER Miss Douglass, sister of the Huntingdon victims, arrived in the city from New York last night. She left on the early train this morning for Madoc.

The Midland Railway amalgamation scheme came before the Committee of the Legislature to-day. A number of deputations are in Toronto interested in the matter.

MR. PHILLIPS THOMPSON, the special Irish correspondent of the Globe, has been engaged to deliver a lecture here on the 17th of March, under the auspices of the I. C. B. U. Society, No. 21. Subject: "The Irish Question."

ALBERT COLLEGE will have a Holiday to morrow, to celebrate "Charter Day." The sermon will be delivered in the chapel at 2 p.m., by Rev. Jas. VanWyck, B. A. The free Exhibition of the Historical Society will be given in the evening in the same place.

THE "oldest inhabitant" has been heard from again. This time he says fifty years ago this winter no snow whatever fell until Feb. 16th. After that date there was good sleighing for about two months. Who knows but we will have a repetition of such weather yet this season.

Mr. R. W. Davis of Elmira, N. Y., a gentleman interested in the manufacture of iron wagons referred to in these columns on several previous occasions, is in the city. Should the city offer some encouragement in the way of exemption from taxation, we are informed these wagons will be manufactured here on a large scale.

About three o'clock this morning the famous sloop Ranger caught fire, and before assistance could be procured, was burned to the water's edge. It is said the owner of the vessel (Mrs. John Thompson) was yesterday offered $500 for the boat but she refused to accept that amount until she had an opportunity to consider the matter. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

WE call the attention of the public to the lecture to be delivered in the City Hall tonight, on "The Solar System," by the Revd. H. J. Nott, Editor of the Observer. As the lecture will be fully illustrated by numerous maps and diagrams, we have no doubt it will prove highly interesting and instructive. Chair taken by A. G. Northrup, Esq., at 8 o'clock. Tickets 25c.

Mr. Joseph H. Shepherd, of Toronto, whose name appears on the programme of the concert to be given in the City Hall next Friday evening, is the same gentleman that was so rapturously applauded at the conversazione in Albert College last summer. His rendering of "Sam's Valentine" alone will repay the price of admittance, and justify the ONTARIO's extended and favorable remarks heretofore concerning him.

AN EXPENSIVE RIG—Last night Mr. John Soby returned from Syracuse, where he purchased a fine pair of horses for Mr. D. Gilmour, of Trenton. They cost $1,500. The animals are both of excellent breed, good trotters, and in our opinion about the best team of carriage horses in this part of the Province. Mr. Soby also bought a buggy for the same person for $540; a cutter, weighing only 120 lbs. for $240; and a set of harness for $150. The cost of the rig therefore was $2,330. Though the rig cost a large sum, Mr. Gilmour finds no fault with the price, knowing as he does that it is certainly one of the best in the country.

Mr Hall's Proposition.

CONSIDERED BY THE CITY, AND AN OFFER MADE.

Buffalo Capitalists to be Consulted.

Last evening the following gentlemen met in the Council Chamber to consider Mr. Hall's proposition to establish steel and iron works in the city, viz: Ald. Vandusen, Smith, Dickson, Macoun, Diamond, Petrie, Dunnet, Taylor, the Mayor and Messrs. H. Corby, T. Kelso, H. Ashley, Alex. Brown and T. Ritchie.

His Worship the Mayor occupied the chair, and at 8 o'clock called the meeting to order.

A spirited and irregular discussion at once began, each gentleman present having a proposition of his own to offer, which at first sight would appear quite feasible, but when another one was offered the first proposition would be almost entirely lost sight of. The meeting was perfectly willing to deal liberally with the promoters of the works; yea, they were prepared to give them all they asked for, but there was not one present who did not ridicule the enormous figures shown by Mr. Hall. Still there might be something in them, and the result was the unanimous adoption of the following resolution:—

Moved, by Mr. H. Ashley, seconded by Mr. H. Corby, that this meeting recommended the city to pass a by-law for issuing $150,000 debentures to assist the Ontario Steel Association, or any other company, in the establishment of smelting works and steel plant within the limits of the city of Belleville, for the purpose of manfacturing steel rails, bar steel and iron; said debentures to be appropriated as follows: When such company have expended not less than $500,000 in smelting works and steel plant, with capacity sufficient for, and turning out not less than, 25,000 tons of steel per annum, $50,000 of said debentures are to be used in the purchase of stock in such company at par; when they have enlarged their works and steel plant sufficiently, and are turning out not less than 50,000 tons of steel per annum, another $50,000 of said debentures will be used in the purchase of stock at par in said company; and when such company have enlarged their capacity sufficient for, and are turning out, not less than 75,000 tons of steel per annum, the balance of the $150,000 debentures are to be used in the purchase of stock in said company at par; said debentures to draw interest at not exceeding 6 per cent. per annum, and the date of said interest not to begin to such company for a longer period than one year previous to the purchase of each separate parcel of stock; the works and plant to be exempt from taxation for a period of ten years; said works to be of a permanent character, and not to be removed from the city; the company to have the right of way in common over Wharf-st. to and from the Grand Junction track; and finally, the city to have power to appoint one person upon the Board of Directors."

It was precisely 11 o'clock when the resolution was declared carried by the chairman. The meeting then adjourned to the Dafoe House for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not Mr. Hall would accept the terms of the resolution. The latter gentleman was unable to state whether the company be represented would accept them or not, but the Committe was informed that the resolution would be forwarded at once to Buffalo.

If it had been thought necessary, the committee would have recommended that the city issue $200,000 debentures instead of $150,000 on the same condition as proposed, but they were of opinion that Mr. Hall would never expend the amount of money he says he will—$3,000,000. Mr. Hall, however, asks for the money from the city before the works are established, and it is on this point a disagreement will probably arise, which may block proceedings.

Took Poison.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Feb. 14.—Nathan Lord, a prominent citizen of Brownville, took poison yesterday and died this morning.

Ice Moving.

POKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Two tugs are coming north through the Highlands. All the Ice south of Fort Montgomery is moving.

PITTSTON, PA., Feb. 14.—The Susquehanna River is 21 ft. above low water mark. The ice is broken and passing down quietly.

Rivers Rising.

HELENA, Ark., Feb. 14.—The river has risen here half an inch. Advices from Madison and Walnut Bend, indicate a rapid rise during the past 24 hours. The levee at Walnut Hills is broken in several place. There is not three acres to be seen in any direction. A telegram has been sent to Memphis, asking for boats to be sent down to take out cattle, horses and mules. The St. Franc's river is reported as rising the entire length. The situation is alarming. Reported that the levee is destroyed at Delta, Miss. At Longville the river is very high. The trestle of Iron Mountain and Helena Railway, across the same is 15 inches under water. Mails and passengers are transferred by a skiff. Lick Creek is very high, and running across the track of Arkansas, Midland R. R. at the bridge. It is now rainig hard. If it continues all the small streams of this section will be booming by a. m., greatly interfering with RR. traffic. Laborers will be set at work and the levee will be strongly guarded all the time.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means o which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PARRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

Ethel felt inclined almost to withdraw from her caresses.

But she reproached herself the next moment for her suspicions.

Was it not unjust to suspect one so beautiful and kind because she had had the misfortune to lose her hair, and was compelled by stern necessity to wear a false set of teeth?

Oh, yes; upon reflection, it was very unjust and cruel.

CHAPTER XLI.

ALL EXPLAINED,

It was some time before Ethel could forget the impression—shock it might almost be called, which her nocturnal discovery had made upon her.

It was too delicate a subject for even a friend to hint at, and she could therefore only keep silence and hope that Mademoiselle Julie, as their intimacy increased, would herself allude to her deficiencies.

Little did she think that the latter was perfectly aware that there deficiencies had been remarked.

The young French girl had awoke just as Ethel was approaching her bed with the light.

It was too late then to avert the evil, and knowing that she was detected, Julie, with rare presence of mind lay perfectly still and feigned sleep, resolving to choose a fitting time for her explanation.

But she treated Ethel with such evident and unvarying affection that before that time arrived, the suspicione of the latter had melted into thin air, and she had almost forgotten the circumstance that had caused them.

The explanation was brought about eventually in the most natural manner possible.

It must not be supposed that although Ethel had chosen an existence of voluntary exile rather than endure a life of persecution at home, she had learnt to forget all the fond associations that lingered behind at Marlwood.

On the contrary, she often found herself brooding sadly over them.

Her scrutinizing friend noticed her frequent fits of melancholy, and remarked upon it kindly, not intrusively.

But Ethel was silent upon this point.

Though she often longed for some friend to whose sympathising bosom she could confide her sorrows, she had never yet breathed a syllable respecting their cause to mortal ear.

Nor would she perhaps have ever done so but for the thoroughly artistic manner in which the clever Frenchwoman almost compelled her to open her heart to her.

One half-holiday in May, Ethel was sitting alone in her own room gazing thoughtfully and tearfully upon a miniature portrait of Lionel Falconer, which he had given to her in past happy times when the love that had now faded into coldness and indifference had been warm and glowing as the noonday sun.

The door was open, and Mademoiselle Julie entered softly, and standing behind her friend's chair, remained for some time contemplating the portrait as earnestly as Ethel herself.

Presently the rustle of a silk dress caused Ethel to turn her head quickly.

She found herself face to face with the young French girl.

It was too late to conceal the miniature, though probably Ethel would have done so had she been able.

For an instant the friends remained gazing at each other.

Then Julie said, apologetically—

'I disturb you, ma chere amie, but I did not know how you were engaged, or I would not have come in.'

'Oh, no!' returned Ethel, with a sigh; 'I was only thinking, and it is easy to resume the thread of our thoughts, even if they are interrupted for a moment.'

'Especially when those thoughts are of one we love,' returned Julie, in a low, tender tone, as she threw her arms caressingly round Ethel's neck. Ethel made no reply beyond a sigh.

'I guessed the cause of your sadness,' whispered the young French girl, coaxingly, 'and now I find I was right. I have discovered your secret quite accidentally, haven't I? You are not angry. I hope?—between two such friends as we are there should be no secrets.'

As she spoke, she drew Ethel's head towards her with a kind of gentle force, and kissed her forehead.

Ethel could but think at the moment that the speaker was not quite sincere.

But there was something so genuine in her expression of affection and her kiss, that she could not turn away coldly from it.

'There is nothing in the world I should hesitate to tell you, ma belle,' continued Julie, warmly, drawing a chair to her side, and nestling down closely to Ethel.

Again a doubt arose in the mind of Ethel as to the truthfulness of her fair companion, for, so far from not having any secrets, she had been singularly reticent upon all points connected with her own personal history.

But this doubt was an instantly dispelled, for the young Frenchwoman, encircling Ethel's waist with her arm, and pressing her to her, continued, in a tone that invited confidence—

'There now, let us have a nice little chat—as you call it in England, tete-a tete, as we say in France—and open our hearts to each other.'

She paused suddenly and looked towards the door.

'Suppose, before we begin, I make that fast. Secrets between two are secrets, not between three; I am always suspicious of the third person.'

As she spoke, she rose and turned the key in the lock, and then rejoined her companion with a smile that was more than sufficient to send suspicion flying to the antipodes.

'There, now we are safe,' she said, as she threw her arm round Ethel once. 'I dare-say you think it strangely,' she went on, 'that I, who so warmly advocate mutual confidence, should never have told you anything about myself.'

Ethel almost startled.

It was the very thing she had thought.

But she replied—

'I had no right to expect that you should tell me anything.'

Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and. as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all hemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, [illegible] Eng.

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

MONTHLY REPORT

Of the Women's Christian Association.

During the month of January all has been going on much as usual, the principal events in the Association being the inspection of our Home and Hospital Lot by Dr. O'Reilley, Government Inspector, and the presenting of our petition before the Provincial Parliament for the City Hospital Lot, that we may thereby be provided with funds to erect a suitable Home and Hospital for our fast increasing needs.

Since our last report the city Government has undergone a change, but the ladies have been requested to continue the distribution of the Poor and Sanitary funds to the city poor, and have consented to do so, for which purpose $300 was granted them.

At the Home all has been going on well, and two members have been added to the number, Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. Holmes. Other applications have been made, but it has not been thought best to favor them. The expenses of the Home for the month have been as follows: Supply $30.30; Home Reg. Com. $4 95; Matron's salary, $8.25; supply of wood (all of which has been cut and piled in the wood shed) $32.65; total for Home for the month of January $76.15.

The Dorcas Society, which meets every Saturday afternoon at the Home, to mend and remake all garments sent to them for that purpose, have distributed largely to the poor of the city, and are ready to give to all who apply for, and need assistance, but more clothing could be utilized, and we beg of all who have anything to give away to send it to the Home for the use of the City's poor.

The following gifts have been received, for which the ladies tender their thanks:—Mrs S Phippen, ½ cord wood; Mr Canniff, 1 lb tea; Mrs Phippen, clothing and boots; Mr Kelso, coat; Miss Bell, clothing; A friend, men's clothing; Miss Holden, clothing; Mrs Niles, clothing; Mrs Ritchie, clothing; Mrs Flint, clothing; Mrs Yeomans, clothing; from the Tabernacle Social, basket of meats and cake; Miss Holden, tray; Miss Osborne, clothing; Mrs Smeaton, do and bread tickets; Mrs Bogg, clothing. A friend, hats and bonnets; Mr Sawyer, $2 00; Mrs Mackenzie Bowell, $4.00; Mr Jamieson, $1.00; Mrs Vanallen, 50c; Mrs Johnson, 25c; Mrs W Brenton, 25c; Mrs Mann, 50c; A friend, 25c; Mrs Bartlett, 25c; Miss Bartlett, 50c; Mrs Northcott, 25c; Mrs Brady, 25c; A friend, $1.00; Mr Wragg, $1.00; James Brown, Esq., M. P. $1.00; Mrs Lang, 25c; Ladies of the Alexandra College, 50c: Mr McGinnis, $2 00; Mrs Bean, 50c; Mrs Daly. 25c, Mrs Herbert, 50c; Clarke & Co $2 00 order; S Ross, $3.00 order; A Knox, $1.00 order; Downey & Preston, ½ ton coal; Mr Panter, 50 lbs corn meal; Mrs Hungerford, $1.00.

The following ladies have become members since last report, by paying $1.00 each:—Mrs Northgraves, Mrs Hope, Mrs Dinah Cummings, Mrs Esson, Mrs Clute, Mrs McAnnany, Miss Smart. Mrs J C Jameison, Mrs Wishart (Madoc), Mrs McArthur, Mrs J F Way, Mrs Mackie, Mrs Moynes, Mrs. Bowell, Mrs R Dick, Mrs Frank Mason, Mrs Hugh Blair, Mrs J Brenton, Mrs Dr Jeffers, Mrs John Lewis, Mrs J H Meacham, Mrs E Clarke, Mrs John McFee, Mrs Geo Taylor, Mrs L W Yeomans, Mrs James Booth, Mrs R Lazier, Mrs H Corby, Mrs J Gordon, Mrs T Kelso, Mrs J Phippen, Mrs J Campion, Mrs Albert Reid, Mrs Burke, Mrs C Sherwood, Miss Higinbotham, Mrs R D Conger, Mrs Iles, Mrs E W Holton, Mrs Geo Wallbridge, Mrs W Northrup, Mrs John Walker, Mrs Patterson, Mrs R Davy, Mrs Vandusen, Miss Hunter, Mrs Wimpleay, Mrs Reid, Mrs J Meagher, Mrs Solmes, Mrs Bell, Mrs Thos Holden, Mrs Henry Bleecker, Miss Wallace, Mrs U E Thompson, Mrs Wragg, Miss Easton, Mrs Dr Wilson, Mrs Forin, Mrs Herchmer, Mrs R C Hulme, Mrs W E Holton.

Our Association now numbering in all 150 So many of our last year's members have not yet joined us; may we ask them to do so ere long.

The detailed statement of expenditure by Wards is furnished, but we cannot spare space for it. The total expenditure in each Ward was as follows:

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Fourth Session—Fourth Parliament.

MONDAY, 13th.

After reading a first time Mr. McCarthy's Bill to constitute a Court of Railway Commission, the House of Commons disposed of a large number of questions and motions by private members. Amongst the former was one which elicited from Sir Charles Tupper the information that the Murray Canal would very soon be located and the contract for its construction let.

Motions were carried for information about the Ontario Boundary dispute, land sales and timber licenses in the North-West, receipts and expenditure for the last six months of each calander year since 1874, and imports and exports for the same period of each year since 1877, the Provender and Wood enquiries in Manitoba, confidential printing, etc.

After Sir John Macdonald had promised to give to-day his explanations about Cabinet changes since last session the House adjourned.

Very little business was done in the Senate, the most interesting item being the reception of a petition from the Montreal Corn Exchange against the duties on wheat and flour.

The coughing and wheezing of persons troubled with bronchitis or the asthma is excessively harassing to themselves and annoying to others. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil obviates all this, entirely, safely and speedily, and is a benign remedy for lameness, soreness, injuries,

UNEXPECTED SUCCOR.

Providential Escape of Shipwrecked Voyagers.

At 9 o'clock on the morning of the 30th of last December, the steamer Moravian, of the Allan line, bound for Liverpool via Halifax, while on her way from Portland to the latter place, ran ashore on the southwest point of Mud Island, some fifteen miles from the town of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. A stiff breeze was blowing at the time and a heavy surf running, and the situation was one of peril. It was found that the forward compartments had filled with water and orders were given to lighten cargo while preparations were made to land the passengers on the Island, with a supply of food and clothing. The landing was safely effected, but the cold was intense and some of the party were severely frostbitten. On the ship's manifest was a consignment of St. Jacobs Oil, which the Toronto House of A. Vogeler & Co., of Baltimore, Md., had just shipped to Francis Newberry & Sons, London, to fill English orders. The part it played in the catastrophe is described in the following article, which we quote from the Yarmouth (Nova Scotia) Tribune of January 18th:

"The passengers and crew of the wrecked steamer Moravian, during their brief encampment at Mud Island, suffered severely from exposure to the weather, and some of them were severely frostbitten. Fortunately, among the lading of the ship was a package of proprietary medicines; more fortunately still, the bulk of these consisted of St. Jacobs Oil, and by the prompt and liberal use of this invaluable remedy, the parties were speedily relieved and all unpleasant after consequences averted."

MISCELLANEOUS.

A NEW MISSION.—The Bishop of Ontario, according to agreement, has opened a new mission at Mattawan, above Pembroke. Rev. Mr. Bailey, B. A., late S. P. G. Missionary at Madagascar, will be in charge. For this object the Mission Board has voted $6,000 this year.

AN HEIRESS.—A somewhat sensational story is published about a girl who graduated from the Orphan's Home at Toronto, being now heiress to wealthy relations in England. A lover, whom she discarded before the welcome news came, is alleged to be persecuting her now, and hints are made that the police court will see a new and revised edition of the Village Blacksmith.

HE WON THE BET.—Some time ago a prominent bachelor of Lobo township bantered an equally prominent bachelor of London, and offered to bet that he could not get a girl in his township to come to the city and take dinner with him. The London man the other day won the bet by marching into the City Hotel at the head of a string of eight damsels, amid the plaudits of a large crowd who had assembled. The Lobo man, who is a prominent local politician, led the applause.

DEAR DIRT.—The following is clipped from the West Lynne Times:—A friend sent to us to buy a couple of lots on Main Street, Winnipeg, and $500 was placed at our disposal. After buying a couple of lots, the remainder was to be spent in farm property adjoining the city. Well, it was a dilemma, but we concluded to buy a few empty pill boxes, and collect some dirt on Main Street, Winnipeg, and send down to our friend as the full value of his $500. It will be required to be put in a safe to be kept safe, because the dirt is still rising.

A FATHER'S HORROR.—As Henry Walton, of North Colchester, was driving a load of corn-fodder along the road in that township, he noticed that one of the wheels of the waggon was blocked up in some way, and getting down off the load, was horrified to find his own little boy, seven years old, tightly wedged between wheel and the waggon, and crushed all into a shapeless mass. On being taken out, the little fellow breathed a few times and expired. It appears that he had run up behind the waggon, and attempted to climb upon the load.

THE VERY BEST STYLE.—Young ladies may be gratified to know just what is regarded by a learned editor of Washington as the very best style for a letter of acceptance. A reward was offered for the best written letter accepting an offer of marriage, and the prize composition ran. "Fresh with the breath of the morning came your loving missive. I have turned over every leaf of my heart during the day, and on each page I find the same written—namely, gratitude for the love of a noble man, humility in finding myself its object, and ambition to render myself worthy of that which you offer. I will try. Yours henceforth."

A SENSATION.—An Ottawa telegram says:—There is a prospect of a very lively sensation here shortly. It will be remembered that last fall a somewhat mysterious woman with several aliases, who also called herself Miss Romaine, was on the point of being married to an Ottawa barrister named McLean, but the marriage was broken off at the altar by the intervention of a third party. She has now commenced an action for breach of promise, and will subpœna as witnesses the Marquis of Lorne, Sir Hector Langevin and other notables at the capital to prove the falsity of certain stories that were circulated concerning her, and which the defendent alleges is the reason for not marrying her.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS

and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, with no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he, says he feels young again, and is overjoyed at

LAME BACK.

Lumbago, Kidney complaint, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, and all pain and inflammation are speedily cured with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Croup, sore throat, colds, burns, scalds, bruises frost bites, chilblains and all wounds of the flesh are quickly healed by Yellow Oil.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION, vital weakness, debility from over-work or indiscretion is radically and promptly cured by that great nerve and brain food known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine which is sold by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column.

WHOOPING-COUGH.—If your children are suffering with this distressing malady and nearly coughing themselves to death, send to your Druggist and buy a bottle of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, and relief, we can confidently assure you, will be immediate and sure.

were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B., thus writes to Mr. Fellows:—"I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter. The latter from Tubercular Consumption and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

DR. LLOYD, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co., proprietors of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your LUNG BALSAM that I am now alive and enjoying good health.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam; it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medicine. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A VEXED CLERGYMAN.

Even the patients of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store.

RHEUMATIC REMEDY.

There is no better cure for Rheumatism than Hagyard's Yellow Oil used according to the directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lameness, and all wounds of the flesh. All dealers sell it, price 25 cents.

IF PEOPLE WILL CHEW

they should counteract the injurious effect of tobacco upon the teeth, with the sterling preservative and purifier, SOZODONT, which not only whitens the teeth and renders the gums healthy, but banishes from the breath every objectionable odor. Certain tooth powders, pastes and washes, although they cleanse, also injure the dental enamel, but this matchless toilet auxiliary preserves and strengthens it. Its origin is botanic and its flavor and odor delightful.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Is an iron tonic, prepared expressly to supply the blood with its iron element. Being free from alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron constitution. It is an excellent substitute for wine or brandy where a stimulant is needed. Sold by all druggists.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyard's Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

DAILY ONTARIO

WEDNESDAY FEB. 15, 1882.

The Mail is well represented at Ottawa. Its correspondent, especially fills the post assigned him admirably. Ananias was nowhere in comparison.

—The impression continues to gain ground that there will be a general election before another session of Parliament. To be forewarned is to be forearmed.

The Irishmen of Montreal have been much concerned for some time over an article published in a New York paper stating that there was an informer among them, who gave away the Fenians some years ago.

—Speaker McPhsron has issued a work on etiquette, to be observed especially by officials of the Senate. He wants every person entering the Senate chamber to bow their heads to his chair, whether he is in it or not.

—An old Manitobian being asked why all the people of Winnipeg seemed so happy, replied: "We have a splendid climate, plenty to eat, and fools from Ontario bring us all the money we want." The old man was level-headed.

—The Montreal Corn Exchange has petitioned Parliament to remove the tax imposed upon the staple food of the people, such as flour, grain and breadstuffs. The petitioners insist that taxes upon these articles are burdensome upon the industrial classes, and restrictive on commerce.

Mr. Meridith admits that the boundary award "was a fair and just one, but the other provinces had a right to protest." The people of Ontario know where the Opposition stand now.

Mr. Girouard will introduce his bill again this session legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister. Petitions for and against the measure are being extensively circulated. It is probable the bill will pass both Houses and become law.

At the Liberal caucus in Ottawa Monday morning Mr. Blake spoke at length, touching on the tariff, the Syndicate contract, the land policy of the Government, the Ontario boundary dispute, disallowance of Provincial legislation and other topics, indicating briefly the course he thought they would adopt in respect to each. The prevalent feeling was a resolute determination to contest every inch of the ground during the session, and confidence in the result of the coming election.

A COMPARISON.

A comparison between the free trade decade of 1850-60, with the protection decade of 1870-80 shows some remarkable results, so far as the progress of wealth in the United States is concerned. The figures should be interesting reading to the advocates of a high protective tariff in Canada. It is shown that, during the free trade decade the wealth of the nation grew from $7,135,780,228 in 1850 to $16 591,616,068 in 1860—an increase of 126 per cent. In 1870 the total wealth of the United States was given at $30,068,518,507, and according to the "Balance Sheet of the World," as published by Mr. M. G. Mulhall, the total wealth in 1880 was $39,400,000,000. Hence, during the ten years of protection, with greatly increased facilities of production, the wealth of the United States increased only 31 per cent. In 1850 the total wealth of the country gave each inhabitant $307; in 1860 the amount per capita was $533. These figures show that under free trade the wealth of the United States increased much faster than the population, while between 1870 and 1880—the ten years of protection—the increase of wealth did not keep pace with the population. In other words, during the free trade decade the United States gained $226 for each inhabitant, and during the protection decade they lost 30cts. for each inhabitant. The loss was not very large, it is true, but the contrast is remarkable, all the same. This difference was not owing to a more rapid increase of population during the protection decade. From 1850 to 1860 the increase was 35 per cent. From 1870 to 1880 it was 29½ per cent.

"THE BALANCE OF TRADE."

One year ago, when the Trade and Navigation Returns were published, the people of Canada were asked to ponder well the lesson taught by the figures showing the imports and exports of the country for the last fiscal year. The Finance Minister, too, harped upon the same subject when delivering his budget speech, and claimed that the true philosophy of national prosperity was embodied in the National Policy. We were lectured on the unerring tendency of the "balance of trade," and asked to note the fact that, for the first time in many years the balance was in our favor, the exports having exceeded the imports by over one million dollars. This, we were assured, was the direct and desired result of the N. P., and so long as the balance continued in our favor, so long would we continue on the high way to prosperity. A reversion of the balance, we were also assured, would indicate national retrogression and a going-to-the-dogs generally. So long as a country exported more than was imported the outlook was glorious, and this the N. P. was sure to provide.

We say all these things took place one year ago. The Trade and Navigation Returns for 1881, as sketched by us on Monday, show the following result:—

Imports..................	$105,330,850
Exports......................	98,290,823
Balance against Canada....	7,040,017

O tempora, O, Mores! What is to be our doom under such terrible circumstances! If the Tory doctrine about the balance of trade was true in 1881, it must be equally as true in 1882; and the above figures show that we are going to the dogs at a gallop But what about the N. P. as a balance adjuster? We will let our local contemporary answer.

THE PROVINCIAL ESTIMATES.

Mr. Wood brought down his estimates for the year ending Dec. 31, 1881, Monday. He wants altogether $2,389,726. There is no mention of new parliament buildings or provision therefor. For the maintenance of government house $6030 is asked and an additional $4000 for general repairs, furniture, etc. All the asylums and prisons are to have considerable amounts expended upon them in the way of improvements. A cottage for sixty patients adjoining the Kingston asylum is to cost $18,000. For legislation $109,600 is asked, including $55,000 for indemnity to and mileage of members. Government House burns $900 worth of gas, and the Parliament building $1700. There is a decrease of $6833 in the estimates for superannuated teachers. An increase of $43,832 in the maintenance of public institutions (asylums, prisons and colleges) is noted. For preventing the prize fight at Long Point in November last $173 is asked. The telephone bill runs over a thousand dollars. Three cottages at the Guelph agricultural college are to cost $6,400. On the Scugog river $6,000 is to be expended in dredging, $7,500 on the dam at Young's Point on the Otonabee, and $3,052 on the Gull river dams. Colonization roads will cost $105,650. The principal new roads are in Thunder Bay district, Bruce Mines and Manitoulin Island.

What the supplementary estimates will include remains yet to be seen.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

There is a general feeling that an ice famine will occur this year.

Brockville is to have water works, with pumping power sufficient for a city of 30,000.

The winter in the Western States is described as having been the warmest on record.

It is reported that Mr. Guillet has entered a counter protest in the Northumberland election.

Mr. James Young, M.P., is an applicant for the Inspectorship of Asylums, and charities.

The venerable Peter Cooper of New York celebrated his 92nd birth day on Monday.

The Opposition evidently intend to make it lively for the Government during the present session.

A pair of robins have been seen and heard in the neighborhood of Chestnut Park, Toronto, the residence of D. L. Macpherson.

The weather in Manitoba lately has been very mild. The Emerson Express says it is more like spring than winter weather.

Rev. Dr. Black, the pioneer Presbyterian minister of Manitoba, died Sunday at Kildonan. He was sixty four years of age.

It is rumored at Ottawa that Mr. J. Griffith's connection with the Mail will soon cease, and that he will be given an official position at the capital.

Senator Boyd and Hon. Peter Mitchell met in St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal, recently; had some words and came near having a regular Ryan-Sullivan set-to.

During the past year the Department of Militia distributed uniforms to the value of $20,562, which the Government, with a view to encouraging native industry, had manufactured in England.

Several Frontenac gentleman are about forming a colonization company. Their object is to purchase several townships in the North-West, and colonize them with farmers from that section.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent alterative, or blood-cleansing remedy that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humor, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption, to the formidable scrofulous swelling, or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration, yield to its benign influences. Consumption, which is but a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a free use of this God-given remedy. See article on consumption and its treatment in Part III of the World's Dispensary Dime Series of pamphlets, costs two stamps post-paid. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. INCIDENTS RECALLED.

"All is lost" Dying in the attitude of Prayer.

The Huntingdon holocaust has recalled similar incidents that have occurred in this vicinity during years past. About thirty years ago the residence of Mr. Robert Walker, on the Front of Richmond, and about midway between Napanee and Mill Point, was burned at night. The family were rescued with difficulty, but most of the contents of the house were destroyed Mr. Walker was well advanced in years and had little of this world's goods to cheer his old age. He had, at great risk of personal danger, brought out the desk in which he kept his money and papers, and placed it where he thought it would be safe from harm. In the confusion that followed he did not notice that the desk had ignited and was in flames. When the old man saw his money and papers burning, he stood speechless for a time and then remarked: "All is lost." Walking across the yard he knelt by the fence in prayer. Remaining in this position for a long time, some one went to speak to him and found him dead. Mr. Walker was the father of of Messrs. Robert Walker of Thurlow, and Daniel Walker of Deseronto.

In Lowell, Mass., resides Mr. P. H. Short, proprietor of the Belmont Hotel, who suffered with rheumatism for seventeen years without finding relief from any of the numerous remedies employed, until he applied St. Jacobs Oil: "I never found any medicine that produced such remarkable and instantaneous effect as it did," says Mr. Short.

AN EXPLANATION.

Many of our lady friends say that for the past year they have used the "Cocks Own" and that it is nothing new. We are told, however, that the mixture now put up is entirely new and far superior. The ladies who have tried the sample left at their house say that in every way it is better than any other they have used.

A good Baking Powder is everything to a cook, and we can assure our readers that, the 'Cooks Own" is all they can desire. We advise them to give it a fair trial and they won't be disappointed.

RAILWAY AMALGAMATION.

A Lively Time Before the Railway Committee.

THE BILL WILL PROBABLY PASS.

The library room of the Legislature at Toronto was crowded with railway magnates Tuesday forenoon, when the Railway Committee had under consideration the Bill amalgamating the Midland, Toronto & Ottawa, Toronto & Nipissing, Victoria & Whitby, Port Perry & Lindsay, and Grand Junction Railways, under the name of the Midland Railway Company of Canada. All the railways were represented, and there was a full attendance of members. The terms of the amalgamation are set forth in the Bill at great length. The capital stock is to be $6,000,000, divided into 132,000 shares at $50 each. The stock is to be divided among the shareholders of the different companies according to their standing, and every provision is to be made for the protection of existing bonds. The Bill was considered for three hours, and the objections of gentlemen from Lindsay and Belleville were heard. The Lindsay deputation opposed the amalgamation of the Victoria Railway because it had been built as an independent line, and the competition would be destroyed if it was joined to the other roads. The Belleville folks said amalgamation would violate all the conditions upon which the city granted aid to the Grand Junction Railway. The promoters of the Bill promised that protection in freight rates would be afforded all places, and that municipalities would lose none of the rights they now hold in connection with the different lines. Hon. Mr. Wood spoke in favor of the Bill, as also did Mr. Ferris and Mr. Bell. Several clauses were amended and others added binding the amalgamated company down as regards freights, etc. Further consideration of the bill was postponed until to-day. The general impression is that it will pass the House.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

REV. MR. FORNERI EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of the Ontario.

Dear Sir,—I observe in your report of my friend Mr. Simpson's speech at the recent missionary meeting in connection with Christ Church, that the conduct of St. John's Church is placed by the speaker in unfavourable contrast with the kindness of the other denominations in the city towards the congregation to which he belongs, when the devouring element had deprived them of their house of worship. I should indeed feel ashamed of myself and congregation had our neglect to proffer the use of our church to our unfortunate neighbours proceeded from unbrotherly motives. But such was not the case. The fact is that to have proffered our church would have been but an empty compliment as it could have been of no service to the sufferers. First, because St. John's is too small for the accommodation of Christ Church congregation; and secondly, because it would have been impossible, for us to place it at their disposal when they would have required to use it, viz., at the usual hours of Sunday worship. As far as our feelings are concerned the congregation of Christ Church have always been most welcome to St. John's, and had we thought for a moment that it would have been serviceable to them at the time of the calamity, we would with pleasure at once have tendered it.

I am, yours truly,
R. S. Forneri.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH MISSIONAR MEETING.

The annual missionary meeting last evening was highly successful. The congregation was large and attentive to the addresses, which were delivered by the Rev. Rural Dean Baker, the Rev. D. F. Bogert, B. A., and Mr. Parker, by whom the condition, prospects and monetary statistics of the diocesan mission work were clearly and forcibly stated, the Rural Dean concluding with a rousing appeal to the liberality of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Forneri read the following official declaration setting apart St. John's as a legal parish:—

Diocese of Ontario, City of Belleville. Boundaries of St. John's Parish, West Belleville.

In the name of God, amen.

Whereas it has been represented to me, T. Bedford Jones, Archdeacon of Kingston, by a memorial under the hand of the Rev. Richard S. Forneri, M. A., Incumbent of St. John's Church, West Belleville, Ont., J. W. Brown and Albert Geen, churchwardens and lay delegates to the Synod, and numerous others, heads of families, belonging to St. John's Church, that they have been established as a separate congregation for the space of more than four years, and that they desire to maintain their separate standing.

And whereas for the purpose of securing and consolidating their parochial position, the said memorialists have declared their desire to have a new and distinct parish constituted and erected by canonical authority, to be called St. John's Parish and have petitioned me, having jurisdiction in accordance with the terms of section 4 of the 12th of the Canons of this Diocese to set apart and erect the aforesaid parish.

Wherefore, in compliance with the said petition, and acting upon the provisions of the canon entitled "canon for the erection and division of parishes and settlement of their boundaries," that is to say Canon xii of this diocese, and having only considered the statements of the said petition of the congregation of St. John's Church, and weighed the objections thereto, and exercising all care with regard to the rights and claims of neighboring parishes, I, T. Bedford Jones, L.L.D., Archdeacon, of Kingston, do, by my Archideaconal authority, and as far as in me lies, and by law I can, hereby set apart, erect and constitute the new and distinct parish of St. John in W. Belleville, assigning and granting to it the following boundaries,

On the east Cedar street, west side from Moira st. to Bridge, thence east to Coleman st. and south to the bay.

On the west The city limits.

On the north, Moira st. south side.

On the south, The city limits.

Given under my hand this fifth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty two.

T. Bedford Jones LLD. Archdeacon of Kingston.

I hereby approve of the boundaries of St. John's parish, as above determined and referred by the Archdeacon of Kingston.

TWEED ITEMS.

—On Saturday evening as Mr. John Sparrow was crossing Stoco Lake, he got off the usual route and drove into a crack, drowning both horses. He in trying to save the horses also became submerged, and was with considerable difficulty rescued.

—We were blessed with good sleighing during last week, but the rain of Monday finished it.

—The usual quarterly-meeting was held in the C. M. Church on Sunday last, Rev. Mr. Scales, our former pastor, occupying the pulpit.

—By the way, Mr. Editor, I think you punctuated the report of the tea-meeting, in my last, rather badly. There were rather too many dashes to make it read smoothly.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Tuesday, 14th.

After routine, Sir John Macdonald made a very brief statement of recent Cabinet changes. Hon. Mr. Blake followed, and referred to the former relations between Hon. Mr. McLellan and Sir Chas. Tupper. The debate was continued by Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Boultbee, Hon. Mr. Huntingdon, Sir Chas. Tupper, and others. It was lively, and left the Opposition master of the field.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Tuesday, 14th.

The session was taken up with Hon. Mr. Wood's Budget speech, which was characteristically clear and able. The surpulus was stated to be $4,509,591. We will refer to his statement more particularly to morrow. Mr. Meredith's criticisms were principally devoted to the Treasurer's reference to the boundary award matter. He was followed by Mr. Mowat and Mr. Creighton.

TWO HUNDRED LOTS

—IN—

Crystal City!

The mere announcement of lots for sale in this, the first important point settled in Southwestern Manitoba be sufficient to those acquainted with the country. First, also, in population, as well as in the fertility and nat advantages of its surroundings.

BY FAR THE LARGEST TOWN IN THE ROCK LAKE DISTRICT.

Surveyed in 1880, it is no prospective town, but is a thriving place—a large business being done. Churches Schools, Mills, Registry Office, Stores, and every essential to supplying the wants of a thickly populated section.

The town site is the property of but one proprietor (Thos. Greenway, Esq., M. P. P.), and his faith in the future of Crystal City is such that the proceeds of this, as well as of former sales, will be employed in fostering every legitimate industry and building up the town.

A REBATE OF FIFTY PER CENT.

of purchase money to those who construct medium-priced brick or frame buildings within twelve months from sale. Within six months lots have advanced over 200 per cent., and with early railway facilities this is but an intimation.

Over Forty Buildings Now Under Contract for Early Spring Completion.

As to the eligibility of investing, we refer intending purchasers to anyone acquainted with the Province or to the shrewdest of speculators in Manitoba town property.

The mere fact that over 7,000 letters were posted at this office in one quarter will convey a partial idea of the volume of business done, as well as the population of the district.

No extended description of this point is required, for the merit of its natural advantages caused its survey. It has grown to its important position by its merits, and will be sold on the same.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture.

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

Furs at cost at Davenport's.

A couple of drunks monopolized the cells last night.

The [illegible] ordered from Mr. Mason of Toronto, for the Mechanics' Institute, have arrived.

THE water in the Moira has risen about a foot since Saturday. The ice in the vicinity of the foot-bridge is breaking up.

CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

R. C. Clute, Esq., will lecture before the students of Ontario Business College tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. The principals will be pleased to have visitors.

Now that there is a vacancy for Alderman in Bleecker Ward, caused by the resignation of Mr. J. W. Campion, would it not be well for the Ward, and the city generally, if ex-Mayor Patterson could be induced to take the vacant position?

At the meeting of the School Board last night it was decided to offer the two schools with their sites in Bleecker Ward for sale, and purchase another one in a more central locality. If this is done the Board will avoid the expense of a fourth teacher.

Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

AT the Police Court to-day David Pringle, arraigned on a charge of drunkenness, was remanded for a week. Jas. Craig was arrested last night for acting disorderly while in Mr. Dulmage's saloon. The Magistrate this morning remanded him also to jail for one week.

THE County Clerk has requested us to remind the Township Treasurers that they have to send in to him their school accounts for audit before March 1st. Also to request the Township Clerks, who have not returned their assessment rolls for 1881, to forward them without further delay.

At a Sheriff's sale in Madoc yesterday the Persey Iron Mine was offered for sale, but as Mr. F. E. Seymour presented a claim of $8 500 alleged to be due him as rent, the sale was postponed for a week. It is possible Mr. Pusey will reach home in the meantime and settle the claim, for which his property is being sold.

Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

THE annual missionary meeting of St. Johns' Church was held last evening, when the Rev. Rural Dean Baker and Rev. D. F. Bogert, M. A., delivered short and interesting addresses. The incumbent, Rev. Mr. Forneri, read the official declaration of the Archdeacon and Bishop, which conveyed the pleasing intelligence that the church had been made a legal parish.

A CONCERT is to be given in the City Hall next week, for the benefit of Miss O'Carroll. There are many individuals and societies in the city who have on more than one occasion been favored with gratuitous aid at public entertainments by this lady, and now that an opportunity has affered itself we trust they will show their appreciations of such services by any means in their power.

You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

AT a meeting of the Belleville Branch No 8, of the B. B. A. of C. and U. S., held in the city on Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—President, Bro. A. Slade; 1st. Vice., W. Crosby; 2nd. Vice, W. Kilgannon; Rec.-Sec., S. Flaglar; Fin-Sec., J. E. Davis; Treasurer, J. Campney; Tiler, N. Reid; Trustee—W. H. Bowen, M. Horrigan and W. Masters.

On Monday evening the congregation of Bowerman's Church, Ameliasburg, celebrated their 27th anniversary by a public entertainment in the church. In addition to other addresses that were delivered, Rev. A. Schuster, City Missionary, gave his popular lecture on his "Conversion from Judaism to Christianity," which was highly appreciated. The attendance was large, notwithstanding the inclement weather.

N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

The 23rd. anniversary of the Workingmen's Temperance Association was fittingly celebrated last night by a musical entertainment in their hall. The attendance was large, and the audience select. Bro. Wm. H. Bosley, President of the Society, occupied the chair, and at the opening delivered an appropriate address of welcome. The programme, which we have published, was one well adapted for the occasion, and proved highly satisfactory. Each piece was received with much favor, and throughout the evening the audience frequently expressed their delight with the excellent singing furnished by the several well-known amateurs. The "Old Arm Chair," as sung by Master Vanorman, was especially interesting. The singing of Miss O'Carroll and Mrs. Butterfield was, as usual, of first-class merit, and was duly appreciated.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Two hundred pieces of beautiful new fast colored prints just received and only seven and a half cents per yard at Hennessy's, and the discount off also, cottons, steamlooms, wincies, shirtings, flannels, tickings, towellings, table linnens, etc. etc.; all at the same discount. See particulars in another column and in small bills.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for these struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3 95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

PHŒNIX HALL.

FRESH WHITE [illegible] Salmon opposite Walker's Foundry.

Early this morning a team of horses broke through the ice near Rednerville, but they were rescued. The ice in many places is now considered unsafe.

THE third section of the Amalgamation Railway Bill was so amended in committee yesterday as to provide that the Mayor of Belleville should be an ex-officio director.

FRESH COD, Smelts and Haddock opposite Walker's Foundry.

No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

The Belleville Auction Company have received their first consignment and will open their rooms (Barlman and Snitzel's old stand) on Thursday with a sale at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. . Sale will continue until the stock is disposed of. Special sales every afternoon at 2:30 for ladies, and gentlemen at 7:30.

EXTRAVAGANCE.—We hear a great deal about the high prices which housekeepers pay for some baking Powders, especially those made in the United States. This is simply extravagance, as they are in many cases inferior to some put up in Canada, and which on account of the heavy duty, do not cost half the money. However, the "Cooks Own" is the right one, as it is an American article put up in Canada, and everybody agrees, that the new mixture is the best they have ever used.

CRANBERRIES 13 cents per quart at Up Town Fish Market.

THE practise of several teachers of the city of keeping children in after school, or during noon time, will receive the consideration of the School Board during the present week. The question came up for discussion at the meeting last night, and resulted in a committee being appointed to enquire into the matter, which they will do and report at the meeting on Tuesday next. Some time since the Board passed a resolution prohibiting this mode of punishment, but it appears several of the teachers pay no attention to the resolution of the Board.

FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

AND now it is the Whig, which remarks:—That popular ex-pressman, Mr. R. Mathison, Superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, has apparently been winning golden opinions from all sorts of people. One journal, in advancing his name in connection with the vacancy in the Inspectorship of Prisons and Charities, says that "he knows more about the management of public institutions than any other man in the service;" and another claims that "his superior is not to be found for the office since he is a born disciplinarian and economist." If a popular Kingstonian is not to be appointed, then by all means let it be Mr. Mathison. This city can furnish a good man to fill his present post, so that the Government need not fear to create a vacancy.

No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

The lecture in the City Hall last night on "the solar system," by Rev. H. J. Nott was not nearly so well attended as it merits deserved. The revd. lecturer opened by stating that the study of astronomy, especially for the young, is with the exception of the Bible perhaps the most elevating and ennobling study in the universe, as the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth forth his handy work. He gave a short history of astronomy from ancient times to the present, and then proceeded to tell and illustrate by diagrams what is at present known of our Solar System, composed as it is of the Sun as the centre with his family of Plants &c., explaining their peculiarities, size and various motions; showing that they worked with such perfect harmony that man has never been able to make a chronometer to keep time with them yet; and as every effect must have a cause, and every design a designer, the designer of such a grand piece of macherism as our solar system must be the Mighty God. After a vote of thanks to the lecturer, the audience dispersed highly pleased with the evening's entertainment.

THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

MITCHELL'S hair dressing rooms will be re-opened on Monday next, Feb. 20th, in the Metropolitan Block, Campbell street—see small circulars. W. W. Mitchell,

ARTISTS.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st. We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

Regular Meeting of the School Board.

A regular meeting of the School Board was held at the usual hour last night. Those present were: Thomas Wills, Esq., Messrs. Holden, McGinnis, Johnson, Macoun, Moore, Vanallen, Maxim, Hayne, Diamond, Walker, Carmichael, Northcott, Richards, Wensley, Doctor, Davis, Tennant, and Rev. McLean.

The minutes of previous meetings having been read and approved, the Secretay read a letter from Mr. N. Vermilyea, asking for certain unpaid salary due him as Head Master of No. 2 School.

A communication was read from Miss A. Mathison tendering her resignation as teacher in the Central School. Her reasons for resigning, as stated in the letter, were that she prefered attending the Toronto Normal School for a term.

A circular was read from the Minister of Education referring to unauthorized text books. The substance of the circular was contained in an advertisement in the ONTARIO several days ago.

Mr. Vermilyea's petition was referred to the Finance Committee. The reignation for Miss Mathison was allowed to remain on the table.

The Committee on Public School sites, buildings and repairs, Mr. Northcott chairman, presented their report, which reads as follows:—

"We would recommend that No. 1 and No. 5 Schools be placed in the market for sale, and that Lots No. 5 and 6 on Mill-st. and Lot No. 9 in rear of the above two lots be purchased for a new site, if the above can be purchased at a reasonable sum, not to exceed $1,000.

Pinnacle Street School will require new floors in two class rooms this season, one new black-board and two others repaired. The above and other repairs will require an expenditure of $150.

Central School will require several new black boards, a new floor in part of old building, wainscotting in class rooms, front steps repaired, and other repairs at a cost of $200.

Grier-st. School will require the front fence and wood-shed painted, the side fences lime washed, the yard between the school and front fence planked. Cost, $140.

Octavia-st. School, to make the two class rooms on east side into one, the same as on west side, a partition in assembly room for hanging clothing, partitions in rear room, two new black boards, and repairs to floor at a cost of $300.

The Finance Committee's report which was read, recommended the payment of a number of accounts. They also recommended that $50 be paid Mr. Jas. Smith for prepairing the plans and specifications of the new Coleman Ward School.

The committee on printing and supplies recommended that the chairman procure 50 cords of hard dry wood for use in the schools.

Inspector Johnston read his usual monthly report, as furnished by the different teachers. The number of pupils registered for January was 1336; average attendance for the month, 1050; 78 per cent of those entered on the registers attended regularly; 527 cases of lateness.

The Auditors report was read stating that they found the books of the late Secretary-Treasurer correct.

The chairman said when he presented the memorial to the Minister of Education, the latter gentleman said the action taken by the Board was a correct one, and that he would give the petition they presented his serious consideration.

Board went into Committee of the Whole on reports, Mr. Macoun in the chair.

The reports from the above three committees were adopted without any amendments.

Committee rose and reported; report adopted.

Mr. Holden moved, seconded by Mr. Macoun, that the sureties of the late Secretary-Treasurer be relieved from such responsibility, his books having been audited and found correct.—Carried.

Mr. Johnson moved that a committee composed of Rev. M. W. McLean and Messrs. Jas. Macoun, I. Diamond, Wm. Tennant, J. McGinnis and the mover be appointed for the purpose of consolidating the various regulations which from time to time have been passed by this Board, defining the duties of teachers and pupils. —Carried.

Mr. Tennant moved that the matter of dismissing the boy McKenny from the Central School be referred to the committee governing said school.—Carried.

The members of the Board present consumed nearly an hour in discussing whether the matter of examining into the management of the High School should be taken up by the committee on School Management or the special commitee of Central and High School. The matter was finally settled by the passage of the following resolution:

Moved by Mr. Johnson that the Board instruct the committee of School Management to meet at the earliest date possible for the purpose of discussing the method of instruction as now carried on in the High School; said committee to report at next regular meeting of the Board.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned for one week.

Those who suffer from bilious disorders and liver complaints, from acidity of the stomach, indigestion, debility and nausea, will find permanent relief from the use of Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills.

EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means o which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.
Ethel's Vow.

'Perhaps not, any more than I had no right to expect you to make me your confidance,' replied Mademoiselle Fonblanque, frankly, 'but the reason why I did not speak more of myself was simply that I did not suppose you would care to hear. What are my affairs to you?'

'Or mine to you?' Ethel thought, but she did not say so.

'This, at least,, proceeded Mademoiselle Julie, 'was my idea when I first became acquainted with you, but now I know you better my mind has changed. Having learnt to love you, I seem now so long to know all about your past life—you know we are never ennuyes at listening to what concerns those who are dear to us—and I thought you might be as willing to hear some of the vicissitudes of mine.'

Ethel felt herself irresitibly drawn closer and closer to the young foreigner at every word she spoke, and she replied—

'I shall be more than willing; I shall like to hear anything you please to tell me of your past life.'

But her reserve was not yet broken up, and she did not say that she was willing to be equally communicative.

But the warm-hearted French girl did not appear to notice this omission.

But she did notice it, nevertheless, and went on in her unvarying kind, persuasive tone—

'You are an English girl, ma bonne; I am French, but our nationalities do not interfere with our friendship. I am fond of you, and I flatter myself you do not dislike me.'

'Dislike you!' exclaimed Ethel, warmly, 'on the contrary, I like you very much indeed.'

'Do you really—really like me very much?' inquired Mademoiselle Julie, with delighted earnestness.

'I do, indeed, very much,' Ethel repeated.

'Oh, how glad I am,' returned the young foreigner, with native empressement, 'and you trust me, too, I hope—I hope?' she asked, as she clasped Ethel's hand, and looked inquiringly in her face, adding in a tone in which there was some little pathos, 'trust is the test of friendship.

Ethel was obliged to confess to herself that she had not always trusted her, but she felt she could now, and she replied—

'Oh, yes, dear, I trust you; I do not believe you would deceive me!'

'How kind you are to say this,' returned the young girl, gratefully, 'when I have been deceiving you all the time.'

There was a little self-reproach in the speaker's tone, and Ethel, half anticipating what was coming, asked—

'How have you deceived me?'

'By pretending to possess what does not belong to me?' she answered, in an indignant tone, as though she was quite angry with herself.

'See,' she continued, as she passed her hand hastily through the waving mass of curls that fell over her shoulders, 'you have often admired these beautiful golden locks.'

'I have; they are very beautiful,' returned Ethel, who spoke nothing but the simple truth when she said so.

'And those pearly teeth,' continued the young French girl, opening her pretty lips and displaying her false teeth.

'Yes,' Ethel admitted, 'I never saw teeth so perfectly white and even.'

And neither of these belong to me!' exclaimed Mademoiselle Julie, with a burst at once bitter and passionate, 'both are false! The French are the finest wig makers and the best makers of artificial teeth in the world, and I am indebted to them, not to nature, for mine!'

As she spoke, she lifted the golden mass of hair from her head, and the entire set of teeth from her mouth, and placed them on the table.

Now she presented the exact appearance she had done when Ethel had gazed upon her in the middle of the night.

'Now what do you think of me?' she asked. 'Don't I look frightful?'

'Oh, no,' returned Ethel, eagerly, 'you could never look so. It is impossible.'

The latter felt a little embarrassed from the fact that not being used to artifice, she could not evince the surprise she felt she ought to have exhibited.

'Then you won't hate me because I wear these deceptive things?' Julie asked.

'Hate you?' exblaimed Ethel, warmly. 'Oh, no, it would indeed be cruel to hate a friend for such a trifle.'

'Well, at all events, you know the worst of me now,' said Mademoiselle Fonblanque, as she restored the wig and teeth to their legitimate positions; 'in all other respects I am as you see me, genuine.'

'But may I ask,' said Ethel, 'why you wear false locks when you appear to have beautiful black hair of your own, if it were long enough—your favourite colour too?'

'I don't wonder at your question, ma chere, after my vowed predilection in favour of jetty locks,' returned the young French girl, readily; 'but I can easily answer it. That my hair is black enough to satisfy an Ethiopian, I admit; but it is so dreadfully stubborn that I can do nothing with it.

'The serpents on the Gorgon's head could not have been more untractable than are my locks when they are suffered to grow long. Consequently, since a woman is unpresentable in society without hair, and as black hair in a wig is hideous, I had no resource but to adopt the golden colour you now see me wear.'

This was so candid and natural a reason that Ethel accepted it without the shadow of a doubt of its truth.

To be Continued.

ON THIRTY DAYS' TRIAL.

We will send Dr. Dye's celebrated Electro-Voltaic Belts and other Electric Appliances on trial for thirty days to young men and older persons who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Lost Vitality, etc., guaranteeing speedy relief and complete restoration of vigor and manhood. Also for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Liver and Kidney difficulties, Ruptures and many other diseases. Illustrated pamphlet sent free. Address Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich.

SORE THROAT.

Apply Hagyard's Yellow Oil and take inwardly according to directions. Yellow Oil is the best remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia Bruises, Burns, Frost Bites and all lameness, inflammation and pain. No household should be without it.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King,s renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sofd by all hemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. [illegible] doses. 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

DUBLIN'S FAMED CASTLE.

The Dwelling of the Viceroy and the Historical Associations Linked with it.

London Globe, December 19.

"There is no entering a battle with imperfect harness," says an old Irish proverb, and this Christmas, in many a household where luxury once prevailed, wife and daughters will be without pin-money for the necessities of the every-day gown, let alone the luxury of a ball-dress from Grafton street. The season, however, is now rapidly approaching when, most years, there is a perceptible flutter in the dove-cotes all over rural Ireland, from the Giant's Causeway to Cape Clear, when many a young heart in simple Munster or Connaught homes beats high in blissful expectation of a ball at the "Castle"—the acme of human happiness to fresh and artless demoiselles who have never seen anything finer than Merrion square, and have never passed through a night of hope and disappointment and heat and hustling on the staircase of a house in Belgravia or Mayfair. From Christmas to gloomy Lent-tide, when Catholic Ireland begins to mortify itself with salt hake and fresh vows of penitence, is the period during which the representatives of royalty in Dublin receive the Queen's Irish lieges. But in order to be permitted to share in the festivities of St. Patrick's hall it is necessary to have been first "presented" in due form to the "Lord Lieutenant-General and Governor General of Ireland." The way to the ball-room at the "Castle" is, in fact, only through the presence-chamber, where Lord Cowper sits upon his big gold throne; and, to get there, the debueante has to pay toll first. One of the most justly-valued privileges of the Irish Viceroy is the right he enjoys of depositing a chaste salute upon the forehead of every young Irish lady who wants a passport to "society," and has not gone through the same form at St. James'—a privilege which one bachelor Lord-Lieutenant not long ago set such store by that he was always repeating it on the pretty girls who came to the "Castle" drawing-room. The ball-room, which is a fine apartment, 82 feet by 41 feet, was only built by Earl Temple, who was Viceroy in 1782, and was much altered and re-decorated when the Order of St. Patrick was instituted, and it was re-christened St. Patrick's Hall. So that it was not associated with the bright eyes and twinkling feet of the most celebrated beauties whose story has cast a lustre upon "Castle" festivities. It was in the old ball room that fair Grace O'Malley, the Granuaile of the Irish bards must have danced a quadrille with grim Sir Henry Sidney, and almost sapped his loyalty with a glance of her famous blue eyes. It was there that the witty Earl of Chesterfield forsook the homeliness of Melosina de Schulenburg for the beaux yeaux of the fascinating Lady Palmer, "the only dangerous Papist," he said, "he ever met in Ireland;" and that the Duchess of Rutland worked such havoc with all Irish hearts. A ball at the "Castle" must have been an event indeed in those days. On such an occasion the "patriots" forsook the shibboleth of their profession and changed their cry. Deans forgot their Latin, and rusty old lawyers rubbed up the recollection of their "steps;" while young sparks looked their best, and old beaux gave an extra curl to the auburn wig to attract a look, if it might be, from the theme of all song. At one of these castle fetes Sir Hercules Langrishe presented a poem to the Duchess, which ended with the pointed lines:—

> "All bow before you in obeisance meet;
> The soldier lays his laurels at your feet;
> For you the lawyer bends his stubborn knee,
> Forgets his disputation and his fee."

The soldier referred to was General O'Hara, the Commander-in-Chief, and the lawyer FitzGibbon, afterwards the famous Lord Chancellor, each of whom fondly flattered himself that he was the favorite swain.

The castle, which is now only the very occasional residence of the Irish viceroys, who, as a rule, prefer the viceregal lodge in Phœnix park, was constructed at first to answer three, if not four, purposes. It was to act as a citidel to secure the "English interests"; as the place for the Lords and commons of Ireland to assemble, as well as for the judges and juries to hear and decide cases, and as the royal seat of government. It appears to have been finished about the year 1220 by Henry Lowndres, Archbishop of Dublin; although fifteen years earlier in 1205, we find Henry II. writing to his "beloved and faithful subject," Meiler FitzHenry, Lord Justice:—"You have given us to understand you have not a convenient place wherin our treasure may be safely deposited; and forasmuch, as well for that use as for many others, a fortress would be necessary for us at Dublin, we command you to erect a castle there in such competent place as you shall judge most convenient, as well to curb the city as to defend it if occasion shall require; and that you make it as strong as you can with good and durable walls." In the early days of the English "Pale" it was decidedly a point D'appui—and a useful one—for the English adventures, and in 1641 it was a rallying place for the loyal from all parts of Ireland; but from the time it was built in the reign of the Second Henry to the other day, when the guns were mounted in the castle-yard, it has oftener been used, as that sage monarch suggested, to curb the Dublin mob than to protect the city from an external foe. To take a few instances. In 1541 it was attacked by, and held out against, Thomas Fitzgerald, Earl of Desmond. During the Duke of Ormonde's viceroyalty, Blood, with a rabble of the worst characters in Dublin, tried to surprise it by one of the sallyports. In 1759 the Duke of Bedford, a quiet, easy-going man, was frightened out of his wits by a mob which forced its way into the Castle and established an old woman smoking a clay pipe on the viceregal throne; and later still, in the troubled days of "Free Trade" and the volunteers, another Viceroy, who was not overburdened with physical courage, watched with grim satisfaction from his eyrie in the Castle the ragged battalions of Lord Charlemont's army knocking their heads to no purpose against those "strong and durable" walls. In the original edifice the entrance from Castle street was by a drawbridge placed between two gate-towers, the westward of which existed as late as the year 1766. The present Birmingham tower was not erected till 1777, although it stands on the exact site of the one in which Sir William Brimingham and his son Walter suffered their long confinement in the fourteenth century. The Castle does not appear to have been the regular residence of the Lords-Deputy or Lords-Lieutenant until the reign of Elizabeth. Before that time, during their short stay in Dublin, they had either resided at Kilmainham Hospital or at the Archbishop's palace. When Hy. II. spent his Christmas in Dublin in 1172 he occupied a tent or hall made of smooth wattles, erected on College, or Hoggin Green, as it was called in early days.

The present building dates almost entirely from the last century. In old days it seems continually to have been requiring repair, and its insecure condition taxed the patience and aroused the alarm of many an ancient representative of royalty. In 1430 King Henry VI. allowed "twenty marks a year out of the revenue of the kingdom for the reparation of the hall, buildings, and towers of the Castle of Dublin, wherein the books and records of Chancery, of both Benches, and the Exchequer are kept, and which were in such ruinous condition that the were greatly damaged by rain and weather." In the seventeenth century Clarendon, the Lord-Lieutenant, writes home:—"The reparations of this no-castle are very great, and it is the worst and most inconvenient lodging in the world. No gentleman in Pall Mall is so ill-lodged as I am."

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and cohsider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

The Minister of Justice has submitted to the Dominion Parliament the report on the penitentaries of Canada. The total number of convicts in all the penitentiaries of the Dominion decreased from 1,279 to 1,218 during the year. The following is a comparative statement:

Kingston Penitentiary—In custody on 30th June, 1880—Males, 711; females, 21; total, 732. Received during the year—Males, 255; females, 11; total, 216. Released on expiration of sentence, etc.—Males, 235; females, 8; total, 243. Remaining in custody on 30th June, 1881—Males, 681; females, 24; total 705—a decrease of 27 during the year.

St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary - Total prisoners 30th June, 1880—Males, 345; Females, none. On 30th June 1881—Males, 318; females, none; decrease, 27.

Dorchester Penitentiary—Total prisoners on 16th July, 1880—Received from old penitentiaries of St. John and Halifax, 184; number in custody 30th June, 1881—Males, 94; females, 2; total, 96; decrease, 88.

Manitoba Penitentiary - The number in custody on the 30th of June, 1880, increased from 42 to 56 during the year.

British Columbia Penitentiary—The number in custody increased from 33 to 48.

It will be observed that, while in the last year there has been a most gratifying decrease in the number of those in custody there has been an increase in the western portion of the Dominion.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION, vital weakness, debility from over-work or indiscretion is radically and promptly cured by that great nerve and brain food known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine which is sold by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column.

WHOOPING-COUGH.—If your children are suffering with this distressing malady and nearly coughing themselves to death, send to your Druggist and buy a bottle of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and relief, we can confidently assure you, will be immediate and sure.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP,"

were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B, thus writes to Mr. Fellows:—"I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter. The latter from Tubercular Consumption and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

DR. LLOYD, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co., proprietors of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your LUNG BALSAM that I am now alive and enjoying good health.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medicine. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A VEXED CLERGYMAN.

Even the patients of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store.

HAVE

YOUR mind made up as to your course of action in the event of anything that is likely to happen. To be forewarned is to be forearmed and if

are well prepared in advance you are sure to come through with credit. It is almost certain that eighty out of every hunnred people in this province will have cold during the coming twelve months. In some instances it will be checked in the beginning by the use of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam and the people will forget that anything was ever the matter with them; but unfortunately in the other cases it, unheeded, will be permitted to grow until the symptoms become alarming, and the family physician will be called in. He may cure or may not, according to the condition of the patient but at what expense of time and money? If Dr. Wilson's remedy had been first used the whole expense would have been a few cents. It is a mistake th weather is the easiest to catch a cold in. Damp, foggy, days are the worst, and a bottle of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam should always be at hand.

A

COLD

RHEUMATIC REMEDY.

There is no better cure for Rheumatism than Hagyard's Yellow Oil used according to the directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lameness, and all wounds of the flesh. All dealers sell it, price 25 cents.

IF PEOPLE WILL CHEW

they should counteract the injurious effect of tobacco upon the teeth, with the sterling preservative and purifier, SOZODONT, which not only whitens the teeth and renders the gums healthy, but banishes from the breath every objectionable odor. Certain tooth powders, pastes and washes, although they cleanse, also injure the dental enamel, but this matchless toilet auxiliary preserves and strengthens it. Its origin is botanic and its flavor and odor delightful.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Is an iron tonic, prepared expressly to supply the blood with its iron element. Being free from alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron constitution. It is an excellent substitute for wine or brandy where a stimulent is needed. Sold by all druggists.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyards Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS and grew no better but rather worse. Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies adverlised, with no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he, says he feels young again, and is overjoyey at his wonderful recovery.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruised Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all kinds of Skin Eruptions. This Salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by James Clarke & Co.

DAILY ONTARIO

FRIDAY FEB. 17, 1882.

—From two to three thousand tons of potatoes are now imported weekly into New York from Great Britain and Germany. Large quantities of other vegetables are also being imported.

—The Ottawa Immigration Society has arranged to bring out 100 servant girls from Ireland. When the Marquis of Lorne gets his scheme in good working order there will be less cause for complaint, perhaps.

—The committee appointed by the Senate of the United States to report upon the lung disease of cattle, recommend that the most radical measures be adopted to entirely eradicate the plague, which is declared to be of a purely contagious nature.

—One Col. Collier leaped into notoriety some time ago by getting into a passion and brutally assaulting a quiet, respectable citizen of Hamilton. By paying well for his brutality he escaped further punishment. Since then the gallant Yankee Colonel has kept his name before the public by means more or less questionable; but it was when he fell foul of the Toronto World that he really became famous. Our contemporary knows all about his antecedents.

—The British Minister at Washington, Hon. Sackville West has already won high social distinction at the American capital. Mary Clemmer, one of the ablest of female correspondents, writes to the N. Y. Independent. "The British Minister, a small, weak-voiced man, with a peculiar laugh, and a daughter whose gazelle-like eyes win every heart, is greatly sought after. He cannot honor half his invitations, and the substantial abode of the British legation is once more the centre of the most delightful reunions."

THE present Dominion Government certainly pays liberally in "subscriptions to newspapers." The Auditor-General's report shows the total expense for this purpose to have been, during the last fiscal year, $7,045.68. We may state, however, that there is some suspicion that the "subscriptions" are not all exactly what they are represented.

EVERY capital city must have a correct latitude and longitude, for reasons not necessary to state here. Ottawa is the capital of the Dominion of Canada, and wants an established longitude, as well as the republican capital on the Potomac. The exact latitude is not so difficult to determine. The sum of $500 was last year placed in the estimates to defray the cost of determining the longitude of our federal capital, but as yet the exact line has not been ascertained.

CANADIAN-BUILT VESSELS.

It is well known that the carrying trade of the great lakes is largely in the hands of Canadian ship owners, and that Canadian-built vessels are superseding those of American construction. It appears, however, that a U. S. government Inspector has discovered that the supposed superiority of construction is a delusion and a sham. He solemnly asserts that all Canadian-built vessels are inferior to those constructed on the other side, and would attribute most of the wrecks to this defect. He neglets, however, to furnish a list of wrecked vessels in any season, in order to test the accuracy of his statement. We believe those who are in a position to know are ready to disprove all this interestsd and partial authority makes public. Facts will show that the alleged superiority of Canadian-built vessels is well founded.

EDITORS.

The result of the fracas in the editorial rooms of the Washington Republican has again directed attention to the fact that in all, or nearly all, attacks upon newspaper editors, for alleged affronts in published articles, the assaulting party comes out second best. It is beginning to be understood that editors are hedged about with a kind of divinity that makes them very formidable opponents when attacked in their sanctums. Conscious of their rectitude and responsibility they are, at the first sign of danger to their precious lives, transformed in the twinkling of an eye from a harmless scribe to a ferocious pugilist. Armed at all times with deadly weapons such as pens, scissors, ink-stands and Webster's Unabridged, they are prepared on the shortest notice to assume a bellicose position; and when once aroused they slaughter without mercy. We hope the public will learn to regard an editor as being more terrible, when on the war path, than an army with banners, and treat him accordingly.

"SPEAK NOW."

During the somewhat personal discussion that followed Sir John's explanations of recent Cabinet changes, on Tuesday, Mr. Blake's severe criticisms provoked another reference to the famous "speak now" note. In refuting the story as told by Sir Charles Tupper, Mr. Blake mentioned that the note was sent across the House one or two days after Mr. Wood's resignation. Reference to the debates in the House of Commons shows that in 1872 he made here the same explanation in reply to the late Mr. Thomas Ferguson, on which occasion he stated that Mr. Wood resigned on Friday and the note was sent on the following Monday. Down to the present time the truth of that statement had not been challenged, but now both Messrs. Rykert and McCallum persist in saying that the note was sent before Mr. Wood's resignation. Mr. M. C. Cameron, then the leader of the Opposition, when moving for a committee of investigation into the matter, admitted that resignation preceded the sending of the note, and Mr. Wood has stated over and over again that the only man who knew beforehand of his intention to resign was Mr. Rykert. It is customary in Parliament for one member to accept another's word, but nobody is surprised at either Mr. McCallum or Mr. Rykert declining to accept that of Hon. Mr. Blake.

We would most respectfully remind the Ottawa Citizen that the people of Canada, irrespective of political views, have more confidence in the word of Hon. Edward Blake than in the solemn declaration of such men as Rykert and McCallum. The Minister of Railways and Canals, whose bombastic eloquence has been a help in more than one ignoble proceeding, never has, and never will, command a tithe of the public respect that is accorded to Edward Blake. All attempts, therefore, to fasten a disreputable charge upon the man whom Canadians admire for his ability and honor for his integrity will fail. The private and public character of Mr. Blake cannot be smirched by such demagogues as attack him in the House or through the press.

POOR FIDO

He Died at the Dafoe House, and was Buried Yesterday.

There was a funeral in the city yesterday that did not attract so many mourners as usual on such occasions, but it was a very serious affair. A pet dog belonging to a lady guest of the Dafoe House took sick. The best medicial skill was procured, but to no avail. Poor Fido died in his mistress' arms. Then there was sorrow unfathomed. The bereaved wept oceans of tears and would not be comforted. She ordered a rosewood casket and floral decorations for the dear departed. Permission was obtained to bury the corpse in the cemetery, and at the oppointed time a carriage from the livery of Messrs. Lake & Jenkins conveyed the remains and mourners to the place of sepulchre. A grave had been dug by the side of the lady's father, and into it the coffin was lowered amid the sobs and tears of the attendants. The driver of the carriage performed the duties of sexton with a reverened mien, and shovelled the cold earth upon the dead puppy. The last sad rites finished, the sorrowing and disconsolate ones returned to the city with emblems of mourning. It was an effecting scene. Poor Fido!

POLITICAL NOTES.

A strong opposition is being developed to the proposed change in the location of the Pacific Railway line north of Lake Superior.

The New Brunswick Legislature was opened in the New Parliament House at Fredericton yesterday. The scene was a brilliant one.

The disallowance question will be brought before the Senate and Commons All correspondence, documents, &c. have been asked for in both houses.

The travelling expenses of members of the Government, and other persons in the service of the Government, from 10th. of Feb. 1880 to 16th Dec. of same year, amounted to $6.860.38.

The returns give the names of 80 persons as having been superannuated during the period since the beginning of the last session of Parliament. The annual allowance made to these amount to $27,206, besider gratuities of $3,225.

One of my friends from the South, said Mrs. Dr. A. A. Jordan, 51 Lincoln street Worcester, Mass., spoke to me very highly of St. Jacobs Oil. I resolved to try it on my patients, and I must confess that I was surprised at the results. It has never failed to cure all that it claims to, and I prescribe it willingly and confidently to those of my patients who suffer with rheumatism, sprains and all bodily pains. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and I can highly recommend it.

A NEW CATTLE TRUCK.

Better times for the cattle and great saving as regards the mortality.

Montreal Gazette, 15th.

Yesterday morning a large number of cattle dealers and shippers assembled at the Grand Trunk cattle yards to witness the loading and unloading of a new cattle truck. Amongst those present were Messrs. Wainwright and Spicer, of the Grand Trunk, Messrs. Acer, Kennedy, P. S. Stephenson and others prominently engaged in the cattle trade.

The new car is similar to the old ones only a few feet longer, and with patent fittings for the separation and feeding of the cattle during their transit. Each animal is separated from its neighbor by means of a partition, which consists of a number of boards connected by chains and suspended from a pole. These boards are drawn across the car after the manner of window curtains, and when drawn back fold up like folding shutters. They reach to within about six inches of the bottom of the car; the whole framework being flexible, yielding to the pressure of the animal when it requires to lie down, or is thrown against it by a jerk occasioned in shunting. Along one side is a trough for the animals' water and food, and which is accessible by a small door to each partition from the outside. Under the old arrangement the cattle are packed together, no provision being made for feeding them or to enable them to lie down. Consequently in the journey from Chicago to Boston the cattle have to be removed from the cars three times, and kept in the yards eight hours on each occasion to give them food and rest. This delay is avoided by the new plan; but this is by no means the only advantage. Under the old arrangement the animals often get restive and gore one another, to say nothing of their being knocked together in shunting, and are often in very bad condition when they arrive at the port of shipment. It is to this that the great mortality on board ship is largely due. By the use of the new cars, therefore, there will be the saving of the loss of killed, maimed, bruised, and rendered unfit for human food, which has hitherto resulted from transport in the open and crowded cars; the saving of twenty-four hours in the journey from Chicago to the seaboard, of twenty-four hours feed, of the yard expenses, and the expenses of loading and unloading three times; of food and yard expenses at seaboard for those cattle which it is necessary to retain several days before they are fit for shipment; as well as a great reduction in the mortality connected with the sea voyage. Moreover, cattle now lose in the journey from Chicago about 100 pounds weight each, whereas cattle which have been transported in the new car were found to have lost only 22 pounds each. This new car was built by Mr. Jas Crossen, of Cobourg; the fittings being the invention of Mr. W. S. Hunter, of Belleville, and they have been patented in Canada, England, and the United States, the present owners of the patents being Messrs. W. S. Hunter, Thos. Fuller and W. J. Gilting.

The loading of the car yesterday morning was done in about eight minutes, and it is thought that when the men are used to the work it will be done still more expeditiously; the unloading occupied only about four minutes. The experts who were present expressed themselves very much pleased with the invention, and were unanimous in the opinion that for long journeys, at any rate, the new car is a very great improvement upon the old, though one or two large cattle dealers thought that for such journeys as that from Toronto to Montreal, the advantage would hardly be worth the extra expense—about $5 a car. It is, however, a mistake to look upon the matter from a pecuniary point of view only. Humanitarian considerations should have some place in the account, and from this point of view the improvement cannot be considered as less desirable. Some cattle exporters at Guelph and Toronto have already asked the Grand Trunk authorities to furnish them with cars with the new fittings, for the conveyance of cattle to Montreal. The majority of those present yesterday morning were very decided in their preference for the new arrangement, even for these comparatively short journeys. The Grand Trunk authorities have already given orders for new fittings for several cars, and there can be no doubt but they will very soon come into general use.

No stronger proof could possibly be given of the protection to animals which the Hunter cattle car gives them, than on a recent trial trip from Guelph to Montreal. There were seventeen cattle shipped at Guelph, and when the car arrived in Montreal eighteen were taken off. One of the cows had become a mother during the trip, and she and her offspring were as contented and in as good condition as they would have been under ordinary circumstances.

THE CLERICAL UNION.

Address by Rev. Mr. Burke.

The Bay of Quinte Clerical Union has been in session at Kingston this week. On Wednesday evening a closing religious service was held when addresses were delivered on the Parable of the Sower. The Rev. Mr. Burke, of Belleville, felt that the session of the Union had been a great blessing to the clergy, and would strengthen them for their duties among the people. The parable was in itself an example of the dignity of labor given at the hands of a Saviour who was himself a working man. In our various capacities, no matter how humble, we may yet bring a blessing on the world if we try. The seed falling by the wayside was emblematic of the Christian soul alive to God's work and eager to grasp it; yet only one part was fruitful. Still the three parts were not altogether thrown away, for they would accomplish some good purpose. We may not always get the answers we seek to our prayers, but God's will tends to some blessed end. He compared the wayside obstacles to the agencies of Satan, the unfailing adversary, and the good seed to the faithful service felt deep in the soul. The stony ground he compared with the circumstances of trial to a Christian, especially the sneer of the world and the sunshine of prosperity. It showed the necessity of the means of God's grace, for if we used our own graces we would find ourselves polluted in shallow soil. Trials were sent by God's hand and we should bear them.

Safe, Certain, Prompt, Ecomic.—These few adjectives apply with peculiar force to Dr. Thomas' EClectric Oil—a standard external and internal remedy, adapted to the relief and cure of coughs, sore throat, hoarseness and all affections of the breathing organs, kidney troubles, excorations, sores, lameness and physicial pain.

☞Those who suffer from bilious disorders and liver complaints, from acidity of the stomach, indigestion, debility and nausea, will find permanent relief from the use of Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills.

No more will he follow me on the street or cheer me with his presence at home. He, the companion and sharer of my joys, is gone. Oh, ye dogs! Here is a dog worthy of your emulation. Strive to imitate him. Try and walk in his footsteps, and then when you die you will be mourned. And now that he is dead what shall be done with the remains? Shall they be thrown in the river, or on some old ash heap, or buried in some unsanctified ground. Perish the thought. No, I will buy him a little coffin, and nice white flowers, and he shall be carefully laid out, and then buried in the cemetery. And when I die my only wish is, to be buried by his side, and there with him peacefully await the resurrection morn. Poor little dog, Requiescat in pace.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

In reply to a question from Mr. Cameron (Victoria) in the Dominion House on Wednesday, Sir Charles Tupper said that the Engineer-in-Chief had made a careful location in reference to the Trent Valley Canal, with the view of the construction of that work. Owing to the difficulty of the work the Engineer had reported verbally that he would not be able to complete the survey during the present year, but he expected shortly to make a progress report, and on that report the question would be considered whether the work would be proceeded with in part or in whole.

A TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Scattering Death and Destruction.

CHESTER, Feb. 17.—At eight o'clock this morning an explosion occurred at the pyrotechnic works of Professor Jackson. The building was shattered and burned. At least 15, and probably more lives were lost. Many were dangerously wounded. The building is the old homestead of Admiral Porter.

LATER.

A number of colored families lived in the Porter mansion. The building first took fire. While the firemen were playing on the flames a large crowd surrounded them. An explosion occurred scattering destruction far and wide. The number killed is between 15 and 20. About 20 are dangerously and 50 more or less seriously wounded. The dead are being laid in the city hall, and the wounded cared for in various drug stores. No accurate list can be obtained now. The scene is one of great excitement.

In Lowell, Mass., resides Mr. P. H. Short, proprietor of the Belmont Hotel, who suffered with rheumatism for seventeen years without finding relief from any of the numerous remedies employed, until he applied St. Jacobs Oil: "I never found any medicine that produced such remarkable and instantaneous effect as it did," says Mr. Short.

MOTHERS ! MOTHERS ! MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate he bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantegous shoice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture,

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

☞Furs at cost at Davenport's.

The Moira is open to the lower bridge. The water has been on the rise lately.

Shrove Tuesday and Ash Wednesday next week. The latter is the first day of Lent.

The name of the P. E. Co. Railway has been changed to that of the Central Ontario Railway.

The Globe is now printed on new type throughout, and presents a much improved appearance.

Captain Campbell, formerly of the steamer Hastings, is said to have cleared $25,000 by speculation in Manitoba property.

☞A large oil painting of the late David Jones will be on exhibition in Ford's window. It was painted by Mr. Mason, of Toronto, our new artist.

☞Furs not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

Sometime during last night the ice in the river below Coleman's dam broke up and moved down as far as the lower bridge.

We regret to learn that Mrs. E. Wood is not improving, and to-day is in a very weak state. Her friends feel anxious about her.

Our enterprising townsman, Ald. Frost, has stocked the building lately occupied by Mr. McIndoe in Trenton, with a choice lot of furniture.

☞Call early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

The police last night cooped two drunks and provided shelter for four tramps. They also found a Bridge-st. store door unlocked.

This morning Mrs. George Rumble arrived in the city from Kingston in search of her husband, who is the patentee of the famous iron ladders.

An effort is being made to induce the Holy-Hardie combination at present playing "Diplomacy" and "Child of the State" in Montreal, to visit this city.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

The complimentary concert to Miss O'Carroll will take place in the City Hall next Tuesday evening. The programme will be published to-morrow.

People from the north say there has been plenty of snow and good sleighing in that region for some time. The late mild spell changed the aspect, however.

Mr. Geo. Young, editor and proprietor of the Trenton Courier, apologizes for certain remarks made in his paper about Mr. H. M. Hicks, Headmaster of the High School. The apology is short but sweet.

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

This evening the concert by the M. E. Tabernacle Choir, assisted by the 15th. Battalion Band, will be held in the City Hall. Mr. J. H. Shepherd, of Toronto, and other well known local vocalists, will assist.

Last evening the Histrionic Association of this city played "Engaged" at Trenton to a large and appreciative audience. After the entertainment, a number of Trentonians entertained the members of the society at a ball.

The Maritoba fever is spreading. The Picton Times gives the names of a dozen or more who are leaving that town, and the same report comes from all quarters. Mr. John McFee left last night to make his fortune.

☞N. Davenport opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

A circular received from Post Office Inspector, Griffin, of Kingston, states that in all probability the mails will be conveyed over the Grand Junction Railway, commencing 1st March, leaving Belleville at 7 a.m. and Peterborough at 3 p.m.

At the Campbellford trotting races last week two Belleville horses were entered—"Little William" by Dr. Allan, and "Little Walter" by Mr. McGuire. The latter won the "county trot" and "open race" in three straight heats each. "Little William" was less fortunate.

On Easter Monday, (April 10th.) Division No. 8 of the Breaksmen Benevolent Association of Canada and the United States, will hold their first annual ball and supper. The ball will be held in the Oddfellow's Hall and the supper will be furnished at the Queen's Hotel. The Oddfellow's Orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Great Fur Sale.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. Davenport.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is not low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated low, it is that class who spend without earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is seiling a good comfortable overcoat for $3 95 and a servicable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

Phœnix Hall.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

This morning Mr. Harry Corby sold 175 cattle at his distillery to Mr. J. C. Coughlin, of London, Eng., for 6 c's per lb. live weight.

Discount Sale.—Please notice that Jas. Hennessy has decided to continue his great discount sale for 2 weeks longer. Do not fail to embrace the opportunity.

The Sportsmen Club will have a glass-ball practice on Friday afternoon next. All those who became members of the club before that date will have the privilege of shooting.

Mr. Alex. Robertson's condition is improving. A change for the better, we are informed, took place yesterday. Mrs. Lazier returned home on the midnight train last night. Dr. Abbott has been attending him.

☞There is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

Mr. J. A. Simmers, seed merchant of Toronto, sends us his "Cultivator's Guide" for 1882, which beside containing a large amount of very useful information for florists, horticulturists and others, is a very handsome piece of typography. Mr. Simmers deals largely in seeds of all kinds.

The Agricultural Association of the East Riding of Northumberland has passed a resolution inviting the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, of this city, to address the society at their regular meeting in June next on the subject of bee culture. The honorable gentleman is good authority on the apiarian art.

Mr. Wm. Meek, late mechanical foreman of the Kingston News, was in Belleville yesterday. Our old friend is looking remarkably well, having changed but little during the past decade. He still maintains his reputation as "the best job printer in Canada." We understand Mr. Meek intends opening a job office in Toronto. He will succeed.

☞Greatest opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

The anniversary services in connection with the City Mission will be held on Sunday and Monday next, in the City Hall. Sunday afternoon Rev. D. Mitchell will preach a special sermon, and Monday evening a public meeting will be held. We are sure there will be a large attendance on both occasions, as the Mission work is now so well established the citizens readily second every effort to increase its influence.

Elias Hikins of Milltown, who, it appears, had been taking a little too much fire-water during yesterday, woke up this morning below the market in his own rig, having slept there during the night. He had in his possession a buffalo robe, and as he could not conceive where he got it he left the article at the Police Station. It was claimed this morning by Thos. Curray, of Thurlow, who said it was taken from his barn during the night.

About 7:30 last evening P. C. Hayes arrested a man named Irwin Prince, of Tyendinaga, on Front-st. for being drunk. He was taken to the police station, and on being searched, a revolver was found on his person. At the police court to day the Magistrate fined him $2 for being drunk, and $20 for carrying fire arms—a rather expensive drunk. James McGivern, from "Young Ireland," was a little "full" last night and got run in. He was discharged this morning.

"Night and Day," a monthly record of Christian missions and practical philanthropy, edited by Dr. Barnardo, reaches us regularly. It gives interesting reports of what is being done by Christian charity to "rescue the perishing" and provide for the homeless and destitute of England. This work is sent post free to all subscribers, whether it is paid for or not, but as 50 cts. will defray the cost per annum, it is earnestly hoped that all who receive it will kindly remit that amount. Address Dr. T. J. Barnardo, 18 and 20, Stepney, Causeway, London, Eng.

Mitchell's hair dressing rooms will be re-opened on Monday next, Feb. 20th, in the Metropolitan Block, Campbell street—see small circulars. W. W. Mitchell,

To those who appreciate lectures of a high order we are pleased to be in a position to make the announcement that one of undoubted merit is to be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Jeffers, on Thursday evening next. The Doctor has been induced to give the one entitled "Emulation," which has been so favorably received in other places. Opportunities for our citizens to hear first-class lectures are so unfrequent that we shall be sorry to see any failure to embrace those offered, and especially in this case of one of our own citizens, whose platform addresses have acquired for him a reputation second to none as an orator. Let us show our appreciation for lectures of a high order by giving the rev. doctor, a bumper house. The admission fee is only 25 cents, so that all may be able to attend.

The Grand Lodge meeting of the Sons of England Benevolent Association has been in session at Oshawa during the week. Those present from Belleville were: Rev. Dr. Clarke, J. W. London, H. Tammadge, R. C. Hulme, and W. Alford. The two former composed the deputation appointed to attend the meeting. The others were present endeavoring to secure the privilege of organizing a degree lodge in connection with the local society, and in this they were successful. Rev. Dr. Clarke was appointed Grand Chaplain for Canada. The next meeting of the Grand Lodge will held in Toronto. Three of the deputation also visited Toronto and inspected the new organ for Christ Church now under course of construction at Warren & Son's factory. They returned home last night.

Artists.—Received at Geen's Drug Store a fresh stock of Moist Water Colours, Gold Paint Chinese White, also a stock Cakes for water colours, Oil Colour in Qubes Etc.

We ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Thursday, 16th.

The proceedings of the Commons to-day were again very brief. M. Girouard introduced his Bill respecting marriage with a deceased wife's sister, and Mr. M. C. Cameron two Bills amending the criminal law. Mr. Ives introduced a Bill to amend the election law by altering the nature of the money deposit. After passing a large number of motions for papers, the House adjourned.

In the House of Commons yesterday the last communication from the Dominion authorities to the Ontario Government relative to the Boundary Award matter was brought down. It defines at length the Dominion contention, and urges a settlement by means of a reference to one of three tribunals—the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the Supreme Court, or an eminent legal functionary. A decision in Canada would be preferred. It is denied that the Manitoba Boundary extension has complicated the question.

THE ONTARIA LEGISLATURE.

Thursday, 16th.

Several of the Government measures received second readings yesterday afternoon after being subjected to discussion. The Bill amending the Agricultural and Arts Act was generally approved by the members who spoke upon it. Mr. Wood explained that it was intended in future that the Association, instead of receiving a lump sum as a grant from the Government, should make a statement in detail of what money they required, the Government to be responsible in connection with its expenditure. Mr. Meredith, while characterizing the Bill as a half-way measure to precede the final dissolution of the Association, thought that the provisions of the Bill were on the whole in the public interest. Mr. Metcalfe said that the eastern portion of the Province was dissatisfied on the ground that the Provincial fairs were not more frequently held in that section. Mr. Graham thought that the days of the Provincial Fair were numbered, and Mr. Young held that the Association would become simply an advisory board. Similar views were expressed by other members.

The next measure dealt with was Mr. Fraser's Bill resspecting newspaper libel, which, as be explained, was a transcript of Imperial legislation on the subject. Mr. Meredith suggested that the protection granted to proprietors of newspapers should be accompanied by a provision for the registration of newspaper proprietors, so that the public, when aggrieved, might know who was responsible, and he was supported in this view by Mr. Morris. Mr. Fraser had considered the matter, and come to the conclusion that the benefit of such registration would not be worth the trouble involved. Mr. Creighton objected to the qualification that the meeting in respect of which journalists could claim immunity must be one "lawfully convened," contending with some force that it is impossible for a reporter to tell whether a meeting was "lawfully convened" or not.

The Attorney General's Bill to amend the law of evidence was considered, Mr. Mowat reviewing the different alterations in the law by which former disabilities had been removed, and urging its passage as in accordance with the wishes of high judicial authorities. Mr. Meredith agreed with the principle of the measure, and the second reading was carried after a short debate, the only objection coming from Mr. French, who feared that it would tend to 'un-christianize Canada,' and contended that the Bradlaugh scenes in the Imperial House were due to the adoption of a similar law in England.

☞One cold after another will, with many constitutions, securely establish the seeds of consumption in the system. Those in need of a remedy will find Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam always prompt, thorough and efficacious.

Spurious.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—It is said Mrs. Scoville's alleged letter to Mrs. Garfield is spurious.

Lawlessness.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 17.—Five men have been shot in this county within a week, two mortally.

Three Men Injured.

The derreck used in removing the debries of old World building fell yesterday; three men were injured.

Denies the Report.

Vanderbilt denies the report that he has purchased the interest of McIntyre in the Canadian Pacific Railway Syndicate.

He Offers 10 cts.

M. W. Robinson, dry goods, Jackson, Mich., proposes to compromise with creditors here at 10 cents on the dollar. Liabilities $116,000.

Supposed Lost.

The ship "Constantine" sailed for London Nov. 18th and has not since been heard from. It is feared she is lost with all on board, namely: Capt., wife and two children, and 18 men.

Another Crank.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 17.—Enos Sylvester, aged 35, Wednesday night, attempted to destroy a six year-old son, while under the insane delusion that he had been called upon by Christ to sacrifice his child as a burnt offering. He was arrested.

Fatal Railway Accident.

New York, Feb. 17.—A freight train on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, ran off the track last evening near Mt. Vernon Joseph Ketchell, brakeman was killed. Conductor Phelps was seriously wounded.

Down on Tamany.

The Herald's Albany special says the Democrat State Committee will seriously consider a proposal to issue an address in conjunction with the Democrats of the Legislature declaring the Tammany organization as at presented constituted, can no longer be recognized as a Democrat body.

A Priests Marriage.

Winslow, Conn., Feb. 17,—Father Agudi, assistant priest of St. Josephs Church (Catholic) recently left here ostensibly to attend a priest's convention at Boston. It is now ascertained he went to New Haven, married a young lady, and is now keeping a restaurant in Bridge Port.

In the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Toronto Feb. 17th. '82

Strong northerly to north westerly winds, fair, decidedly colder weather, with snow flurries.

MADOC ITEMS.

—The "beautiful" has gone, and mud prevails.

—A number of teams and men have returned from the shanties.

—Our new woollen mill has "gone up," at least, so it would seem.

—Quiet prevails on our streets at night now. Our Chief is doing his duty.

—John Dale & Son are making a slaughter in sap buckets by offering them at cost.

—Model School entertainment again next Tuesday evening. There should be a good turnout, as this may be the last of the season.

—Our Chief should keep a sharp watch of the "Victoria Block" nights, especially the upper stories.

—The Madoc winter races will take place on Hog Lake, the 1st and 2nd of March next. A number of large prizes are offered.

—It is said that one Thompson, blacksmith, of this village, was the party who notified the Robinson boys of Chief McKinnon's arrival on Friday night last. If this is true, he should be "tared and feathered."

—Master Willie Wood, editor of the Star, of this village, gave a party on Thursday night last. Quite a number were present and spent a pleasant evening.

—The "Syndicate" auction sale is still going on, and is a regular nuisance to our merchants.

—The Bible Readings were given by Mr. Benson Peters on Wednesday evening last: subject—Faith. There should be greater interest taken in these readings.

—Mr. Fred. W. Davis left on Wednesday morning to join the "B." Battery, Kingston.

—The new school teacher is getting along nicely in the Model School. The boys say he uses plenty of "strap oil," however.

—It is the fashion now after taking your girl out for a ride to let her get out of the rig without assistance about a half a mile from her home, and let her walk the rest of the way. Those who follow this style evidently have lost their manners on the Q. and O. railway track.

—We understand there has been nothing heard of the two "Album frauds" as yet, who paid this village a visit last week. The memory of their presence, however, still lingers.

—The convention of the North Hastings Teachers' Association was held in the Model School on Saturday last. A large number of teachers, both from this and adjoining counties were in attendance, and were, no doubt, much benefitted by the instructions received by these gatherings.

—The Bible Readings carried on by the young people in connection with the Methodist Church of Canada, will undoubtedly be of great benefit to them in storing their minds with a knowledge of the Gospel. The subject of "The Tongue" will be taken up by S. F. Weaver next Wednesday evening.

—Mr. Geo. Pound and Miss Addie Wert, were united in the bonds of matrimony on the 8th inst., by Rev. J. Walker, at the residence of the bride's father, Bannockburn. Mr. M. Maybee, undertaker, and Chief Sills were present.

Tattler.

A Village merchant says: "Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment is taking the shine off all the liniments I sell. Would you like any certificates? If you would, say so, and I can send dozens from the best of my customers.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

Is it a Humbug? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Professors Connor and Lyons, of the Detroit Medical College, say: "We have used Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya with great satisfaction and think it will accomplish that for which it is recommended. We have exhibited it to our Academy of Medicine, and, in other ways, have brought it to the notice of a large number of physicians. It being a good thing, we are pleased to do more than is our custom to learn its virtues and exhibit them to others."

EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company!

OF WATERLOO - - - ONT.

(Established 1868.)

has just closed its twelfth year, which has been the most successful year in its history. The following figures show the progress the company has made during the last three years.

Policies issued in 1879 were 427 for $490,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1880 were 908 for $1,157,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1881 were 1,426 for $2,000,000 of Assurance.

Such rapid progress shows that the public appreciate economical management, annual cash dividends, and promptness in paying claims.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

'He is very handsome!' murmured Julie, in a thoughtful tone, half to herself. 'He has dark hair and eyes, too. But I should think, from the expression of his face, he might be passionate—is he so?'

'His temper is hasty at times,' admitted Ethel, rather unwillingly, 'but,' she added, as if in mitigation, 'he is generous and warm-hearted, and——'

Her voice died away as a crowd of terrible thoughts rushed into her mind, and seemed to give the lie to her words.

Her companion took up the subject for her.

'Most hasty dispositions are so,' she said, 'I have known many people of violent tempers who were very generous and affectionate, notwithstanding. Your lover is one of those, I am sure.'

Ethel sighed once more, as she replied—'He is not my lover now.'

'Indeed!' exclaimed Julie, in a tone of surprise. 'What, then—have you ceased to love him?' she asked, with some little hesitation.

Ethel covered her face with her hands, and made no answer.

'Ah, pauvre enfant,' exclaimed the young French girl, pityingly, 'I understand; it is not you who have ceased to love him; it is he that has ceased to love you, the traitor!'

'He is not so much to blame,' murmured Ethel, with a hard sob that shook her whole frame; 'it is the fault of others more than his.'

'Ah! yes,' murmured Mademoiselle Fonblanque, in a reflective tone, 'I understand that too; there is never an Eden but there is a serpent. Then your love has been crossed—marred by some power too strong to be resisted?' she continued, hastily, in a eager tone of inquiry.

'Yes,' faltered Ethel.

'Ah! well,' went on the young Frenchwoman, soothingly, 'the power of evil may triumph for a time, but only for a time. The good angel hovers over you still, and will eventually put the fiend to flight.'

Ethel only shook her head mournfully, like one that has lost hope.

'And where is your lover now?' asked Julie, presently.

'He has gone far away across the sea,' returned Ethel, with a quivering voice.

'Is he a sailor?' inquired her friend.

'Yes.'

'Sailors are fickle and faithless as the element on which they live!' muttered Julie to herself; 'but even they are not al alike.'

She took up the portrait once more, and looked at it earnestly.

'A handsome face,' she continued, in a same low tone of soliloquy—'very handsome; there is nothing treacherous in it. I almost feel I would love one like that.'

As she uttered these words, the miniature detached itself from the case, and fell on its face upon the table.

Mademoiselle Fonqlanque uttered an exclamation of alarm.

'Oh, mon Dieu! if I have injured it I shall never forg——'

She stopped abruptly, and her attention became absorbed in some writing on the back of the miniature.

Her lips moved slowly as she read the following words—

'Given by Lionel Falconer to his beloved Ethel, on the afternoon of July 25, in the Elm Tree Lane, Marlwood.'

There must have been something more than the mere inscription that caused the reader to start from her seat, and repeat one word only in a tone of great surprise.

This one word was 'Marlwood.'

Ethel was too much absorbed in the reflections the well-remembered inscription had recalled to notice this, or she would have been probably surprised herself.

The young Frenchwoman recovered herself in an instant, and glanced cautiously towards her companion with an expression almost of alarm on her features, to see the effect her involuntary act had taken upon her.

Finding, however, that Ethel took not the slightest notice, her face resumed its usual placidity, and she said, in a tone of sad pathos—

'He loved you very dearly, m'amie, when he gave you this, and wrote these words.'

'Oh, yes,' returned poor Ethel, in a choked tone, as though the memory of the past were an agony almost unbearable. 'He loved me then; there was no cloud between us then.'

'No, no,' murmured the young French girl, shaking her head slowly. 'It was bright July then; the clouds came after.'

There was a pause, and then she said—

'Lionel Falconer sounds like a great name—un nom illustre. He must have been of good family, rich——'

'He was of a good family,' Ethel replied; 'but its wealth had passed away, and he is now poor.'

'Oh, how sad! What a pity!' exclaimed Julie, in a disappointed tone. 'Of what use is name, or title, or without family wealth to sustain it? However, ma chere, it gives you the less to regret.'

'I did not love Lionel for his wealth,' returned Ethel, almost indignantly. 'I loved him for himself. He would have been the same to me had he been a beggar.'

'Yes, yes, of course,' replied her friend. 'But still there is such a power in riches; they open to us so many avenues to pleasure.'

The tone of the speaker was more than eager.

It was almost gloating as she hinted at the joys it was in the power of wealth to bestow.

Again Ethel felt a strange sensation of disappointment at the words of her friend.

It grieved her to think that Julie was, after all, only a devotee at the shrine of Mammon.

But she only replied, in a low, serious voice.

'Riches do not bring happiness.'

There was a tinge of reproof in Ethel's tone, and Mademoiselle Fonblanque saw in a moment that she had for the second time sunk in her friend's estimation.

For the second time she essayed to raise herself to her former level.

'I admit, ma chere, she said, 'that riches do not always bring happiness; but still wealth gives to its possessor an immense power of making others happy—of doing good.'

She clasped her hands rapturously, and looked up with a smile of almost seraphic sweetness, as she continued—

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcul which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King,s renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole system is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

A LITTLE WHILE.

A LITTLE while, O hands
Of labor weary;
The days of toil are short,
Though dark and dreary;
The coming time is glad and, blest
With full and perfect peace and rest,
After a little while.

A little while, O feet
All torn and bleeding;
This way will bring thee home,
And Christ is leading.
Soon thou shalt find cool waters sweet
And pleasant pathways for thy feet,
After a little while.

A little while, O eyes,
Thy love watch keeping;
A few more bitter tears.
Then no more weeping,
Beyond the reach of grief and pain
Thy loved ones thou shalt see again,
After a little while.

A little while, O brow,
With fever burning;
These hours of noonday heat
Have no returning;
Life's later hours are full of calm,
And eventide shall bring thee balm.
After a little while.

A little while, O heart,
When sorrow breaking,
A few more hours of night,
And then comes waking;
And lasting comfort shall be given
When breaks the golden day of heaven,
After a little while.

OUR CITIZENSHIP

A New Year Meditation.

BY REV. HORATIUS BONAR, D.D.

'Our conversation (or citizenship) is in heaven, whence we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ." Such is the apostle's brief picture of a Christian man. He is one who has come out from the cities of earth, who has broken the ties of worldly citizenship, and has come into the possession of higher and more enduring privileges than those which he has given up. Such was apostolic Christianity; such was the standing of primitive believers; such was the hope of which they had taken sure hold. This citizenship of theirs was no uncertainty. They knew beyond doubt to what city they belonged. Just as they could say, each for himself, "I am of Rome," or "I am of Corinth," or "I am of Ephesus," or "I am of Antioch,"so with equal certainty they could each of them say, "I am of Jerusalem;" not the Jerusalem of Judea, but the Jerusalem that cometh down from Heaven. It was this certainty that nerved, and animated, and comforted them. A doubtful citizenship would have profited them nothing; for however glorious the thing itself might be if they were not sure of it being theirs, it could not quicken or sustain. A mere peradventure will do little for us in such a case. It is a broken reed.

1. What is this Citizenship?—It is a title to all the rights and privileges of the promised city of God, the Heavenly Jerusalem; so that, though here possessing nothing, we possess all things. The city has become our city; the glory has become our glory; the blessedness has become our blessedness. Just as a native of London, resident in Calcutta, could say, "London is my city," so we, though sojourners here in a land of strangers, can say with all assurance, "The New Jerusalem is my city; I belong to it, and it belongs to me. I may dwell for a while in other places, in any of the cities of earth, but they are not mine. I belong to a city yet to come. I have a home, but it is above these clouds; I have a dwelling, but it is not in any of the streets of earth. My tent may be anywhere below, but my city of habitation, my home of eternity, is above these stars, and beyond that firmament. There I expect ere long to be, and my link to it is stronger and closer than any of the links of earth."

II. How does it begin?—It begins at the cross; it begins with my believing the Father's testimony to His beloved Son. That belief secures my sonship, my heirship, my citizenship. My reception of Christ brings me at once into possession of the city of which Christ is King. I am justified by faith, and that which justifies me warrants me in claiming the city as mine. I turn my back upon the world and its cities, and I see my face steadfastly towards Zion. "Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God." Such is the immediate result of a believed Gospel; such is the certain conclusion which I am entitled to draw from my acceptance of the good news. Let us not puzzle ourselves by attempting to analyze our own acts of faith or process of trust; let us take faith with all the simplicity in which God presents it to us in His Word, and rejoice that, if His promise holds good, we have become citizens of the eternal city by believing the glad tidings concerning the completed work of the Substitute on the cross.

III. How do we keep it?—Not by any violent effort or laborious struggle, but by continuing in that which at first made us citizens—faith in the Son of God. "We are made partakers of Christ if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end." The beginning was "believeing," the middle is "believeing," the end is "believeing." We retain our hold of the citizenship in the same way as we first got hold of it. In continuing to believe we continue in the possession of all our citizen rights. Nothing but unbelief can come between us and Christ; so nothing but unbelief can come between us and the city. Our faith is from first to last "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

IV. What it does for us.—Many are the things which it does for us; but let us note such things as the following:—

1. It separates us from the world "Come ye out and be separate," is the voice from the celestial city. That which drew us to the things above drew us away from the things below. What is the world now to us, when the world to come is ours? What have we to do any longer with the vanities of earth or the companionships of the world? This is not our rest. Here we have no continuing city, but we seek one to come. The attractions of earth have lost their power. They dazzle no more, they allure us no more, they drag us down no more. Our taste for them is gone. Our relish for their sweetness has disappeared. Our admiration for their beauty has been turned into indifference or dread.

2. It makes us holy men.—Shining down on us from on high, which its transforming radiance, is changes us from glory to glory, and we,

Like the stained web that whitens in the sun,
Grow pure by being purely shone upon.

As we read the two closing chapters of the Revelation, where the city is pictured to us, so brilliantly yet so softly, we feel this moulding influence, and as we read we seem to see the city itself, and to take on its ineffable purity. Gazing on the Holy City, we become holy men. Like city, like dwellers in it.

3. It strengthens us for suffering and conflict.—Citizens of such a city, shall we despond in trial or shrink back in the day of battle? No. By all that is fair, and bright, and holy in that city, we cheer and nerve ourselves in the evil day. So soon to be within its halls, and tread its golden streets, shall we play the coward, and give way before the enemy?

Many years ago, when traversing the desert of Sinai, in company with some Christian brethren, I felt the oppressive heat at noon, and took up the subject with one of my companions riding at my side. He complained of the overpowering heat, and said he felt as if he must give way under it. "Indeed," said he to me, "I could not have stood it even thus far had it not been for one text in Scripture."

"What is that text?" I asked.

"That in the 122nd Psalm, 'Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.'"

We were moving northward at the time, and were on the borders of the land, expecting to enter the Holy City in a few days. The prospect of entering the earthly Jerusalem sustained him under the desert heat; and shall not the prospect of so soon entering the heavenly Jerusalem comfort and uphoid us as we move onward over the scorching sand of this waste, howling wilderness? Yonder is Jerusalem—press forward

4. It animates us in work for the Lord of the city. That work here may often be hard and heavy for flesh and blood, but the toil will soon be at an end; and the city will more than compensate us for all our weariness below. He for whom we labor deserves all our service, and ere long He will requite us for every hour's labor undergone for Him. Amid the splendours of the city we shall forget the weariness of the way which led to it. It says to us morning by morning, Go, labor on!

Our citizenship! It is secured? And do we calmly pass into another year, knowing that if we are not to see the end of 1882 here, we shall see it in the heavenly city, which will be far better? Are we peacefully looking into the threatening clouds of the future, and saying, "All is well"? Do we accept our present lot of trouble, or disappointment, or pain, or poverty, and, measuring it by the coming glory, do we take up the apostle's challenge, "None of these things move me," or "I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed"?

Our citizenship. Are we living in conformity to it, separated from this present evil world, and taking on more deeply and distinctly the impress of the world to come? Is the brightness of the city which hath foundations shinning down on us through the mists of earth, changing us day by day into the likeness of its own perfection? Are the things that are seen and temporal becoming more and more invisible, and the things unseen and eternal more and more vivid and visible? Are we losing sight of the things which are behind, and getting into the nearer and fuller vision of the things before?

Our citizenship! It is a real thing to us not a dream, or a shadow, or an abstraction, but one of the truest of all true things, as well as one of the most blessed of all blessed hopes? Citizens of no mean city! Citizens of the joyous city! Citizens of the New Jerusalem that cometh down out of Heaven from God! If all this is true and real, what manner of persons ought we to be in all holy conversation and goodliness? If especially the city is coming every day nearer; If our salvation is no so much nearer than when first we believed; if another stage of time is past, and a new one, whose end we may never see, about to begin, are we not to feel our responsibilities deepening? Shall we not rise to a higher level during the coming year, and live a more useful as well as a more holy and self-denying life?

"Now is our salvation nearer than when we believed." Thus we enter on the year 1882. What an amount of motive is embodied in these Divine words!

Now is the city nearer than when first we believed! That city, whether far off or near, furnishes us with motives for usefulness and holy living of no common kind.

Now is the Lord Himself nearer than when first we believed! This is a motive higher and more powerful still. Near and nearer, lo, He comes! Are our loins girded and our lamps burning? Are our prospects really inflencing our daily life? Shall they not tell powerfully upon the coming year, making it for us, whatever it may be for the world, a truer, nobler higher level of our pilgrimage than any through which we have passed.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says "Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

THAT BOY.

An Indiana farmer went to Washington the other day and put up at the Ebbitt House. He had let his boy go out in the evening on promise of coming back at 8 o'clock. At 9 o'clock he announced that the boy had never been 50 miles away from home in his life; at 9.30 he asked the clerk to "jest trot him right up stairs by the scruff of the neck when he comes in, an' bring up a strap." At 10 o'clock he said: "You jest shut the house right up, put out the lights, an' let him stay out all night, the darn little fool!"

Mr. John Wood, with the American Pottery Co., Trenton, was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of an attack of rheumatism, which had confined him to bed for seventeen weeks, and his case was thought worthy of mention by the Trenton (N. J.) Gazette. He praises it unstintedly everywhere he goes.

N. McRae, Wyebridge, writes:—"I have sold large quantities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; It is used for colds, sore throat, croup, &c., and in fact for any affection of the throat it works like magic. It is a sure cure for burns, wounds and bruises."

Safe, Certain, Prompt, Ecomic.—These few adjectives apply with peculiar force to Dr. Thomas' EClectric Oil—a standard external and internal remedy, adapted to the relief and cure of coughs, sore throat, hoarseness and all affections of the breathing organs, kidney troubles, excorations, sores, lameness and physicial pain.

"MY DEAD DOG."

Dear Mr. Editor—My little dog is dead. This announcement may cause a smile to pass over the face of some thoughtless reader, but to me it produces pain and anguish. Yes, my dog is dead. Stark—staring dead. He, whom I have so long nourished and cherished—whom I fed on the best hotel food—whose every wish I anticipated—whose cute and cunning ways endeared him to all, is dead. Oh, Mr. Editor, just think, those dear eyes will never more silently tell me of love so neep, so true. No more will that sweet and resonant voice bow-wow to me of pain or hunger or tell me of love. No more will he follow me on the street or cheer me with his presence at home. He, the companion and sharer of my joys, is gone. Oh, ye dogs! Here is a dog worthy of your emulation. Strive to imitate him. Try and walk in his footsteps, and then when you die you will be mourned. And now that he is dead what shall be done with the remains? Shall they be thrown in the river, or on some old ash heap, or buried in some unsanctified ground. Perish the thought. No, I will buy him a little coffin, and nice white flowers, and he shall be carefully laid out, and then buried in the cemetery. And when I die my only wish is, to be buried by his side, and there with him peacefully await the resurrection morn. Poor little dog. Requiescat in pace.

Yours in grief,
TEARS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—Miss Romaine has at last entered an action for breach of promise of marriage against Mr. McLean of the law firm of Walker & McLean, Ottawa. It will be remempered that the ceremony was cut somewhat short through the intervention of a friend of McLean's entering the church and whispering something in his ear as the couple knelt before the altar awaiting the vows which would make them man and wife.

WEDDED AND SEPARATED IN A DAY.—A few days ago a wedding was celebrated at the Metropolitan church in Toronto. The bridegroom had come from the States to claim as his bride a Toronto girl. The ceremony was performed without any unusual event occurring and both contracting parties made the usual responses without hesitation. Strange to relate, the bride no sooner left the church than she refused to accompany her husband further. Despite his entreaties she returned to her home and would not allow him to see her. He immediately departed for the States, and she has since followed him to procure a divorce.

GOOD THRESHING.—A very nice little piece of work in threshing was accomplished by Mr. D. Stockdale, of Percy, on the premises of Mr. David Johnston, lot 12 in the 9th concession of Seymour, one day last week. In the space of eight hours he separated forty bushels of clover seed from its stalk, and was quite able to eat a hearty meal afterwards.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION, vital weakness, debility from over-work or indiscretion is radically and promptly cured by that great nerve and brain food known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine which is sold by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column.

WHOOPING-COUGH.—If your children are suffering with this distressing malady and nearly coughing themselves to death, send to your Druggist and buy a bottle of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM and relief, we can confidently assure you, will be immediate and sure.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP,'

were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

JOSEPH A. EVANS, at Clifton, N. B, thus writes to Mr. Fellows:—"I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter. The latter from Tubercular Consumption and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

DR. LLOYD, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co, proprietors of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your LUNG BALSAM that I am now alive and enjoying good health.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of GRAY'S SYRUP OF RED SPRUCE GUM in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large. No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medicine. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A VEXED CLERGYMAN.

Even the patients of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store.

IF PEOPLE WILL CHEW

they should counteract the injurious effect of tobacco upon the teeth, with the sterling preservative and purifier, SOZODONT, which not only whitens the teeth and renders the gums healthy, but banishes from the breath every objectionable odor. Certain tooth powders, pastes and washes, although they cleanse, also injure the dental enamel, but this matchless toilet auxiliary preserves and strengthens it. Its origin is botanic and its flavor and odor delightful.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Is an iron tonic, prepared expressly to supply the blood with its iron element. Being free from alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron constitution. It is an excellent substitute for wine or brandy where a stimulent is needed. Sold by all druggists.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

Hagyards Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS

and grew no better but rather worse Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies advertised, with no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he, says he feels young again, and is overjoyey at his wonderful recovery.

DAILY ONTARIO

SATURDAY FEB. 18, 1882.

—Mr. Gladstone says the supremacy of the British Parliament in Ireland must be maintained. They cannot give Ireland what is refused to Scotland. This settles the question of his favoring Home Rule.

—Messrs. Ritchie and McMullen, proprietors of the Central Ontario Railway, have had an interview with the Minister of Customs and Minister of Finance, urging an increase on the duty of pig iron. They propose to engage in the smelting of iron in Ontario.

—The cereal estimate for 1881, which has been completed at Washington, shows that in no other year since the inauguration of crop reporting has there been such general disaster, involving corn wheat, barley, buckwhrat, and rye. The aggregate product of all cereals shows a decrease of 24 per cent.

University students in Canada and the United States seem to be unusually lively this year. At Ann Arbor, Mich., they have Bycotted a newspaper, opera house, and all persons advertising in the objectionable paper. It seems that a student was arrested at the opera house for disorderly conduct, and the paper severely condemned the action of the students. This gave offence and from 600 to 1,000 students attended the meeting at which the Boycotting resolutions were adopted

One remark by the Provincial Treasurer, in his budget speech, is worthy of special notice He said the expenditure per capita in Ontario, for different purposes, was considerably less than it was in Quebec. There was, however, one exception. Ontario spent much more for educational purposes than the sister province. This is the secret of our superior progress. Knowledge is power, and the Mowat Government believes with Lord Elgin that "education is the glory of Canada."

Mr. M. C. Cameron has introduced into the Commons two bills to amend the criminal law. The first proposes to repeal 41 vic., cap. 18, and provides that on summary or other trials of any person upon complaint or information, or indictment for misdemeanor, the defendant shall be a competent witness for the prosecution or on his own behalf, and that on any such trial the wife or husband of the defendant shall be a competent witness for the defendant. Another Bill proposes to extend the Act respecting offences against the person, so as to make punishable as incest any sexual intercourse between step-father or stepdaughter, stepmother and stepson, parent and child, brother and sister. The punishment to be imprisonment for two to ten years in the penitentiary, with or without whipping.

LIQUOR LICENSE FEES.

The sixth annual report of the Provincial Secretary on the working of the Tavern and Shop License Acts was received several days ago. We summarize the principal information as follows:—The Provincial revenue from this source for 1880-1 was $89,208.14. During the five years preceding the introduction of the Act—from 1871 to 1875—there were issued 29,199 licenses, or an average of 5,840 each year—During the succeeding five years—from 1875 to 1880 there were issued 19,398 licenses, or an average of 3,880 per year—a reduction of nearly one-third. The gross amount collected in the different municipalities for 1880-81, in respect to licenses, fines, &c., was $417,797.06. Of this $274,167.32 was paid to the municipalities as their proportion; $89,207.14 was paid to the Province; and the balance was expended in payment of salaries and travelling expenses of Inspectors, &c. The number of persons committed to the County Jails for drunkenness during the year was 3,328, a very gratifying decrease.

In West Hastings there were issued 37 ordinary licenses, 7 shop licenses, and 3 wholesale licenses. In East Hastings there were 27 ordinary, and 2 shop licenses granted. In North Hastings, 24 ordinary and 5 shop licenses were issued. The amount of fines collected in West Hastings was $260; amount paid in respect of Commissioners and salaries of Inspectors, $493.81. East Hastings, fines collected, $100; paid Commissioners, &c,, $515. North Hastings, fines collected, $60; paid Commissioners, &c., $493. There were 35 persons committed to jail in the whole county for drunkenness.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

About 1,000 cords of stave bolts have been delivered at the new barrel factory in Picton.

The Emerson Express says a dozen real estate offices are opened in that town nearly every day. The Gateway City is a rival to Winnipeg in this respect.

Four hunters ran a fox into the ground the other day, at Salmon Point, and, laying their guns aside, began to investigate the situation, when all at once Reynard made a bold dash for liberty, making good his escape.

Mr. D. A. O'Sullivan of Toronto and a native of Seymour Township, is winning fame as an author. He has published the "Manual of Government of Canada," and has in press another work on "Conveyancing in Canada."

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiency. In Bottles, 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

THAT DEAD DOG.

Much interest felt in the Case.

The announcement in last night's Ontario that Fido had died at the Dafoe House, and that his funeral obsequies were conducted with great pomp and solemnity, created a profound sensation in the community, where the deceased was well and favorably known. There were hundreds of interested enquirers at our office before six o'clock, all anxious to know the particulars of Fido's sickness and death. Every available copy of the Ontario was gobbled up at Brandon lot prices, and then the demand was not half satisfied. The announcement took people by surprise, as they were not aware that the dog was ill Only a few days ago he was seen on the street looking as fat and sleek as usual. Some were disposed to find fault with the funeral ceremonies. They insisted that the church bells should have tolled, and a minister been engaged to read the burial service over the grave. Fido was not a heathen dog. He was a 19th century christian dog. A prominent legal gentleman, considerably excited, demanded that an inquest be held on the body, and that a resurrection take place for that purpose. He was sure the County Crown-Attorney would issue his order when the circumstances were laid before him. There is no medical certificate to satisfy the public that the death was natural and unavoidable. The dog may have received an over-dose of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup, or too much hotel hash. As it is, there is some mystery about the case, and the public would like to know just what did kill poor Fido.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The prevailing opinion is that Mr. Kirkpatrick's bill regarding ticket scalping will be thrown out again this year on the second reading.

The Senators have worked so hard since the present session opened they want a holiday, so it was moved yesterday that an adjournment take place until next Thursday. This will give the dear "old grannies" time to recuperate their exhausted faculties.

The deputation from Prince Edward County, want the duty on pig iron increased to $7 per ton, the same as levied in the U. S.

The Orange Incorporation bills will be considered in Committee on Tuesday next.

Mr. Orton will introduce a bill respecting pawnbrokers on Monday next.

Mr. Bannerman wants the government to send a fast steam revenue cutter to Hudson Bay. Now there is a splendind chance to utilize the Charybdis.

Mr. Charlton intends moving for some interesting statistics with regard to exports and imports of the Dominion for the six months ended December 31, 1881.

Mr. Blake intends to move on Monday next that it is expedient to discontinue the arrangements for keeping female convicts at Dorchester Penitentiary, and to provide for their transfer to Kingston, as is done in the case of the Quebec female convicts.

One of my friends from the South, said Mrs. Dr. A. A. Jordan, 51 Lincoln street Worcester, Mass. spoke to me very highly of St. Jacobs Oil. I resolved to try it on my patients, and I must confess that I was surprised at the results. It has never failed to cure all that it claims to, and I prescribe it willingly and confidently to those of my patients who suffer with rheumatism, sprains and all bodily pains. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and I can highly recommend it.

MIDLAND RAILWAY OF CANADA.

Peterborough, Ont., Feb. 16, '82.

The traffic of the above Railway for the ending Feb. 11, 1882, was as follows:—

Passengers and Mails, $4702.15; Freight $7767.34; Total, $14469.49 as compared with $8005,43 for the corresponding week of 1881, being an increase of $6504 06; and the aggregate traffic to this date is $75652.77, being an increase of $29689.09 over 1881.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Friday 17th.

The Senate sat for an hour yesterday. Among the petitions presented was one asking for a divorce, and another of steamboat owners praying for a reduction of the duty on coal. Several motions for returns were passed.

In the Commons the session was equally short. Sir Leonard Tilley announced that he would submit the estimates on Tuesday and make his budget speech on Friday. He promised the report of the Factory Commission on Monday or Tuesday.

In reply to inquiries, Sir John Macdonald intimated that the Government would introduce a measure to render uniform throughout the Dominion the franchise for electing members of the Commons. A number of motions for returns were passed, and at 4 o'clock the House adjourned till Monday.

TAKEN OUT OF BED.

Dr. R. V. Pierce Buffalo N. Y.: Dear Sir—I have to thank you for the great relief received from your 'Favorite Prescription.' My sickness had lasted seven years, one of which I was in bed After taking one bottle I was able to be about the house. Respectfully,
AMANDA K. ENNIS, Fulton Mich.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Friday, Feb. 17th.

The House got through a good deal of Committee work and other business yesterday afternoon. After route Mr. White, in somewhat bad taste, complained of the interruptions of the work of the Standing Committee by reason of some of the Ministers attending an election in Osgoode Hall in their capacity of benchers. He was neatly sat on by Mr. Pardee, who characterized his remarks as unworthy of a reply. Mr. Wigle, under pretence of rising to a question of privilege respecting a speech of Mr. Hay's indulged in some glorification over the South Simcoe election. A number of Bills received second readings and passed through Committee, the only measure which called for much debate being the Agricultural and Arts Bill, the general opinion being favourable to the principle involved. Mr. Wood indicated that under the new order of things Provincial Exhibitions would probably be held once every four or five years. The debate covered a wide range of topics connected with the Exhibition system. Mr. Hay spoke at some length, his remarks, many of which were altogether irrelevant, giving rise to frequent interruptions from the Opposition, the rules of order being for a time ignored. The Committee reported progress.

The Bill for removing defects in the law of evidence was considered in Committee, all the clauses being adopted excepting that relating to testimony in cases of adultery, which was allowed to stand over.

OUR FATHERS—WHERE ARE THEY.

Reminiscences of the Early Settlement of the Old Bay of Quinte District.

AN UNNECESSARY ALARM.

Writers on both sides of the revolutionary struggle have painted their opponents in anything but pleasing colors. Some of the crimes charged are exceedingly fiendish, worthy the vindictive conceit of savages. The American historians, with the single exception of Larenzo Sabine, heaped up monuments of enormities to disgrace the old Tory party, especially certain well-known regiments in the loyal army. The regiment particularly honored in this respect was the celebrated "Butler's Rangers," who, if half what has been imputed to them was true, were indeed desperate characters. On the other hand, our forefathers related hideous tales of wonton cruelty perpetrated by the rebel forces upon defenceless women and children Such reports gained credence among the first settlers of the Bay of Quinte, and were transmitted to their descendants with intensified meaning. Probably not half the reports thus circulated were true, but so strong a hold did they have upon the public mind that when the war of 1812 began a wide-spread alarm was manifested throughout the Bay settlement. The want of a sufficient force to guard the extensive coast, which almost everywhere admits of landing, it was feared would expose the settlers to predatory visits from the enemy.

They believed that the American soldiers of 1812 were representatives of those their fathers encountered in the Revolutionary struggle, and that having old scores to settle they would not fail to embrace the chance offered by the renewal of hostilities.

Our information concerning this feeling refers chiefly to those inhabiting that part of Prince Edward County known as Indian Point, in the township of Marysburg. Whether from their greater exposure, or a want of faith in the Yankee, we cannot say, but an apprehension of danger prevailed there to an alarming extent, which considerably interfered with domestic concerns, and kept them in a fever of excitement for a long time. Houses and moveable property were constantly guarded, for fear of a sudden descent upon them by the dreaded foe. Their slumbers were disturbed by visions of plunder and rapine, and every uncertain sound aroused them to an expectation of something horrible awaiting them.

In the summer of 1813, just before harvest time, a rumor was circulated that two sails belonging to the enemy were then in the vicinity, and in fact they were occasionally seen from the shore. This intelligence was sufficient to put the whole neighborhood in a furore of excitement; the women moaned piteously and became hysterical with fear; the children wept to keep them company, while the "lords of creation" made desperate efforts to vindicate their manhood by hasty preparations for flight and protection. Valuables were buried; what could not be removed was secreted as best they could; and then gathering up provisions, clothing and bedding, many families sought refuge in the midst of fields of wheat, where they remained concealed for several days. In the meantime they expected the humble abodes they had deserted were being pillaged, and mayhap burned by piratical Yankees. Subsequent events proved the futility of all this apprehension of evil.

The Americans did visit the settlement but not for hostile purposes. They were in quest of provision and other necessaries required on board, and when the deserted tenements were found, without any evidence of occupation, they were curious to know the cause of this modern hegira. At first they were inclined to impute the general desolation to some tyrannical order of the Government, but ultimately learned the real influence. Some of the less timid of the settlers having ventured forth from their biding places, messengers were dispatched to assure the rest of the friendly intentions of their visitors. In this manner the natural order of things was restored; and the hereditary vindictiveness of the Yankees became an absolete doctrine, no longer worthy the attention of those who had so satisfactorily discovered its falsity. Frequent visits were paid to them afterwards by parties from the enemy's vessels, as well as from their own, and their surplus produce, consisting of beef, mutton, veal, butter, eggs, &c., was bought up at prices far in advance of the market value, while a plentiful supply of the genuine specie gladdened the hearts of the honest yeomanry. In one instance, we are told, a Yankee foraging party actually bought a large black bear, which had been captured by the farmers, paying a handsome price for bruin's carcass. After getting the monster on board they dressed him a la porcus, and fastened the head upon the top of the foremast, where it remained as a trophy of the event. Evidence is borne to the systematic courtesy with which the American sailors conducted all their trafficing intercourse, no instance of rudeness or hostility being known. The opportunity to dispose of so much domestic produce, and at such a highly remunerative figure, was greatly appreciated by the farmers, who, at that time, were not very well situated, as regards marketing privileges. When the war closed they lost excellent customers, and good-humoredly referred to the erroneous impression that prevailed at the beginning.

☞Those who suffer from bilious disorders and liver complaints, from acidity of the stomach, indigestion, debility and nausea, will find permanent relief from the use of Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

FITS, FITS, FITS,

successfully treated by World's Dispensary Medical Association. Address, with stamp for pamphlet, Buffalo N. Y.

PROFESSORS CONNOR AND LYONS, of the Detroit Medical College, say: "We have used Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya with great satisfaction and think it will accomplish that for which it is recommended. We have exhibited it to our Academy of Medicine, and, in other ways, have brought it to the notice of a large number of physicians. It being a good thing, we are pleased to do more than is our custom to learn its virtues and exhibit them to others."

CORRESPONDENCE.

[We are not responsible for what our correspondents may say. By granting space for the expression of their views, we do not endorse their sentiments.]

THE POOR AND THEIR DISADVANTAGES.

Mr. Editor—In the xxx chapter of the Book of Proverbs 7, 8 and 9th verses we read these words:—"Two things have I required of thee, deny me them not before I die; remove far from me vanity and lies; give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me; lest I be full and deny thee and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poor and steal and take the name of my God in vain."

If this prayer was written upon the walls in every dwelling and would be enforced upon the heart of every individual, it would make dissatisfied persons contented and thankful for God's goodness, mercy, and love.

The last clause of these verses show that there are disadvantages connected with poverty, which will lead the poor into temptations, such as stealing and taking God's name in vain. There are other disadvantages the poor have, which are very often forgotten, and therefore in many instances, they are wrongly judged and too often harshly treated; instead of looking at their position, circumstances and disadvantages and then judge them accordingly. It is said that they are to blame for all their misery. This may be true in some cases, but in many it is not so, when we consider that everybody could be blamed for his or her own difficulties in life. Let us now see some of the disadvantages the poor have.

I have no hesitation in saying that the poor pay more for almost everything they purchase, as they buy in very small quantities. They pay also higher rent than the so-called better class, compared with the accommodation, etc.; and I am sure in stating that the landlords of these mirerable wrecks (I cannot call them dwellings) who let them to the poor have a greater income and a smaller outlay than than the landlords who are letting good and comfortable houses. I am acquainted with some of these wrecks, many of which are not worth $20. Three or more poor families are living in one house, and each are paying at the rate of $125 per month. Thus the landlord is receiving nearly $4 per month for such a place. These wrecks are a disgrace to humanity and civilization, and it is certain they are no credit to the city of Belleville.

The poor are very often blamed for not keeping the floor and walls of their houses clean, but if you would make up your mind to see these places, you would think as I do, that it is almost an impossibility to keep them in order, and that they would defy even the best housekeepers. You have no idea of the state of these places. I would advise you to get your life insured (if not already done,) should you venture to visit them, as there is a possibility of falling from the upper floor down as far as you can go in a hurry.

We have societies everywhere for the protection of animals, which are doing much good, but a society for the protection of poor humanity would be of still greater value and benefit. These wrecks should not be allowed to be lost. They should be examined by proper authorities. If not thoroughly repaired, they shall be condemned.

An other great disadvantage stares some of poor in the face. When they seek employment, trying to begin to do better, and to make a livelihood in the future, they are generally asked their name, and as soon as their name is mentioned in many cases they are rejected at once. The sins of the parents are resting upon their children to a few generations at least. Thus the difficulty presents itself before those also who are doing their best in helping to give the poor a start in life. The greatest battle for anyone to fight is the battle of long-seated prejudices. The manner and ways in which most of the poor are brought up have much to do in creating disadvantages, not easily overcome. The poor children, some of whom are bright, even smart, are suffering severely, therefore we must not forget that had even the very best of us to battle with the same disadvantages, we could do no better; some even would do worse than those who are helpless, poor, wretched, even cast out.

Many more of the disadvantages could be mentioned, but having already taken up your time and space, I conclude, saying, that we will never be able to see the disadvantages of the poor as they are until we are willing to look into the matter calmly, without prejudice; when we can pray in their behalf—"Lord help me," thus carrying the burden of their misery to God, as if they were our own. Then only we are able to sympathize, have patience with them, and do them good.

I remain, yours truly,
A. Schuster,
City Missionary.

LIFE ASSURANCE !

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue, during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

The Emerson Express of 11th. inst., says: Mr. T. V. Badgely arrived in town last evening from Ontario, where he has been selling town lots in the different cities of that Province during the winter. We are informed that Wood Lake City property was disposed of rapidly, bringing high figures. We welcome Mr. Badgely to business circles once more.

A telegram from Toronto says:—The Women's Christian Association, of Belleville, want to build a hospital there, and they ask the Legislature to give it possession of certain lands set apart for hospital purposes. The local authorities say they don't want a hospital yet, and oppose the Bill. Consideration was deferred, but it is probable that the Bill will be thrown out.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

A regular meeting of the Finance Committee was held last evening. The members present were:—Ald. Dickson, Vandusen, Taylor, Dunnet, Petrie, Diamond and Smith. A deputation consisting of Messrs. Thos. Ritchie, J. L. and W. H. Biggar and Rev. M. W. McLean, appeared before the Committee asking for a grant of $400 to the Mechanics' Institute. As the petition should properly come before the Council no action was taken by the committee. A number of accounts were recommended to be paid, while several petitions praying for remission of taxes were referred to the Court of Revision. The report from the Public Works Committee was adopted, which recommended that the tender of James Munley for supplying the city with stone at $20 per cord, dressed, be accepted. The Fire Committee's report was also favorably considered.

Grip surpasses himself this week. The cartoons are all striking and fresh. "The Deserters" show how Meredith, Morris and Lawder behaved when "Ontario expected every man to do his duty." "Barnumn's hint to Tilley" is a capital idea. The great showman has just effected an insurance of $300.000 upon the late baby elephant born in his menagerie, and Grip says: "Of our Finance Minister fears anything from the dire threats of the Opposition, wouldn't it be a good idea for him to insure his baby elephant—the N. P.?" The best of all, however, is "Love at Ottawa; or a St. Valentine Session." "Birds in their little nets agree," and Grip holds the emblem of peace above a nest which holds Sir John and Mr. Blake in loving security. This has reference to the debate on the address. There are other good things.

☞YOU will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who dissipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

Mr. Ira Barton, of Demorestville, the well-known landscape painter, has won fame in Winnipeg. The Sun of that city speaks highly of a picture painted by him and presented to a Mr. Fermier, artist of Winnipeg.

MITCHELL'S hair dressing rooms will be re-opened on Monday next. Feb. 20th, in the Metropolitan Block, Campbell street—see small circulars. W. W. Mitchell,

Remember the the Anniversary services in the City Hall to-morrow afternoon, in connection with the City Missions. The public meeting Monday night, at the same place, will also be interesting. The Missionary will then read his annual report.

At eight-thirty o'clock last sunday evening the Gospel Meeting at "Bethel Hall" was decidedly a success in point of attendance, and a number were unable to obtain seats. To-morrow evening Mr. W. Flint Jones is expected to address the meeting. It is free to all.

The water in the Moira has been steadily rising for the past few days, until it is almost even with the embankments. Should a change not occur before Monday it is feared some damage may be done by the high water. The mouth of the river being blocked up with ice, the water cannot escape very rapidly.

The Picton Gazette says:—"One of the Cressy boys returned home very ill some days ago, who has been taking a commercial course at Belleville. He says the confinement is too great for him, but it's rumored by the people of the neighborhood that he took a trip over the Prince Edward line to see the cars after he got there."

DISCOUNT SALE.—Please notice that Jas. Hennessy has decided to continue his great discount sale for 2 weeks longer. Do not fail to embrace the opportunity.

A darring robbery was accomplished in the County Treasurer's office at Detroit Mich. on Wednesday, by two men. One engaged the Treasurer in conversation and the other stole a package containing some $700. Both made their escape. Two men were subsequently arrested at Windsor on suspicion. One gave his name as S. F. Pattern, of Belleville, Ont. We don't know him.

A LITERARY TREAT.—Bellevillians often have to deplore the fact that few lectures of any particular value or attractions are delivered in our city. We believe that those who have attempted to meet this demand have generally met with little success, and less to induce them to repeat the experiment. It certainly should not be difficult to secure an appreciative audience for a lecturer of undoubted merit on a subject of universal interest, and so treated as to interest all. We can confidently assure our readers that in the subject, manner of treatment, and ability of the lecturer, will be found ample to satisfy the most exacting. Dr. Jeffers is acknowledged where best known as a speaker with but few equals, and fewer if any superiors. The subject, "Emulation," cannot fail to interest when treated with the Rev. Dr's characteristic eloquence and skill. Let there be such an audience on Thursday evening (23rd inst) to greet the lecturer that shall do honor to our city and the lecturer. See adv't.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work exce's any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

"The editor of the Madoc Review has been 'taken in' by two advertising frauds named J. H. Ledsworth and J. G. Curry. Ledsworth hails from Colborne, and Curry said he belonged to Trenton." Our Madoc confrere is not the only paper that has been duped by these agents. We speak from experience. Printers should look out for them.

The concert in the City Hall last night under the auspices of the M. E. Tabernacle choir, was a fair success, financially. There were about two hundred present. The concert was one of excellent merit, and the several selections found ready favor with the audience. The 15th. Battalion band played a couple of pieces which were appreciated.

Messrs. L. H. Henderson and D. B. Robertson returned home from Toronto last night. They have been in the Queen City during the past few days awaiting an opportunity to appear before the Private Bills Committee in reference to the Hospital Lot, but the Bill presented by the Women's Christian Association will not come before the Committee until Thursday next.

It is the intention of the Oddfellows' Band to give their leader, Prof. W. B. Riggs, a benefit concert on Tuesday, March 7th, in the Metropolitan Hall. Among other talented vocalists of Canada who have been engaged for this entertainment are Mrs. Caldwell, of Hamilton, and Mr. Warrington, of Toronto. There is no doubt the concert will be a success

A telegram received here this morning by Mr. T. G. Hall, from Buffalo, dated Feb. 18th says: "The Board of Directors respectfully decline the proposition as submitted by the Committee appointed. Signed, A. A. Starr." This settles the question of smelting works in Belleville, by Mr. Hall's company, unless the city feel displeased to make a more liberal offer than they have.

Deseronto has been made a port of entry, and T. G. Pile, Esq., hitherto landing waiter promoted to the position of collector. Hitherto it has been merely an outport of Napanee, but some months ago we had it on good authority that the present change was to be made. If we are not seriously mistaken, other changes will follow without delay. We tender our congratulations to Mr. Pile on his promotion, and believe it will be generally admitted that his faithful services merit this mark of appreciation.—Beaver.

One evening this week a party numbering about twenty, and composed of Belleville lads and lassies, left town for the purpose of "surprising" some of their friends in Melrose. All went well and "everything was lovely" until they reached the romantic hamlet of Shannonville, when they were "surprised" to learn that owing to the mud their horses were unable to continue the journey. However, they resolved to make the best of the situation, and repaired to Davidson's Hotel; where with songs, dancing, and music interspersed with the agreeable task of discussing the well-filled baskets which the ladies had provided, a very enjoyable evening was spent; in fact they all declared they had nevey spent a more pleasant one. About five o'clock, the horses having rested, they started for home, where they arrived safely, all loud in their praise of mine host Davidson.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Toronto Feb 18th. '82

Strong winds and cloudy weather with snow flurries to-day. A snow storm to-night. Rising temperature.

Bank Closed.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The Merchants Bank of this city closed its doors this morning.

A Large Fire.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—A large fire was raging in Chilsea, at 3:15 this morning. Assistance from Boston is called forth.

The Losses.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—The Journal estimates the loss at Haverhill fire at 2½ millions.

The fire at Chester destroyed Patrick Kearnan's brewery. Loss $25,500.

Farmers Trouble.

MT. RISCO, Ky., Feb. 18.—Farmers of this vicinity are troubled concerning the appearance of the black grasshopper in the fields. When first discovered they were moving about on the snow.

Wdre Warned.

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 18.—At an inquest yesterday an employee of a fire works factory testified he warned the firemen to keep away from the building as the material were likely to explode.

The Chester Fire.

CHESTER, Pa., Feb. 18.—The charred remains of Jas. Jones, aged 17, was removed from the ruins of fire works factory today. Kelly and McDole, injured firemen, will probably die.

Lynching Threatened.

SANTAFE, Feb. 18.—Edward Kelly, who was to hang yesterday has been respited by the President. Many people are indignant. Lynching is threatened. An extra guard is placed around the jail.

Washington Specials.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Senator Dawes, named by Shepherd as one of the persons interested or likely to be interested in the Peruvian Co., states he had nothing to do with the letter. Surgeon-Gen. Woodward, whose health was impaired during attendance on Garfield, has been granted eight months leave of absence.

THE MIDLAND AMALGAMATION.

The Provisions of the Bill—Mortgage Bond Debts—The Directors

We have already published the amendments to the Midland Amalgamation Bill.

The principal section is that confirming the agreement made between the various companies. From this agreement it appears that the capital stock of the different companies is as follows:—Toronto and Nipissing, $500,000; Whitby and Port Perry, $300,000; Victoria Railway, $300,000; Toronto and Ottawa, $500 000; Grand Junction, $500,000; Midland, £400,000 or $2,000,000; total, $4,100,000. The new company is to have a capital of $6 000,000, of which there is to be allotted to the shareholders of each company a sum equal to its present capital stock; while the remaining shares, amounting to $2,500,000, and such part of the allotments as may not be required for the purpose of making the exchange, are to be held for the purposes of the consolidated company.

THE MORTGAGE BOND DEBT

of the companies is declared to be as follows:

Midland, Preference Mortgage Debt	£150,000stg.
" Ordinary Mortgage Debt	525 000.tg.
" Interest certif's outstanding	30,000stg.
Grand Junction, 1st Mortgage Debt	$1,100 000
Toronto and Nipissing, 1st Mortgage Debt	1,750,000
Toronto and Ottawa, 1st Mortgage Debt (and a sum not exceeding $25,000 per mile of railway actually constructed from time to time, or such less sum as may be required)	100,000
Whitby, Port Perry, and Lindsay	£141,700stg.
Victoria railway	68,400stg.

The agreement provides for the creation of a consolidated company's mortgage to secure bonds on the consolidated company's property, to rank after the bond debt of the several companies hereinbefore mentioned, for a sum which shall be equal to the aggregative of the nominal amounts of said several companies as hereinbefore stated, with the addition of two millions of dollars to provide for enlargements, improvements, and extensions of the railway of the consolidated company, but except as hereinafter provided, no portion of the bonds for the said two millions of dollars shall be issued by the directors of the company except an until such issue is authorized by a vote of a majority of the shareholders of the consolidated company present, in person or by proxy, at a special general meeting of the said shareholders, called for the purpose of considering the question of such issue and the application of the proceeds thereof. The holders of the present bonds are to have the rights to exchange them for consolidated bonds at par, as soon as the mortgage is treated.

APPLICATION OF EARNINGS.

For the purpose of the agreement the road is divided into sections corresponding with the present lines and named accordingly. Until the bonds of the various companies have been exchanged for consolidated bonds, the net earnings of each section are to be applied in payment of the interest on the bonds of the company which such section represents, but not to the payment of any interest already accrued.

THE FIRST DIRECTORS

named in the agreement are:—George A. Cox, Robert Jaffray, William Gooderham, J. D. Edgar, Lewis Ross, James M. Ferris, Thomas Kelso, H. P. Dwight, J. A. Dundas and F. W. Henshaw.

The head office is to be at Peterboro,' Toronto, or such other place as the directors may determine.

The company has power to enter into traffic arrangements with the Salt Ste. Marie railway.

The Railwey Committee got through with the Midland Railway Consolidation Bill yesterday and reported it to the House. The usual clause about freight rates was added, the rates being subject to revision by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. Mr. Barker, of Hamilton, acting for some English creditors, got a clause inserted protecting their claims.

A Village merchant says: "Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment is taking the shine off all the liniments I sell. Would you like any certificates? If you would, say so, and I can send dozens from the best of my customers.

Fishermen Drowned.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Feb. 18.—The schooner Forrena Bishop, from Grand Banks, reports the following lost during the hurricane of the 5th inst., while in dorries visiting the trowls:—John Colsons, James McGoff, John Reed, Peter Christyn, Chas. Rasamas, Frank Kamp.

Dishonest Dealings.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Wm. Clark, formerly head of wholesale paper house of Clark, Friend, Fox & Co., has fled to New York. Recently he bought out the other partners with promissory notes, and speedily transferred the stock to rival dealers for $175,000, of which $112,000 was cash or good paper. Complaints of creditors of original house revealed to Friend and Fox, $180,000 of the firms paper was still afloat. Of this $40,000 was promptly paid, and liabilities will be honestly met.

A Wife's Troubles.

CANTON, Ohio., Feb. 18.—Mrs. Joseph Kyenette, who has been granted a divorce from her husband, alleged he drove her into the woods and by threats of shooting, compelled her to write an admission of criminal intimacy with certain men. Two men then appeared and signed as witnesses. Her husband also threatened death, if she related the occurance in the woods. The answer filed denied these statements, but was subsequently withdrawn. The case excites unusal interest.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

A Disastrous Fire.

HAVERHILL, Mass., 18.—3:55 a.m.—The fire is now under control. But one block remains on Wingate-St., and two at upper end of Washington-st. All else in the square as bounded by the Merrimac River on the south, Washington Square and Essex-st. on the east, north side of Wingate st. on north, and railroad square on the west is burned to the ground. This territory embraces the largest part of boot and shoe manufactories. Loss not estimated. Joseph Pratt, fireman was killed. Geo. Whittoir was fatally injured.

LATER.—The finest street in the city and principal business mart is a smouldering mass of ruins. Eighty shoe firms are entirely burned out; others suffer more or less. Men lost night worth thousands are to-day penniless. Losses of others are fully or partially covered by insurance. Two thousand people are out of employment. Several families are homeless. The loss is estimated at $2 000,000. The engines were present from Newburyport, Lawrence and Lowell. Men are already clearing away the debris. There is no panic; everybody is hopeful. The wind blew fresh which, with scarcity of water and freezing of the hose made it hard to control the fire. Several persons are reported missing, but nothing definite is known. No business is being done here today; everybody being at the ruins.

The Best Field

—FOR—

EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured, and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN

ON THE LOSS OF

MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PARRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

OLD BACHELORS.

They are wanderers and ramblerers—never at home;
Making sure of a welcome whenever they roam;
And everyone knows that the bachelor's den,
Is a room set apart for these singular men—
A nook in the clouds of some five feet by four,
Though some times by chance it may be rather more,
With sky-light or no light, ghosts, goblins, and gloom,
And everything termed the old bachelor's room,
These creatures say they are not valued at all,
Except when the herd gives a bachelor's ball.
Then, dressed in their best,
In their gold-broidered vest,
It is known as a fact,
That they act with much tact,
And they lisp "How d'ye do?"
And they coo and they woo,
And they smile for a while,
Their fair guests to beguile;
Condescending and bending,
For fear of offending.

Though inert, And they spy
They exert, With their eye,
To be pert, And they sigh,
And to flirt As they fly.

And they whisk and they wiz,
And are brisk at the quiz.

For they meet, Advancing,
To be sweet And glancing,
And are fleet, And dancing,
On their feet, And prancing.

Sliding and gliding with mute pace,
Pirouetting and setting with infinite grace.

And jumping, And racing,
And bumping, And chasing,
And stumping, And pacing,
And thumping, And lacing.

They are flittering and glittering gallant and gay,
Yawning all morning, and lounging all day.

But when he grows old,
And his sunshine is past,
Three score years being told,
Bring repentance at last.

He then becomes an old man;
His warmest friend, the frying pan;
He's fidgety, fretful and weary; in fine,
Loves nothing but self, and his dinner and wine.

He rates and he prates,
And reads the debates;

Despised by the men, and the women he hates;
Then prosing, And poring,
And dozing, And snoring,
And cosing, And boring,
And nosing, And roaring,

Whenever he falls in with a rabble.
His delight is to vapour and gabble;

He's gruffy, And musty,
And puffy, And fusty,

He sits in his slippers with back to the door,

Near freezing, And grumbling,
And weezing, And mumbling,
And teazing, And stumbling,
And sneezing, And tumbling,

He curses the carpet or nails in the floor.

Oft falling, Oft waking,
Oft bawling, Oft aching,
And sprawling, And quaking,
And crawling, And shaking;

His hand is unsteady, his stomach is sore,

He's railing, Unchary,
And failing, And dreary,
And ailing, And weary,

And groaning and moaning,
His selfishness owning,
Grieving and heaving,
Though naught in his leaving,
But pelf and ill-health,
Himself and his wealth.

He sends for a doctor, to cure or to kill,
Who gives him advice, and offence and a pill,
Who drops him advice about making his will
As freiful antiquity cannot be mended,
The miserable life of a bachelor's ended,
Nobody misses him, nobody sighs,
Nobody grieves when the bachelor dies.

DEGREES OF CONSIDERATION

'I believe you are connected with the church in Elm street, are you not, Mr. Dickson?" said the customer.

'No, sah, not at all.'

What! are you not a member of the African church?"

'Not dis year, sah!'

'Why did you leave their communion Mr. Dickson, if I may be permitted to ask?'

'Well, I'll tell you, sah,' said Mr. Dickson, stropping a concave razor on the palm of his hand, 'it was jes like dis. I jined de church in good fait'; I give ten dollars toward the stated gospel de fus' yeah, and de church people call me 'Brudder Dickson;' second yeah, my business being not so good, and I gib only five dollars. That yeah the peeple call me 'Mr. Dickson.' Dis razor hurt you, sah?'

'No, the razor does tolerably well.'

'Well, sah, de third yeah I tell very poor; had sickness in my family, I didn't give noffin' tor preachin.' We'll, sah, arter dat dey call me 'dat old nigger Dickson,' and I left em!'

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J.C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sofd by all hemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE ARD IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recr its the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole system is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's

Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

EARLY SPRING CHICKS.

In breeding poultry, no matter whether they are the high-priced thoroughbred stock or not, the main idea with all is usually one of profit, and the proper way to commence as well as carry it out, is to try to make a fair profit, even if all the surplus stock is sold in the open market at ordinary fowl-meat prices, and not at usual advanced prices obtained for fine, pure-bred stock. Where this is done, there is rarely if ever, any reasonable cause for dissatisfaction. Where a person has the conveniences, there is no way in which as much profit can be made from poultry as breeding extra early spring chicks, these which are ready to market with early Asparagus, and weigh from two to four pounds per pair or more. There is always a large demand for these young "broilers," and at prices which are not merely entirely satisfactory to the breeder, but astonishing to those who are new to the business. As they are marketed when about three months old, they have cost but little for food, and pay double and treble the profit they would if kept until fall and then sold in the market at a dollar apiece, which price is much above the average. Aside from this, the loss from accidents and sickness, which no inconsiderable item, between the ages of three months and eight or nine months is avoided.—D. Z. Evans, Jr, in Amer. Agriculturist for Mar.

OVER-WORK AMONG WOMEN.

One way in which women are overworked by their own fault—a sin of ignorance frequently—is in the use of foolish clothing. We are all more or less in bondage here, for women's dress is radically wrong. It is a weight and a hindrance everywhere. Clothing devised to suit the needs of the human body would be much more easily made and taken care of, and it would give a woman freer movement, greater ease and comfort about her work and play, and would be an aid to good health rather than, as now, a drag upon her strength. But a genuine reform cannot be made by any one woman, for it awaits the development of public opinion. But cannot we all lend a hand here, and say on all proper occasions, that woman's dress is absurd, and inconvenient, and unhealthful, and that we wish for something better? Most of us can put less work and care upon our trimmings, and none of us need wear a trained skirt, or one that touches the floor. We may all wear loose and warm clothing, and bear the weight upon our shoulders rather then over the hips. Various female weaknesses are supposed to be caused by active labor, by much standing upon the feet, by much climbing of stairs in the pursuit of one's daily industry. They may be aggravated by these causes after they have been once induced, but I have serious doubts whether these weaknesses are often really attributable to the cause above named. Corsets and heavy skirts are the real offenders. It is usually the case that the same work might have been done—the standing and the climbing—had the muscles of the body, both external and internal, been left free and unweighted by the clothing. How many feathers weight are added to her burden of toil and worry by a woman's long skirts, as she goes about her work indoors and out, upstairs and down around the kitchen fire, or cleaning the floors in an unsuitable dress?—American Agriculturist for March.

A NEW DISEASE AMONG DAIRY STOCK.

About the middle of April I purchased from a drove four cows to fill up my herd. All the animals in this drove had been picked up in Scholarie Co., N. Y., and by easy drives had been brought into Little Falls. The cows I selected were grade Ayrshire and Shorthorn. One of the Ayrshires was thin in flesh and was already in milk; the others were in good thrifty condition and all of them appeared to be in good health. While selecting the animals the seller remarked that when he started his drove the cow in thin flesh was "in much the best rig" of any of the four; but that she had been taken with severe scouring while on the road, and before he could find a stopping place and get help she had fallen away rapidly, and at one time he thought he should lose her. On treating her however, after a recipe obtained from an old drover (which he had often found useful in such cases) she had recovered at once, and had since been gaining in flesh every day. He attributed the excessive scouring to change of water and feed on the road, and as I rather hesitated about taking her, he said he would "warrant her all right," and besides give me the recipe which perhaps would prove useful on some occasion. As the man was well known to me and one I had dealt with before, I accepted his terms. The cows were driven to my farm and placed in the stable with the other members of my herd, and I thought no more of the matter until about a week after their arrival, when the cow standing next to the one warranted, was taken suddenly with scouring and diarrhœa. My farmer thought at first the trouble was only a temporary one and left her over night without treatment. In the morning she looked badly, the discharges being excessive and frequent. I determined at once to try the drover's recipe, which consisted in taking the inner bark of the Iron-wood tree, commonly called "hard-hack," and rolling up a ball of it about eight or nine inches in diameter or as the drover expressed it, "the size of man's head," and then steeping the bark in this proportion with 12 qts of water. The mixture should be reduced by boiling or simmering over the range until reduced to six quarts of liquid; when cold give from one to two quarts, and repeat if the scouring is not checked. We administered the liquid from a strong long-necked bottle, and in three doses given at intervals of about six hours each, when the trouble was overcome and with no further derangement to health, to health, except that the cow was very weak. During the next few days every animal in my herd, with the exception of this warranted cow, was attacked in a similar way, and I have no doubt the complaint was introduced by the cow from the drove; and in addition, that the disease was the so-called "Winter Colera," which had appeared in Lewis Co.—X. A. Willard, in American Agriculturist for March.

The latter from Tubercular Consumption and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co, proprietors of Allen's Lung Balsam, I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying good health.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating. Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medicine. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

IF PEOPLE WILL CHEW

they should counteract the injurious effect of tobacco upon the teeth, with the sterling preservative and purifier, SOZODONT, which not only whitens the teeth and renders the gums healthy, but banishes from the breath every objectionable odor. Certain tooth powders, pastes and washes, although they cleanse, also injure the dental enamel, but this matchless toilet auxiliary preserves and strengthens it. Its origin is botanic and its flavor and odor delightful.

THE PERUVIAN SYRUP.

Is an iron tonic, prepared expressly to supply the blood with its iron element. Being free from alcohol in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron constitution. It is an excellent substitute for wine or brandy where a stimulent is needed. Sold by all druggists.

HOW TO CURE A COLD.

Upon the first feeling of chill or shivering remain indoors if possible, bathe the feet in tepid water, gradually increasing the heat as long as it can be comfortably borne, drink freely of warm ginger tea or sage tea, to induce perspiration, and take Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam according to directions on the bottle. Hagyards Balsam cures coughs, asthma, and bronchitis.

WOMAN'S TRUE FRIEND.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by Jas. Clarke & Co.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS

DAILY ONTARIO

MONDAY FEB. 20, 1882.

—Mr. Gladstone's recent utterances in the Imperial Parliament on the question of local government have greatly delighted the Irish Home Rulers. They pretend to see in them a favorable omen for their cause.

—Fatal explosions in coal mines are of frequent occurrence lately. The latest horror is reported from Durham, England, where between 60 and 70 persons perished. Forty dead bodies were recovered from the mine.

—Recent remarks by Gen. Skobeleff, when receiving some Servian students, are construed into a menace to Germany. He declared that a struggle between the Slavs and Teutons was inevitable, and that it would be long, sanguinary, and terrible.

—A deputation of gentlemen from Belleville, Madoc, Ottawa, Pontiac, Carleton, and other places, interested in iron mining, have sent in a request to the Government for further protection. The matter will probably come before the House before long.

—Earl Granville's reply to Mr. Blaine's letter on the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, declares emphatically that the treaty must be maintained, and that there is no analogy between the Suez Canal and Isthmus of Panama. This is a bold snub to the Monroe Doctrine, and will make Uncle Sam furious.

Mr. Girouard's Bill, as again introduced in the House of Commons provides, (1) "All laws prohibiting marriage between a man and the sister of his deceased wife are hereby repealed as if they had never been enacted; (2) This Act shall not affect in any manner vested rights."

The Globe considers this a good subject for Canadian historical painters:—Sir John accusing Sir Richard Cartwright of Parliamentary discourtesy; Sir John shaking his fist under Mr. Donald A. Smith's nose; and Sir John offering to "lick" his opponent quicker than "Hades would scorch a feather."

The manufacturing interests of the Dominion had to pay out of their profits last year a tax of $87,365 on account of the duty on pig iron. This duty was imposed, so we were told, for the purpose of encouraging the manufacture of pig iron in Canada. It has failed in its object, as not one ton has been made under its shelter. The Government is now importuned to increase the duty to $7 per ton. That should be prohibitive enough.

The Conservative majority in the present Dominion Parliament is very large, but it does not represent a corresponding majority of the popular vote. A return of the votes polled on both sides at the last general election shows the total to have been 97,000. Of this number 45,000 were given to the Liberal candidates. Therefore, had the Liberal candidates received something over 3,000 more votes they would have had a majority of the votes polled. Most of the successful Conservative candidates had small majorities, whereas a number of the successful Reform candidates had very large majorities. It would have been an easy matter, therefore, for the ruling party to represent a minority of the voters of the country. The fact that they polled nearly half the votes encourages the Reform party to try again with confidence in the result.

THE EXCISE RETURNS.

The annual report of the Minister of Inland Revenue for the year ending 30th of January last, has been recieved. There has been an increase of revenue, as compared with the previous year as follows:—

Excise	$180,875
Public Works	40.252
Culling timber	15.383
Bill stamps	16.908
Weights and measures, gas inspection, and law stamps	17,231

A table shows the quantity of spirits taken for consumption in 1880-81 exceed the quantity taken during the previous year by 924,176 gallons, or more than 40 per cent., and exceeds the average of the previous four years by 242,836 gallons, or over 8 per cent. The quantity of spirits taken for consumption falls short of that taken in 1873-74, when it amounted to 4,566 508 gallons, or 41 per cent. greater than the year under consideration. Twelve illicit stills were seized during the year. The revenue from malt and malt liquor for the year was $284,221. The average revenue from this source for the four preceding years was $407,306. The quantity of malt manufactured during the year was 67,132,206 lbs., or more than 8,000,000 lbs. in excess of any previous year, and over 18,000,000 lbs. in excess of the year 1880. The quantity of tobacco manufactured during the year was 8,632,747 lbs., which is slightly above the average of the four previous years. The quantity of Canadian-grown tobacco shows a remarkable increase, being 397,276 lbs., or more than six times the quantity of any one of the previous five years.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

From the report of the Postmaster-General for 1881 we gather the following particulars:—The number of post offices in the Dominion on Nov. 1st, 1881, was 5,935, the number of miles of post routes 41,661¼, the annual rate of mail travels in miles 17,368,241, the number of letters sent by post 48,170,000, post cards 9,640,000, registered letters 2,253,000, free letters 1,838,000, posted from office of publication at 1c. per lb., 4,745,452 lbs; number posted otherwise than from office of publication, 5,980,000; books, packets and miscellaneous articles, 6,000,000; parcels by parcel post, 331,500. The revenue of the department was $1,767,162.50, and the expenditure $2,332,398.00. The number of money order offices was 786. The amount of money orders issued was $7,725,212.66. The number of savings bank offices was 304, and the number of deposits 39,605. The total amount deposited during the fiscal year was $4,175,043, and the amount of deposits and interest to the credit of depositors on June 30th. 1881, was $6,208,226.77. Six hundred miles of new post route were established in Manitoba during the year, and the rate of yearly travel over the routes in operation there was increased by 160,000 miles. The correspondence there has increased fully 50 per cent. upon last year's returns, and the postage revenue shows a proportionate increase. It is anticipated that the increase of the postal business in Manitoba and the North West in the current year will be quite equal to that of 1881. The average weekly delivery of letters by carriers increased 23 663 in 1881 as compared with the previous year. The number of ordinary dead letters sent to the Dead Letter Office during the year was 534,575 and the number of special dead letters, 617,712.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Nearly all the homestead sections in Manitoba that are worth taking are already settled.

Kingston expects $15,000 from the Dominion Government for harbor improvements this year.

Mrs. Garfield will not answer Mrs. Scoville's letter. She wishes to be left alone with her sorrow.

The Toronto World keeps pegging away at the railway monopolies and extravagances, and is making its mark.

Mr. A. H. Allison, of Napanee, is organizing a large party for Manitoba, which is expected to leave about the first week in March.

We regret to learn that Mr. D. D. Calvin, M. P. P., is again quite ill. The constitution that has defied the ravages of time for four-score years is evidently breaking up.

The population of Winnipeg by the census is 7,985. Including speculators, who are temporarily tarrying there, the number of inhabitants at present cannot be much fewer than double the census return.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Deceased Wife's Sister Bill has provoked a large number of petitions, either for or against it.

Mr. Blake will move that female prisoners now confined at Dorchester be removed to Kingston penitentiary.

An Order in Council has been passed prohibiting the importation of second-hand head ropes for cattle, on the ground that contagious diseases may be communicated by them.

Under a resolution of the House of Commons, recently passed, a question has been made upon all Civil Servants appointed since Oct. 1878, asking for their religion and nationality.

From the Crown Lands report brought down Friday night the following statistics are obtained: Acres sold, 98 257; amount of sales, $64, 508.11; amount of collections, $131,164.15.

Mr. Cameron's bill to amend the criminal law provides that incest shall be a crime punishable by not more than ten years imprisonment, with or without whipping, at the discretion of the Court.

Hon. A. S. Hardy, Provincial Secretary, has accepted the invitation of the North Simcoe Reformers to address the electors at Barrie on the 25th inst. Mr. Hardy's speeches are always interesting and instructive.

With Hon. A. Mackenzie, Sir. W. P. Howland, and Mr. W. H. Howland as the Liberal candidates in East, West and North York respectively, the redemption of these old Liberal ridings may be regarded as certain.

It is generally understood among members that the House will not sit longer than 11 p. m. this session. With regard to the length of the session, the prevailing impression now seems to be that prorogation will be reached about Easter.

The Finance Minister announced Friday that he would bring down the estimates on Tuesday next and make his financial speech on the Friday following. The bringing down of the budget soon after the meeting of Parliament portends a short session.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it on himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

N. McMao, Wyebridge, writes:—"I have sold large quantities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil; It is used for colds, sore throat, croup, &c., and in fact for any affection of the throat it works like magic. It is a sure cure for burns, wounds and bruises."

Another Holocaust!

FATAL FIRE THIS FORENOON IN AMELIASBURG.

Three Children Burned to Death.

Intelligence reached the city about noon to day that a house belonging to Mr. Geo Cunningham, of Ameliasburg, and situated nearly opposite the Deaf and Dumb Institute, was burned this forenoon about 10 o'clock. It was occupied by a hired man named Moody, who, we suppose, was absent from home. There children are said to have perished in the flames. The particulars as to the cause of the fire &c. have not yet reached us.

LATER.

Mr. Moody was absent at the time assisting his employer, and his wife left the three children at home after breakfast for the purpose of doing some work at Mr. Cunningham's. The eldest was a little girl four year old, and the youngest a babe about 8 months old. The latter was left asleep in the cradle, and the other two were instructed to be careful with the fire and furniture. It is supposed that the dress of the little girl caught fire from the stove by some means, and that in her frantic efforts to extinguish the flames other inflammable material was ignited, and the house fired. When discovered the building, which was frame, was in flames, and in a very short time the whole was consumed. As soon as the ruins fell, efforts were made to recover the remains of the children, but they were burned to a cinder. Rev. Mr. Burr who visited the scene, and from whom we gather this information in advance of our reporter, says the cries of the distressed parents were heartrending in the extreme. They could not be convinced that their dear ones were burned to death. Mr. Moody not only lost his three little children, but everything else he possessed, and the sympathy for him and his wife is deep and general. Steps were immediately taken by the neighbors to raise money to assist them in their terrible trial.

Our reporter left for the scene of the fire immediately after one o'clock, and furnishes the following additional particulars.

Mr. Moody was chopping in the woods about 1½ miles from home, and his wife had gone to Mr. Cunningham's to assist in some domestic concerns. She had not been absent long when Henry, a son of Mr. Geo. Cunninghan, observed the house on fire and gave the alarm. The terrified wife and he ran to the place, and Mrs. Moody attempted to get in and rescue the children. When she opened the door the flames drove her back, and turning to young Cunningham she cried in great agony—"For God's sake save my children!" The boy tried to respond, and throwing himself on his hands and knees attempted to crawl into the burning building. He had no sooner put his head inside, however, before the fire drove him back again. In this helpless condition they had to stand and witness the cruel flames destroy everything in the house. The poor mother was crazed with grief for the loss of her darlings, and rent the air with her piteous cries for help.

The children were named Lillie Alverty, aged 4 years; Nettie Maud, aged 2 years and 6 months; and Ethel May, aged 8 months. As stated above, the baby was left asleep in the cradle, and the other two were playing on the floor. When the charred remains were found it was noticed that Nettie Maud had fallen or thrown herself on top of the baby and the two had died clasped in each others arms. Lillie had got under the bed clothes, it is supposed, to extinguish the fire, as her remains were found in the corner of the house where the bed had been. All were burned to a shapeless mass of cinders.

Mr. Moody lived about four miles from Belleville on the Ameliasburg front, and close to the shore of the bay. He had resided there for two years. His loss by this terrible visitation is a sad one indeed. There was no insurance on the house nor its contents. But the loss of his three children crushes him to the earth. It is easy to conceive how poignant must be his grief and how strong must be the will to stand such a great trial.

The general supposition is that the children were playing with matches and in this way set fire to their clothes or the house.

THE NEW SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN OFFICES.

We are glad to announce that the Scientific American came out of the late fire in New York, like the fabled Phœnix, with renewed life. The subscription lists, account books, patent records, patent drawings, and correspondence were preserved in massive fire-proof safes. The printing of the Scientific American and Supplement was done in another building; consequently the types, plates, presses, paper, etc., were unharmed, and no interruption of business was occasioned.

The new Scientific American offices are located at 261 Broadway, corner of Warren Street, a very central and excellent situation.

Here, in addition to the issuing of their interesting publications, Messrs. Munn & Co., aided by trained examiners and draughtsmen, prepare specifications and drawings for American and Foreign patents. If any of our readers should happen to make a new discovery (we hope every one of them may do so, and gain a fortune), they have only to drop a line to Munn & Co., 261 Broadway, New York, who will reply at once, without charge, stating whether the invention is probably novel and patentable. A handbook of instructions, with full particulars, will also be sent, free. Messrs. Munn & Co., have had over thirty-five years experience in the business.

Safe, Certain, Prompt, Economic.—These few adjectives apply with peculiar force to Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a standard external and internal remedy, adapted to the relief and cure of coughs, sore throat, hoarseness and all affections of the breathing organs, kidney troubles, excoriations, sores, lameness and physical pain.

OUR FIDO.

We wrapped soft folds of richest silk
Around your lifeless body,
It's not so warm, we know—but then,
It's better style than "shoddy."

In tearful grief we laid you in
Your little rosewood coffin,
Your legs turned up—all wreathed in smiles
The lips we kissed so often.

Above your breast your little paws
Raised a la supplication,
So very quite, too sweetly nice
For vulgar ululation.

Our tears fell fast upon your form
'Twas sure a hopeless sorrow;
Poor Fido! Could you whisper where
Your bark will be to-morrow!

There lying on your broad, sleek back
Oh, what a sad reflection!
That things convenient here may not
Be so at resurrection.

Oh, lay us down beside the pup,
Beneath the same green cover,
And when the resurrection comes
We'll tip the "casket" over.

STEEL, AND SMELTING WORKS.

To the Editor of the Ontario:

In your Saturday's issue you publish a telegram from the "Hall Steel Company of Buffalo," declining to accept the terms proposed by the city for aid to their project. This is not a matter of surprise to those who were acquainted with Mr. Hall himself, or had been favored with his statements and propositions. If this was our only hope of securing this industry for Belleville then our prospects would be poor indeed, for people do not "gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles," in our days any more than they did at a former period of the world's history; and I think, that trite old saying, with which we are all familiar, is particularly applicable in this case: "A stream cannot be purer than the fountain from which it flows." So, good people, do not loose any sleep over this departing vision of "millions" in the distance, for there never was the remotest probability of this scheme being carried out; but, Mr. Editor I am happy to inform you, that there is a reasonable probability of securing an iron industry for Belleville, through a good reliable organization, from New York and New Jersey, who have for some months been making arrangements to this end, and who do not base their scheme either upon a bonus or the subscription of stocks.

Yours truly
Belleville, Feb. 20,'82 Observer.

☞A leading druggist writes: "Two cases of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment will not be too much, as I know I can find sale for it all. Since I have been sold out, the inquiry has daily. I never sold an article that makes so many cures."

NORTHWEST COLONIES.

2,000,000 Acres Granted to the Temperance Co.

A despatch from Ottawa says: The Temperance Colonization Company's delegation waited upon Sir John Macdonald again Friday. They closed an arrangement for two million acres on the South Saskatchewan on terms provided for in the land regulations. The land will be surveyed in the spring, and the promoters of the scheme say that already they have about 4,000 immigrants ready to go up. Their application for a charter will soon come up before Parliament. Under it they will ask to be empowered not only to send immigration agents to Europe to secure colonists for the Northwest, but to arrange to take the lands of people in Ontario in exchange for Northwest lands, and to sell Ontario lands to immigrants from Europe. The capital of the company will be $2,000,000, with 10 per cent. paid up. The land is held under plan "A" of the land regulations, which provides more stringently than the others for settlement. G. M. Rose and the other promoters declare that the intention is to settle the lands as soon as possible.

Dollars, which might otherwise be thrown away by resorting to ineffectual medicines, are saved by purchasing that inexpensive specific for bodily pain and remedy for affections of the throat, lungs, stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which does not deteriorate, and is thorough and pure.

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

The Council will meet to-night.

The ice above the upper bridge still remains firm.

Remember Miss O'Carroll's benefit concert in the City Hall to-morrow evening.

Elizabeth Beecroft, who was before the Magistrate this morning, was remanded for a week.

Rev. S. J. Shorey occupied the pulpit of Bridge Street Church yesterday, and preached two powerful sermons.

The census returns show that, of the ten cities of Ontario, Belleville ranks 9th. in point of population. St. Thomas has less inhabitants—all the rest more.

Saturday night there were two tramps and one drunk in the cells. The latter—the same woman that was before the Magistrate Saturday morning, was taken up to the jail until this morning.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

Mr. George Sherry, will leave to-morrow for Brandon, Man., where he purposes establishing a permanent law office. He will not, therefore, enter into partnership with Mr. J. J. B. Flint, as previously announced.

Messrs. Green and Gibson, butchers, received on Saturday twenty-two fine fat steers from Henry Gould, of Whitby. The average weight of the cattle was 1,400 lbs, and they are certainly the best herd brought to the city this winter.

We regret to learn that Chief McKinnon is very ill to-day. His head is very much swollen, and he suffers great pain. The injuries inflicted upon him by the blundering Madoc policeman are of a serious nature. The Chief's many friends will be glad to have more favorable reports of his case.

☞Call early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

Mrs. Eliza McMullen, wife of Mr. Hugh McMullen, lately of Belleville, died in Chicago on the 16th inst. of small pox. This dreaded disease is very prevelent in most of frontier cities on the American side. Mr. Murdoff, of Picton, who has been travelling for a Rochester wholesale firm, has returned home on account of a prevalence of the disease in New York State.

Yesterday the annual Missionary sermons were preached in the Holloway and Bleecker-st. Churches by the Rev. Dr. Jeffers, and Rev. J. F. German, of Picton, formerly of Winnipeg. The congregations in both churches, at the morning and evening services were large, and the collections were liberal. The deputation was a good one, and the able sermons preached by the two rev. gentlemen were highly appreciated. Mr. German at the Holloway st. church in the evening, we are sure, surprised the congregation by his eloquent and practical remarks on the teachings of the Bible. The usual missionary meeting will be held in the Holloway-st. Church this evening, when the above deputation, assisted by other speakers, will address the congregation. To-morrow evening the annual meeting will be held in the Bleecker-st. Church.

☞Furs not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

The Napanee Express remarks:—The Council had a secret session last Tuesday evening to consider an application from Mr. Joseph Holmes of Belleville for the position of constable. No decision was arrived at. Holmes stands 6't. 3 inches in his boots and weighs 210 lbs. He was for some time a conductor on the G. T. R. and for the past four years has been a county constable of Hastings, during which time he has done some good service in capturing criminals. He undoubtedly possesses the physical qualities for a constable, but as to whether he has the other qualifications we do not know. There is something more than muscle required in a chief constable or even an assistant. It would seem from the way some people talk that a constable should be required to do battle with every man he has to arrest. This is a mistake. The law provides protection to the constable in the discharge of his duties and if it became generally known that the magistracy would inflict the prescibed punishment to parties guilty of resisting arrest then the policemen's lot would be a more happy one than it is at present in these parts.

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

Great fur Sale.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. Davenport.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is not low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated low, it is that class who spend without earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3 95 and a serviceable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

Phœnix Hall.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

The Provincial Exhibition will be held in Kingston this year.

Nearly all our exchanges refer to the burial of that pet dog.

Mrs. E. Wood, though not out of danger, is much improved to-day.

A special meeting of the School Board will be held to-morrow night.

Do you believe him? Vennor says we will have two feet of ice in March.

☞There is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

Mr. Burr, Editor of the Ontario Hornet, sold a pair of Bremen Geese a few days ago to Mr. W. H. Reid, of Kingston, for $10.

☞A large oil painting of the late David Jones will be on exhibition in Ford's window. It was painted by Mr. Mason, of Toronto, our new artist.

The public meeting in connection with the City Mission Anniversary, which takes place in the City Hall this evening, should not be forgotten.

The ice above Burrell's dam having had a tendancy to keep back the water, the men in the axe factory were unable to work on Saturday.

Capt. Donnelly has succeeded in raising the Armenia sunk at Deseronto. Mr. Robt. Donnelly had to go down in a diving dress to stop numerous leaks.

Discount Sale.—Please notice that Jas. Hennessy has decided to continue his great discount sale for 2 weeks longer. Do not fail to embrace the opportunity.

☞Greatest opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

Mr. Mason, artist, has an oil-portrait of the late Prof. J. B. McGann in Ford's window, which is remarkably life-like. It is an excellent painting, reflecting much credit on the artist.

Rev. Chas. McIntosh, of Anita, Ia., and a native of Belleville, has accepted a call from the Congregational Church of York, Neb. Our young friend is very successful in his chosen profession.

Vennor now writes that this section of the country will come within a very severe storm belt between the 25th and end of the month. He says there will probably be heavy snow falls and severe cold with gales.

Men are at work this afternoon in breaking the ice in the river at the upper Bridge to prevent it from daming the water back and causing damage to the property above the bridge, as well as injuring the bridge itself.

☞N. Davenport opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

Thursday evening of last week the teamsters of Octab Allair's shanty, (one of Messrs Flint and Holton's), struck for a raise of wages while C. P. Holton was present. They soon became quieted and went to work at old wages.

City Mission Service this week: This evening Anniversary Service City Hall; Tuesday, at Mr. J. Perkin's opposite G. J. Station; Thursday, in the City Mission School Room, Covert's Store, Church-st; Friday, at Mr. Young's Cannifton Road, near McInnis' Grocery. All the Services at 7.30 o'clock

The team which Mr. Geo. Soby purchased in Syracuse for Mr. D. Gilmour, of Trenton, is said to be the best in Canada. There are a great many people here who think that a pair of horses equal to those bought could have been secured on this side of the line, but we are informed that Mr. Soby expended upwards of $200 in endeavoring to get a team suitable, but failing to do so, was sent to New York. After stopping there for some time, and being unable to buy a span of horses that suited him, he left for Syracuse, where he finally purchased a team, which are certainly the best we have seen in this country. In securing the services of Mr. Geo. Soby to select a team, Mr. Gilmour expressed his confidence in him as one of the best judges of horse flesh in the Dominion, which he certainly is.

The North American Review for March presents a striking array of articles, every one of which possesses the characteristic of contemporaneous interest. First we have a contribution from senator George F. Edmunds, on "The Conduct of the Guiteau Trial". Ex-Minister Edward F. Noyes communicates the results of his observations of political affairs in France under the title, "The Progress of the French Republic". In "Trial by Jury", Judge Edward A. Thomas describes the social conditions under which our jury system had its origin, and notes its defects in view of the altered relations of modern life. Mr. John Fiske makes an able and ingenious analysis of that great intellectual movement, the Reformation, educing therefrom the "True Lesson of Protestantism". In "Law for the Indians", the Rev. William Justin Harsha endeavors to demonstrate that the one rational and effectual cure for our Indian troubles is to extend the jurisdiction of the civil and criminal courts over all the social relations of the red man. Prof. A. B. Palmer writes on the "Fallacies of Homeopathy" Finally, the Hon. Neal Dow contributes an article on the "Results of Prohibitory Legislation", demonstrating the success of the efforts to suppress the liquor traffic in Maine.

We ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. DEATH OF DR. RYERSON.

The venerable Rev. Dr. Egerton Ryerson, late Chief Superintendent of Education in Ontario, and for more than half a century a prominent minister of the Methodist Church of Canada, died in Toronto Sunday morning. The deceased, who was known by every resident of Belleville, was born at Charlotteville in "glorious old Norfolk," on the 24th. of March, 1803. At the time of his death he was, therefore, nearly 79 years of age. As a writer, speaker, and educationalist he had few equals, and certainly no superiors in Canada. Up to the very end of his life his active mind was busy in literary work, his admirable history of the U. E. Loyalists being published only a short time ago. The whole country will mourn the death of Rev. Dr. Ryerson.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY.

The labours of the Railway Committee are almost certain to be closed this week. All interested in opposed measures are notified to be in readiness on Tuesday. The most important of the Bills yet remaining to be dealt with are the Midland Extension, Toronto, Hamilton, and Buffalo, and Northern and North-Western projects for lines between Toronto and Hamilton in competition with the Great Western. The passage through Committee of the London Junction Bill in the face of the opposition brought to bear by the Great Western and the plea of vested rights is viewed as a hopeful indication by the promoters of these undertakings. It is hardly likely that all of them will receive charters, and the general expectations is that the Midland Extension scheme, as a needed link between the Eastern and Western portions of the Province, has the best chance of acceptance.

Death of an Actress.

Paris, Feb. 20.—Madame Celeste, formerly a noted actress, died here yesterday, aged 68.

An Oil Fever.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The consul at Barmer reports a fever speculation, created by oil discovery at Hanover.

A Land League Appeal.

Fall River, Feb. 20th.—The Land League here yesterday adopted resolutions asking Congress and the President to take action for the relief of persons imprisoned by the British Government.

He was Annoyed.

Sing Sing, N. Y., Feb. 20.—Geo. Duncan, student in preparatory school for West Point, when walking out with a young lady Saturday evening, dangerously shot Martin Dempsey, who, with Isaac Little, annoyed, and Duncan claims assailed him. Duncan was arrested.

Business Rivals Fighting.

New York, Feb. 20.—Benjamin Wenbergh and James Jewett, wealthy ship brokers and rivals in business quarreled Saturday. Wenberg, it is said, knocked Jewett down with a glass paper weight. and beat him badly. Wenberg was arrested and kept all night in the cell. He was bailed yesterday. The arrest caused great excitement on Wall street.

Tariff Reduction.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Kasson is determined to insist the tariff commission measure is a revenue bill. This conclusion has not been reached without much hesitation, and only because it is necessary to take that ground in order to give the bill preference on Callendar, in committee of the Whole. Kasson's determination is very satisfactory to opponents of the bill, as if it is a revenue bill, the amendment to it, is regarded as allowing provisions of tariff, now be in order, During the consideration of the measure an effort will be made to secure considerable reductions of duties.

Gotham News.

New York, Feb. 20.—Ex-Congressman William Brown died here yesterday, aged 70.

F. W. Smith of Chicago, pastor belonging to a branch of the Mormon Church presided over by Joseph Smith's son, writes to the Herald denouncing the polygamy revelation as a fraud and contrary to the teachings of the book of Mormon.

Wm. C. Clarke, formerally senior partner of Clarke, Friend & Co, paper dealers of Chicago, denies the published story that he misappropriated the money of the firm or secretly left Chicago.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN Or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimilation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthening nutritive in all used-up conditions of the system from the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

THE MISSING SARDINIAN.

No Traces of the Disabled Steamship.—All may yet be well.

A despatch from Montreal says:—The disappointment here to-day, when it was learned that the despatches concerning the Sardinian had proved to be a hoax, was quite as keen as had been the joy expressed at the announcement of her safety. Capt. Dutton and the Sardinian are household words. From captain to cabin boy the ship's company are popular in Montreal, and have been more or less widely acquainted with her citizens, and until the news comes that she has arrived safely the anxiety now experienced is not likely to die out. An Allan Line official says that no further news had been received since the first intimation that they had had that she was proceeding quietly for Great Britain. He had received a special cablegram denying the false press despatch, but the only additional news that could be given was that a strong steam tug had been dispatched to look for her. As to her capacity for weathering the storms of the Atlantic there could be no doubt.

I am able to give only the folowing list of Cabin passengers: John Hope, Miss Hope, and Charles Hope, of Montreal; C. E. Lewis, and W. Lewis, who took their tickets from Montreal; George Aldrich, Mr. Cummings, of Halifax; A. C. McMillan, Mr. Bigby, Mrs. Doull and two children, Mr. Oliver, Capt. M. Dowley, Wm. Luce, W. H. Neal and Dr. J. B. Treeman, all of Halifax. Mr. Felix Carbray, the member of the Local Legislature for Quebec city, was also a passenger. From St. John, N. B., Mr. Mathewson; from Portland, Capt. D. O. Davis and F. M. Palmer; while A. E. Peck and Mr. McKay were from Boston. There were some twenty-one in all. There were very few steerage passengers upon the steamer.

The passengers of the Sardinian, who were transferred to the Nederland, state that the captain of the latter declined to take the former vessel in tow. When the Sardinian was left on the 8th inst. she was 900 miles from Queenstown and her stern was leeking badly.

The Latest.

London, Feb. 20.—The steamer Texas was reported on 15th inst. towing the steamer Sardinian 550 miles from Fastret.

A Liberal Offer.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—A party at Galveston offers 100 acres of land in Texas to each of 50 families of Jewish refuges expected here.

Skobeleff's Speech.

London, Feb. 20.—The Times commenting on Skobeleff's speech, says the Russian Government by its laxness of discipline becomes morally responsible for the state of things distinctly endangering the peace of Europe. Skobeleff's position cannot fail to breed alarm and suspicion to financial and political world. Europe has a right to ask that the Czar's authority shall be used to prevent the recurrence of fire brand speeches from Russian generals.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 20.—Heavy rain all the morning. The river at 11 a. m. was 55 feet, and raising two inches an hour. All cellars below Third-street are flooded, practically suspending business in that locality. A great force is busy removing goods. Plum-street passenger depot is inaccessable. Maddon & Hobart's distillery and Globe Rolling mill are closed. Other distilleries will be compelled to close. If the rain should stop now it is estimated there will be five feet more rise.

☞Mr. Babel J. Wilber, of Welchport, N S, desires to say to the public that his wife was afflicted with a severe cough—raising blood daily; knew she was in a decline and growing worse and worse. "I sent some miles and got Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, and in two weeks she was entirely cured."

SNAKES AS LIFE DESTROYERS.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredidle. Yet Consumption, which is as wily and fatal as the deadliest Indian reptile, is is winding its coils around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" must be used to cleanse the blood the scrofulous impurities, for tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy for all forms scrofulous disease, or king's evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever sores, scrofulous sore-eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases. By druggists.

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericton, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature, to represent his constituents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment, it gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood. As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it, the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago sciatica, contracted joints, cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

Put up in large bottles, retail 25 cents each, and sold by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means o which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchase it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.
Ethel's Vow.

'That is the joy I mean. Is it no happiness to assist the poor, to cheer the sick, to lighten the heavy burdens that weigh down our fellow creatures? And does not wealth enable us to do all these?'

'Oh, yes, yes; it does, it does,' cried Ethel, warmly. 'I misunderstood you, dear.'

'I was sure you did,' returned Julie; 'but you see my meaning now, I know. Oh, if I were rich, the principal joy of my wealth would be that it would enable me to carry so much light where there is so much misery. That is my interpretation of the happiness of riches.'

Ethel threw her arms round her friend's neck in sheer penitence for having so misjudged her

'You deserve to be rich, dear,' she said, warmly, as she kissed her cheek, 'for I am sure you would apply your riches in the proper way.'

The confidence of Ethel being fully restored, the conversation glided back into its former channel

Modemoiselle Fonblanque led her friend skilfully to speak of the past, until, by the warm interest with which she listened, and the deep sympathy she evinced, all Ethel's reserve melted like snow before the sun.

The subject was love and Lionel Falconer.

Was it strange that the tender yearning heart of the young mourner should yield to such sympathy, or seek, in its isolation and friendlessness, to pour out its grief into a bosom so ready to listen and to soothe?

No; it was perfectly natural, and only just what might have been expected, that Ethel should have done exactly as she did, which was to tell her kind friend everything.

Her love for Lionel, her horror of Joshua Penn—the harshness of her father.

All that she had suffered on account of each of these, even to the minutest incidents, she told to Mademoiselle Fonblanque.

There was only one dark spot over which she still allowed the veil of concealment to hang.

His was the fatal deed that attached to the memory of the man that Ethel loved, a fearful crime that she shuddered even to think of.

Nor amongst the dramatis personæ of her eventful history were any of the characters; forgotten consequently, the name of Mr. Samuel Stivers occurred not unfrequently.

At the mention of the latter, had Ethel been less engrossed in her narrative, or more suspicious of her listener, she might have observed the cheek of Mademoiselle Fonblanque flush slightly, and her eyes brighten, and a smile of something like triumph flit around her mouth as she spoke of the said Samuel Stivers as one who had shown her many acts of kindness. But Ethel did not observe this.

Having told all she had to tell, she sat with her head pillowed upon the breast of the young French girl, who, having heard her history, still spoke hopefully of the future.

'Your Lionel will come back one day, ma chere;' she said, affectionately, 'and you will forget all your past sorrows. But if not, ma belle you are young, and who knows?—you may find another——'

But Ethel laid her hand gently on her lips.

'No, Julie,' she said, 'I'm solemnly pledged to Lionel, and I shall never think of another. Whether we meet again or not—whether he has forgotten that such a person as Ethel Brandley ever existed—or even if he——'

Her voice quivered slightly as she continued—

'Sould marry another—I shall still be true to him. I shall keep my vow.'

* * * * *

About a week after the foregoing tete-a tete, Mademoiselle Julie entered the bedroom where Ethel was sitting with an expression of great importance on her face.

Seating herself familiarly by her side, and throwing her arm round her according to her usual custom, she said—

Ma mignonne, I think I have got a surprise for you,'

'Surprise?' returned Ethel, in a listless tone, seeming to imply that nothing could now greatly surprise her. 'What is it?'

'It's news of—whom do you think?'

There was a peculiar gloam in the eyes of her questioner that seemed to suggest the answer.

The blood rushed into her pale face as she exclaimed, eagerly—

'Lionel! Is it?'

'I think it must be your Lionel?' returned Mademoiselle Julie, 'and if so—well, what do you think has happened to him?'

'He is not dead!' inquired Ethel, breathlessly, starting up with a look of horror, the crimson flush dying out of her face suddenly and leaving it pale as the snowdrift.

'Dead!' re-echoed the young French girl, gaily. 'Oh, no, no, quite the reverse. He is alive and will be able to enjoy life now better than ever. Can't you guess what has befallen him?'

IN the first terrible winter spent by the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in Massachusetts, the seeds of pulmonary diseases were planted, and took deep root in families which became the progenitors of thousands of the American people. The prevalence of consumption, thus early developed, directed the attention of the most eminent physicians and scientific men to an investigation of its cause and the means of prevention and cure. The best results of professional studies on this subject are combined in Dr. J.C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is now recognized as the world's remedy for coughs, colds, consumption and other diseases of the throat and lungs. We believe it to be absolutely certain in its remedial effect. It is a safe, pleasant and reliable remedy, and if kept on hand in every household, will prove, in many cases of colds, coughs, &c., a means of preventing more serious results.—Richmond Va., Religious Herald.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co. London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for nervous indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole system is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives—Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock—with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Experiences of the War Between Chili and Peru.

The following interesting letter was written by Mr. Ralph Garratt, brother the Messrs. W. H., and S. Garrat of this city. Though a little old it is fresh enough to be of interest to our readers:—

Lima, July 20th, 1881.

Dear Parents and Family.—After many years I write to let you know how I am getting on, and also to find out how things are at home.

That I have not written sooner, blame me and forgive. When Marsh left me in Iquique, for home, I thought that I was pretty well fixed, and would be able to take a trip home to see you all the next summer, which would have been better than a letter.

Then came the tidal wave and earthquake of the 9th of May 1875, which kept is busy for a long time repairing damages. After that come an offer to take full charge of the Pisagua R.R. with a salary of $1000 a month, furnished house, three servants, and $150 for table. I accepted and deferred the home visit. I invested some money (nearly all) in a big paying business in Pisagua, and lost all invested in the bombardment of that place by the Chilians. No chance for claims.

Ten days before the bombardment I had sent my wife and family with clothes etc., to Canete to stop with her father and mother. I remained behind to pick up remnants, got disgusted and went to Mollendo, Arequipa, Puno etc. I got a contract in Puno to build a telegraph line to the end of Lake Titicaca. The day before I was to start work a telegram came to the authorities from the Government to send all the material to the coast for use in other parts. I lost the contract, but have a valid and recognised claim against them for the full amount of the contract.

Now there is no Government in this country and I can't collect.

I then went shooting ducks on Lake Titicaca, 12,000 feet above the level of the sea, and Vicuna on the sumit of the Andes, 16,000 feet above the level. I had splendid sport and bagged lots of game. From there I came to Canete, and times being dull, I had to remain idle for about fourteen months. I then got a job on the Hacienda, or estate of Casa Blanca, belonging to H. Swayne, Esq., the same job I had years ago. I moved my family to Pueblo Miejo, a town within a third of a mile of the estate, and when the news came of the landing of the Chilians in Pisco (a port about a hundred miles to the south of us) I moved them to the estate of Casa Blanca. There we remained until the 29th Feb. To let you understand the situation, I will tell you that there was, and is a crowd of "monteneros" (another name for thieves and assassins) composed of half breeds, Nigs and Indians, in Canete, who had threatened to kill all the Chinamen and foreigners in the valley. Us foreigners had heard the threats, but laughed at them, but the Chinamen, with more foresight, barricaded themselves in Casa Blanca and "Santa Barbara," and it was lucky for us that they did so. In the other states they did but little towards defence not expecting the stroke so soon. It came on the 27th of February in the Casa Blanca where I was, brought on prematurely by a row between a Nig and a celestial, about 1 p.m.

The natives rallied quick, and the Chinese took to their trenches. The fight lasted till about 3 p. m. A good skirmish, and hot at times, when the colored brothers retired, badly beaten off, and with considerable loss. We saw it all from our balcony, about eighty yards distant, but were not interfered with, except a stray shot now and again rather too close, but not meant for us. My wife had been under fire before, and insisted on stopping with me, also a Scotch woman, a fire eater, and I let them stop. The young ones wanted to see the fun also, but I could not allow it, so I put them in their room in safety. The mokes retired to Pueblo Viego, and infuriated by their repulse and losses, commenced one of the most cruel and blood thirsty massacres on record.

The valley of Canete has or had, four towns, viz., Cerro Azul, Pueblo Viego, Pueblo Nuevo, and the imperial, besides the nigger and Chinese quarters in the estates. Some of these last, rather extensive, for example Casa Blanca which had a population of full three thousand Chinese nigs and cholos. Now understand that the free Chinese being the most industrious part of the population, had the greater part of the mercantile business in their hands, and had their shops in all parts where a cent was to be made. Some of these were on a large scale. I know one Chinaman who lost $150,000. The slaughter of the unarmed and defenceless Chinese was accompanied by the robbery of their property and destruction of their houses, and in many cases by mutilation of corpses. It was horrible, terrible and revolting, and beat all my experience, which has not been very limited. The dead were left unburied, food for dogs and buzzards, and one could scarcely pass on the roads in the valley for the smell of putrefying human bodies. Up to the first of March they had killed about 1,200 Chinese in outlying estates and towns, and they then mustered in force for a grand attack on the Chinese stronghold, Casa Blanca. At about 1.30 p. m. they arrived some thousands strong, and sent in word for foreigners, women and children to leave in one hour, but in about thirty minutes the firing commenced and we had no time to save anything except what we stood in. I had my wife and three children, one just walking, and we went to the Pueblo Viejo. That got too hot for us after two days (too many warriors about and too many alarms) and then we went to the Hacienda of Gomez about five miles distant. On the 6th of March Mr. Swane sent a steamer from Callao to take off the refugees. We all embarked, after some trouble and came to Lima. I could not return to Casa Blanca then, to save anything, and to sum up, we lost all the accumulation of years, in the shape of household goods and clothing. The fighting was kept up for about 10 days Daily attacks and daily repulses, the Chinese fighting for life, and fortifying the place more strongly every opportunity, and decidedly getting the best of every skirmish. The nigs and cholos then weakened, and contented themselves by keeping up the seige, and not allowing the celestials to come out, but it was no use. The estate had on hand over 300 tons of rice the principal food of the Chinese, and besides that the Chinese had laid in a big stock of other stuff, before hand. They also made sallies from time to time, in force, and drove in cattle, one time 50 head of oxen. Water, they had in abundance, from wells inside the barricades.

RULES FOR LENT.

The following regulations are laid down for observance in the Catholic Church during the lenten season, which commences to-day.

1st. All days in lent, Sundays excepted, are days of fast and abstinence for those who are obliged by the law of fasting.

2nd. By a special dispensation of the holy see, 1875, for 10 years, the use of flesh meat is allowed at every meal on Sunday, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday of ember week and the Saturday before easter.

3rd. The church exemps from the law of fasting.

1. Those who have not attained their 21st. year, though persons who have not attained that age are exhorted to mortify themselves and subdue their passions by fasting and prayer.

2. The sick and the infirm from old age and the weakly; those who are obliged to work hard, which they could not perform if they fasted; women bearing or nursing children; and, in fine, those whose health would be seriously impared by fasting. All should abstain from flesh meat on those days prescribed, unless lawfully dispensed by their pastors; and those who are thus dispensed with the law of fasting or abstinence are still enjoined to redeem their sins by prayer and alms-deeds. We exhort them to say each day three times the Our Father and Hail Mary, and to make an offering in the poorbox during lent for the orphans.

3. Persons unable to fast on account of age, delicate health, hard labor, or other legitimate causes, should abstain as much as possible from flesh meat, except when it is allowed by general dispensation.

4. Custom has permitted in this severe climate a small collation, about one-fourth of a meal at night, and a cup of coffee or tea with a morsel of bread in the morning. The use of fish is not allowed with meat at the same meal. Eggs, butter and cheese are permitted at the night collation; also fasting food may be fried in lard, where butter cannot be easily procured.

Mr. Wm. J. Smyth resides at No. 1506 N. Seventh street, Philadelphia, Pa. and is well known in journalistic circles. He writes: I had an attack of rheumatism in both my knee-joints, and for several days I was almost crazed with the intense pain caused by the disease. To sleep was out of the question. I would lie in bed all night awake, and the slightest motion then would produce such sharp pains in my knee-joints that I would actually scream out. I had to come down stairs one step at a time, and it was dificult for me even to limp about the house, and I found it impossible to attend my business. Nothing I could do relieved me of the intense pain, although I tried everything I heard of; but a friend came in one day, and said, 'Why don't you give that St. Jacobs Oil a trial? I resolved to, and sent out for a bottle. Almost as soon as I commenced rubbing with the Oil I felt a slight relief of pain and a peculiar tingling sensation in my knees, and the more I rubbed the better I got. By the time I had used up one bottle I felt so much better that I could walk without difficulty, and I can truly say as I sit here that by the time I had consumed two bottles I was intirely cured and now have not a vestige of rheumatism and have not been troubled with it since I finished up that second bottle of St. Jacobs Oil.

There is not a more dangerous class of diseases than these which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy It cures lameness and soreness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claims to public confi ence.

Nervous Prostration, vital weakness, debility from over-work or indiscretion is radically and promptly cured by that great nerve and brain food known as Mack's Magnetic Medicine which is sold by all responsible druggists. See advertisement in another column.

Whooping-Cough.—If your children are suffering with this distressing malady and nearly coughing themselves to death, send to your Druggist and buy a bottle of Allen's Lung Balsam, and relief, we can confidently assure you, will be immediate and sure were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Joseph A. Evans, at Clifton, N. B, thus writes to Mr. Fellows:—"I believe, under kind Providence, that Mr. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been the means of restoring both my wife and daughter. The latter from Tubercular Consumption and I hope the afflicted will avail themselves of its use."

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says in a letter addressed to Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co, proprietors of Allen's Lung Balsam, I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying good health.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Persons who are very susceptible to sudden changes of weather would do well to keep a supply of Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum in the house. This Syrup is a scientific preparation of the Gum which exudes from the Red Spruce Tree, and holds a large quantity of the Gum in perfect solution, never separating Its remarkable power in relieving certain forms of Bronchitis, and curing obstinate, hacking Coughs, is now well known to the public at large No remedy can equal it as a safe and thoroughly reliable Cough Medicine. Sold by all chemists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

A VEXED CLERGYMAN.

Even the patients of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can all this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at Jas. Clarke & Co.'s Drug Store.

Epps's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up, until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." WEDNESDAY FEB. 22, 1882.

—The Legislature will adjourn to-day out of respect to the memory of the late Rev. Dr. Ryerson. The Governor-General has telegraphed his deep sorrow to the friends of the deceased.

—The Mail had better wait for particulars before arraigning Hon. W. E. Gladstone for insulting the Queen. It is quite probable that, when the facts of the case are known, the alleged insult will dwindle down to very small proportions.

—The Ottawa Herald is a journal notorious for recklessness. It was started as an independent organ, with a leaning towards the Reform side of politics. A number of fat Government advertisements had the effect of greatly modifying its views, and finally the learning was on the other side. More advertisements changed it into a rampant and unscrupulous Tory sheet, but its influence was never recognized. It is not probable, therefore, that Hon. E. Blake will consider it necessary to notice any statements such a journal may make concerning himself or others. The Mail was the only Tory paper that we have seen to republish the Herald's contribution to the "Speak Now" slander, but the Mail will stoop to almost anything for political purposes.

Sir John has again intimated that he may introduce a bill to render uniform in all the Provinces the franchise for electing members of the House of Commons. A similar measure has been spoken of at every session controlled by the Conservative leader since 1867, and hence there is some doubt if the intimation now means anything more than formerly.

Grasshoppers, full of life and ravenous as a Turk, have made their appearance at Windsor, Ont., Westchester Co., N.Y., Mount Kisco, Ky., and other parts of the continent. This fact is taken as an ominous sign of great devastation by these pests during the coming season. The unusually mild weather, it is supposed, has hatched out the eggs deposited last year. If so, a sudden change to a lower temperature might freeze the young hoppers to death. Farmers are apprehensive of danger to their crops from the grasshoppers during the coming season.

Grinding in bond was the subject of a brief colloquy Monday afternoon. Hon. Mr. Blake moved for all correspondence on the subject, and based his motion largely on certain letters sent him, which stated openly that some of the millers in bond were in some way evading the payment of duty. Mr. Bowell, in reply, said that while at first the regulations were framed so as to allow millers to export an equivalent in flour of the wheat imported in bond, they were in accordance with the protective principle of the tariff modified until they required the actual product of the imported wheat to be re-exported. He denied that the Government favored any grinders by conniving at non-payment of duty, but did not make clear the impossibility of the statements made by Mr. Blake on the strength of letters received by him. The matter will come up again during the session.

CASTING THE HOROSCOPE.

The Winnipeg Sun is a Conservative journal, edited by a pronounced Conservative and N. P. advocate. It has been casting the political horoscope and concludes that the Liberal party, at the next general election, will mass their forces in the pivotal province of Ontario, and endeavor by a sweeping majority there to more than compensate themselves for losses sustained elsewhere. The Sun says:—

> The present Federal Conservative majority cannot stand in Ontario. Sectional cries against the other Provinces, and Sir John's boundary award policy have settled that. Such constituencies as South Waterloo, the Yorks, Welland and perhaps Lincoln, will probably go back to Gritism, and all the more readily because several of them are not worthily represented.

Our contemporary imagines, however, that the good results of the National Policy will be a trump card for the Conservatives to play, and that this will give them a great advantage everywhere, but especially outside of Ontario. The people of the Maritime Provinces have little to be thankful for, so far as the good results of the National Policy is concerned. Excepting a few coal mine owners and manufacturers, there are few in that part of the Dominion who have been benefitted by the increased tax on all the necessities of life. The Sun could satisfy itself that in the Prairie Province there is little love for the N.P. The settlers in that remote section do not find the protective duties an assistance in their struggle with nature's ruggedness. Sir John's boundary award policy has undoubtedly settled the question of political supremacy in Ontario, and we believe his National Policy has settled the same question in other provinces of the Dominion. Farmers, who constitute by far the largest class of voters, cannot consistently vote to perpetuate a system that is robbing them of millions for the purpose of piling up a treasury surplus.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Luard-Campbell matter will be fully ventilated in Parliament.

Nearly all the railway bills before Parliament are North-West schemes.

It is stated that the Syndicate intended to run candidates in every Manitoba constituency in the Legislature.

It was rumored on Monday that Tupper threatened to resign unless his report on the award of the contract to Onderdonk & Co. was adopted by the Privy Council.

It has been urged upon the Government that the Post Office department should undertake the business now done by express companies in connection with the Post Office.

Hon. Mr. Blake was called away from Ottawa Monday night on account of the illness of his sister, Mrs. J. K. Kerr, who is not expected to live. Mr. Mackenzie leads the Opposition in his absence.

Mr. Blake had a great many motions, all of which were carried, among which were regulations for grinding in bond; tenure of County Court Judges; the Manitoba Commission in the administration of Justice. The latter he held legally objectionable, as the only way a judge could be impeached was by petition to the Senate and Commons. Sir John agreed with Mr. Blake.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

The U. E. Club has "busted."

Nearly half the prisoners in the Central prison are from Toronto, Hamilton and London.

They had a blizzard in Manitoba on the 14th. inst., which the Sun says was "the boss of the season."

The editor of the Bobcaygeon Independent says Vennor should be hanged. Severe, but just, perhaps.

The fashionable world of Toronto was all agog Tuesday morning over the marriage of the Rutherford sisters.

The report that the Quebec Government had sold the Montreal & Ottawa section of Q., M., O. & O. Railway to the Syndicate is confirmed.

The Court of Common Pleas at Toronto has decided that shaving on Sunday is illegal. Tonsorial artists will take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

"The Life and Speeches of the Hon. Geo. Brown," edited by Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, will be ready for delivery early in April. The subscription price will be one dollar.

Mr. S. A. Marling, M. A., Inspector of High Schools, died very suddenly at Rosedale near Toronto, last Sunday night. He was eminent as a scholar and educationalist.

The Ottawa City Council will demand from the Government an annual grant to the corporation to help pay for the extra improvements &c. incurred by the city in consequence of its being the seat of Government.

Mr. Barnum, "the greatest showman on earth," has sent us two copies of Harpers Weekly of the 18th. inst., containing illustrations &c. of his curiosities. He and Forepaugh are sure to pitch their tents here next summer.

☞ A leading druggist writes: "Two cases of Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment will not be too much, as I know I can find sale for it all. Since I have been sold out, the inquiry has daily. I never sold an article that makes so many cures."

STIRLING ITEMS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A very successful tea-meeting was held on Monday evening of this week, in the Baptist Church, about four miles west of Stirling, known as the "Hubble Hill Settlement." Although the weather was unfavorable and roads in a bad condition, the church was filled at an early hour, and every person was anticipating a good time. The ladies had amply prepared a good tea, and all appeared to take advantage of the rare treat and abundantly supplied the inner man, after which addresses were delivered by several prominent ministers of Stirling and other places. The amount realized at the door was about $100, which speaks well for the enterprising and generous people of the above-named place.

Snow fell on Monday night to the depth of about four inches, which makes very good sleighing. If it remains for a few weeks, it will make business quite brisk.

There has been considerable grain marketed here during the past few weeks, and by all accounts there appears to be a good deal of barley and rye not yet sold in this section of the country.

Several of our respected townsmen are preparing to take their departure next month for the North-West, where they expect in a short time to be blessed with a fortune in the Prairie Province.

A rather sad accident occurred Tuesday morning to Mr. James McKeown of this village, who has been in the employ of Messrs Milne & Clute, as cutter for some time. While he was proceeding from his house to the store, he slipped and fell, breaking his leg, which will leave him in almost a helpless condition for some time.

Stirling has experienced quite a wood famine this winter, as that article has been very scarce and dear, owing to no sleighing and bad state of the roads.

CITY MISSION WORK.

Editor of the Ontario:

Dear Sir.—I write of my own free will and unsolicited by anyone, to thank you for publishing in full the report of Rev. A. Schuster. It is an instructive paper, and well worthy the careful perusal of every citizen. The work of Mr. and Mrs. Schuster, while of a special nature, is wholly unsectarian. Preeminently it is done in the interests of the poor, and will benefit the community in many ways. In obtaining work for such as are suffering for the want of it, as a medium for employers to procure help, with the school which has been opened for such as cannot attend the public school, with the Industrial School soon to be opened for training girls, and in view of the timely assistance which the Missionary and his wife are giving to the poor and suffering, a work is being done, which, apart from religious considerations, is of great value to our city. This work, therefore appeals to all. In addition to all this, the City Mission presents a spiritual benefit. It is rescuing the perishing. It is caring for the dying. These religious services, held almost every night and twice on Sabbath, meet the needs of non-church goers, while the Sabbath School, which the Missionaries with the assistance of Mrs. Bonar, Mr. Armstrong and others carry on, is an invaluable blessing. I need hardly add what the report suggests in its every sentence, that Mr. and Mrs. Schuster are doing everything in their power by visiting, attending upon the sick and dying, and counselling those who come to them for advice, to meet the spiritual wants of such as do not belong to any church.

I mention these things to show what an invaluable work is being carried on in this city. The question arises, What is the community doing for the Missionaries? The statement of money and goods received for the year is interesting, and because of gradual improvement is gratifying. But let each of us ask, What is $150 for a city like this to give? It is surely less than nothing compared with our resources. But perhaps many do not understand the matter. Some may be expecting to be called upon for subscriptions. It should therefore be impressed upon all that this is a faith-work, and that Mr. Schuster and his wife look to God for support. We should be careful to understand what this means. Our missionaries depend for their support on what God is pleased to put into the hearts of men and women to give. There is no committee at work to raise money for the City Mission. There is no collection to be made. There are no subscriptions asked. The support of these worthy missionaries depends upon each of us giving as we are prompted.

I am delighted with the first years' exhibit. It is hopeful, and when many, who do not now understand the subject, learn what is their duty, it is not difficult to foresee that in another year the results will be proportionately gratifying. May God bless our missionaries and those co-operating with them!

I am, Sir,
David Mitchell.

P. S.—It should be noticed that at a public meeting Mr. A. G. Northrup, County Clerk, was requested to act as Treasurer of the mission, and contributions may therefore be sent to him or to Rev. A. Schuster.

THE BOUNDARY QUESTION.

Mr. Mowat's answer to the Dominion Government's Contention — He Refuses to Go to the Supreme Court.

Further correspondence and papers respecting the disputed territory on the northerly and westerly sides of Ontario was laid before the legislative assembly Mon'y night. It includes (1) Award of arbitrators, 3rd. August, 1878; (2) despatch from the honorable the secretary of state, Ottawa, to his honor the lieutenant-governor, 27th anuary, 1882; (3) reply of his honor the lieutenant-governor, 18th February, 1882. The first two of these documents have already been printed; the third one is the most important and fullest presentation of the case of Ontario that has yet been made and is undoubtedly a strong one. It is dated the eighteenth of Febuary and is an answer to the despatch of the Dominion government, dated Jan. 27.

This reply of Mr. Mowat's government covers thirteen pages of printed matter and goes over the whole question. It begins by declaring that the Ontario government regrets to find the position of the Dominion government so unsatisfactory.

It takes the despatch of the federal government as an intimation that the latter intended to reject and disregard the award of the boundary commission. Mr. Mowat then goes on to show why he thinks that award should be received and how, according to the ethics of nations, it is the recognized and bounden duty of the government to give that award parliamentary sanction, or do their best to obtain it; nor are changes in the personnel of either government allowed to affect the obligation.

Mr. Mowat next cites that many circumstances give exceptional force to his contention that the federal authorities should accept the award. Among these are the facts that though the award was made on Aug. 3, 1878, and though a change of government took place on Oct. 17 following, the new government gave no intimation of their intention of repudiating the award till 1880.

But even if the parliament of Canada withholds its sanction, Mr. Mowat still refuses to admit that the award has no legal force. He thinks that the powers incident to executive authority are of sufficient extent to settle the question.

He next contends that the award made was really the true legal boundary and not a mere conventional one.

In answer to the proposition of the federal government that the question be left to the supreme court of Canada for adjudication, Mr. Mowat declines point blank on the ground that it would create years of further delay and involve great additional labor and expense. Another proposition for inviting some eminent English legal functionary to come to Canada for the purpose of settling the question is also declined on the ground that the decision of one English judge would not command that general assent that the decision already given of the three arbitrators is entitled to.

The despatch concludes by hoping that both the federal parliament and the legislature of Manitoba will pass acts recognizing the award as a final adjustment of the boundries of Ontario.

☞Lr. Seth Erb, Belleisle Bay, Kings Co., N. B., says: "I have used Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills for sick-headache and can with confidence recommend them and believe them to be the best pills now in use.

HEROISM OF MAJOR CROZIER.

A Serious Disturbance Prevented.

The following, which we find in the Globe, will show that our old friend has been again distinguishing himself in the North-West, as an offier of the Mounted Police force:—

> What might have been, but for the prompt and decided action of Major Crozier, a serious disturbance, occurred at the Blackfoot Crossing on the 10th ult. A minor chief named "Bull Elk" had a dispute with one of the butchers employed by the beef contractors as to the ownership of a beef head. It ended in the butcher getting possession of the disputed property. Bull Elk withdrew to a distance of 150 or 200 yards from the ration-house, when he turned and quickly opened fire with his Winchester upon the whites who were standing near the building. They made good time to the Farm Instructor's house, and at once lodged a complaint before Captain Dickens, who, with a detachment of fifteen men, was stationed at the crossing. Two constables were sent to the Indian camp, and Bull Elk arrested. The whole camp, headed by Crowfoot, then turned out, and demanded the surrender of the prisoner. After six hours of parleying they became so violently demonstrative that Captain Dickens thought it prudent to set Bull Elk at liberty, and then send in to Fort McLeod (seventy-five miles distant) for assistance. They arrived in forty-eight hours in the shape of Major Crozier and forty men. The Major immediately put his men to work at erecting bastions, throwing up breastworks, cutting portholes through the walls of the ration house, etc. The curiosity of the Indians was greatly excited as they watched these warlike preparations, and at last Crowfoot asked Major Crozier what it all meant. The Major relied that he had come out there for Bull Elk, that he was either going to have him or else there was going to be a fight, and the only way in which a fight could be prevented was for Crowfoot to go to camp and bring the prisoner. On receiving this unlookedfor reply, Crowfoot hastened away, and in fifteen minutes returned and handed Bull Elk over to the Major. He was subsequently tried before Col McLeod and received fourteen days in the guard-room. Since this trouble the detachment of police at the Blackfoot Crossing has been doubled.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. B. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

Calisaya, the Peruvian Or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimilation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthening nutritive in all used-up conditions of the system from the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Tuesday, Feb. 21

After a consideration of the vexed question of the maintenance of the Provincial Exhibition, the bill for removing certain defects in the law of evidence, and the measure amending the law of libel, the Market Fees Bill came up for a second reading, and a long debate ensued, during which the various details of the Bill were thoroughly canvassed. Mr. Wood explained its provisions, and was followed by Mr. Meredith, who accused the Ministry of unduly favoring the farmers. He thought that the question of tolls should have been settled simultaneously. Mr Bell indulged in some rather ponderous sarcasm directed at the Government, but the laughter his remarks excited was mainly at his own expense. Mr. Young did not think that there was any necessary connection between market fees and tolls. A number of other speakers followed, those representing rural constituencies generally favoring the measure while the city members were opposed to it. Mr. Wood closed the debate by replying to some of the objections brought against the Bill, which received its second reading.

On motion of Mr. Crooks, the House adjourned until half-past seven in the evening, in order to give the members an opportunity of attending the funeral of the late Dr. Ryerson.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? B. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Monday, Feb. 21st.

In the Common yesterday, after routine, Mr. Paterson, on a motion for papers, made a very effective exposure from the Trade and Navigation Returns of the falling off in exports of manufactures under the Tilley tariff. He showed that the decrease in the export trade was not wholly with Great Britain, as the Customs report stated, nearly $5,000,000 of it being in our trade with the United States, and that while there was an increase of over $20,000,000 in products of the forest, of animals, and of agriculture in 1881 as compared with 1879, there was in the same time a decrease in the exports of manufactures of over $1,000,000. He showed that this decrease could not be due to the replacement of imports by home manufactures, as our imports of the various articles were increasing as rapidly as our manufactures were. He pointed out how duties on raw materials handicapped Canadian manufacturers in exporting, and cited the case of one Brantford manufacturer who paid in 1881 some $6,096 in duties more than he would have had to pay had the Cartwright tariff remained in force. After Messrs. Plumb, Hesson, and Orton had made an attempt at answering Mr. Paterson, Mr. Bowell attempted to show that the increased trade between the Provinces accounted for the falling off in the export of manufactres. He instanced the falling off in Maritime Provinces imports as a sign that Canadian were taking the place of foreign goods, not seeming to be aware of the fact that these Provinces import as much as ever, but do it now by way of Montreal instead of their own ports. The debate was adjourned, Mr. Charlton having the floor.

FRONT OF SIDNEY NOTES.

(From our own Correspondent)

—Yesterday (Feb. 21) the residence of Mr. Edwin Traver was burned with most of its contents. The fire, which originated from a defective chimney, broke out about 11 a. m., and although the neighbors hastened to the scene the heavy east wind made it impossible to save the building. A driving house was also burned. Mr. Traver's loss will be pretty heavy.

—Trenton seems to be over supplied with a class of petty pilferers, who are sometimes ambitious enough to try their hand at taking things of value. Mr. John Kelley, of the Front of Sidney, on Saturday last had a fine Wolf-skin robe stolen from his rig from the shed of the Queen's. On discovering his loss he immediately communicated with Mr. Coleman, Chief of Police, and in a short time they found a young fellow with the robe under his arm coming across the bridge. He said he had bought it from a man a short time before across the river. At last accounts the thief had been found, and he will probably get the treatment, at the hands of the law, that he deserves.

—On Sunday evening last Rev. Mr. Ferguson preached his farewell sermon to his congregation in White's Church. He made a deep impression on his audience by his very eloquent and practical discourse. His reason for leaving before the expiration of the conference year was to take charge of a similar position at Wingham. His successor will be one of the students of Albert College.

—The special services in connection with the C. M. Church were terminated on Friday evening last after continuing for over three months. This was one of most successful meetings ever held in this part of the country, there being about one hundred and fifty converts. The services are still going on in the third concession and in Chase's Church near Belleville.

—Word is rife of a grand entertainment to be held in the school house of Section No. 2, in about two weeks. The preparations going on, and the success in this line of former times would indicate that there was a rare literary treat in store for the people.

TAKEN OUT OF BED.

Dr. R. V. Pierce Buffalo N. Y.: Dear Sir —I have to thank you for the great relief received from your 'Favorite Prescription.' My sickness had lasted seven years, one of which I was in bed. After taking one bottle I was able to be about the house. Respectfully,

AMANDA K. ENNIS, Fulton Mich.

There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate he bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE !

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantegous shoice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture,

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

To-day is Ash Wednesday. The boys attending the High School presented a petition to the School Board last night, praying for a holiday, but the request was not granted.

Miss O'Carroll desires in this way, to return her most cordial thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted at the concert last night ; also to Mr. McCornick for the use of his piano

☞CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

Our readers should not forget the lecture in the Bridge-st. Church to-morrow evening by Rev. Dr. Jeffers. There is no doubt but the lecture will prove a rare literary treat to these who attend.

The danger that was felt by parties living at the mouth of the river has been greatly lessened by the lowering of the water in the river. It is over a foot lower now than it was on Monday.

The Emerson Express says:—J. A. Badgely, druggist, of Belleville, Ont., is in town and we understand it is his intention to go into business in Emerson. We wish Mr. Badgley success. The more the merrier.

☞FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

When you can buy everything in the dry goods line at HENNESSY's at 80c. on the dollar, why go elsewhere. The stock consists of 632 pieces of Tweed, 925 pieces of Dress Goods, 840 pieces of Prints and Cottons, Tickings, Towels, Towelling, Table-linnens, Cretonnes, &c., &c.

There was a good docket at the Police Court this morning. Wm. Fitzpatrick, drunk, was fined $2 and costs, and Henry Ceryo $1 and costs. Isaac Johnston, an Indian, who said he got his liquor "on the train," was discharged. David Pringle and James Craig, both up on remand, were discharged.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement in another column announcing a credit sale in the second concession of Sidney, on the 28th inst. It is the intention of Mr. Davis to dispose of his entire stock without reserve, and there is no doubt but great bargains will be received by those who attend. Sale commences at 10 a. m.

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

In every sense of the word, the benefit concert, given to Miss O'Carroll in the City Hall last evening, was a pleasing success. The attendance was large and the programme gave universal satisfaction. The only absent member, who had been announced to sing, was Mr. McMurray, but the other pieces were rendered in such a highly satisfactory manner that the audience were not disposed to object to this omission. Each piece was given in creditable style, and the audience were not slow in showing their appreciation by frequently calling upon the members to respond to an encore. Miss O'Carroll has every reason to feel proud of her popularity in the city, as was evidenced by the success of her concert last night.

☞N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his tock here.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

☞No humbug but a genuine closing sale. N. Davenport is closing business and must dispose of his stock of Furs.

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT LOW, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3.95 and a servicable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

☞THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

The Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q. C., will lecture before the students of Ontario Business College to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Steel Engravings—A special sale of the above framed Engravings will take place at the rooms of the Belleville auction co, (Bartman & Sintzels old stand) on Thursday the 23rd inst. at 7.30 p. m.—J. A. Gould, Auctioneer.

At a brigade meeting of the firemen held on Monday evening, it was agreed that the brigade shall tender their resignation by the 28th. inst., providing the city does not in the meantime grant the prayer of their petition.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

There was a good attendance at the Missionary meeting in the Bleecker Church last night, and the addresses delivered by the deputation were fully as interesting and instructive as those at the Holloway st. Church on the previous evening. The collections were liberal.

We were misinformed Tuesday in regard to Huff's condition. We learn to-day from a gentleman living in the neighborhood, that the unfortunate man is dead, and was buried yesterday. This makes seven persons in all who lost their lives by that terrible Huntingdon holocaust.

The Oddfellows' assembly last night was attended by about sixty-five couples. These assemblies are becoming very popular. Those who were there last night speak very highly of the management, and all spent a pleasant time. Mr. Dickens furnished the supper in the rooms of the Lodge.

The parcel of silk which Mrs. S. Vermilyea lost on Saturday, and which was advertised in last evening's ONTARIO, was found by a boy on Coleman st. shortly after it was lost. The advertisement having been brought to the notice of his parents, the goods were restored to the proper owner.

Tuesday morning Judge Wilkinson gave his decision in the case of the protested election of Mr. A. H. Roe as councillor for Centre Ward, Napanee, unseating and disqualifying him with costs. Roe's disqualification consists of his having an interest in the gas works, and they having contracts for the lighting of the streets.

Messrs. Gallagher & Gauther, proprietors of the Beaconsfield Vineyard, have just been asked for prices for 5,000 grape vines, to be sent to Rochester, N. Gallagher & Gauthier have no longer any connection with Mr. R. J. Donnelly, recently in their employ.—Montreal Herald, Feb. 11th. '82.

Motto—quality not quantity. BROCK & Co. The Photographers.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

SNAKES AS LIFE DESTROYERS.

The loss of life in India due to the ravages of venomous snakes is almost incredible. Yet Consumption, which is as wily and fatal as the deadliest Indian reptile, is is winding its coils around thousands of people while the victims are unconscious of its presence. Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Mepical Discovery" must be used to cleanse the blood the scrofulous impurities, for tubercular consumption is only a form of scrofulous disease. "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy for all forms scrofulous disease, or king's-evil, such as tumors, white swellings, fever sores, scrofulous sore-eyes, as well as for other blood and skin diseases. Dy druggists.

Dollars, which might otherwise be thrown away by resorting to ineffectual medicines, are saved by purchasing that inexpensive specific for bodily pain and remedy for affections of the throat, lungs, stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which does not deteriorate, and is thorough and pure.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

Special Meeting of the Board of Trustees.

A special meeting of the School Board was held last evening. Those present were: Messrs. Wills, Johnson, Holden, Macoun, Moore, Maxim, Hayne, Diamond, Carmichael, Richards, Wensley and Davis.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The committee on Central and High School presented their report which recommended that the boy McKenna be restored to the Central School on making ample apology for his misconduct.

The report from the Finance Committee read. Besides recommending the payment of a number of accounts, the committee decided to not entertain the petition from Mr. N. Vermilyea for certain unpaid salary. The Chairman of Finance then submitted his estmates for 1882, which were as follows :

ESTIMATES FOR 1882.

Total	$16,280

The Board went into committee of the whole on reports, Mr. Macoun in the chair.

Rev. J. W. Burke and Mr. Walker came in.

The above two reports were read and adopted.

Committee rose and reported. Adopted.

Mr. McGinnis came in

Mr Johnson introduced a By-Law and a requisition referring to the estimates.

Board went into committee of the whole on By-Laws, Mr. Moore in the chair.

Mr. Johnson's By law was read a second time, when the committee rose and reported. Adopted.

The By-Law was read a third time passed and numbered.

The resignation of Miss Mathison was on motion accepted.

Mr. Holden moved for the suspension of the rules for the purpose of submitting a resolution referring to the High School.

This resolution provoked considerable discussion, as all the members were aware of the contents of the motion which Mr. Holden purposed submitting It was, however, finally carried.

Mr. Holden then moved that a copy of that portion of the Public School Inspectors report referring to the Central School also a copy of the last High School Inspector's report be furnished the Committee on High and Central schools.—Carried.

Rev. J. W. Burke moved, seconded by Mr. Johnson, a vote of condolence to the family of the late Egerton Ryerson.

The resolution was carried by a standing vote.

The Board then adjourned.

☞Mr. Babel J. Wilber, of Welchport, N.S, desires to say to the public that his wife was afflicted with a severe cough—raising blood daily; knew she was in a decline and growing worse and worse. "I sent some miles and got Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, and in two weeks she was entirely cured."

A Heavy Loss.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 22.—The estimated loss to distillery interests here by the flood is $20,000.

Damage by Flood.

MADISON, Ind. Feb. 22—Eight manufactories are flooded; 800 people out of work.

Three men Drowned.

CATTLEBBSBURG, Ky. Feb. 22—Three men near Burlington were washed off a raft and drowned.

Three Persons Drowned.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 22.—In a gale on Ohio river at Little Residence, a craft was wrecked, and two women and a child were drowned.

A Narrow Escape.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. Feb. 22.—While a party were removing from an inundated building the latter fell with a loud crash. One man injured from the third story, another from the second, into the water. No body hurt.

FITS, FITS, FITS,

Unprecedented Flood.

ST. LEWIS, Feb. 22.—The rise of the river here is said by steamboat men to be unprecedented. No such amount of water was ever known to come down so suddenly. The recent rain fall amounted to within seventeen hundredths of an inch of the average fall for the entire winter of the past eleven years.

Resolution of Sympathy.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 22.—The committee of ex Confederate soldiers left last night for Mentor to present Mrs. Garfield with a resolution of sympathy framed in Tennessee marble. The resolution was passed on the death of Garfield in Sept.

The river is falling half an inch an hour. Individual loss and from direct will be small, but the aggregate will be great.

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—The result of Bismarck's conference with the Emperor is no official representations regarding Skobeloff's speech will be made at St Petersburg.

Wreckage Washing Up

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The wreckage of the steamer City of London, Capt. Wilson, which sailed from London, Nov. 13th, for New York, is continually washing up on the Irish coast.

Washington's Birthday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday is being generally observed in the large cities east. All banks and exchanges and nearly all places of business and courts are closed here.

Spain and Portugal.

LISBON, Feb. 22—Barbosa introduced a resolution in the Chamber of Deputies proposing an alliance between Spain and Portugal, on the ground that the united nations need fear no foreign aggression. They would be able to reduce armies and navies to such a footing as would suffice the requirements of their colonies, and Lisbon and Oporto would become centres of intercourse with Brazil and Spanish American Republics.

The Mormon Question.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Baron Ignitues Von. Seharfer, the new Austrian Minister, arrived from Europe yesterday.

The Herald says the House Committee on elections heard the closing arguments in the Utah contest yesterday. The committee unanimously favor Ousting Cannon, the polygamist. It is probable a majority of the committee will be in favor of setling the matter of a new delegate by a new election.

An Answer Filed.

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 22.—At Trenton yesterday the assignee of Nugent & Co., filed an answer to the complaint of the receiver of Merchants National Bank. The answer claims they had a balance in the bank of $977, due them at the time of failure, and alleges the directors of the bank know of the transactions of Baldwin with the firm, and also that the directors Hannett and James, and the three Halseys discounted the firm's paper, and charged from 12 to 18 per cent. for their services.

Making Foolish Speeches.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 22.—It is stated Russian statesmen and the Emperor himself have been less astonished than annoyed by Skobeloff's sensational speeches. It is said he is apt to make foolish speeches, and no one ever attaches the slightest political weight to him. It is asserted but small importance is attached to the incident by the Ambassadors of Germany and Austria at St. Petersburg. Last year Skobeloff expressed sentiments in direct contradiction to those contained in his recent speeches.

Another Death.

CHESTER, Pa. Feb. 22.—Francis Oaks a victim of fireworks explosion, died this a. m. This makes 18 deaths. Wm. Cowan frightfully wounded, is dying. Chief engineer Dalton, who is in a critical condition to-day told the coroners jury he helped to remove 6 or 7 barrels of powder from the magazine adjoining the burning building. As far as he knew on the ground floor of the building was nothing but machinery. He said Vanhorney told him there were na explosives about the place, and no danger.

The Bradlaugh Case.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Bradlaugh will be permitted to sit under the gallery of the House of Commons below the bar to-day. It is understood Northcote is prepared, if necessary, to move the expulsion of Bradlaugh.

Law officers of the Crown, at a consultation last evening, discussed the legality of Bradlaugh's Act. It is unlikely a legal point will involve much discussion in the House, but a prolonged discussion will probably arise on the punishment to be meted out to him.

The Cotton Interests.

MANCHESTER, Feb. 22.—One of the largest meetings of cotton masters ever held took place yesterday. The chairman dwelt on the serious position of the trade, caused by declining prices, and increasing stocks. A resolution was unanimously passed that it is necessary to adopt short time in the manufacturing departments. Circulars have been sent to all masters of north and M. E. Lancashire asking whether they were willing to reduce production to the extent of two weeks work during March.

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericton, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature, to represent his constituents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment, It gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood. As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it, the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago, sciatica, contracted joints, cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

Put up in large bottles, retail 25 cents each, and sold by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company!

OF WATERLOO - - - ONT.

(ESTABLISHED 1868.)

has just closed its twelfth year, which has been the most successful year in its history. The following figures show the progress the company has made during the last three years.

Policies issued in 1879 were 427 for $490,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1880 were 908 for $1,157,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1881 were 1,426 for $2,000,000 of Assurance.

Such rapid progress shows that the public appreciate economical management, annual cash dividends, and promptness in paying claims.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

'I am determined to see the last of you, dear,' she said, taking her hand affectionately, 'and will ride with you to the station, if you do not object to my company.'

But to Ethel's great astonishment, and not a little to her chagrin, Mademoiselle Julie seemed to object very greatly, and looked quite excited at the very natural and friendly proposition.

'Oh, m'amie,' she cried, 'I could not endure it. Of all things in the world I dread formal partings; let us take leave here; were you to accompany me, I should be drowned in tears for the whole of the journey. Pray spare me.'

Ethel, who only sought to please her friend, yielded to her request at once, although with much regret.

'I do hope we shall meet again, Julie dear,' she said, with tearful earnestness, as the young French girl was about to pass out.

'I hope so too, ma belle, and I think it very possible that we may,' replied Julie, in a tone that did not come from her heart, and that formed a strong contrast to the serious tenderness of her companion's wish; but she added, with a mournful little shrug, 'as we never know what may happen in this uncertain, revolutionary world of ours, in case we should not, adieu. Dieu vous benisse!'

A hasty kiss, and an equally hurried shake of the hand and a final wave of the latter, as the cab drove off, comprised Mademoiselle Fonblanque's farewell of her chere amie.

Ethel returned to her bedroom strangely depressed.

It seemed to her that her friend had reserved all her coolness for the moment of parting.

But even then Ethel tried to excuse her. 'Perhaps she assumed an indifference she did not feel to hide the real sorrow she felt at saying good bye,' she thought charitably.

She seated herself at the table where the blotting case book which Mademoiselle Julie had used when she answered her lawyer's letter, lay still open as she had left it.

Gradually as she gazed, her eyes became more and more riveted.

The blotting paper still retained the inverted impression of the address the enveloped had left stamped upon it.

Although the characters were backwards, Ethel could decipher it distinctly.

A marvellously strange address it was too, if the letter had been intended to reach a lawyer residing in Paris.

Not on account of the distorted position of the letters, but because, when put into their original form, they read thus—

'Mr. Samuel Stivers,
'Penn and Co., Solicitors,
'Marlwood, Gloucestershire.'

'What does that mean?' thought Ethel, as a peculiar creeping sensation passed through her veins. 'Why should Mademoiselle Fonblanque write to Mr. Stivers? He cannot be her lawyer, and he is entirely unknown to her, I am sure. It is very strange!

It was very strange.

So strange that Ethel, after pondering long upon circumstances, left off no wiser than she commenced.

Not a glimpse of the truth once crossed her—how should it?

Solomon, with all his wisdom, could scarcely have unravelled it.

CHAPTER XLIII.

MR. SAMUEL STIVERS RECEIVES A LETTER.

We left the exemplary Joshua in a very restless and dissatisfied state of mind.

Being a man who believed in law and justice, it was dreadful to him to reflect that Ethel had, by running away almost at the last moment, not only treated him with the contempt he deserved, but had also entirely put it out of his power to 'serve her out,' as he fully intended to do, for the manner in which she had treated him.

Had it not been for his managing clerk, there is no knowing what rash act the irritated Joshua might not, in his splenetic fit, have committed.

But the cheerful Samuel stepped in like a guardian angel to the relief of his discomfited principal.

Like a good Samaritan, he poured oil into his wounds—but the wine, he suggested, should be taken internally, as being too costly to be wasted in mere outward applications.

'What's the use of fretting about the loss of your intended?' he argued; 'you know very well she didn't care a button about you. If Miss Bradley were the only girl in the world, I should be the first to advise you to go and hang yourself on the nearest branch, but as there are plenty of young ladies ready and willing to enter the matrimonial state, cheer up and look about you and as a preliminary step, let's have a glass of port.'

With such an able counsellor constantly at his elbow, it is not surprising that the worthy legal gentleman accepted the preliminary glass, and then cheered up and looked about him.

Of all the twenty-four young ladies who were secretly sighing to be converted into Pen(n)s, Miss Priscilla Whitbread, the brewer's daughter of Stroud, seemed most adapted to the taste of the somewhat fastidious Joshua.

The fair Priscilla had glided out of the first blush of her maidenhood into the second phase of female attractiveness, and was now a young lady of five and-twenty.

Fair, plump, and of the gushing, demonstrative order, she retained, as she advanced towards maturity, all the innocent playfulness that had characterised her more juvenile years.

To be Continued.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung effections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relief human suffering. I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Send by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar; 149 powers Block

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.— These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system. improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood. promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgic indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole [illegible] is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Sarsaparilla

SARSAPARILLA
AYERS

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Experiences of the War Between Chili and Peru.

There were then about 1,600 men in Casa Blanca. I arrived in Lima on the 7th with family all well, but skinned. I found some friends there, to whom I had shown some hospitality in former and better times, and they proved the truth of the text, "Cast thy bread upon the waters and it will return after many days." I got my family under shelter and thank God we were not short of the necessaries of life, although we persuaded ourselves to leave out some of the luxuries from the bill of fare. On the 14th April a call came from the Swaynes for a volunteer or two of the old hands who knew the valley and the people to go down and report on the situation. At that time there was no communication with the valley except by express messengers overland, 100 miles, and these were almost always robbed or murdered. I offered and was sent. The port of Cerro Azul was closed by the Chilians, but Mr. Swayne got special permission for the steamer to enter and land me, and I found myself on shore in the infected district on the morning of the 15th. I found an old colored friend on the beach who kindly offered to take me up the valley. I rode on the saddle and he behind. My luggage was not heavy, as near as I remember it consisted of several pounds chewing tobacco, tooth brush comb and towel. A war correspondent of the New York Herald might have more, but he would not have been any happier than I was. I met the commander of the native forces, who was fortunately an old acquaintance, and he gave me a passport to go and come, when and where I pleased, and also warning me that the brethren would certainly kill me if I went to Casa Bianca. I went there the same day located inside the fortifications. My reception was actually oppressive. I had to answer about 50,000 questions as near as I can remember, and a more pleased lot of almond eyed gentlemen I never saw. I embraced the chiefs, you must remember that all the Chinese in the valley knew me well. Got a room fixed up in good shape, clean sheets and all, went to bed and slept soundly. Next day I made the rounds of the fortress. They had not only held the fort, but were fifty per cent stronger than when we left them. They had made guns out of one inch gas piping. Cannon out of 4 inch steam pipe, and very effective guns they were. They had made and were making their own powder and percussion caps, and they had doubly fortified all weak points. There discipline was something to admire.

Their code of laws, adopted republican fashion, was mild and healthy in its tone but meant to keep down unruly spirits. For example, petty theft, or drunk and disderly, 25 lashes across the bare back, in the public plaza, or square of the Hacienda and up to the death penalty for graver offences. I interfered one night to save one from heavy punishment. I was informed very politely that I was a guest there, would be treated with all respect, etc., but that I had better mind my own business. A good motto and I tried to stick religiously to it, for the rest of my stay amongst them. I asked for a mount, and was furnished with a half bred English, a beauty, one of three which had remained in the stables during the siege, well looked after in all respects. Well mounted I made the rounds of the valley, and was not molested much. In the meantime I put on Chinamen to clean up machinery and to save what I could for my employers' interest. In this I was assisted very much by the Chinese chiefs; in fact much more than I expected. I sent dispatches from time to time, to the house of Lima, to let them know the state of affairs.

After about six weeks the heads of the house sent down the rest of the Gringos. The boys started in, to clean up and regulate the machinery; but the valley was not quiet. Another storm was brewing. The natives insisted on sending all Chinese out of the valley, or killing them. Finally the Chilians interfered, and landed a force in Cerro Azul on the 15th of June, without opposition. Next day they marched up the valley as far as Pueblo Viejo, where the natives showed fight for a couple of hours, but they stood no chance against the superior discipline, and the artillery of the Chilians, and they fell back on Pueblo Nuevo.

When Pueblo Viejo was taken, our Casa Blanca heathen broke bounds and commenced a war on their own hook. Not finding any nigs on whom they could wreak their vengeance, they turned their attention to poultry, pigs, &c. Nothing was too heavy for them and they did all the damage they could against natives. Pueblo Viejo was sacked and an attempt made to burn it by some Chinamen, but it was frustrated by the Chilians, Gringos and some of the better disposed Chinese. The Chilians advanced in a couple of days and the natives fell back, fighting, but in an irregular way and checking the Chilians but little. Step by step they took possession of the valley, the mountainers taking to the mountains and holes making raids and harrassing their enemy when an opportunity offered.

This lasted about a month. In the meantime, Pueblo Nuevo, (the capital) and the Imperial were thoroughly sacked and burned. The Chilians then made up their minds to have the valley. The Foreigners thought it about time for them to leave also, and in the flight, (it could be called nothing else) some of them lost all their baggage and all the rest a part. I laughed a good deal, misery likes company, and I told them not to lay up their treasures on earth in future.

As I told you before my luggage was limited and I put it in a stocking or something and saved it. We arrived in Lima healthy, but I am sorry to say that some of the boys were down hearted.

After the Chilians left the valley the Mountaineers took possession and from what we can hear, they have made a job of it. (I should have said before, that when the Chilians left the valley, a part of them went by steamers, and a part by land to Pisco, the latter taking with them all the Chinese.) They have completely destroyed three estates, machinery and all. Swaynes, so far, are comparatively speaking, not much injured. They are waiting probably for black mail. Everything in the shape of stock has disappeared, not enough left to start a breed. The prospects for the valley are not cheerful and "Queen Sabe" where it will all end. All Mr. Swaynes' employees are still in Lima or Callao, waiting for the solution of the problem and hoping for the best. The country is disturbed from end to end, and the prospect for Peru is ruin. Their debt at present is enormous and when the war indemnity is added [illegible] time men who were before the war worth tens of thousands are peddling stockings and handkerchiefs in the streets to keep their families from starving. Thousands of families, formerly rich, are now sacrificing jewelry and clothes to buy food. I believe that you can now get jewellery cheaper in Lima than in any part of the world. If things continue as they are, God help the rich and poor of Lima. Misery and starvation are slowly but steadily, and surely settling over the "City of the Kings." Foreign merchants are realizing and emigrating as fast as possible. In fact, all who can are leaving the country, (except those who see their way clear to make fortunes out of the ruin,) or sending their families away to more genial climes. It is almost certain that there will be another row before long, and the results time alone can tell. I suppose that I will see it out somehow.

I think that I have written enough for once, and will only add, that self and family are well and reasonably happy. My wife and children send their love. We have four children living. Give my love to all relations in particular, and to all and sundry, who remember the stray sheep; (I was going to say lamb.) I have hopes that I shall yet visit home—who knows? Write and let me know the news from home. Good by and God bless you all. Yours affectionately, and I might add undutifully,

Ralph Garratt.

A man may be excused for being illnatured when he has the rheumatism, but he cannot be excused for prolonging his misery by neglecting to use the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. Richard Webb, a section hand in the Durfee Mills, Fall River, Mass., used the St Jacobs Oil with the very happiest results, and cannot say too much for the Great Remedy. He had rheumatism and said the Oil cured him when nothing else would touch his case. Mr. Webb also says that one of the mill hands who was subject to violent attacks of rheumatism and had to go home from her work about once a month, writhing in the tortures of pain, was advised by him to use the Great German Remedy. She employed it and realized permanent cure. She now makes full time, and is in the enjoyment of perfect health.

John Hays, Credit P. O., says:—"His shoulder was lame for nine months that he could not raise his hand to his head, but by the use of Dr. thomas' Eclectric Oil the pain and lameness disappeared, and although three mo has elapsed, he has not had an attack of it since."

Bronchitis.—Unless arrested will terminate in consumption. An almost never failing cure for this complaint is found in Allen's Lung Balsam, which can be had of any Druggist, price one dollar per bottle.

Atrophy Arrested.—Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypoqhosphites.—Wasting of the tissues of the body is arrested, the muscles made firm, and the nerves regain their power by using Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

RHEUMATIC REMEDY.

There is no better cure for Rheumatism than Hagyard's Yellow Oil used according to the directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lameness, and all wounds of the flesh. All dealers sell it, price 25 cents.

Cheap and Good.—For fifty cents you can purchase from any reliable druggist, a box of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which contains forty-five doses; this is cheaper than any other similar medicine sold, and while it is cheep our druggists say it is the best, and gives satisfaction in all cases. Read the advertisement in another column.

No stronger warranty can be given for the merits of a cough medicine than we offer. We say to all who wish to use Allen's Lung Balsam, that unless it gives entire satisfaction they may return the bottle to us after they have used it 48 hours, and the money will be cheerfully refunded. This same warranty has been offered from the day we offered the Balsam first for sale, and to this time, tme first bottle has not been returned, and we have received nothing but praise in its favor from those who have used it.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Nature, after all, is the great physician. She hides all the secrets of health within her broad generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her intelligently for his every need. The discovery of the great Cough Remedy, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, is an apt illustra of this. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice and Hoarseness it stands unrivalled, while its low price and readiness of access places it within the reach of all. Try it and be convinced. All chemists keep it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

OUR CHARMING COUNTRYWOMEN

are winning an enviable distinction for their fine teeth. This, they in great measure owe to the beautifying and restorative influence of SOZODONT, the most popular preparation for the teeth on this continent. It removes from the dental surface every impurity, checks decay and enables the teeth to masticate without contaminating the food, thus indirectly contributing to healthful nutrition. It effectually neutralizes an unpleasant odor of the breath.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP"

were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Epps's Cocoa.—Gratefuland Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

There is not a more dangerous class of diseases than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures lameness and soreness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward [illegible]

RESTORED TO HIS USUAL HEALTH.

From James Mitchell, a well known Manufac turer at Springfield, Vt.

"Several years ago I was attacked with severe lung difficulty, which was quite alarm ing. I had severe night sweats, and all th premonitory symptoms of consumption. Afte having tried several remedies and the skill o physicians without benefit, I was induced t use Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, th first bottle of which afforded immediate relief and a continuence of its use soon restored m to my usual health. For twenty-five year past it has never failed to afford entire satis faction in all cases of colds, or any throat o lung difficulties. I know of no medicine it equal."

ILY ONTARIO

THURSDAY FEB. 23, 1882.

—The Toronto Chief of Police has been severely censured at a public meeting for his laxity in enforcing the law against the social vampires of that city.

—The article in the Whig of Tuesday, headed "A Pertinent Question," and credited to the ONTARIO, originated with the Napanee Express. It is, however, only a repetition of the views we expressed on the same subject two weeks ago.

—The Toronto World says a good many people in that city think the late Rev. Dr. Ryerson should have had a public funeral. Many men have been honored with such a testimony of respect after death who were much less entitled to it than Dr. Ryerson.

THE Ottawa Press Gallery has been seized with a sudden desire to get rich, and has concluded that the easiest, speediest and surest way to reach that desired end is to organize a North-West Colonization Society. The members of the gallery are all impecunious news paper reporters, but that need be no hindrance to their ambition. They are convinced that all that is needed to ensure success is a little industry and a little more cheek. A list of subscribers will be obtained at once, and their application made for a grant of land.

MR. BOWELL clinched his arguments in defence of the National Policy last Tuesday by declaring that the confectionery business was more prosperous now than formerly because the children could get more pennies to buy lollipops. Let us be thankful that the N. P. has conferred such an important benefit upon the country. No matter if we do pay so much more for the coal we burn, the bread we eat and the clothes we wear. These burdens should be cheerfully borne when it is known that the children are buying more lollipops now than they did under a revenue tariff. Mr. Bowell's argument has silenced the Grit guns. The N. P. is triumphantly vindicated. It does confer great benefits upon the people. The demand for lollipops is increasing and the country must be prosperous.

THAT sensational speech by the Russian General Skobeloff, when receiving some Servian students, has been repudiated by the Czar and his Ministers as the foolish talk of a man who has a reputation for saying things unreasonable. There was more annoyance than surprise at St. Petersburg when the report of the speech was published. Skobeloff also claims that he talked as a private citizen, and not as representing the Russian Government. The German and Austrian Ambassadors at St. Petersburg were also disposed to laugh at the absurd and bellicose utterances of the Muscovite warrior, and do not anticipate that a long and sanguinary conflict is inevitable between the Teutons and the Slavs. Still, there is a feeling of jealousy and suspicion existing between the two races that is liable at any time to be made a matter of serious consequence. The struggle in Herzegovina between the Austrians and Slav insurgents is watched by Russia with much interest, and may yet lead to a conflict between the two powers. France sympathizes with Russia.

MR. PATTERSON, of Brant, made a very telling speech against the N. P. on Tuesdey. He was frequently interrupted by discomfitted Ministerialists. To one of the speaker's arguments Plumb made a violent and sarcastic noise to which Patterson replied that a cat could mew with just as much effect as that. (Great laughter.) While the speaker was referring to confectionery as among articles in which there had been a decrease of export, White, of Hastings, said, "Oh, yes, you manufacture candy." Yes, said Patterson, and I wish you had some of it to put in your mouth and Plumb's. (Great Laughter.) The next one to turn the shaft of ridicule against himself was Mr. Hessin. While Patterson was speaking of the labouring man's condition, that member said :—"Yes, but he has a long tail to his shirt now." Patterson—"Then sit on yours, if you have one." (Laughter.) Before concluding Patterson alluded to the general manufacturers of his own city of Brantford who had paid $5,000 to $6,000 more taxes on their working material during the past two years than they had under the old tariff. It was for this reason among others that manufacturers were not able to compete in foreign markets and this was the cause of the falling off in our exports.

A CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.

The Minister of Customs, in his reply to Mr. Blake on Monday, challenged "the leader of the Opposition or any member of it, or the press which supported these honorable gentlemen, to point out a single instance in which the slightest advantage had been given to one importer over another,' The Globe very promptly accepts the challenge and cites two instances in which gross favorism was shown, and manifestly for political purposes. One has reference to the importation of a knitting machine by a firm doing business at Wellesley. This machine was entered for duty at $135.08, but on the invoices being presented for duty, the Customs Department "marked up" the figures to $180, on the ground that the machine was undervalued to that extent. A declaration from the manufacturers, sworn before a notary public, was procured confirming the figures in the invoice. The only answer received to this declaration was another "mark up" to $210, and on this last figure the firm had to pay duty. At the same time another importer, presumably of the right political faith, was allowed to import the same machinery at a price as low as, or lower than, that at which the first mentioned entry was made.

The second case cited is the one referring to the importation of plate glass, by a Toronto importer, particulars of which were given in the ONTARIO some time ago. The Globe challenges Mr. Bowell to deny the accuracy of its statements in any one particular, and concludes :—We shall be very glad to hear any explanation of these two scandalous affairs which will tend so exonerate Mr. Bowell from the charge of using the custom-house as an engine of oppression towards some and favoritism towards others.

MARKET FEES BILL

Opposition to its Provisions.

A deputation representing the municipalities of Toronto, Kingston, Brantford, St. Catharines and Chatham, waited on Hon. Messrs. Mowat and Wood, Tuesday, and submitted the following resolutions previously adopted, as expressing their views of the Market Fees Bill now before the Legislature :—

"That the delegates view with alarm the proposed Act respecting market fees, and protest against the purpose of the Government to interfere with the rights and privileges of corporations to levy fees upon persons who use their market grounds unless the Act shall provide a means of recompense to the municipalities for the loss of revenue, and to meet the inevitable expenses of cleansing and repairs.

"That while we are willing to concede the fairness of allowing of the delivery of produce and other articles at the stores and houses of citizens without imposing fees, we object to sellers being granted the privilege of standing upon the streets to retail, as this would establish an indiscriminate market over the city.

"That we respectfully represent that it is highly in the public interest that all wood and hay brought into the market shall be weighed and measured.

"That we consider a fair measure of compensation for the loss of revenue which free markets would entail would be the assumption by the Province of the salaries of police Magistrates and the restoration to the municipalities of the share of liquor license fees now taken by the Province, less the salaries and expenses of the Inspectors of Licenses.

"That the schedule of fees mentioned in the Act does not meet the approval of this Convention, as the same tariff will not suit all places, and therefore we ask, in the interests of our municipalities, the retention of our privilege of fixing our own fees upon farmer's produce and other things brought to the market for sale.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Kingston has a "marriage aid association." They need something of the kind.

A concert in memory of the late Wm. Tandy takes place in Kingston next Monday evening.

The bay near Deseronto is open for several miles. An early opening of navigation is predicted.

Barnes who was prosecuted in Ottawa for engaging in a sparring match, has been acquitted by the Police Magistrate.

The hay market is very dull. Only the choicest article can be handled. The Whig says dealers will scarcely touch poor hay as a gift.

The "Flower City," being rebuilt at Clayton, is expected to be the fastest steamer on the river. She will be for excursions only.

The Midland Railway Extension Bill, for a line either to Buffalo or to connect with the Grand Trunk at Caledonia, has passed the Railway Committee.

The anti-unionists in the Presbyterian Church have taken action to gain possession of Queen's College, since the decision of the Privy Council in the Temporalities Fund dispute.

The Whig is mistaken. Mr. Soby, who bought the fine span of horses for Mr. Gilmour, does not live at Napanee. He is now, and has been for many years, a resident of Belleville.

The Provincial Accounts show the following items as fees for acting as Crown prosecutors : G. E. Henderson, Q. C., $267; B. M. Briton, Q.C., at Belleville, $64; at Picton, $216; and at Napanee, $32.

Messrs. G. W. McMullen, Ritchie and other gentlemen connected with the proposed railway line from Trenton North to the mines, to supply proposed smelting works at Weller's Bay, are lobbying at Toronto.

Barnum has sent us a copy of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Weekly, containing what we suppose is a life-like picture of his "bady elephant." He calls the baby "Bridgeport," it having been born at Bridgeport, Conn.

Before Christmas hay cost between $30 and $40 per ton in the lumbering districts, owing to the scarcity of snow. Since then it has fallen to $18 and $20. Oats, too, were dear. Lumbering operations have been greatly retarded this season.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A CROW ROOST.—A few miles north of Cincinnati and near the village of Clifton is a famous crow roost. Time out of mind the birds have gone there every night to roost in the trees and go away in the morning. A little before sundown they fly in from all points of the compass to the number of 100 000 or more, and, before going to their night quarters, stop on a piece of land at some little distance for a kind of general visit. After a season of vociferous cawing they fly to their beds in the trees, loading the branches so that they frequently break.

WELL DIRECTED.—A letter with the following superscription is reported by the London "Free Press" to have been mailed :—

"Away to Manitoba
Where excitement's running high;
Where they want eight hundred maidens
For a matrimonial fry.
Where 'Land Agents' thick as locusts
Squat on every empty keg;
'Tis to one of these I send you,
Thomas Brown, of Winnipeg,
Of the firm of Moore & Company,
Who will sell you (lose or win)
From a Prairie to a Province,
If you only have the "tin."

TERRIBLE TO CONTEMPLATE.—Professor Proctor, the astronomer, thinks it certain that if at any time a great comet, falling directly upon the sun, should, by the swift rush of its meteoric components, excite the flame of the sun to a lustre far exceeding that with which he at present shines, the sudden access of lustre and heat would prove destructive to every living creature, or at any rate to all the higher forms of life upon this earth. And though in a few days the sun might resume his ordinary lustre and no longer glow with abnormal heat, he would pour his rays on a family of worlds in which not one of the higher forms either of vegetable or animal life would remain in existence.

OBITUARY.

The late Fred C. Ridley.

The report that Mr. Fred. C. Ridley had died at the Commercial House this morning caused considerable sensation in the city. Though more or less indisposed for some time, it wasn't known that he was dangerously ill. The deceased was, we believe, a native of Belleville, and had spent most of his days here. He married a daughter of the late Edmund Murney who with two children, survives him. He was attended during his illness by his brothers—Drs. Ridley of this city and Hamilton, and by Dr. Tracey. General debility, we believe, was the cause of his death at the early age of 35 years.

INDIAN DEPREDATIONS.

A LARGE FORCE OF BLACKFEET AT THE RANCHES—TRADERS MURDERED AND CATTLE KILLED.

BATTLEFORD, Feb. 21.—The southern mail arrived on the 17th. and reports as follows : There is a large camp of Blackfeet at the forks of the Red Deer and South Branch. They have killed fourteen cattle, supposed to belong to the Cochrane cattle ranche, and five belonging to Pierre Lavalle and his brother. The latter are settlers of that place. It further reports that Bloods have killed over a hundred head of the same ranche. In Bow River County an American whiskey trader was shot while trading with the Blackfeet. Maxime Patris and his brother were found dead with two Americans close beside their waggons, supposed to have been killed by Indians. At Crow Creek Reserve the Sioux stole two hundred of horses. They were followed across the line, and the horses taken back. The American authorities interferred, making prisoners of the owners of the animals. They have been set free, but their horses still continue on the American side. The reports say that the Blackfeet took Inspector Dickens a prisoner, and after a few days he was released by Superintendent Crozier and his party.

THE BOUNDARY AWARD.

Likely to be Settled out of Court and Ontario get her Due.

Toronto World.

A gentleman from Ottawa, well informed in politics and a conservative, says Sir John has made a mistake in his attitude on the boundary question. But he says he was forced into it by the "bleus" of Quebec. The means by which Sir John will release himself is to get the boundary question in as an issue between Ontario and Manitoba and then bring pressure on Norquay, the premier of Manitoba, to give in to Ontario. By this means Ontario will get her own, Mr. Meredith and his followers will have a chance to straight themselves before the people of the province, and Manitoba will get some "better terms," and the "bleus" will be "sold."

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and cohsider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

DOMINION ESTIMATES.

A communication was read from the Gov.-General Tuesday laying before the House of the Estimates for the coming year. The principal items in which there is an increase or decrease over the past year are immigration, for which the estimates are $378,307 or an increase of $180,941; pensions, increase of $10 000; geological survey, increase of $10,000; Indians estimates $909,308, or an increase of $2490 62; Northwest mounted police $413,000, or an increase of $123,000; railways and canals, increase of $276,100; post-office, increase of $7540; surveying Dominion lands, $45,000, increase of $150,000; increase of expenses for Intercolonial railway $300,000; $12.000 is to be spent on Cobourg harbor, and $12 500 for Toronto harbor; $35,000 for building a harbor at Wiarton. Among new items are $10,000 in connection with health statistics and $30,000 to provide a steamer to replace the Glendon.

☞Mr. Babel J. Wilber, of Welchport, N.S, desires to say to the public that his wife was afflicted with a severe cough—raising blood daily; knew she was in a decline and growing worse and worse. "I sent some miles and got Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, and in two weeks she was entirely cured."

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 22nd.

There was no afternoon session of the House yesterday in order to enable the members to attend the funeral of the late Dr. Ryerson. In the evening there was a lengthy discussion over Mr. Wigle's motion to the effect that it was desirable to change the law in regard to municipalities voting bonuses to railways or manufacturing enterprises so that a majority of the vote, provided it included one-third of all the electors on the list and entitled by law to vote, should be sufficient to carry a bonus. The mover urged that under the present system it was impossible to carry a bonus by-law, as in many municipalities a large number of the electors were non-residents. Mr. Gibson instanced one case in which a by-law had been carried under the present law. Mr. McCraney said that there was no popular demand for a change in the law. Mr. Pardee announced that the Government regarded the question as an open one and, speaking for himself, said that he thought the proposed change would afford sufficient protection to the people. He knew, however, of several by-laws that had been passed under the present law. The proper way for Mr. Wigle to proceed was introduce a Bill dealing with the question. Messrs. Wood, Fraser, and Deroche favoured the existing restrictions, and Mr. Cook went so far as to advocate the abolition of the law giving municipalities the power to grant bonuses. On the other hand Mr. Meredith favoured the change on the ground that it was difficult to bring out the vote even at parliamentary elections, and Mr. Lauder contended that despite the evils of bonus-hunting the system had done much to develop the country. The same view was taken by Mr. Hay. A number of others spoke, the question being generally treated by the Reform representatives independent of party, while the Tories showed a disposition to fall in with the proposition, because it happened to emanate from their side of the House. The motion was finally withdrawn, it being understood that Mr. Wigle would bring in a Bill dealing with the subject.

Miss Dizzie Marcellus, chief equestrienne of Dan Rice's Great show, met with a very severe accident at Cadis, Ohio, on the Fourth of July last. It appears the lady was executing a most difficult piece of ring horsemanship, when some boys exploded a fire-cracker, causing her horse to leap from the ring and throw her on her and shoulders, inflicting very severe injuries. It was thought she would be laid up for a long time, but the use of St. Jacobs Oil for two days completely restored her in health and duty.—Chattanooga (Tenn.) Daily Times.

THAT DOG.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO :

SIR,—From the tone of "Canis Domesticus" one would think that he was suffering from the effects of the canicule. Poor Fido—"your departure is more afflicting to me than the canicule." Nobody in town, unless a person thus suffering, would dispute the correctness of the views you hold, and have so boldly advocated on the great question of the hour—Fido. The estimable lady is possessed of a relative and companion in this her deep grief. But C. D. seems to forget that the companion may be able somewhat to soothe the grief, unwittingly caused by Fido, and thereby a bold defender like C. D. may be, very properly, not required. No doubt the ground duly consecrated for the reception of the dead bodies of human beings may receive some very bad souls, but you know the Belleville Cemetery Company cannot inquire into a matter of that kind. Will "Canis Domesticus" insert in his last will and testament a proviso that his fitness to repose in the cemetery shall be inquired into by a committee of the Belleville Cemetery Company, and his "daily walk" compared with that of good dogs and pups like Fido, or even "Puck," and in case the decision is against his fitness that he be planted in the "flower garden" to supply the foundation whereon to permit the æsthetic sunflower or the Wilde lily to gracefully and peacefully grow? Let any person of good sense who loses a good dog put his body in a good box and bury him behind the barn.

THE CENTRAL SCHOOL.

To the Editor of the ONTARIO.

Dear Sir,—By some means the idea got abroad that there were "irregularities" connected with the management of the Central School. The Board of Education at its last regular meeting referred the matter to a committee, when it was found that the only thing to be enquired into was the alleged suspension of the boy McKenna. As reported in your issue of yesterday, said committe recommended that the boy be allowed to return to school, on making an apology and promising to behave better in future. Prior, however, to the action of the committee, and prior even to the meeting of the Board at which the subject was referred to the committee, I had investigated the case, and the following correspondence had taken place, originating in a message sent by me to Mr. McKenna :—

Belleville, 11th. Feb'y, 1882.

MR. JOHN IRWIN,

Dear Sir,—My son Alex McKenna, has been expelled from school by you without, as far as I can find, any reason for the same. I would thank you to reconsider the matter, and take the boy back, or I will be compelled to lodge a complaint before the Board. Please answer by return.

Yours truly,
JOHN MCKENNA

This letter was received through the post on Saturday evening, and I sent the following reply on Monday morning :

Belleville, Feb'y. 13th, 1882.

MR. JOHN MCKENNA,

Dear Sir :—I reply to yours of the 11th inst., I wish to assure you that I have no desire to keep your son out of school. He must distinctly understand, however, that he is to obey his teacher, and he must promise to do so in future, otherwise I cannot admit him.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN IRWIN.

The public can now see to what extent "irregularities" existed by observing that after a full investigation, the committee decided that the boy should be admitted precisely in accordance with the terms proposed by myself a week previously. I believe many of the "irregularities" of which we occasionally hear so much in connection with our schools, are of the same frivolous nature, and equally unworthy of attention.

Thanking you for allowing me so much of your valuable space,

I am, &c.,
JOHN IRWIN,
Head Master, Central School.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN Or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimilation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthening nutritive in all used-up conditions of the system from the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

Horatio Thomas, a notorious forger, safe-blower and thief, who has been arrested, convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment a number of times, and whose father is said to be a prominent railroad official of New York State, has arrived at the Kingston Penitentiary for four years. He was sentenced this time from Hamilton for horse stealing. Thomas is about 28 years of age, and is remarkably sharp. He has frequently played the deaf-mute ruse, and says he spent a year in the Deaf and Dumb Institute here, getting thoroughly posted in all the details. We doubt this assertion. It would be a difficult matter for any one to pretend to be a deaf mute for so long a time in the Institute without detection. When was Thomas here?

Who are They?

The toiling millions, the laboring man, the farmer, the mechanic, the artisan, the inventor, the producer—these are natures nobility. No matter whether they are high or low in station, rich or poor in pelf, conspicuous or humble in position, they are surely upper circles in the order of nature. It is NOT low, it is the highest duty, privilege and pleasure for the great men to earn what they possess, to work their own way through life, to the architects of their fortunes.

If there is a class of human beings on earth who may be properly denominated LOW, it is THAT class who spend WITHOUT earning, who consume without producing, who disipate on the earnings of their fathers or relatives, without being anything in and out of themselves. And how pleasant it is, for those struggling millions—who are striving to be the architect of their fortunes with scant material for their structures—to know that Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing emporium is selling a good comfortable overcoat for $3 95 and a servicable tweed suit for the paltry sum of $6.50—other goods in proportion—a call will convince even a "crank" that we are 25 per cent lower in price than those Houses which have their windows placarded with flaming posters "selling off at cost" &c., &c.

NEW MUSIC for the "Ripple" La Napolitaine, by Estelle Stanfield. This new and pretty composition is sure to become a great favorite. It is easy of performance and very effective, at the same time exactly suits the "Ripple." There is something striking in the melody that causes it to be retained in the memory whenever heard. Price 40 cents. J. C. Reynolds.

From Mr. Chas. H. Day, agent for the "great Forepaugh show," we learn that Miss Lizzie Deacon, who is styled the "Queen of the Arena," her equestrienne exploits being unrivalled, will arrive early in March, and will accompany Mr. Forepaugh during the coming tenting season. Miss Deacon has been the chosen companion of the Empress of Austria in her hunting and equestrienne exercises. She possesses remarkable beauty of face and form, as well as perfectness of skill in the art she has chosen.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson, junior minister of the M. E. Church on the Trenton Circuit, who expected to leave immediately for Wingham, has made arrangements whereby he will remain on his present charge until the close of his ministerial term. The change was effected by the Bishop on Wednesday, with a view of enabling Mr. Ferguson to complete his College course more conveniently, and hence the announcements of his removal that have appeared in the ONTARIO were premature. The people of Trenton Circuit will be glad to learn that Mr. Ferguson is to remain with them, as he has won a deserved popularity.

THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Organizing a Debating Club

At a meeting held on Wednesday evening last to organize a Debating Club in connection with the Mechanics' Institute, the following officers were appointed :—

President—Mr. Ritchie.
1st Vice President—Mr. M. Brown.
2nd Vice President—Mr. E. A. E Halliwell.
Secretary—Mr. George Anderson.

A committee was appointed to meet on Wednesday evening next to frame a constitution and By-laws for the conduct of meetings and debates The first debate will be held on Wednesday evening, 1st of March. The Debating Club is free to all young men in Belleville, and the Committee would like to see a good turn out on the 1st of March.

PASSED.

A private telegram received this afternoon by a gentleman of the city states that the Bill introducted by the Women's Christian Association, for hospital purposes, has received its third reading. We thought the bill was still before the Committee, but are assured that it has been reported to the House and passed. This is a signal victory for the Association and as signal a defeat for the Council, or the members of that body who engineered the opposition that has been offered. The result will be increased cost to the city, but who is responsible? The public know what action was taken by a majority of the City Council last year when the matter was before that body. The ladies were forced to take the step they did when no satisfaction could be got from the Council.

A Colored Land Leaguer.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 23.—The Land League last evening celebrated the Grattan centennial. Rev. A. J. Chambers (colored) made a fervent address. He said the time will come when all England's depedencies will rise up against her, and her shores be invaded by armed men intent on redress of Ireland's wrongs. The clergyman was repeatedly applauded, and as he left the hall his hand was shaken by many. He is the first colored man to take part in the Land League demonstration here. Resolutions were passed asking Congress to take measures for relieving Americans confined in Ireland.

Trenton Races.

TROTTING ON THE ICE YESTERDAY.

The Result of two Contests.

The annual winter trotting races opened at two o'clock yesterday afternoon on the ice at Trenton, under very favorable auspices. The large number of sporting characters in Trenton, and their generally honest dealings with horses from a distance, are always considered a sufficient guarantee of a successful meeting. The committee of management this year have spent considerable time in securing liberal purses, and when it is stated that they succeeded in raising about $300, no person will question their success.

FIRST DAY.

There was a large crowd on the ice yesterday long before the "Two-forty" race was called, and by 3 o'clock the attendance was fully as large as the management anticipated. Owing to the snow of the previous evening the track was quite "heavy," and had to be scraped before the horses were allowed to start. This, of course, caused some delay, but finally the horses were called for the first race—the 2:40 trot. The purse was $70. There were only three entries, viz.

Name.	Owner.
"Gen. Wayle"	V. Martin, Picton.
"Little Walter"	J. McGuire, Belleville,
"Little William"	Dr. Allen, "

The first-named horse, as was expected, won in three straight heats ; but the two horses from this city made a very favorable exhibit. "Gen. Wayne, though not an old horse, has a record considerably under 2:40, and is considered to be the best flyer in Central Ontario. It is therefore no discredit to "Little Walter" that he wan second place, as this was but the second or third time he has trotted for a purse. "Little William" came in third. The best time made by the winning horse was 2:35, which was in the third heat.

GREEN RACE.

In this race there were seven entries, and as all the horses were of about the same speed, an exciting contest was the result. "Little Walter" was barred. "Lady Lake" owned by Tim Holbrook, won first place. She took the sixth, seventh and eighth heats, the best time (2:40) being made in the last heat. "Bob Marshall," from Brighton, was second, and "Lady Lyons" third. The purse was $50. This concluded the races for the first afternoon, when an adjournment took place until this p m.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

MADOC NEWS.

Access was given to the new library of the Methodist Sabbath School last Sabbath.

The funeral of Mr. William Kerr, of the firm of Kerr & Walton, of this village, who died in Belleville last week, took place on Friday last. The sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Wishard, in the Presbyterian Church.

Bible readings will be given by Mr. R. Beaton, next Wednesday evening.

On Thursday forenoon of last week the fire alarm was sounded, the inside of the store room of the station having taken fire. Not much damage was done, as it was discovered before it had made much headway and was suppressed.

Poor little Willie Wood, of the little Star, grieves for an opportunity to use his little mallet. When your form is up Willie, ready for the paper, use your mallet on that—it will take better.

—The Liberal Conservatives of the North Riding of Hastings will hold a mass meeting in the Town Hall of this village on Thursday March 9th. next. The "N. P." and "Steel Rails," and such things, will have a thorough ventilation (one-sided) at that time, no doubt. Their main object is to prepare for the coming election.

—The Rev. J. F. Dowling, of Stirling, will deliver his popular illustrated lecture on "The Vision of Creation," next Tuesday evening in the Masonic Hall of this village.

—Again the merry sleigh-bells are heard in our land.

—The Editor of "ye local" draws it kind of mild in the Review last week, regarding the late affair of the Robinson boys. The thought of leaving a widow so soon perhaps prompted him to pursue the course he did. However, our opinion accords with the sentiment expressed in the latter part of his review, that the affair should not have been settled, and the other two who were brought to the village should not have been dismissed—they having committed a criminal act in interfering with the Chief and his officers in doing their duty.

—Considerable feeling is manifested in this village, regarding the critical condition of Chief McKinnon, especially by our "special."

—We understand the annual tea-meeting in connection with the congregation of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church will take place next Tuesday evening.

—A temperance society has been organized at Bannockburn, and is meeting with success. Why cannot some organization of this kind be started in this village? There is plenty good material.

—The Methodist S. School concert has been decided to take place on the evening of March 7th. The programme we understand, will be first-class. Lovers of elocution and good music should not fail to put in an appearance.

—A very attractive and interesting programme, consisting of readings, vocal and instrumental music, etc., was rendered at the Model School entertainment on Tuesday evening last.

—Foster & Reid's great clearing sale is still going on.

—Rev. Mr. Macfarlane gave a discourse to the young last Sunday evening, using as his text the 31st. verse of the 10th. chap. of 1st. Corinthians. The subject was ably handled.

—Towards evening on Saturday last a lamp sitting in the parlor in Mrs. Wrights house exploded and set fire to the building causing considerable damage to carpet, furniture and other things that were in the room. The fire was observed by Dale's men across the way, who at once ran across and with the inmates succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Had the fire not been observed at the time it was, the whole block, would undoubtealy, have been laid in ashes.

The Bible Class of the M. E. Church held a social on Friday eve. last at the house of Mrs. Vallier. Besides a sumptuous repast, the Mechanical Orguinette and a "home made" telephone afforded amusement for the evening. We understand the proceeds realized amounted to $10, and is to be applied towards purchasing a new library for the school.

Rev. Mr. McFarlane will preach his annual educational sermon next Sunday morning in the Methodist Church of Canada.

Anty-Polygamy Meeting.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Large anti-polygamy meetings were reported last night at Norwich, Con., Sacramento, Keokuk, Minneapolis, Miwaukee, and Chicago. At Chicago, Jos. Smith, son of the late prophet, made an address.

Damage by Floods.

VANDALIA, Feb. 23.—The floods did great damage about here. Two miles south a large bed of Vandalia Railway gave way precipitating an engine and caboose into the river. John Dimingan, conductor, and E. Thompson, brakeman were drowned.

Trying Nihilists.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 23.—The High Court of the Senate met Tuesday, to try Nihilists indicated for conspiracy against the Government. The public and representatives of the press were excluded. Only about twenty people were in court, most of them generals or high functionaries.

Something of a flood.

HELENA, Ark., Feb. 23.—Six colored children were drowned in the flood 11 miles below. Bob Singleton (colored) is supposed drowned. It is thought the flood will continue here several weeks. 200 boats are in use on city streets. Yesterday the newspapers were carried by skiffs.

Another Tragedy.

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 23.—At Waverly on Tuesday night James Cook was called upon to decide the correct spelling of a word. He decided against R. Raiven, who called Cook a liar. Cook struck Raiven, who shot Cook through the heart. A crowd captured Raiven and put a rope around the murderer's neck, but he was rescued by the Sheriff who brought him here.

A Terrible Tradgedy,

WINSTON, N. C., Feb. 23.—At a barn raising in Rowan County yesterday John Held and Peter Joseph quarrelled. Held threw an axe at Joseph, the blade split his head killing him. Held lost his foothold and fell from the building breaking his neck. Three men were raising a heavy log; one was so excited at the tragedy he lost his hold and the log fell crushing Richard Willey to death.

A Sing Sing Revelation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—E. R. Campbell, ex-keeper of Sing Sing, publishes a statement declaring the prison is run in the interest of contractors. He states but little religious or moral instruction is provided for the convicts. A third of the prisoners never go to church at all and many are compelled to work in the shops on Sundays. Campbell alleges Joe Coburn, the prize fighter, is treated with distinguished consideration, and holds the position of runner in the mess-room, while there are a hundred of cripples and consumptives, any of whom are able, and would be glad to do this work. On the other hand gentleman Joe, being unable to do the hard work given him, was paddled, dungioned and deprived of food until broken down. He applied for admission to the hospital but was refused, and died the same night, having been in prison only a few months. Campbell also says Palkato, a convict, was driven insane by illtreatment. Being noisy he was knocked down by a stream from the hose, beaten unmercifully, and afterwards taken to the asylum. Wm. C. Brandon was compelled to work at the emery wheel, though he had a terrible cough and frequent hemorrhage of the lungs. He died after living in prison three years. Edward Young, (colored) aged 16. unable to perform hard tasks, was dungeoned, paddled, deprived of food, and died in a few weeks. Robert Love, an old man badly ruptured, was also overworked, and denied medical treatment until he died. Campbell gives a number of other instances of alleged inhuman treatment of convicts and says the foregoing are but a few of the cruelities practised in Sing Sing. He could write a chapter about men who attempted suicide and the horrible tortures that led them to it.

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericton, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature, to represent his constituents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment, It gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood, As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it, the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago, sciatica, contracted joints, cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

Put up in large bottles, retail 25 cents each, and sold by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility. Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 10 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.
Ethel's Vow.

'That's the girl for you, Josh!' counselled Mr. Stivers, who was no mean connoisseur of female beauty; 'she's something to look at, something to take out for a walk, or a drive, and be proud of—the kind of girl that the world will point at and say as you go by—'There! that's Mr. Joshua Penn's wife!' And another great advantage is that, being a brewer's daughter, she'll of course allow you to drink as much ale as you like at dinner.'

Joshua coincided with all these remarks, and was more than half persuaded to decide in favour of one who had so many good points in her favour'

For a brief period, he oscillated between Priscilla Whitbread and Seraphina Jones, and finally determined that the former should be the happy woman.

There was no difficulty at all in the wooing.

When a young lady meets a young gentleman half way—or, in order to be on the safe side, suppose we say three quarters—the thing is easy enough.

This the fair Priscilla did.

She received her suitor on his first visit with a gushing impulsiveness that enchanted, whilst it somewhat bothered the pious gentleman.

When his gig stopped at the gage of her father's house, the eager maiden flew down the garden in a wild profusion of overskirt and back hair, as though she had almost divined the exemplary visitor's intention in calling.

'Oh, you dear, darling, naughty thing,' she muttered sotto voce, as she seized both his hands and kissed him (in the impulsive of the moment.) 'I thought you were never coming to see us any more.

The dear darling murmured something confusedly about pressing engagements, and numerous appointments, and finally yielded himself to the care of the demonstrative Priscilla, who, it is probable, would have carried her pet into the house in her arms like a baby, had she been strong enough.

That visit, however, settled matters finally.

Mr. Joshua Penn proposed, and was accepted, of course.

'It's all right, Sam,' cried the junior parner, when he encountered the clerk on his return home; 'she's mine.'

'You've popped the question, then ?' said Mr. Stivers.

'I have,' replied Josh, in a triumphant tone, 'and she says yes.'

'Bravo! that looks like business,' exclaimed Samuel; 'you'll be a different man after you're married.'

'I shall—I feel I shall,' returned the amiable legal gentleman. 'Priscilla is a charming girl, altogether different from that—I mean from Miss Brandley—quite a model of a young woman, and oh, my dear Sam, how she dotes upon me.'

'I pity her taste,' thought dear Sam, though he was too wise to say so.

Under these exhilarating circumstances, Mr. Joshua Penn recovered a considerable portion of his former placidity and peace of mind.

He now saw his old friend John Brandley but rarely.

In fact, since Ethel's mysterious disappearance, the heretofore inseparable friends, had seemed instinctively rather desirous to avoid meeting.

Each probable blamed the other as being the cause of her abrupt departure.

But the friendship and jovial presence of the convivial Stivers more than compensated for the loss of John Brandley's society.

It had also another and a transforming effect upon the exemplary Josh.

The junior partner, in addition to his other virtues, was rapidly becoming as much addicted to conviviality as his managing clerk.

If any one had suggested such a thing a 'total abstinence' to him now, he would have laughed the watery disciple of Father Mathew to scorn.

Mr. Samuel Stivers and he were almost constantly in each other's company.

A second desk was fitted up in the little private office (hitherto occupied solely by Josh himself.)

In this snug retreat, the door being locked, the worthy pair transacted their business, and cracked jokes together, and bottles also, smoked cigars, and in short, went in for an amount of joviality which the saintly Joshua a few months before would not even have dreamt of, and of which no one who knew him, would have believed him capable.

The consequence of this continuous application to business soon began to show itself in the usual way.

Upon the physiognomy of Mr. Samuel Stivers it seemed to take little or no effect.

He was already so well seasoned that his libations made no perceptible difference in him, unless to render his sharp eyes a little more aqueous and glassy, and to impart a sider hue to the blossoms that flourished on his face. With Mr. Joshua Penn it was different.

The delicate pink of his complexion deepened into a crimson flush.

And not contented with lighting up the cheeks of the amiable junior, it extended to his nose, until he looked (especially at times, those times being invariably after several hours' close application in the private office) as though he had been suddenly seized with scarlatina.

People remarked this peculiarity.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung effections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt in his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relief human suffering. I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. Send by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar; 149 powers Block Rochester, N. Y.

Dollars, which might otherwise be thrown away by resorting to ineffectual medicines, ar saved by purchasing that inexpensive specific for bodily pain and remedy for affections of the throat, lungs stomach, liver and bowels, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which does not deteriorate, and is thorough and pure.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant. cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away. even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King,s renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid mrde only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, Lond [illegible] Eng.

Ayer's
Sarsaparilla

AYERS
SARSAPARILLA

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives—Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock—with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

N. H. DOWNS' ELIXIR

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption, at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the CAUSE, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS

Are you disturbed at night and broke of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate he bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and rphans have been relieved by Millions of ollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind thers and husbands when enjoying health, rength and ability to maintain those depenent on their labour for support, but whose rthly forms now have been returned to the st from whence they came.

he Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. ring the past year, has filled its fair quota the relief of bereaved families in the most nc.ual manner; the average time which has psed between the completion of the claim pers and the payment of the respective ims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

d the liberal and equitable feature of The tario have won for it such public confidence has resulted in the issue during the past r of over 1400 new Policies covering about VO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

lds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the iole of which has been saved out of its prem- m income, and interest on investments, while e surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of n and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, re- ced the Premiums to ONE HALF the origi l rate.

HE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

xperience show that its motto has been fully alized and that the policy Holders made a ise and advantageous choice of Company when hey joined THE ONTARIO even in its early ays when its future was but a venture

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

City and Vicinity.

☞Furs at cost at Davenport's.

A concert in aid of the poor of the city is on the tapis.

The membership of the Mechanics Institute is steadily increasing.

The curlers returned home from Brockville on the early train this morning.

John Bell, Esq. and ex-Mayor Patterson returned home from Toronto last night.

The police report everything quiet along the line last night. No arrests were made.

There will be no service in the Hollaway and Bleecker st. churches to-morrow evening.

The Council will hold a special meeting on Monday evening, for the transaction of general business.

Mr. Miller Empey, who now manages the business of Messrs. Fos'er & Reid at Madoc, purposes going to Manitoba in the spring.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

The auction last night at the Mechanics Institute was a success. The yearly and monthly magazines, which were offered for sale, realized a fair price.

The members (or a number of them) of the Sportsmen Club had a glass-ball practice yesterday afternoon. Sides were chosen and a number of the marksmen made good scores.

The Queen's College Journal for December contains an article on "The Model Student," by Rev. D. Mitchell, of John Street Presbyterian Church. We will publish it on Tuesday.

☞CALL early and get a choice, Furs Cleap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

"A popular singer from Belleville" is to take part in a grand concert given by the C. M. Choir of Madoc on the evening of the 2nd. prox. That must be our friend Albert. He is a popular singer.

An arrangement has been effected with the Grand Trunk Railway Company, whereby bona fide buyers can travel from any stations from Kingston westward, and from stations on the Canada Pacific, from Perth north via Brockville, to Montreal and return for one fare.

A clause has been inserted in the Bill presented by the Women's Christian Association granting the privilege of buying the Phillips lot together with a grant of $500 or $800 in lieu of the old Hospital Lot. The exact amount of the grant has not as yet been fixed.

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

The Madoc Review insists that Chief McKinnon's injuries were received in "a tussle with the Robinsons." Fudge! The Robinsons did not injure him much. It was that model Donnybrook Fair Irishman, yclept Constable Langman of Madoc, who wilded the murderous bludgeon.

We were mistaken in supposing that the "Mrs. Harrison" who took part in a conversazione at the residence of Hon. Mr. Caron, Ottawa, last week, was the wife of Mr. J. J. Harrison, formerly of Belleville. The lady whose name appeared in the papers was the wife of Mr. J. W. F. Harrison, Professor of Music in the Ottawa Ladies College, and herself a fine pianiste.

A special meeting of the Finance Committee was held in the Mayor's office last night. Those present were: Ald. Vandusen, Dunnet, Petrie, Diamond, Smith and the Chairman. An account for wood furnished the city several years since was referred to the Market Committe. The Solicitor reported upon the matter in re Fox, which was referred in tota to the the Council.

☞A large oil painting of the late David Jones will be on exhibition in Ford's window. It was painted by Mr. Mason, of Toronto, our new artist.

Patrick Tansey was arraigned before the Magistrate this morning at the instance of the License Inspector for West Hastings, charged with selling liquor without a license. A man named Cook testified that he got liquor in Tansey's house a few days ago (on Sunday) and paid money for it, but the defendant denied that the witness was in his grocery on the day stated. The case was in consequence enlarged until Tuesday. Other witnesses will be summoned in the meantime; or rather those that have already been served with the necessary papers, will be arrested under a warrant if they fail to appear.

☞FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

THAT "DORG."

He's gone, He's gone, "Oh! why will ye die?"
Things ethereal pass quickly from our sight,
The great transformation scenes of this life
are short,
But the hope of immortality forever bright.

Poor 'Fido"—he was a good little dog,
And brought cheer to the hearts of all,
He was kind and affectionate to his friends,
And lovingly responded to their calls.

He's gone—"Not dead only gone before;"
"Only a dog"—But his demise makes a
heart sore,
But we trust like all other good little dogs,
His spirit is safe on the "evergreen shore,"
The old dogs must die, and the young
may too,
So let them live, that they be ready for the
"call,"
But for mens' and childrens' clothing of
all descriptions,
Remember there is no place like the great
Phœnix Hall.

Overcoats sold at prices that will make the most miserly laugh, Mens' and Boys' sui's tied up in silk handkerchiefs and given away for fabulously low prices. No time to "give the whole thing away," but an early call will put you on the right track for your spring suit.

PHŒNIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

There was a fair market to-day, but produce sold at high prices.

Col. Jas. Brown, M P., has arrived home from Ottawa to spend Sunday.

Don't go to the Nor'west until you hear the Rev. Dr. Sutherland's lecture on 20 h March.

Mr. S. Bull informs us, that he is quite confident the fire on Thursday night did not originate in his office.

The Mail announces that the excellent ten-ton, standing keel yatch Sylvia, owned in this city, is for sale.

☞Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

Some poetry on "The Death of Fido" has been received. Our columns are two much crowded for its publication to-day.

Hear the Rev. Dr. Sutherland's lecture on the Nor'west on the 20th March, before buying farms or "town lots" (?) there.

Mr. L. W. Shannon, of the Kingston News, was in the city to-day. He reports a "hum" in the Limestone Sity in which the News shares.

The "veteran" David Pringle, was before the P. M again to-day, charged with vagrancy. His post office address for the next three months will be "Belleville gaol."

A FULL HOUSE.—"Bethel Hall" was again filled last Sunday evening. To-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 8:30, Mr. Parmelee, Evangelist, is expected to conduct the service. A hearty invitation extended to any.

City Mission Services to-morrow:—At 10 o'clock, S. School at Mr. Miner's Franklin st, Bleecker's Mills, preaching service at 11. At 2 30, S. School, City Mission School Room, Mr. Covert's Store, Church-st. At 6 30, preaching service at Mr. Thompson's, corner Church & Dundas-sts.

Mr. J. J. B. Flint of this city has been selling Manitoba land in Kingston. The Whig of Friday says:—"As an inducement to purchasers Mr. Flint last night said if Brandon property did not double in value in 60 days he would give it to them at cost, minus the expenses of putting it on the market."

☞THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

When you can buy everything in the dry goods line at HENNESSY'S at 80c. on the dollar, why go elsewhere. The stock consists of hundreds of pieces of embroideries, hundreds of pieces of edgings hundreds of pairs of kid and lisle gloves, thousands of yards of laces and ribbons, frillings, &c. All at 80c on the dollar.

The Inspector of Licenses for East Hastings also had a case on at the Police Court to-day. He preferred a charge against Joseph Latchford, hotel keeper, at Thomasburg, for selling liquor to an Indian, January 31st. A number of witnesses were examined, but as the defendant, through illness, was unable to be present, the case was enlarged for a week.

A statement of the net emolumets of the Sheriffs of Ontario for the year 1881, in accordance with the provisions of 43 Vic., chap. 3, Ont., has been published. We mention the following: Hastings, $728 10; Prince Edward, $744.90; Lennox & Addington, $677.12; Frontenac, $1,483.73; Northumberland & Durham, $1,790,69; and York, $6,759,73.

☞N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

Two sermons of unusual importance will be preached in the city to morrow. Bishop Carman, in the forenoon at the M. E. Tabernacle, will preach a sermon on the death of the late Jas. A. Clark. The members of the city lodges of I. O. O. F. will attend in a body. The other sermon to which we refer, will be a memorial sermon in the Bridge-st. Church in the evening in memory of the late Dr. Ryerson. Revs. Dr. Jeffers, S. J. Shorey and Burns will officiate.

Mr. Geo. Nicholson, of the township of Madoc, has purchased the farm of Mr. C. Farley in the 5th concession of Sidney, where he will hereafter reside—unless he goes to Manitoba with the crowd in the spring. Last week nearly all his neighbors turned out one evening and gave him and Mrs. N. a farewell surprise. They presented him with an arm chair and other tokens of good will, at the same time regretting his departure from among them.

Mr. Irwin Diamond was was last evening made the subject of a very pleasant surprise by the members of his class, who met at his home in West Belleville, (accompanied by their Pastor Rev. Mr. Shorey) and presented him with a large and handsome copy of the New Hymn Book, and also a very complimentary and encouraging address. After partaking of some refreshments the evening was very pleasantly enjoyed by all present.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

A lecture was delivered yesterday afternoon at Albert College before the students attending the Commercial Department and a number of others including several ladies, by Rev. Mr. Mitchell. The subject "How to get on in the World" was taken up and considered in a manner calculated to instruct youth as to the great problem of success in the world. President Jaques at the close conveyed the thanks of the meeting for the stirring address which had been delivered.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work exce's any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

A FISH STORY.

That is not Exactly Fishy.

There are very few people in Belleville who do not know Mr. A. Plasse, the rather practical little Frenchman, who has for some time bought and sold fish in a shop on Front Street. They have noticed, no doubt, that Mr. Plasse did a good business and always had a good quality of fish on hand. During the early part of the winter he induced Mr. Joseph Tisdale, the champion sculler of the Bay of Quinte, and one of the champion boat-builders of Canada, to enter into partnership with him. The representations being satisfactory, Mr. Tisdale accepted the offer and took a part interest in the business. Since then the firm have handled a large number of fish to good advantage, and prospered. Last Wednesday Mr. A. Plasse took $75 and went to Napanee for the purpose of purchasing a quantity of fish there, which he was to ship to the States, and return the next day. When Thursday night came the little Frenchman was still absent, and his partner becoming a little suspicious that all was not right, went to his place of residence in Foster Ward. He was still more suspicious when he found the house deserted, and learned that Mrs. Plasse had sold all the household effects, "at a great sacrifice," and was living with a friend somewhere. Yesterday Mr. Tisdale left for Napanee to investigate the matter. If he does not find his partner there, he will go where the fish were to have been sent. We understand the absconding Fisherman has left a number of creditors in Belleville who are also anxious to hear from him.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

A JOLLY EVENING.

The Parlor Social at Mr. E. C. Ketcheson's A Complete Success.

The social announced to take place at the residence of E. C. Ketcheson, Esq, Rednersville, Friday evening, the proceeds of which were to wipe out the circuit debt, was one of the most successful and interesting events of the kind that has ever been held in these parts, the result of which far exceeds the most sanguine expectations of those concerned. The very flattering results of the first of a series will greatly encourage those who are prone to look upon such entertainments as a "general failure." Shortly after 7 p.m., cutters and sleighs containing jolly people, old and young, began to assemble, and by 8 o'clock the house was more than comfortably filled. Among those from a distance were Messrs. Grass, Redlick, the Misses Yeomans and Miss Bryant, of Belleville. The different parts of the Rednerville circuit were fairly represented, beside a goodly number from Ameliasburgh. No pains were spared by Mr and Mrs. Ketcheson to add to the enjoyment and comfort of those present, and every one apparently fully appreciated their kindness. The entertainment of the evening consisted of music, recitations and dialogues.. Tom Moore's "Sentiments on lying," by Mr. S.S. Morden, gave all a sidesplitter, while the "old Gent and young Wife," by Mr. Ed. Anderson and Miss Roblin was fully appreciated. The frequent piano solos by Mrs. J. R. Anderson and Miss Ketcheson were listened to with deep interest. The tea hour having arrived, no less than seventy-five sat down, and paid for the coffee, sandwiches, oranges, nuts and cakes like free-hearted men and women. So deep was the interest felt in wiping out the debt, that different gentlemen actually paid as high as 15 cents for one peanut. About 11 p. m., the gathering began to break up, all expressing themselves well pleased with the evening spent. The total proceeds amounted to over $20.00, which will leave a clear profit of about $15.00. The success of the entertainment is greatly due to the deep interest taken in the work by Mr. S. S. Morden, who seems to have a particular gift in making such things a success.—COM.

Bethel.

The crowning social of the season was held in the C. M. Church, Bethel, on Thursday 22nd inst. The weather was fine, the sleighing excellent, and the church literally jammed full. The chair was occupied by Mr. Miller, of the section, in a very happy manner. The programme consisted of speeches by Wm. White, Tweed; Rev. Mr. Peake, Thomasburg; Rev. Mr. Adams, Tamworth; and Rev. J. W. Savage pastor of the church, interspersed with the finest music by the choir that it has been the pleasure of your correspondent to listen to for some time. Proceeds, $85.

Democrats not Satisfied

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The World's Albaey special says the clerk of the Assembly has made in all 35 appointments. Of these, four are Tommany men. The Democrats are not very well satisfied with the Speaker's appointments.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Washington Specials.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Herald says great general satisfaction is felt with Conkling's nomination. It is expressed by the Democrats as well as Republicans. Much curiosity is felt as to whether Conkling will accept. Senators in private conversation show impatience and disgust with the silence of Senator Blair, under the imputations contained in the Sheppard letters to the Sun.

The general belief is the President wants Conkling near him. He desires the advice and suggestion of Conkling. There is no member of the Cabinet with whom the President is on terms of close personal intimacy unless it be Folger. Mutual confidence between the President and Conkling is said to be of unusual strength.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN Or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimilation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthening nutritive in all used-up conditions of the system from the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

THE WOULD-BE BIGAMIST.

A Marriage Ceremony Interrupted by the Bridegroom's Wife.—Further Particulars of the Affair.

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Yesterday Notre Dame Cathedral was the scene of a somewhat dramatic incident, which it it spoiled a future bigamy case for sensation hunters, fortunately rescued an unsuspecting maiden from a most unhappy fate. Some months ago a rather handsome man named Geroux, who resides in the Kristone Ward, obtained an introduction to a young lady named Bethramme, residing in Lower Town, and shortly after the acquaintance began commenced to pay her marked and unmistakable attentions. The maiden, who was only about eighteen years of age, prepossessing in manner and appearance, and a zealous member of one of the ladies charitable associations of Lower Town, received his addresses in no unfriendly spirit, and in due course of time a proposal of marriage was made, and the ardent lover was duly accepted. So far all went well, the banns were duly published and no opposition made to them. Finally the wedding was fixed, the ring bought, and all was ready for the ceremony which should make the two a happy one for life. There ceremony was arranged to take place at six o'clock yesterday morning. The ladies of the association to which the bride expectant belonged, and of which she had been so useful a member, were all present to grace the nuptials of the sister in good works. The Rev. Father Bouillion, who was to perform the marriage rite, was about to begin the service when it was suddenly stopped by the appearance of an indignant female on the scene, who forbade the marriage to go on. The unexpected interruption caused no small consternation among the party, which was not diminished when the new comer explained her right to be there. She informed the bridal party that the groom was already married, that she was his wedded wife and could produce besides her marriage certificate, two charming children, pledges of the love that once existed between her and her now faithless lord and master. It is needless to say that the wedding did not take place.

D Sullivan, Malcolm, Ontario, writes:—"I have been selling Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for some years, and have no hesitation in saying that it has given better satisfaction than any other medicine I ever sold. I consider it the only patent medicine that cures more than it is recommended to cure."

VIENNA, Feb. 25.—Copies of an indictment covering 26 folios has been handed to 8 persons charged with contributing by negligence to recent fire in Ring Theatre. 226 witnesses have been summoned. The trial commences 2nd May. Among the accused are Newal, ex-Burgomaster, of Vienna, Janner manager Ring Theatre and Lanstainer chief comissary of police.

—The Congressional Committee on the expenses of the illness and death of ex-President Garfield propose that Dr. Bliss should get $25,000 as at first reported. It is also contemplated that Mrs. Garfield shall get the remainder of her husband's salary for the year.

—A division, it is reported, exists in the Ministry. The rock upon which they are split is the building of a branch of the Intercolonial Railway cutting off the Chaudiere curve on the Grand Trunk, near Point Levis, at a cost of half a million. Sir Hector Langevin and Hon. Mr. Mousseau threaten to resign if they do not get it, and Sir John Macdonald, Hons. A. P. Caron and Mackenzie Bowell oppose it.

The British Columbia Legislature was formally opened yesterday. The Speech from the Throne states that Mr. DeCosmos' mission to England drew from Lord Kimberley the opinion that a light line of railway should be constructed from Nanaimo to Esquimalt, that the main line should be completed to Port Moody, and that the Province should receive a money compensation for delays in railway construction.

—A correspondent of the New York Herald has been interviewing Mgr. Capel with reference to the Pope's present position and the probability of his leaving Rome. He expresses the opinion that the European Powers are awakening to the necessary of securing the inviolability of the Pope, but he is unable to state if negotiations are proceeding relative to a Congress of Powers being called to settle the Papal question. He is quite confident that if the Pope leaves Rome he will return to it again.

The Best Field
—FOR—
EMIGRANTS

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS, OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R. & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand.

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either internal or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 20 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

the institutions of mercy and of learning, founded by Infidelity and supported alone by Infidelity, pronounced against God and the Christian religion and yet in favor of making the world better. "O," you say, "a ream of paper is too much for the names of those institutions." Well then I throw, you a quire of paper. Fill it all up now. I will wait untill you get all the names down. "O," you say, "that is too much." Well, then, I will just hand you a sheet of letter paper. Just fill up the four sides while we are talking of this matter, with the names of the merciful institutions and the educational institutions founded by Infidelity, and supported all along by Infidelity, pronounced against God and the Christian religion, yet in favor of humanity, "O!" you say, "that is too much room; we don't want a whole sheet of paper to write down the names."

Perhaps I had better tear one one leaf from my hymn book and ask you to fill up both sides of it with the names of such institutions. "O!" you say, "that would be too much room; you wouldn,t want so much room as that." Well, then, suppose you count them on your ten fingers. "O," you say, "not quite so much as that." Well, then, count them on the fingers of one hand. "O," you say, "we don't want quite so much room as that." Suppose, then, you halt and count on one finger the name of any institution founded by Infidelity, supported entirely by Infidelity, pronounced against God and the Christian religion, yet toiling to make the world better. Not one? Not one!

Is infidelity so poor, so straveling, so mean, so useless? Get out.

YOU MISERABLE PAUPER OF THE UNIVERSE!

Crawl into some rat hole of everlasting nothingness. Infidelity standing to-day amid the suffering, groaning, dying nations and yet doing absolutely nothing save trying to impede those who are toiling until they fall exhausted into their graves in trying to make the world better. Gather up all the work, all the merciful work, that Infidelity has ever done, add it all together, and there is not so much nobility in it as in the smallest head of that Sister of Charity who last night went up the dark alley of the town, put a jar of jelly for an invalid appetite on a broken stand, and then knelt on the bare floor, praying the mercy of Christ on the dying soul.

Infidelity scrapes no lint for the wounded, bakes no bread for the hungry, shakes up no pillow for the sick, rouses no comfort for the bereft, gilds no grave for the dead. While Christ, our Christ, our wounded Christ, our risen Christ, the Christ of this old-fashioned Bible — blessed be His glorious name forever! — our Christ stands this morning pointing to the hospital, or to the asylum, saying: "I was sick and ye gave me a couch, I was lame and ye gave me a crutch, I was blind and ye physicianed my eyesight, I was orphaned and ye mothered my soul, I was lost on the mountains and ye brought me home; inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, ye did it to me."

O! what a magnificent array of men and women have been made by the religion of the Bible. I cannot call it would take me all this day and to-night, and to-morrow to call the roll. I call the roll only of a part of one company of a regiment of a battalion of an army of magnificent men and women innumerable: John Howard, John Milton, David Brainard, George Whitefield, Martin Luther, Adoniram Judson, Alexander Duff, Henry Martyn, William Wilberforce, Richard Cobden, Bishop McIlvaine, James A. Garfield, George Washington, Victoria the Queen, Hannah More, Charlotte Elizabeth Harriet Newell, Mrs. Sigourney, Florence Nightingale, Lucretia Mott, and ten thousand other men and women, living and dead, standing in the present and in the past, aflame with the transpicuous glories of the Christian religion?

THE ROLL:

A CROW ROOST.—A few miles north of Cincinnati and near the village of Clifton is a famous crow roost. Time out of mind the birds have gone there every night to roost in the trees and go away in the morning. A little before sundown they fly in from all points of the compass to the number of 100 000 or more, and, before going to their night quarters, stop on a piece of land at some little distance for a kind of general visit. After a season of vociferous cawing they fly to their beds in the trees, loading the branches so that they frequently break.

WELL DIRECTED.—A letter with the following superscription is reported by the London "Free Press" to have been mailed:—

"Away to Manitoba
Where excitement's running high;
Where they want eight hundred maidens
For a matrimonial fry.
Where 'Land Agents' thick as locusts
Squat on every empty keg;
'Tis to one of these I send you,
Thomas Brown, of Winnipeg,
Of the firm of Moore & Company,
Who will sell you (lose or win)
From a Prairie to a Province,
If you only have the "tin."

TERRIBLE TO CONTEMPLATE.—Professor Proctor, the astronomer, thinks it certain that if at any time a great comet falling directly upon the sun, should, by the swift rush of its meteoric components, excite the flame of the sun to a lustre far exceeding that with which he at present shines, the sudden access of lustre and heat would prove destructive to every living creature, or at any rate to all the higher forms of life upon this earth. And though in a few days the sun might resume his ordinary lustre and no longer glow with abnormal heat he would pour his rays on a family of worlds in which not one of the higher forms either of vegetable or animal life would remain in existence.

Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington EveryEvening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it on himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

SAMUEL'S FIRST LETTER.

It was his first letter home from boarding school, and it read as follows.

Dear Father—I wrote to you before I write to ma becoz I know you like to see ma mad. I think I will get along first-rate. The garden here is full of chickens, and makes the walking bad. In history I've got as far as Alexander the Great. He carried a sword to cut knots with. There is an apple orchard half a mile off. The boys play ball in it; after that there ain't many apples. The minister's son was licked this morning for going a fishing on Sunday. I think I like the minister's son a good deal. Send me some marbles as soon as you can, also a jack knife and a top. Two of us boys left a piece of wet soap at the head of the stairs just before day break, and by the time the cook got to the bottom she was too sick to get breakfast. We have prayers reg'lar every day, and the teacher reads out of the Bible, but I don't think its so bully as playing tag in a hay-loft. From your affectionate son,

SAMUEL.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive. It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION. —An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcula which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King,s renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles. 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRS, [illegible] Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a sp[illegible] remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fever, [illegible] heat affections, and [illegible] disease, scrofulous tendencies, &c. [illegible] whole [illegible] is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. [illegible] doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemi[illegible]re. The name of J. PEPPER [illegible] label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericton, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature, to represent his constituents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment. It gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood. As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it, the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago sciatica, contracted joints, cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

Put up in large bottles, retail 25 cents each, and sold by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Blotches, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilitic and Mercurial diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives — Stillingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock — with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skilfully combined, that the full alterative effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alterative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need do no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.

N. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable, the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis,

and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration,

CONSUMPTION

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlet giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 25cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

JOHN LEWIS.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

Friday, 24th.

After routine Friday, Sir Leonard Tilley commenced his financial statement, which was continued, for some time after six o'clock recess. It was polemical in tone throughout, and was one monotonous harping on the same string—how much prosperity of the country is due to his own tariff. He contended that the increases made on customs duties were the cause of the depression which followed, while his own much larger increases were the cause of increased prosperity as well as increased revenue. The fact of increased prosperity he proved by a greater expenditure of the people on imported luxuries and on the finer qualities of taxtile fabrics. Dealing with the contention of Mr. Paterson and Mr. Charlton that the prosperity is due to the increased exports of articles produced in Canada, he quoted statiots of exports for five years of the late Administration, and three years of the present, to show that the average annual export for the former period, Amounting to $68,576,901, was very little less than the average annual export of the la'ter, which amounted to $70,369,049. Passing to the question of taxation, he took the total receipts from customs, excise, etc., during the Mackenzie Administration, added to them the amount of deficits, and found the average revenue raised by taxation to be $19,757,407. Going through similar calculation, but deducting surpluses for the present regime, he found the average annual revenue from taxation to be $19,916,100, or $4 65 per head in the latter case to $4.88 in the former, an increase of only 23 cents per head per annum. He admitted an average increase of $1,200,000 in the annual expenditure chargeable to consolidated fund account, but explained it by additions to items beyond administrative control, such as increased mileage of Government railways, charges on public debt, management of the North-West including lands and Indians, census, and exceptional appropriations for charitable purposes. After some comparisons between the expense and revenue of the postoffice and railway service under the two Administrations, he passed on to discuss the public debt for 1879. It was, treating the Fisheries Award as an assert, $34 per head; in 1881 it was $35, and in 1890 it would not be more than $34.27, making no allowance for the extraordinary increase of population, or for the reduction of debt by the sale of lands; the interest on the public debt, which was $1.29 per head in 1897, would not be more than $1.37 per head. Passing to the revised estimates of expenditure for the current year, and taking account of the supplementary estimates brought down a few days ago, he admitted that the expenditure would be $27,250,000. The liabilities falling due next year amounted to $12,680,000, and would be met without borrowing by means of the surplus, deposits in savings bank, and sums on call in chartered banks.

The proposed changes in the customs tariff were enumerated and commented upon. The chief change is the repeal of the duties on tea and coffee, except the 10 per cent. on these articles when imported through the United States. Some raw materials are to be placed on the free list, and others are to be reduced. Some ad valorem duties are changed to specific, and vice versa. The chief addition is the one on common window glass the increase being from 20 to 30 per cent. Several changes are made for the purpose of removing doubts in classification, but on the whole a reduction of $1,000,000 in the receipts from the customs is anticipated as a result of the alterations. The only change in excise duties is on home-grown tobacco, a concession to those engaged in this industry in Quebec, at a loss to the revenue of $50,000. Stamps on bills and notes are to be dispensed with, a loss of $200,000. To these deducations add $150,000 to be paid in bounties to fishermen in lieu of the Fishery award, and there is a total offset of $1,500,000 to the surplus that would accrue from present imposts. There would probably be a reduction in receipts from cotton and sugar, leaving a total estimated revenue of $30,600,000 for 1882 83, and an estimated surplus of $3,000,000, not taking into account the influx of population into the North West and the receipts from the sales of lands.

The expenditure on capital account for 1882-83 is estimated at a total of $4,540,000. Of this $8,200,000 is required as subsidy earned by the Canada Pacific Syndicate, which will be met by the sale of land grant bonds; $9,000,000 to complete Canada Pacific Railway contracts; and $7,340,000 to pay maturing liabilities will be largely met by the $5,000,000 in banks, the $3,000,000 of surplus, the $4,000,000 in savings banks, and $1,000,000 raised by the increase in currency. A large portion of his speech was devoted to showing how Opposition predictions about the effect of the tariff had been falsified. The first of these was that it would diminish trade with Great Britain, the second that it would injure the carrying trade of the St. Lawrence, the third that it would tend to arouse bad feelings between the people of the different Provinces, chiefly in connection with coal and breadstuffs duties; fourth, that while there would be loss of revenue from sugar duties, and the price would be increased to the consumer; fifth, that the tariff would either not produce revenue, or not encourage manufacture; and sixth, that it would destroy Canadian credit in England. In the course of his argument on these points he ran over the whole field of the operations of the tariff with wearisome iteration and pointless detail. His peoration was devoted to a glorification of the tariff and the Pacific Railway policy of the Government, with an incidental acknowledgment of the share which Providence has had in bringing about increased prosperity.

Sir Richard Cartwright commenced by complimenting the Finance Minister on his budget being brought down so early in the session, and proceeded to call attention to the omissions from and contradictions in it. Amongst the omissions most noticeable was the absence of all reference to the balance of trade, which was to be accounted for by the fact that the balance of trade was last year heavily against this country. Turning to the boasted surplus he showed that if the revenue raised from coal and breadstuffs were deducted and the cost of Dominion land survey, formerly charged to consolidated fund account, were added to the expenditure, the surplus would shrink to two millions and a half. He showed that the real cause of the surplus was the increase of exports, which paid for larger imports, and that a 17½ per cent. tariff would with the same imports have been producing an ample revenue for the conduct of the public service. The present tariff could not be credited with the present surplus unless it could be shown that it led to increased exports, while the fact was that it had hampered instead of helping the production of all the great staple commodities sent abroad. To make the state of affairs worse the revenue if now raised in the most costly manner, large sums being taken from the people which never go into the treasury at all. Owing to this fact the present surplus of $4,000,000 must have cost other 4,000,000 to collect, or in other words for $4,000,000 going into the treasury $8,000,000 were contributed by the people. The inevitable consequence has been to increase the cost of living, the average of the increase ranging from 25 to 40 per cent. Sir Leonard Tilley's statement that the duty was sometimes paid by the producer and sometimes by the consumer, was next referred to, especially in connection with the duty on coal. Sir Richard quoted from Sir Charles Tupper's Picton speeches his admission that the people of Ontario paid the coal duty, Sir Henry Tyler's remarks on the increased cost of coal to the Grand Trunk Railway, and a motion made against the coal and breadstuffs duties in the Senate a few years ago by Mr. Macpherson, and turned to examine with more minute analysis how the tariff has added to the burdens of the taxpayers, citing instances from real life. He showed that in one case not less than $40 was paid in taxes out of an income of $400, and that in another $37 was paid out of an income of $800. He admitted that not all the increased cost of living was due to the tariff, but he held it responsible for lowering very greatly the standard of living amongst the masses and for interfering with the natural and equitable distribution of wealth. Taking up the case of farmers, he showed that it had not secured higher prices for grain in Toronto than in Chicago, if it had not actually placed the former market at a disadvantage. Having dwelt on the injury done to the staple industries of the country by the tariff, he asked why the Finance Minister did not propose to pay bounties to other injured classes as well as to fishermen? The injury inflicted on the working classes by the tariff and its failure to protect them against competition were forcibly depicted, while the allegation that the Liberal party were hostile to manufacturers or that the latter had anything to fear from the former, was equally forcibly repudiated. Turning to the annual expenditure he dwelt on the alarmingly rapid increase while the taxation increased more rapidly still, so that while the amount of the latter was only $3.60 per head in 1867 and only $4.46 in 1878 it now amounted to $5.61. Calling attention to the enormous increase to the expenditure in connection with the Department of the Interior, he arraigned the management in severe terms showing how the impossibility of obtaining ordinary information, the lack of courtesy in officials, and the absurd and frequently changing regulations had been the means of sending thousands of intending settlers over to the United States. Turning to the administration of the Finance Department he referred in sarcastic terms to Sir Leonard Tilley's bank circulars, to his nepotism, which a member declared to be "intolerable" to

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Nature, after all, is the great physician. She hides all the secrets of health within her broad generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her intelligently for his every need. The discovery of the great Cough Remedy, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, is an apt illustration of this. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice and Hoarseness it stands unrivalled, while its low price and readiness of access places it within the reach of all. Try it and be convinced. All chemists keep it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

OUR CHARMING COUNTRYWOMEN are winning an enviable distinction for their fine teeth. This, they in great measure owe to the beautifying and restorative influence of SOZODONT, the most popular preparation for the teeth on this continent. It removes from the dental surface every impurity, checks decay and enables the teeth to masticate without contaminating the food, thus indirectly contributing to healthful nutrition. It effectually neutralizes an unpleasant odor of the breath.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP" were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Epps's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." his absurd defence for announcing months beforehand his intention to repeal the tea and coffee duties, and to his mistating temporary inflation for permanent prosperity. He showed that if any duties were to be removed the first to go should have been those on coal and breadstuffs, demonstrated that taking a period of several months the cost of sugar had been largely increased, while it produced less revenue, and set the opinion of the Montreal Corn Exchange as to the effect of the grain duties on the St. Lawrence trade against that of the Finance Minister. After noticing a few other points in Sir L. Tilley's speech, especially the absurdity of his method of showing that the tariff had not operated against the import trade from England, he closed with a warning to the Government that they were treading on dangerous ground in their invasion of Provincial rights, and that the people of the North-West would not long submit to the bonds which had been needlessly imposed upon them.

DAILY ONTARIO

MONDAY FEB. 27, 1882.

THE BUDGET.

The Finance Minister posed as a public benefactor on Friday when expounding his Budget theory, and describing the trade and financial prospects of the country. He laid particular stress upon the statement that the country was more prosperous now than it was under a revenue tariff, and paused for some audacious Grit to contradict him. He was somewhat disconcerted when he discovered that his statement was endorsed by all present—Grits as well as Tories. Nobody denies that the country is prosperous, but many do deny that this prosperity is due to the National Policy. Sir Leonard ignores the fact that our exports have increased in articles produced by the forest, soil, fisheries, &c., over which no Government measure could have any influence. In artitcls of manufacture, to aid which the N. P. was specially designed, our exports have largely decreased. If this is proof of a commercial prosperity, it is an easy matter for some to extract sunbeams from cucumbers. The surplus was the big egg cackled over, but Sir Leonard admitted that he had been taking too much money from the pockets of the people, and consoled himself with the assertion that the tax was voluntarily paid. This we deny. Two-thirds of the people of Canada, we believe, object to the tax levied on the necessaries of life and pay it under protest. In order to show how magnanimous he can be under the circumstances, the Finance Minister announces his intention to cancel the duty on tea and coffee. We have on former occasions pointed out that neither of these articles could be classed among the necessaries of life, and hence to repeal the duty on them is no concession to the poor man. Coal and breadstuffs, which cannot be dispensed with by the poorest, are retained on the dutiable list. We do not think the expressions of gratitude for cheap tea and coffee, while fuel and food remain dear, will be many nor sincere.

Sir Richard Cartwright criticised the Budget with characteristic ability and success. He pointed out how fallacious were the anti-election promises relative to the benefits to be conferred upon the mass of consumers by the N. P., and defended the tariff of the late Government from charges that had been brought against it. Incapacities of the present Administration were exposed, and extravagance in expenditure made evident.

The proposed changes in the tariff will add the following articles to the free list:—

Anatomical preparations.

Bees, brass in sheets. Britannia metal in pigs and bars.

Celluloid in sheets, china clay, chloralum, coffee green, except by Act 42 Vic. cap. 15.

Fowls for improvement of stock.

Iron sand or globules, and dry putty for polishing granite.

Quinine, quicksilver.

Spelter in blocks and pigs.

Tea, except as provided for in Act 42, cap. 15; tin in blocks, pigs, bars and sheets.

Woods—African teak, blackheart, ebony, lignum vitæ, red cedars, satin wood.

DUTIES TO BE CHANGED.

Bookbinders' tools and implements, including ruling machines and binders' cloth, from 15 per cent to 10.

Glass, common and colourless window glass, now 20 per cent to 30.

Scrap iron, now $2 per ton to $1.

Lead manufacturers, from 25 to 30.

Sandpaper, from 20 to 25 per cent.

Ship's hulls, when containing machinery, to remain at 10, but the machinery to pay 25 per cent.

Bags containing fine salt, 25 per cent.

Clock springs, now 35, reduced to 10

Cotton seeds, now 20 per cent., to 10 cents per bushel.

Fireworks, 25 per cent. ad valorem.

Wrought iron tubing, 1½-inch and upward, 15 per cent.; it now pays 25 between 1½ and 2 inches.

Mustard cake, 20 per cent.; uncertain now

Paraffine wax or stearine, 3 cents per pound.

Rice, unhulled or paddy, 17½ p. c.

Trees, apple, 2½ cents; pear, 4 cents; plum, 5 cents; cherry, 4 cents; quince, 2½ cents; grapevines, 4 cents.

Silk plush or netting for gloves, 15 per cent.

Harness and leather dressing to be placed under the heading of Blacking 25 per cent.

Belts and trusses to be placed under the heading Braces or Suspendors.

Kentuck Jeans, pay cotton duty as they are cotton.

Knitted cotton cloth to pay 30 per cent.; black and bleached cotton, three—three and six cords only to be admitted at 12½ per cent. duty.

Furs, wholly or partially dressed, bolsters and pillows, to pay the same duty as mattresses.

Glass, pressed or moulded table ware, to be added to the 30 per cent. list.

Corsets, tarpaulin, coated with oil paint, or tar cotton bags made up by the use of the needle, 30 per cent.

Paints, orange mineral, reduced to 5 per cent, same article as white lead.

Add to list of varnishes, lackers, Ja-

Spirits and strong waters mixed, now paying $1.90, 20 per cent is to be added.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

BUDGET ITEMS.

In 1867 the public debt was $19 per head; now it is $35.

Sir Leonard Tilley estimates his surplus for next year at over three millions.

The amount of revenue lost by the repeal of the duty on tin would be $100,000.

The duty on pig iron instead of being increased has been reduced from $2 per ton to $1.

The loss of revenue by the proposed changes in the tariff will be between $50,000 and $70,000.

Stamps on notes and bills of exchange will be taken off and commercial men relieved thereby to the extent of $200,000.

The heavy tax on the poor deprives them of the chance of getting a home for themselves or of procuring education for their children.

A mechanic earning $400 a year is taxed $43.50 a year for Dominion purposes, which does not include municipal taxes, about $10 more.

The average expenditure during the past three years was $1,229,000 more than the average expenditure during the Mackenzie Goverement.

Of the 4,000,000 surplus, 1,000,000 was collected from fuel and breadstuffs, articles upon which no other country in the world imposed duties.

Four millions have been taken out of the people through the duties on sugar, while only $2,500,000 of that went into the treasury. The Monopolists got the rest.

Parliament will be asked for a supplementary estimate of $150,000 to distribute in the shape of bounty to the fishermen of Canada in lieu of the Halifax fishery award.

In all northern climates, consumption is a great destroyer of human life. Most cases spring from colds neglected till ulceration of the lungs sets in and then the progress of the disease is apt to be rapid. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam is a speedy and certain cure in the early stages, and has permanently relieved many cases which skilful physicians thought hopeless.

GENERAL GOSSIP.

Kingston butchers will make no display of beef at the coming Easter.

They have a monstrosity in Kingston in the shape of a two-headed calf.

There are two cases of small pox in Toronto, and two or three in Hamilton.

Large quantities of potatoes are being bought at Prescott for 60cts. per bushel.

An agency of the Canadian Express Co. will probably be established at Deseronto.

Napanee will petition the Government to have letter boxes erected in that town.

Oscar Wilde will spend a few days with the Dean of Ontario prior to his departure for Europe.

It is rumored that Hon. Mr. Mackenzie will bring up the Picton military camp difficulty in Parliament.

The police authorities of Toronto are at last doing their duty, and disorderly characters get their deserts.

A widow, at Lafayette, Ind., received $1 700 as her husband's back pension, though she was a wife for a day only having married him when he was dying.

The new post office at Deseronto is about completed and presents a neat and attractive appearance. There will be a telegraph office connected with it.

Mrs. J. R. Kerr, sister of Edward Blake, is still very low. An expert was brought from Philadelphia at a cost of $2,000. Her trouble is a gathering in the ear.

It is reported that Rev. J. F. Hutchinson, of Tamworth, will be removed to Milford, vice Rev. M. Stanton, who takes the curacy of St. Mary Magdalen's Church, Napanee.

D. K. Brown, associate editor of the 'World' is the latest journalist down with Manitoba fever. He assumes a like position on the Winnipeg 'Sun,' where Mr. Fahey is now editor.

Jas. Sheppard, Gananoque, has applied for a patent on an invention that is calculated to prevent boots and shoes from wearing out. Our devil is in great ecstasy over this announcement, as it takes all his wages for boots.

The largest workshop of the body is the liver, whose office it is to draw the bile from the blood. When this important organ acts sluggishly or from any cause becomes diseased, Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills afford immediate relief, and soon bring about natural action.

POLITICAL NOTES.

—The Conservatives of East Northumberland have nominated Mr. Cochrane, of Brighton, and Mr. John Clarke, of Seymour, as their candidates for the House of Commons and Local Legislature, respectively. The North Simcoe Reformers were addressed on Saturday by Hon. A S. Hardy, Dr. Widdifield, and H. H. Cook, M.PP's.

—The Marquis of Salisburg denies that the Land Act Enquiry Committee of the House of Lords will endeavour to diminish the rights that tenants have acquired under the Act, and says that any change must be in the way of redressings the wrongs of the landlords. The Times cannot see that the Committee will accomplish any good, as it is already discredited by the fact that it represents only a section of the House of Lords. The Liberals are thoroughly united, and inclined to give a cordial support to the Government. Bradlaugh is likely to have a hard run for re-election in Northampton, and Labouchere, his colleague, admits that his chances one way or the other are a "toss-up." An improbable rumor is circulated that owing to the unsatisfactory position of Irish affairs Gladstone will resign.

We have lived to see the old addage "Two of a trade seldom agree," satirically disproved. St Jacobs Oil can no longer be considered the bone of contention among the medical fraternity, since druggists whose veracity is not to be doubted, and eminent physicians like A. A. Waite, of Pittsfield, Mass, give and corroborate their testimony cheerfully and without solicitation.—Province (R. I.) Democrat.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE IN THE early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before rallying, but by food—the only remedy The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lungs but a systematic starvation. Here use WHEELER'S ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA to secure digestion and assimilation and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

The Churches Yesterday.

FUNERAL SERMON OF THE LATE J. A. CLARKE.

Memorial Services in connection with the death of the late Dr. Ryerson

At eleven o'clock yesterday (Sunday) morning Bishop Carman preached a sermon on the death of the late James A. Clarke at the M. E. Tabernacle. Deceased being a member of the Order of Oddfellows, the two city lodges attended in a body, accompanied by the band of Lodge No. 81. The members of the Mizpah and Belleville Lodges, assembled at their respective halls shortly after ten o'clock, and headed by the band, marched in procession to the Tabernacle, arriving there about 11 o'clock. There were in all about one hundred Oddfellows in the procession, attired in full regalia, and as they wended their way to the church, their general appearance was favorably discussed. The music furnished by the band was appropriate to the occasion.

The interior of the church was dressed in mourning and presented a solemn and impressive appearance. There was crape drooped in front of the organ and about the pulpit, which constituted an appropriate dress for the occasion. The edifice was crowded to the doors, many people being turned away unable to secure a seat or even standing room. Extra seats were brought up from the basement and placed along the aisles, but notwithstanding this a large number of the congregation were obliged to remain standing throughout the service, which lasted nearly two hours. The theme chosen for discussion and meditation was:—

"Then Jesus beholding him, loved him; and said unto him one thing thou lackest"—Mark x, 21.

The sermon preached from this text was one of unusual length and great power. In his opening remarks the Bishop said some people are amiable by nature, some by culture, and some by the Grace of God. We should always learn to love what we ought to love, and though we may love a person not because he has some one excellency in a great degree, yet in the small interaction and counteraction you find a model character. He referred to the great blessing bestowed upon some people possessing an even and good temper, and of the great difference there is in this respect among human beings. In his opinion a father might better lose one of his limbs than go out into the world with a faulty disposition. Among the people of this generation there are few, he said, who are not anxious or who do not care, what is thought of them after they are dead. The result of this general feeling is a great thirst for fame among mankind. There are very few of us that come up to God's standard; we all lack the one thing. People generally overlook the requirements which God makes in the Tenth Commandment:—"Thou shall love thy God with all thy heart" is the commandment which God has made, and he urged upon the congregation a greater regard for this in future. Referring to the late Jas. Clarke, he paid a high tribute to his many excellent qualitus; and spoke with great earnestness regarding his short wordly career. James Adam Clarke, he said, was born in the Township of Thurlow, June 4th, 1841, where he was reared on a farm and inured to labor. He was under religious influence at home from early youth, and was carefully trained to sobriety and industry. The only educational advantages he enjoyed were those of the common schools at the time; and these he used faithfully, gaining what knowledge he had for active life. In childhood he made covenant with God, and realized the gentle, purifying influences of religion in his heart. But allured of the world, he subsequently broke the vow a daily renewal of which perpetuates the love of God as a living principle in the soul. Yet he never lapsed into irreverence, thoughtlessness or irreligion; but steadfastly pursued a deep regard for things divine, a respect for the holy ordinances, a careful attendance at the house of God, a special love for Zion's outward prosperity, a great liberality in her support, and an anxiety for the rearing of his children in the faith and fear of the Gospel. Yet, amid these goodly manifestations and influences there was lacking the bond of the living union of the soul with God, the impulse of the spiritual and eternal life which is the stay of the human heart on earth, and the source of the perpetual assurance of the favor of God, and of the blessed joy and hope that are the comfort of His people. And this our dear Brother Clarke deeply and constantly felt, and to his trusted religious brethren readily acknowledged. Our ever loving patient God gave him space for repentance, renewed vows and fresh espousals, for which we render glory to His name. And who of us would live in His sight, but for these spaces for repentance and renewed vows? And who of us shall live in glory eternally, except we so repent and return unto the Lord? Mr. Clarke's family moved to Belleville about 1861. In 1867 Jas. A. clarke, the deceased brother, was married to Miss C. A. Davenport, who with their two children — Blanche and Willie — survives. There's is the orphan's irreparable loss; her's is the widow's inexpressible grief. Our brother Clark was a true husband and noble father. The circles of social and business life will miss him, but how much more his home. There was a strong arm there, that will never again be raised for their protection. There was a liberal hand there that will never again open for their comfort, safety and cheer. There was a mild voice there that will never again check faults with loving authority, strengthen good desires and purposes with kind approbation, and chasten with tenderest accents. All these are hushed in the grave. And it would be a heart-crushing, a hope-mocking, a soul tantalizing hush, were they not again to be permitted to look upon that face, be led by that hand, and rejoice in that voice. But when a man dies he shall live again—there is an eternal life. And then, dear separated friends may be united on the glorious shore. It is sometimes said the christianity of this world is cold; but we are all in deep sympathy here to-day. Friends and neighbors weep with these bereaved ones. The members of the church of God, that ought to be the chief benevolence of earth, the warmest, mightiest, sympathizers with those in distress, weep. And the brethren of that noble Order whose great duties are to visit the sick, to relieve the distressed, to bury the dead, to educate the orphan, and to aid the widow; whose avowed principles are those of humanity and religion, not only weep tears of sympathy but spread out arms of protection and open hands of help and comfort. Mr. Clarke died Saturday Feb. 4th 1882. On the morning of that day at half past seven a noble soul departed from earth—a good and generous man passed away to his rest. Every sphere in which he moved will miss his genial influence. With unflagging industry and unstained integrity in business, he enjoyed a fair degree of success. And now business men miss him, his lodge misses him, his church misses him, and his family miss him. He was my friend and the friend of every one of you. During his illness his religious experience was to friends at least satisfactory, yea triumphant. To me visiting him he exclaimed with rapture—'This is a great salvation.' We render glory to God for such a death-bed scene."

Rev. Mr. A. Campbell then spoke a few words of consolation to the bereaved relatives and friends, after which the congregation was dismissed by Rev. Dr. Bodgley pronouncing the Benediction.

THE LATE DR. RYERSON.

At the Bridge-st. Church in the evening Rev. Dr. Jeffers preached a memorial sermon in honor of the late Dr. Ryerson, the veteran educationalist of Canada, who died at Toronto on the 19th. inst. Revs. S. J. Shorey and Burns were present and assisted during the sermon which was one of unusual solemnity and excellence. The interior of the church was dressed in mourning which presented an appearance similar to the Tabernacle in the morning, and the congregation was the largest assembled in that church for some time past. The text chosen was:

"Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for theyself."—Psalms, LXXX—17.

The Rev. Doctor began his discourse by stating that he would refer chiefly in his remarks to the life and death of the late Dr. Ryerson, though he had chosen a text from the Bible as a guidance. When eighteen years of age Dr. Ryerson united in membership with the Methodist Church, having for some time previous been in sympathy with its views and doctrine, and at the age of twenty-two years he was received as a Minister. He labored earnestly for seven years in this sphere, after which he became editor of the Christian Guardian, a position he was eminently qualified for, and which he held for nine years. It was while editor of the paper that he was instrumental in bringing about many political reforms which at that period of our history were highly desirable for the future welfare and prosperity of Canada. The speaker referred at some length to the life of the deceased as a minister, as a writer and as an educationalist, and pointed out that God always makes it a point to raise up great and prominent men like Geo. Whitfold, John Wesley and Dr. Ryerson when occasion require it, to bring about some much-needed reform in the Christian world. They are raised up "in His right hand" to accomplish some divine or moral object. When Dr. Ryerson first began laboring as a minister he did so at a salary of $100 a year, and doubtless he only received about half of this; but in after years he became one of the most influential members of the Methodist body. He was a self-made man. Our school system at present, Dr. Jeffers said, was the best in the world, and was the result of his (Dr. Ryerson's) wonderful educational powers. The above is but an imperfect synopsis of the learned Dr's. discourse, which was delivered with his usual power and ability.

"Pour oil on troubled waters" is an old recommendation; in the modern interpretation of the phrase we such expressions and advice as the following contained in the closing words of a long article in the Boston Herald: During my jauntings around town I heard many remarks of a complimentary character in relation to the merits of St. Jacobs Oil, and one person said: "There's the venerable Hanibal Hamlin of Maine, our ex-vice-president. He never wears an overcort, and is therefore the legitimate prey of rheumatism. If he wants to continue saving the expense of an overcoat and at the same time escape rheumatism, such weather as this, he must invest fifty cents in a bottle of St Jacobs Oil and lather himself right well. He will find it a cheap and serviceable overcoat to keep the rheumatism from his body.

There is no Evaporation or Deterioration in strength about Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The ingredients of this incomparable anti-rheumatic and hroat and lung remedy are not volatile but are fixed pure and imperishable. Pain, lameness and stiffness are relieved by it, and it may be used with equal benefit externally and internally.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company!

OF WATERLOO - - - ONT.

(ESTABLISHED 1868.)

has just closed its twelfth year, which has been the most successful year in its history. The following figures show the progress the company has made during the last three years.

Policies issued in 1879 were 427 for $490,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1880 were 908 for $1,157,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1881 were 1,426 for $2,000,000 of Assurance.

Such rapid progress shows that the public appreciate economical management, annual cash dividends, and promptness in paying claims.

CALISAYA, THE PERUVIAN Or Jesuits' Bark, is the best bitter tonic we have in all febrile conditions, and in neuralgic and rheumatic pains, from weak digestion and assimilation, and, as combined in Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, forms a permanent strengthening nutritive in all used-up conditions of the system from the various causes which lead to nerve prostration. This combination is made by a process peculiar to the inventor, and there is no substitute that will do its work.

1881 THE YEAR 1881

Has been an eventful one in many respects, but in none more so than in

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous shoice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

City and Vicinity.

☞Furs at cost at Davenport's.

Our City Fathers will meet this evening.

There has been only one individual in the cells since Saturday.

A large force of men is at work clearing away the debris on Campbell-st. caused by Thursday night's fire.

It is the intention of the I. C. B. U. Society to entertain Mr. Phillips Thompson at a banquet at O'Brien's hotel after the lecture on the 17th of March.

The Acta Victoriana for February comes to hand brim full of good things as usual. It is a credit to "Old Vic."

On Saturday afternoon a snow-slide on Front-st. near O'Brien's hotel was the cause of considerable damage being done. A horse that was tied to a post became frightened, and ran away, smashing the rig to which it was attached, as well as a couple of others which it collided with.

At the police court this morning John Burns an old and infirm tramp, was discharged, in promising to continue his journey eastward at once. Elizabeth Racroft who was up on remand charged with being drunk, was fined $2 and costs, or the alternative of thirty days. She was committed.

☞Go and see the bargains offered at Davenport's closing Fur sale.

At a meeting of the Fire Committee Saturday night, the resignation of the Fire Brigade was accepted. The matter will probably be discussed at the Council meeting this evening. It is probable that the Chief and Assistant Chief Engineers will organize three new companies at once; if so, the Council will grant them each $300 per annum.

Elsewhere will be found an obituary notice which will call forth the sympathy of many friends in this city. Only a few months ago Mr. Crothers lost his wife, and now death robs him of his only son, a bright little fellow of about 5 years. The child was attacked with inflammatory croup, and expired while an operation was being performed upon his throat.

☞You will save money by buying your Furs now, at N. Davenport's closing sale.

It appears the absconding Frenchman, M. A. Plasse, didn't go east last week, as was at first reported, but took the opposite course, and is now said to be at Cobourg. Mr. Tisdale, therefore, will scarcely find him at Napanee. Shortly after the Ontario on Saturday was issued, Mr. D. R. Leavens seized what chattels he could find in the store recently occupied by Plasse, but the goods will not realize one quarter the amount which is due Mr. Leavens for rent.

The Peterborough Review says:—"Conduct Stanton of the Grand Junction, a fine man by the way, informs us that he sold no less than 72 market-tickets between Belleville and Peterboro' on Saturday last, and all of the ticket-holders were bound for our town." We will wager the oyst'ers that Conductor Stanton sells no market-tickets for Peterborough this side of Campbellford, or when half way over the line. Peterborough is a smart town, but it can't discount the City of the Bay.

☞Call early and get a choice, Furs Cheap, Cheap, Cheap, at Davenport's.

Mr. Overell sends us a pamphlet entitled "The Scriptural Doctrine of Baptism," by the Rev. Robert Jardine, B.D., D.Sc., of Brockville. The little work embraces the substance of a lecture delivered in the First Presbyterian Church of Brockville, and is published in consequence of a widely expressed desire that it should be into a more permanent form. The main object is to instruct Presbyterians, especially those of immature age, in the principles of their faith, so far as regards baptism, but we are satisfied that all denominations would be benefitted by reading the work. The author does not believe that religion is a matter of "meat and drink, nor of the washing of cups and plates, nor of any external ceremonialism whatever." He does not consider the mode of baptism an essential qualification for Christ's service, but that all professed Christians should unite in holding the Saviour as the great Head; "cultivate his spirit and life above everything else, and seek to spread the knowledge and love of him throughout the world." The price of this brochure is only 10 cts.

☞Furs not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

Great fur Sale.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. Davenport.

THAT "DORG."

He's gone, He's gone, "Oh! why will ye
die?"
Things ethereal pass quickly from our sight,
The great transformation scenes of this life
are short,
But the hope of immortality forever bright.

Poor "Fido"—he was a good little dog,
And brought cheer to the hearts of all,
He was kind and affectionate to his friends,
And lovingly responded to their calls.

He's gone—"Not dead only gone before;"
"Only a dog"—But his demise makes a
heart sore,
But we trust like all other good little
dogs,
His spirit is safe on the "evergreen shore,"
The old dogs must die, and the young
may too,
So let them live, that they be ready for the
"call,"
But for mens' and childrens' clothing of
all descriptions,
Remember there is no place like the great
Phœnix Hall.

Overcoats sold at prices that will make the most miserly laugh, Mens' and Boys' suits tied up in silk handkerchiefs and given away for fabulously low prices. No time to "give the whole thing away," but an early call will put you on the right track for your spring suit.

Phœnix Hall.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

The sleighing has almost disappeared since Saturday.

Rev. David Mitchell preached in the M. E. Tabernacle yesterday evening.

Rev. Mr. Jeffery, of Cobourg, will deliver a lecture in the Bleecker street Church tomorrow evening.

☞Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

It is a noticeable fact that no revival services have been conducted in any of the city churches this winter.

Chief McKinnon has so far recovered as to be able to leave his bed. He will be about again in a few days, as usual.

The principal musical event announced for this week, is the concert in the Metropolitan Hall on Friday evening, by the Bridge street Church choir.

☞There is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

An altercation took place in front of this office this morning between a farmer and a local horse buyer. The dispute arose out of an alleged misrepresentation which the yeoman made when selling a horse a few days ago.

Mr. William Shea, of Trenton, a Conservative, has been appinted a member of the Board of License Commissioners for West Hastings. The other two Commissioners are Dr. Rockwell, Frankford, and Mr. Jas. Clark, Belleville.

"It's an ill wind that blows no person any good." The adage applies this time to the congregation of Christ Church. The weather during the winter has greatly facilitated the labors of the workmen, and as a result, the interior of the church is rapidly approaching completion.

☞A large oil painting of the late David Jones will be on exhibition in Ford's window. It was painted by Mr. Mason, of Toronto, our new artist.

When you can buy everything in the dry goods line at Hennessy's at 80c. on the dollar, why go elsewhere. The stock consists of hundreds of pieces of embroideries, hundreds of pieces of edgings hundreds of pairs of kid and lisle gloves, thousands of yards of laces and ribbons, frillings, &c. All at 80c on the dollar.

Messrs. H. B. Rathbun & Sons, of Deseronto, have purchased a Baldwin engine in the United States for the Bay of Quinte RR. This road is only 8½ miles in length, yet two engines are used to meet the traffic requirements. The Company were to give the Grand Trunk RR. annually 260 cars of freight, but in the two months just passed, says the Whig, upwards of 270 cars of freight have been despatched. The trains make six trips each way daily, connecting with all trains on the G. T. RR. The midnight train on Saturday is also met. Mails and express are now carried by the Bay of Quinte. RR.

☞N. Davenport opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

The Chicago Tribune of the 22nd. inst. states that it is Mr. Potter Palmer's intention to build during the coming season a private residence the cost of which will be $300,000. The building will be of stone procured form the quarry at Point Anne, owned by Ald. E. LaRoche. It is said Mr. Potter's house when finished will be the finest one in the great western metropolis. Light Ohio stone will be used for the trimming. Mr. LaRoches ecured the contract on the 21st. inst., and will begin in a few weeks to get out the material. We congratulate our young Alderman on the widespread reputation which his stone has acquired, and trust there "is millions in it."

☞Greatest opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

We ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. Brock & Co. The Photographers.

Is it a Humbug? Some people think al proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, add must cure the diseases for which it it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Mr. Edw. Hamilton, of the Grand Opera House end Uhrig's Cave, St. Louis, Mo., is a gentleman well-known to the theatrical profession and the respective patrons of those places of amusement. His experience is most peculiar and opens a new case for the inestimable remedy spoken of. "I had been riding on horseback one afternoon," said Mr. Hamilton, "and was pretty well tired out. In getting off my horse I gave my right leg a severe wrench, but as it did not inconvenienae me at the time I paid no attention to it. In a very short time however an excruciating pain came on in the vicinity of the hip,—this recurring every ten minutes and seeming to grow worse with every recurrence. I went to a doctor, who made an examination and said nothing ailed me. But I knew better, for I could hardly walk. He gave me somethihg to bandage the leg with, but it was of no more avail than so much water. Late in the evening I was attending to my duties at the Cave and limped so badly that several people asked me what was the trouble. A friend advised me to get St. Jacobs Oil, and told me I had undoubtedly strained a leading sinew. It was too late that night to get the medicine, and even after I got to bed it was like a severe cramp, coming at periods and I passed a miserable night. Early in the morning I procured a bottle of the Oil, and, saturating a silk handkerchief with it, bound it around the affected part. It seemed to work its way right in and found the sore place. I was quiet all day ahd kept applying the Oil. In the evening I was straight as a die, and no trouble

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Brakeman meets a Horrible Death.

At an early hour Saturday morning Charles Bridge, a young man about 17 years of age, who had been in the employ of the G. T. R. Co. since last summer as brakeman, caught one of his feet in a frog when running before a train at Kingston station, and before he could extricate it was run over and terribly mangled. His right leg below the knee was crushed to a pulp, his ankle was broken and distorted, and the muscles were seen quivering in the chilly air. The left thigh was also broken and badly crushed, and all over his body were bruises and wounds. Pieces of flesh were sliced from his thigh and his back, exposing his intestines. The poor fellow was removed to the General Hospital where he died at 9 a.m. His father, who lives at Westbrook, was sent for and arrived in time to see his brave son die. The sufferer was conscious to the last moment, He was a great favorite with his fellow employees on the road.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

TWO MISSING STEAMSHIPS.

Both the City of London and the City of Limerick Believed to be Lost.

A New York despatch says: The steamship City of London, of the Centaur Line, which sailed from London on Nov. 10th and has not been heard of since, is regarded as lost by her agents. Wreckage from the vessel is reported to have been washed ashore on the Irish coast. Mr. Thompson said Friday that he feared that the City of Limerick, now forty-seven days out from New York, is also lost. She was a sister ship to the City of London. Mr. W. H. Ross, of Quebec, who was one of the owners of the City of London, expresses the opinion that she was blown up with dynamite. Both vessels were built for and formerly owned by the Inman Line. The city of London had 275 cattle on board.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

DARING BURGULARY.

A Safe Pried Open and $300 Carried Off.

Chatham, Feb. 25.—The safe in the office of Messrs. T. H, Taylor & Co., of Chatham Woollen Mills, was opened by burglars last night and about $300 abstracted The thieves effected an entrance into the office by prying open the doors, and into the safe by smashing the combination lock. The tools used were taken from a blacksmith's shop near the mills. This is the third time in sixteen years that Messrs. Taylor & Co. have been visited in this manner. From the appearane of the safe the robbery was no doubt done by professionals.

TRAGEDY IN PERTH COUNTY.

A Ma Shoots His Companion and Then Himself.

Granton, Feb. 24.—Two men residing in the 8th concession of Blanchard, named Montray and Mossip, were disputing over property when the former drew a revolver and shot the latter in the brest and then shot himself in the head three times. It supposed neither will recover.

A PITIFUL TALE.

The Story of a Fallen Woman and a Faithful Dog.

A Grand Rapids (Mich.) despatch says: The wife of James Doris, a laborer living in the south part of the city, was found frozen to death in the snow a short distance from home at an early hour this morning. A half emptied whiskey bottle in her bosom told the story of her death. She had evidently lived some time after falling, as the snow where her body lay was melted nearly to the ground. A faithful dog was with the body when found, and refused to leave the spot after the corpse was removed Residents in the vicinity where the frozen form lay state that they heard the dog howling during the night.

The Flood.

Little Rock, Feb. 27.—The river is rising half an inch an hour. The whole of Postoria County is under water. The bank in many places is caving badly. The loss at Despis will be extensive. There is much destitution among the inhabitants of the overflowed territory.

Cut His Throat.

Atoms, N.Y., Feb. 27.—Yesterday Chas. Bemis ared 21, a son of a prominent farmer, who was sick with the mumps, said he was going to die and told his father what to do with his money. His father went to the well to get water. When he returned he found his son dead with his throat cut.

Paid the Penalty.

Pleasant Hill, N. C., Feb. 27.—On Monday Rosa Stark gave birth to an infant which she killed Tuesday. She went to the woods to bury it, and while there gave birth to another child. This also she killed, and then prostrated by exposure died herself. The woman's object appears to have been to cancel her shame.

☞James Keyes writes us: "That last spring he had a two-year-old filly that had the horse ail for two weeks, so that it could scarcely eat, (the throat being swoolen and almost shut) and by using Dr Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment for three or four days it was entirely cured.

The Nihilist Trial.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—In the Nihilist trial, Emelianoff declared, contrary to his previous confession, that at the moment the Czar was assassinated he was reposing in his own apartment. The President of the court had the declarations of two winesses, against the prisoner. The prisoner demanded the witnesses be produced and was told they had been hanged. He replied, it was not I who had them hanged. Emelianoff's landlady could not affirm whether the prisoner left the house before or after the assassination. The President asked Emelianoff his motives for incriminating himself up to that time. "I was forced to die or accuse myself," replied Emelianoff. "By whom?" rejoined the President. Neither the accused nor his counsel could answer. Moreavieff in his requisition endeavored to show the whole of the terrorist party was made up of a handful of desperate individuals, who by shrouding themselves in mystery succeeded in persuading the people that they possessed a wide influence, whereas their power really began and ended with the twenty prisoners before him. The Nihilist woman Jakimoff a few days ago was delivered of a child in prison. Revolutions during the trial show the printing machinery of most violent secret terrorist organ, "Land and Liberty," narrowly escaped seizure by the police.

Desperadoes Caught.

Chicago, Feb. 27.—Park Wells and Bill Norris, desperadoes, were brought here yesterday by officers, who captured them at Rendolph, Wis.. after a desperate struggle, during which Wells and Sheriff Farrell were both wounded. The prisoners are on the way to Fremont Co., Iowa, and are wanted for horse stealing, robbing of a bank, participating in robbery of Rock Island train at Winston, Mo., and taking part in Northfield train robbery. Wells is also wanted near Salt Lake City for killing a Mormon Bishop, his uncle by marriage. Wells stated he and his uncle disputed about a crop and he shot the bishop in self defence.

Defending ex-P. M. Gen. James.

New York, Feb. 27.—The Times editorially denies the statement of Atkins, in the House, Saturday, that James while P. M. General, paid $70,000 to the New York Central, for changing the mail car from one train to another. The amount paid the New York Central for mail service was $60,000 per annum, The postal car attached to morning train from New York, was added to fast train, leaving Buffalo for Chicago, making additional through fast mail service. For this the R.R. was paid an additional $10,000 per annum, making $70,000 for the whole service. The Times also says the Vanderbilts do not control the Lincoln bank, and James was invited into its management before he was P. M. General.

PEDESTRIANISM.

The Great Six-Days Walk at New York.

New York, Feb. 27.—At 9 o'clock this morning Rowell, 68; Hughes, 62; Hazael, 60; Nonemac, 54; Fitgerald, 54; Sullivan, 53; Panchant, 50; Scott, 47; Hart, 45. Hart spends a good deal or time in this cabin, though no indications of physical disability. Vint on account of rheumatism in his hip, is obliged to withdraw with a score of 10. At 10 a.m. Rowell resumed his well-known tactics, and commenced to dog Hazael. The highest scores at noon were: Rowell, 90; Hazael, 81; Hughes, 76. Rowell is three miles ahead of the best record. Very little betting. A majority of book-makers refuse to bet on Rowell.

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericktown, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature to represent his constitutents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment, it gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood. As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago, sciatica, contracted joints cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

—FOR—
EMIGRANTS.

AN IMMENSE AREA OF RAILROAD AND GOVERNMENT LANDS OF GREAT FERTILITY, WITHIN EASY REACH OF PERMANENT MARKET, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, is now offered for sale in EASTERN OREGON and EASTERN WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

These lands form part of the great GRAIN BELT of the Pacific Slope, and are within an average distance of 250 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

GRAIN AT PORTLAND, OREGON COMMANDS A PRICE EQUAL TO THAT OBTAINED IN CHICAGO.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R.R. is now assured and guarantees to settlers cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the construction of the network of 700 miles of railroad by the O. R & N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the land now open to purchase and preemption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

LANDS SHOW an AVERAGE YIELD of 40 BUSHELS OF WHEAT PER ACRE. No Failure of Crops ever known.

RAILROAD LANDS offered at a uniform rate of $2.50 an acre.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 10 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

'Our maternal parent died, and dad's next matrimonial venture proved a mistake altogether, Mrs. Stivers number two turning out to be a regular Tartar. The governor endured her temper like a philosopher. The more she stormed, the more he drank, till at last he drank himself into his coffin.'

'Very sad! very sad!' remarked Joshua Penn, emptying his glass.

'After his decease, our home was not, as you may imagine, a bed of roses. I was then twenty years of age, and like my father, in the legal profession, earning fifteen shillings a week, as copying clerk, in a lawyer's office at the back of Chancery Lane.

'Jin was five years younger——'

'Do you mean your sister?' interrupted Joshua.

'Yes!' returned Samuel, with a smile, 'we always called her Jin at home. Dad seemed to prefer that.

'He used to say it produced in his mind a pleasing association of ideas.

'Gin was his favourite beverage; Jin was his pet name for his daughter.'

'Ah! I see,' said Joshua.

'An extraordinary girl she was, too,' continued Mr. Stivers, with enthusiasm; 'a regular rara avis in a second floor back. Lovely as—what shall I say?—Venus, and shrewed as—a—Minerva. Ah! she was a pretty creature.'

'Was she anything like you, Sam?' asked Josh, with a sly attempt at a joke.

'Like me? No,' returned Sam, indignantly. 'Don't I tell you she was a pretty creature? I'm not a pretty creature; you know that well enough.'

'I thought, perhaps, there might have been s—a—sort of a family likeness, Samuel; that was all,' remarked the junior partner, apologetically.

'Not a bit,' replied Mr. Stivers, filling his glass; 'that is, not physically. Morally, we resembled each other as closely as two peas. We both had our heads screwed on the right way; we were both sharp as needles, persevering as tax collectors, and cute as lawyers.'

Joshua Penn indulged in a complacent little laugh, and took a sip of port wine.

He felt the last remark was an indirect compliment to himself, and it rather pleased him.

Mr. Stivers also took a sip.

'You may judge what sort of a girl Jin was,' he continued, 'by what I am about to tell you.

'After our parent's decease, our Tartarised mother in law becomes more highly acidulated than ever.

'Jin, who was always at home, bore it till she could bear it no longer, and one morning she came to me, and said—

''I'm tired of this, Sam. I shall go away.'

''Go away, Jin?' cried I, quite astonished. 'Where in the world are you going to?'

''To France, to make my fortune,' she replied, as though there were no doubt at all about the matter.

'You might have knocked me down with a feather.

''Going to France, Jin?' I exclaimed. 'What a strange idea!'

''Listen to me Sam, old boy,' she said—she had an affectionate sort of way with her, had Jin, and generally called me old boy—'if I stop here, I can see my fate—work, work, work from morning till night, hard words—blows, perhaps—and starvation, till I get as pale and thin as a rushlight. This doesn't suit me at all. I want position, money, fine dresses, and handsome jewels, and I'm determined to have them.'

'She spoke so determinately, that she took my breath away. Before I could reply, she went on—

''England isn't the proper sphere for me; so I intend to go to France, and turn myself into a Frenchwoman.'

'I couldn't help laughing at this idea, and I said—

''A pretty Frenchwoman you'll make, Jin, and can't speak a word of French to begin with.'

''Can't I? Don't be too sure of that, mon chere frere,' she replied, with a laugh. 'Suppose I tell you I can speak French, what then?'

Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it on himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYERS SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles. 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by PORRE, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole system is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

MEETING OF OUR CITY FATHERS LAST NIGHT.

The Resignation of the Fire Brigade not Accepted.

A special meeting of the City Council was held last evening for the transaction of general business, His Worship the Mayor in the chair. The Aldermen present were: Messrs. Petrie, Clark, Durand, Lingham, Tickell, Frost, Vandusen, Dunnet, McIninch, Macoun, Smith, Dickson, and LaRoche.

The minutes of previous meetings were read and approved, after which the following letters and petitions were read:

From T. Muir, Mrs R. Newbery, Mrs. S. Young, Patrick Callery, E. Maxin, and Jane Stewart, paying either for a reduction or remission of taxes; or complaining of wrong assessment.

From Ald. Campion and Watson tendering their resignations.

From Mr. David Holden asking that the Council grant him the seat in the Council vacated by Mr. W. Watson as a representative for Murney Ward.

From Dr. Burdett threatening the council with legal action ff the drain in front of his home is not repaired.

From E. G. Ponton asking for a new crossing at the corner of Dundas and William streets.

From J. S. McQuaig, asking the cooperation of the Council in petitioning the Government to increase the duty on iron.

From W. D. Otter, secretary of the Ontario Rifle Association, asking a grant towards their prize meeting,

From Mrs. H. McKinnon urging the annual grant of $300 to the Woman's Christian Association.

From the Directors of the Mechanics Institute praying for a grant of $400.

From Rev. A. Schuster praying for a small piece of land on which to erect a Mission school.

From the Fire Brigade, tendering their resignation, providing the prayer of their previous petition is not granted.—Allowed to remain on the table.

From the Board of Education, asking for certain monies.

From the Solicitor, stating that Mr. John Fox, should pay Separate School Taxes.

A number of accounts were read.

From a number of ratepayers praying for a coal oil lamp on the corner of Pine and Dufferin-sts.

From A. L. Smith denying the ownership of certain lots upon which he has been assessed.

From S. Bassitt asking to be placed upon the Voters List,

From the Bursar of the D. & D. Institute in reference to certain clothing required for indigent inmates of the Institute.

A number of committees reported as previously published.

From Debora Wilson asking for extension of time to pay her taxes.

The Solicitor read a report from the deputation that recently visited Toronto in the interests of the city, the principal features of which we have previously published.

A NEW POUND KEEPER.

Ald Petrie gave notice of a By-law amending the By-law appointing poundkeeper for Foster Ward pound.

THE PINNACLE-ST. SIDING.

Ald Petrie gave notice of a motion that the authorities of the Grand Junction be asked to remove the siding on Pinnacle-st; if they refuse steps should be taken to compel them to do so.

BACK TAXES.

Ald. Smith inquired if any steps were being made to collect the back taxes.

Ald. Dickson replied that there were.

Ald. Dickson introduced a By-Law extending the time for collecting taxes for 1881 from March 1st to May 5th.

Council went into Committee on By-Laws, Ald. Smith in the Chair.

Ald. Dickson's By-Law was read a first time.

Committee rose and reported progress Adopted.

The By-Law was read a second and third time, passed and numbered 491.

Ald. Tickell moved, seconded by Ald. Smith that the Council memoralize the Dominion Government asking for a charter to build a bridge across the bay. In support of his motion, Ald. Tickell said the building of this bridge would be as great an inducement as we could offer for the establishment of industries in Belleville, in view of the large population of the front townships of P. E. County. Heretofore a large number of people in these townships have been prevented from visiting our city or market owing to the high ferry fees which are charged, but if the bridge was built, this obstruction would be obviated.

Ald. Dickson said the Dominion Government had no power to grant the charter without two months notice having been given.

On the suggestion of Ald. Dickson, the resolution was amended so as to read "that the council memorialize the Government in reference to building a bridge across the bay."

Ald. Tickell then moved that the following be appointed a committee to draft this memorial, and take such other steps in this matter as they may deem advisable viz.—Ald Dickson, Diamond, Dunnet and the mover.

Ald. Petrie opposed the motion, but it was finally declared carried.

Ald. Dickson moved that the time for collecting the taxes for 1880 be extended until April 5th.—Carried.

Ald. Vandusen gave notice of a motion granting the Women's Christian Association $200.

THE MURRAY CANAL.

Ald. Dickson moved, seconded by Ald. Smith, that whereas it is stated in the public press that it is contemplated constructing the Murray Canal by way of Presque'ile, and whereas it appears to this Council that the Weller's Bay route is more calculated to serve the public purpose of such canal, resolved that a committee consisting of Ald. McIninch, LaRoche, Frost, Starling, Macoun and the mover be appointed to consider the matter, procure the information and communicate with the Government on this subject; and that the Solicitor and City Clerk be requested to act with said Committee.—Carried.

WAYS AND MEANS.

Council went into committee of the Whole on Ways and Means, Ald. Dunnet in the Chair.

The Fire Committee's report was read. The Mayor and Ald. Frost could not see the advisability of accepting the resignation of the Brigade, and offering to pay new companies $300 each.

Ald. Macoun moved in amendment to the report that the resignation of the Brigade be not accepted, but that they be paid what they ask for. He thought the past services of the Brigade justified careful action on the part of the Council.

Ald. Frost thought if a reorganization was necessary, it could be done without accepting the resignation of the brigade. If the Chairman of the Fire Committee had met a deputation from the brigade, he thought this extraordinary procedure would not have been resorted to.

Ald. Smith said the action of the Committee was taken in accordance with the views of the Chief and Assistant Chief Engineers.

Ald. Dickson, would, if the finances of the city permitted, cheerfully grant the extra $300 to the firemen; but he greatly feared that our financial standing would not admit of this without causing increased taxation. He suggested that the Chairman of the Fire Committee withdraw his report until the next meeting of the Council.

Ald. McIninch—The City will not suffer any loss by the Council accepting the resignation of the brigade.

Ald. Frost—Supposing a part of each company desire to resign while the other portions are willing to become members of the new companies, have not the former as much right to the property of the companies as the latter? (Applause from the firemen)

Ald. Dickson moved in amendment to the amendment, that the report from the Fire Committee be withdrawn until next meeting.—Carried.

The report from the Public Works committee provoked considerable discussion.

The Mayor moved that the report be referred back to the Finance Committee.

Ald Dickson at length, contended that the work of paving Front-st. was highly desirable, and urged the passage of the Committee's report.

The Mayor's motion was carried.

The motion made by Ald. Vandusen, appropriating $200 to the W. C. A. was carried.

The communication from the Bursar of the D. & D. Institute was referred to the Finance Committee.

The reports from the other Committees was passed without any amendments.

Committee rose and reported. Adopted.

The Council then adjourned, at eleven o'clock.

An exceedingly bad attack of rheumatism afflicted Mr J Levett, 67 Market st, Lynn, Mass, was cured by St. Jacobs Oill. He had the disease in his right arm and shoulder, which became perfectly helpless after being affected a few hours. His pain was so great that he could not rest in comfort or attend to business with any degree of satisfaction. After enduring this sort of thing for some time, he purchased a bottle of the Great German Remedy and began to apply it. He did not mince matters at all, but just used the Oil for all it was worth. After pursuing this mode of treatment for three days the pain was banished and his father was in a perfectly healthy condition. He has never since felt any rheumatic pain and trusts he never will.

Bronchitis.—Unless arrested will terminate in consumption. An almost never failing cure for this complaint is found in Allen's Lung Balsam, which can be had of any Druggist, price one dollar per bottle.

Atrophy Arrested.—Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypoqhosphites.—Wasting of the tissues of the body is arrested, the muscles made firm, and the nerves regain their power by using Fellows Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites.

RHEUMATIC REMEDY.

There is no better cure for Rheumatism than Hagyard's Yellow Oil used according to the directions on the bottle. It also cures Burns, Scalds, Frost Bites, Bruises, lameness, and all wounds of the flesh, All dealers sell it, price 25 cents.

Cheap and Good.—For fifty cents you can purchase from any reliable druggist, a box of Mack's Magnetic Medicine, which contains forty-five doses; this is cheaper than ony other similar medicine sold, and while it is cheap our druggists say it is the best, and gives satisfaction in all cases. Read the advertisement in another column.

No stronger warranty can be given for the merits of a cough medicine than we offer. We say to all who wish to use Allen's Lung Balsam, that unless it gives entire satisfaction they may return the bottle to us after they have used it 48 hours, and the money will be cheerfully refunded. This same warranty has been offered from the day we offered the Balsam first for sale, and to this time, tme first bottle has not been returned, and we have received nothing but praise in its favor from those who have used it.

TIMELY WARNING.

Now is the season for sudden colds and distressing coughs, treat them with Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, it cures influenza, asthma, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all pulmonary complaints leading to consumption.

Nature, after all, is the great physician. She hides all the secrets of health within her broad generous bosom, and man needs but to go to her intelligently for his every need. The discovery of the great Cough Remedy, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum, is an apt illustration of this. As a cure for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice and Hoarseness it stands unrivalled, while its low price and readiness of access places it within the reach of all. Try it and be convinced. All chemists keep it in 25 and 50 cent bottles.

OUR CHARMING COUNTRYWOMEN

are winning an enviable distinction for their fine teeth. This, they in great measure owe to the beautifying and restorative influence of SOZODONT, the most popular preparation for the teeth on this continent. It removes from the dental surface every impurity, checks decay and enables the teeth to masticate without contaminating the food, thus indirectly contributing to healthful nutrition. It effectually neutralizes an unpleasant odor of the breath.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP"

were the memorable words of Commodore Perry. We repeat, "Dont Give up the Ship," poor, despairing invalid, but try Burdock Blood Bitters. It cures others, why not you? It renovates, regulates and tones all the organs of secretion, and restores lost Vitality.

Epps's Cocoa.—Grateful and Comforting.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Sold only in Packets labelled—"James Epps & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London, Eng." Also makers of Epps's Chocolate Essence for afternoon use.

RESTORED TO HIS USUAL HEALTH.

From James Mitchell, a well known Manufacturer at Springfield, Vt.

"Several years ago I was attacked with a severe lung difficulty, which was quite alarming. I had severe night sweats, and all the premonitary symptoms of consumption. After having tried several remedies and the skill of physicians without benefit, I was induced to use Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, the first bottle of which afforded immediate relief: and a continuence of its use soon restored me to my usual health. For twenty-five years past it has never failed to afford entire satisfaction in all cases of colds, or any throat or lung difficulties. I know of no medicine its equal."

59 cents and $1 a bottle. Sold by dealers generally.

HAD SUFFERED MANY PHYSICIANS

and grew no better but rather worse Mr. D. H. Howard, of Geneva, N. Y., after dismissing his physicians, tried nearly half a gross of the various blood and liver remedies adverlised, with no benefit; when one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him of Paralysis and General Debility. At the advanced age of 60, he, says he feels young again, and is overjoyey at his wonderful recovery.

DAILY ONTARIO

TUESDAY FEB. 28, 1882.

—Mrs. Kimball, says poor bread and poor housekeeping has much to answer for in driving men to the bar-room. She is right.

—Skating rinks are popular enough in Winnipeg, but they don't pay. The Council has determined to impose a license fee of $100 on each rink.

—The Mail professes to be an impartial public journal, but dismissed Sir R. J. Cartwright's reply to the Finance Minister's Budget speech with a column notice. The Globe reported both in full.

—Mr. Mackenzie did not attend the Reform caucus at Ottawa shortly after the opening of the session for reasons well known to his political friends. The Tory press have since been talking soft velvet to the honorable gentleman and "paying tribute to his honesty." Mr. Mackenzie will follow Sir Charles Tupper in the debate on the Budget, and the Tory press will relegate him back to the "steel-rails" era of his life.

THE Queen's College Journal condemns in forcible language the conduct of Mr. James McCuaig, M. P., and the military authorities at Ottawa in censuring Lieut.-Col. Ross for his action in removing the canteen from the Picton Brigade Camp. The Journal says:—

> Now if the Gazette is to be made a vehicle in which to express political spite, no officer who ever shows any pluck or decision can be sure of escaping censure, if he should happen to be of a different political stripe from the party which may be in power. The militia we have always looked upon, as above politics, where merit alone is considered, and we would be sorry indeed, to see such a mischievous ingredient as the one we have referred to, introduced.

SIR LEONARD TILLEY says prices have not been materially raised by the tariff, and gives the evidence of one firm in Montreal—Messrs. Cantlie, Ewan & Co., to prove what he claims. This firm report:—

"For the last and this present year "prices are as low as any year since 1869. "Being compelled by foreign competition "to give up the making of blankets for 18-"75, 1876, 1877 and 1878, we have no re-"cord of prices for these four years."

If foreign competition compelled this firm to give up making blankets from 1875 to 1879, it was because they could not make sufficient profit to satisfy them. In other words, foreign competition kept down the price. The N. P. enables the firm to resume the manufacture of blankets because foreign competition had been checked and prices went up. Sir Leonard is condemned by his own witnesses.

SOME FINANCING.

The liabilities falling due next year will amount to over twelve and a half millions, and Sir Leonard proposed to meet this without borrowing by using the surplus. Deposits in savings banks, &c. That's financing for you! It is estimated that the deposits in the savings banks in excess of withdrawals will be about $4,000,000. This our wise Finance Minister purposes using to pay the public debts instead of borrowing in foreign markets, and congratulates himself and the country on the saving that will be effected thereby. Depositors in savings banks get 4 per cent. for their money. The Government would have to pay the same—or the country would. Loans could be procured in the English money market at the same rate. There is this difference, too:—Interest will have to be paid on the amount taken from the savings banks from the time the deposit was made, no matter when the Government may need the money. The public will not see much to applaud in this scheme of the Finance Minister.

THAT NYCE YOUNG MAN.

Some days ago a young woman was arrested in New York for masquerading in men's clothes. She had not misconducted herself in any way so far as known, and was quiet and industrious. A lynx-eyed policeman had watched her passing to and from her boarding house and concluded that she was a little too jaunty and well developed in some respects to answer for a smooth-faced, modest young man, as she pretended to be. His suspicions were confirmed by events, and the result was that the young man was arrested. The examination before a justice brought out all the facts. Mr. De Nyce was Miss Jennie Westwood, and reasons were given for the change of name and dress. Miss Westbrook had to earn her own living, and she found that her sex militated against her success. Men were paid double and triple for doing what she could do equally as well. Meditating upon this injustice, she determined to make a bold venture, and cutting off her luxuriant hair she donned male attire. Calling herself Edward De Nyce, she sought and procured work as a travelling salesman for a New York firm. She had also worked in other capacities, giving entire satisfaction to her employers. The stern justice fined her $50 and in default of security sent her to jail. Her case was appealed, and Justice Powers of the same city has taken a common-sense view of it. He holds that it is not a crime for a girl to don male garments, and that the arrest of Miss Westwood was malicious and unbecoming. He has, therefore, set her at liberty, to earn her living as best she can, unmolested by the law, or by the over-sensitive detectives. Jennie threatens a suit for malicious arrest.

Mr. Samuel McCaw, the well-known Conductor on the Whitby and Lindsay Railway, says Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters cured me of Dyspepsia. I always keep them in the house, and consider them invaluable as a family medicine. R. Templeton Agent for Belleville.

Jos. Beaudin, M. D., Aull, P. Q., writes—Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil commands a large and increasing sale. I always found it exceedingly helpful; I use it in all cases of Rheumatism as well as fractures and dislocations. I made use of it myself to calm the pain of a broken leg with dislocation of the foot, and in two days I was entirely relieved from pain.

The first special train for Manitoba leaves Kingston to-morrow evening at 6.

Brockville beat Ogdensburg at curling on Friday by 25 to 13. Arnprior was also beaten by Brockville by one.

Duncan C. Ross, "the Scotch athlete," wants to wrestle any man in America a mixed match for $250 or $500.

Yesterday Mr. Blaine delivered a grand eulogy on the life of the late President Garfield. There was a large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen all dressed in black.

The "laird of Garden Island" is showing his authority. The School Board of that little municipality recently advanced the salaries of the two teachers employed there. Mr. Calvin objected to this action, and the Board will resign in a body before rescinding their action.

Mr. E. Ford, who is on the Toronto & Ottawa Railway survey, brought to Kingston a large lynx, which one of the party shot near Tweed. A dog treed the animal, when it was brought to the ground by a bullet. It is almost as large as a leopard, and would be an ugly customer to have a dispute with.

COMMENDABLE.

We commend the action of the City Council last night in respect to too motions particularly. The refusal to accept the resignation of the Fire Brigade, and postponement of the consideration of matter, were just and reasonable The firemen of Belleville deserve better treatment at the hands of the Council than has been recommended. The motion for a committee to report to the Government on the western terminus of the Murray Canal was timely and judicious. Action in this matter cannot be taken too soon, for we have good authority for saying that the Presque'ile terminus has been all but agreed upon, and that strong influence is being brought to bear upon the Government in favor of that harbor. We hope the committee will lose no time in placing the superior claims of Weller's Bay before the proper authorities. It would be a great blunder to have the former chosen, when it is every way inferior to the latter as a harbor of refuge, and in other respects.

THE HOSPITAL QUESTION.

Second Reading of W. C. A. Bill.

In the Legislature yesterday, Mr. Ferris moved the second reading of the Bill respecting a Hospital and Home for the Friendless, Belleville.

Mr. Meredith declared that the Bill was an interference with the rights of Belleville, and he understood that the Council of the city was opposed to it.

Mr. Fraser said, while admitting the opposition of the Council, that the people were unanimous in favor of it. The Crown, inasmuch as the land had never been patented, had a right to step in and say that it should now be applied to the purpose for which it was reserved, viz., the maintenance of an hospital.

Mr. Meredith also objected to the removal by the Bill of the City Council from its position as trustees of the hospital lot.

Mr. Fraser replied that Belleville never had any right to it beyond the fact that it was set apart for hospital purposes when the city was prepared to provide such an institution. They never did provide such an institution, and the Women's Association being prepared now to do so, the Bill gave "the proceeds" of the land to them to be applied as originally intended.

The motion was carried, and the Bill read a second time.

☞In all northern climates, consumption is a great destroyer of human life. Most cases spring from colds neglected till ulceration of the lungs sets in and then the progress of the disease is apt to be rapid. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam is a speedy and certain cure in the early stages, and has permanently relieved many cases which skilful physicians thought hopeless.

POLITICAL NOTES.

100.000 copies of the Budget speech are being printed for circulation.

The stories about Indian outrages a Battleford are without foundation.

The Railway and Private Bills Committees of the Legislature will wind up their business to-day.

Very general regret is expressed by members and employees of the House at Mr. Rymal's determination to retire from public life at the end of the present Parliamens.

Senecal and Chapleau have been at Ottawa in the interest of the proposed ferry to connect the Intercolonial and Q., M., O. & O Railway. The former was closeted with Ministers nearly all day Sunday.

The nominations yesterday in Pontiac County for the Quebec Legislature resulted in Norman MacQuaig being chosen as the standard-bearer in the Reform interest. By the Conservatives Messrs. Jas. McGill Rooney and W. J. Poupore were nominated.

The Montreal Bank officials declare that the words, "Good for two days only," stamped on the cheque which McDonald & Charlebois gave to the Government as security in connection with the Emory Bar contract, had no significance whatever, and that the cheque was perfectly good.

Mr. H. H. Cook, M. PP., has been nominated by the Reformers of North Simcoe as their candidate for the approaching Dominion election, and has accepted the nomination. At the Convention at which the nomination was made several resolutions were passed, one giving expression to the farmers' opinion of the National Policy.

In the Imperial House of Commons Monday Gladstone's motion to stay the orders of the day for the introduction of his resolution condemning an enquiry by the House of Lords into the workings of the Land Act was carried on a vote of 300 to 167. At a caucus of Liberal members held in connection with this question, Forster stated that the Government required the whole support of Parliament in securing the enforcement of order in Ireland. Mitchell Henry agreed as to the serious position of matters in Ireland, and expressed the opinion that a general election would result in the return of seventy Parnellites.

The Pall Mall Gazette says there is not a shadow of foundation for the rumor that Gladstone contemplates resignation.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

FEBUARY 27.

Yesterday being a private day, the business was of a desultory character. After routine Dr. Orton moved the first reading of his Bill respecting interest on moneys secured by mortgage, and Mr. McCarthy the first reading of his to enable persons charged with indictable offences to give evidence on their own behalf. A number of private bills were read a second time.

After some motions of papers had been passed, a brief discussion arose over one for copies of Customs circulars issued by the Government. Hon. D. Mills cited some cases of importers who had besides being compelled to pay duties on invoices arbitrarily raised, been fined for under-valuing their goods, though they had paid the market price at the place of purchase. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell briefly defended the course pursued in his Department, and Hon. Mr. Mackenzie characterized his interpretation of the Customs Act as erroneous. Another short discussion took place between Hon. Mr. Anglin, Sir Charles Tupper, and Hon Mr. Mackenzie about the state of rolling stock on the Intercolonial, after which Mr. Cameron, of Huron, in a humorous speech traced his story of Charybdis, and described the difficulty and expense of bringing her to St. John. The documents asked for in his motion will contain her history down to date.

☞The largest workshop of the body is the liver, whose office it is to draw the bile from the blood. When this important organ acts sluggishly or from any cause becomes diseased, Dr. Wilson's Anti-bilious and Preserving Pills afford immediate relief, and soon bring about natural action.

SWINDLERS AT WORK.

How they Victimized farmers with the Ring and Pocket Book Tricks.

The Kingston News relates how some sharpers operated at the Sydenham races last week, and to put our readers on their guard we condense as follows.—

A man approaches a farmer, and after conversing with him about the races, etc., produces a ring and asks the "tiller of the soil" to buy it for $3, at the same time telling him it is worth at least $15, and that he would not sell it for such a small amount only that he is "broke." A second man now comes to his aid, and offers, in a very earnest manner, $7 for the article. Swindler No. 1, having offered it for $3 would not go back on his word for $4, and gets the victim to take it who thinks he can sell it to No. 2 for $7, thereby making a very good day's pay. It is needless to say that he has to keep the ring, which can be bought anywhere for about 10 cents. This "game" was played three times successfully. Another piece of rascality has only two actors, the swindler and the victim. The person selected is generally considered as having more "money than brains," and, when he is separate from the crowd, the vulture picks up a pocket-book so that he will be noticed and commences to open it, displaying a large number of bills contained therein. The victim approaches and asks half, but the hawk is too honest to do that, and offers it for $10. The man thinking he has a bargain, readily pays over that amount, and vulture disappears. After displaying the well filled wallet and while the farmer is getting out his money, a pocket-book exactly the the counterpart of the one containing the money is substituted. This contains a $1 Dominion of Canada bill on the top of a number of papers cut exactly the same size of the bill. As paper is cheap and the poket book costs about 30 cents, the unwary one is mulcted in the sum of $8.70. One farmer was caught on this swindle,, but on the second attempt the deceiver came to grief, being made to disgorge his ill-gotten gains.

There is no Evaporation or Deterioration in strength about Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. The ingredients of this incomparable anti-rheumatic and throat and lung remedy are not volatile but are fixed pure and imperishable. Pain, lameness and stiffness are relieved by it, and it may be used with equal benefit externally and internally.

TWO HUSBANDS AT FOURTEEN.

A Maryland Girl Marries Her Stepfather and then Her True Lover.

A Baltimore telegram says:—A wedding has just taken place in Dame's Quarter District, Somerset County, Md., under circumstances which have probably never been parelleled in this country. H. E. Whyte, a boy aged 17 and of excellent character, married a brunette named Ella Shores, aged 14, thus giving to the girl a second husband within a period of two years. On February 5th, 1880, precisely two years from the date of this marriage, the residents of Dame's Quarter were greatly excited by learning that Sydney Shores, a farmer aged 65 years, had married Ella Shores, the 12 year-old daughter of his deceased wife by a former husband. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Zacharias Bowen, a Methodist Episcopal clergyman, who as shown afterwards, was deceived by Shores as to the child's age and did not know that she was his stepdaughter. At that time there were threats of lynching the bridegroom, and a mob visited his house one night to hang him. Shores, however, who is an old soldier, showed fight and beat off the mob. After the man had lived with the child as wife for four days the country authorities took cognizance of the affair and arrested him. Shores was committed to jail in default of bail, and the girl was taken charge of by friends and removed from Shore's house. The feeling against Shores was further aggravated by the fact that his wife, who was the widow of his uncle, had only been dead a month when he married the girl. Some months later Shores was tried at the County Court, convicted of misdemeanor, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and stand committed until it was paid. The clergyman was acquitted on the ground that he had not known the facts of the case. Shores, being a poor man, could not pay his fine and would, doubtless, have been in jail to-day had he not succeeded in escaping last year, since which time he has not been heard of. Meanwhile the girl wife, by friends, applied for a divorce, which application was heard last fall and granted. Throughout her troubles, Whyte, her second husband, displayed the most Quixotic solicitude for her, and finally induced her to marry him last week as stated. Mrs Whyte is an unusually pretty girl, well educated and intelligent. Several prominent residents of the county have taken an interest in the welfare of the young couple, and will help to establish the bridegroom in business.

CONSUMPTION IS CURABLE IN THE early stages, not by stimulants nor poisons, which substitute one form of irritation for another, both of which nature must get rid of before rallying, but by food—the only remedy. The waste is the result of faulty nutrition, not limited to the lungs but a systematic starvation. Here use WHEELER'S ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES AND CALISAYA to secure digestion and assimilation, and if you have sense enough to persist until the balance of outcome and income is restored you may get well.

FOUND AT LAST.

A Deserted Wife Discovers Her Truant Husband's Location.—A twenty Year's Search Ended.

Recently the arrival of a visitor at a farm house near Berlin, on the Grand Trunk, caused a great deal of consternation among the quiet inmates. The visitor was a young man of about twenty, who spoke English with an effort, and was evidently a foreigner. He enquired for the owner, and on that gentleman presenting himself he stated his errand. He said that his name was August Tresinsky; that he came from Riga, in Russia, and he greatly startled the farmer's wife and her daughters by claiming the head of the house as his father, and affirming that his proper name was Tresinsky. The farmer disclaimed the relationship, and said that he had never been in Russia. The young man reiterated his statement, and was finally compelled to leave the house. On the day following the same youth accompanied by his mother put in an appearance, and the farmer manifested great emotion and uneasiness at seeing her. She claimed him as her husband, but as before he denied all knowledge of her, and ordered her from the house.

THE WOMAN'S STORY.

Mrs. Tresinsky talks German, and told a resident of that German settlement the following story:—Twenty-one years ago she was married to Jacob Tresinsky in Riga. They lived happily together until after the birth of her son, when being thrown out of employment, he became morose and frequently ill-treated her. Suddenly, about twenty years ago he left home, and all efforts to discover him unavailing, she considered him dead. Three years ago a man who had returned to Russia informed her that her husband was living in Canada. Want of means prevented her immediate departure to this country, but last fall she arrived, and then commenced her weary search for the truant husband. She knew that he lived in the county of Waterloo, but his change of name, of which she had not been informed, rendered it extremely difficult for her to trace him, and now, when found, the long-lost husband disowns both her and her son. The farmer is quite wealthy, and has a large family of sons and daughters, to whom the news has been a severe shock. Mrs. Tresinsky states that she will appeal to the law for her rights, and there the matter rests for the present.

CELEBRATED DIVORCE CASE.

A Suit in Which a Lady's Fortune of $225,000 Was Involved.

A Montreal despatch of Saturday's date says: In the Supreme Court to-day Mr. Justice Torrance gave judgment in the case of Dame Stephen vs. James Fisk, in which the legality of a divorce between plaintiff and defendant by the Supreme Court of New York State was upheld. Mr. Fisk demurred to the divorce on the ground that he was domiciled in Montreal. The court held that this was not a good defence, and ordered the defendant to render an account of plaintiff's fortune of $225,000 which she entrusted to his care after marriage, there being no ante nuptial settlement, and giving interest thereon during the time Fisk used it, and also granted costs. The parties to this celebrated suit formerly moved in the highest circles here. The plaintiff is a daughter of a Southwestern States' millionaire, and obtained a decree in the New York courts, about two years since on the grounds of her husband's infidelity. Fisk was in an extensive way of business as importing merchant in this city, and got into his marital difficulties through the seduction of a friend's wife here. At the time his wife abandoned him he returned the bulk of her fortune, but never rendered an account of his management of it for a number of years. His divorced wife is now living in Paris, in brilliant style, with her father's family.

MORAL LEGISLATORS.

How some of our M. P.'s Conduct Themselves.

An Ottawa telegram says:—On Friday evening a house of ill-fame was raided, and among its victims were two M. P.'s—one from an Ontario constituency, and one from one of the most easterly constituencies in the Lower Provinces. They were both arrested and together with the fair cyprians were taken to the police station. When they arrived there, however, the two legislators were for some reason released, and they fondly imagined that their little adventure would never become public, but the funniest part of the story remains to be told. The lady who kept the house was not so lucky as her customers, and the next morning was fined $20 and costs. She had not the necessary cash with her, but put up as security a gold watch and chain. Attached to the chain was a handsome locket with the eastern M.P.'s monogram on the outside and his photograph inside.

has just closed its twelfth year, which has been the most successful year in its history. The following figures show the progress the company has made during the last three years.

Policies issued in 1879 were 427 for $490,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1880 were 908 for $1,157,000 of Assurance.

Policies issued in 1881 were 1,426 for $2,000,000 of Assurance.

Such rapid progress shows that the public appreciate economical management, annual cash dividends, and promptness in paying claims.

LIFE ASSURANCE!

The necessities of thousands of Widows and Orphans have been relieved by Millions of Dollars, the thoughtful provision made by kind fathers and husbands when enjoying health, strength and ability to maintain those dependent on their labour for support, but whose earthly forms now have been returned to the dust from whence they came.

The Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Co. during the past year, has filled its fair quota to the relief of bereaved families in the most punctual manner; the average time which has elapsed between the completion of the claim papers and the payment of the respective claims, was only One Day and a Half.

SUCH PROMPTITUDE

And the liberal and equitable feature of The Ontario have won for it such public confidence as has resulted in the issue during the past year of over 1400 new Policies covering about TWO MILLIONS of Assurance.

THE ONTARIO.

Holds the LARGEST RATIO OF RESERVE to its liabilities of any Company in Canada, the whole of which has been saved out of its premium income, and interest on investments, while the surplus to Policy Holders has, in cases of ten and eleven year Ordinary Life Policies, reduced the Premiums to ONE HALF the original rate.

THE MOTTO OF THE ONTARIO IS

"The largest amount of Assurance,
For the least possible outlay."

THE RESULT OF 12 YEARS.

experience show that its motto has been fully realized and that the policy Holders made a wise and advantageous choice of Company when they joined THE ONTARIO even in its early days when its future was but a venture

Now its success proves the wisdom of the Liberal and Equitable Principles on which its business is based, the exclusion of all speculation for the benefit of a few at the cost of many and the whole efforts of its management in the interest and for the benefit of Policy Holders only.

The liquor case preferred against Patrick Tansey was also enlarged until to-morrow. Jas. Kane, drunk, was discharged. The Young vs. McKay case for rent will come up again on Saturday.

The Whig has this:—"On Saturday afternoon William Donohoe was arrested on a charge of fraud. The offence was alleged to have been committed in Belleville. A telegram was despatched and a reply received to the effect that the affair had been compromised, and that Donohoe should be released. Last December the Chief of Police was informed that Donohoe had made love to a Belleville beauty named Brickman, and succeeded in getting a ring valued at $20 from her. He afterwards gave the ring to another sweetheart at Picton. Donohoe has been shadowed since December, and last week was approached by Detective Sullivan. The ring was secured from Picton and is now in possession of the Chief of Police. It is held subject to a call form the Belleville authorities.

☞FURS not given away, but so cheap that you cannot help buying at Davenport's closing sale.

GREAT FUR SALE.—During the past ten days my sales of Furs have been considerable in excess of expectation, showing conclusively that bargains are given and appreciated. I am determined to close out my entire stock, and although the season is considerably advanced it will pay to buy furs now. I am closing business in this city, and I am willing to sacrifice in order to make sales.—N. DAVENPORT.

Reward.

(For a very small consideration.) We offer a reward of a fine suit of clothes, for information that will lead to the apprehension of any able-bodied man who is not going to Manitoba this spring. The same offer applies to merchants "not selling out at cost, &c. Those who are bound to go "West," want to lay in a good stock of substantial clothing, as it is very dear in the NorthWest. And Phœnix Hall, the great one price clothing House, knocks the stuffing all out of any other institution hanging out its shingle as clothing venders both as to amount of stock, quality and price. Remember the place.

PHŒNIX HALL.
The great one price Clothing Emporium

"ACCEPT OUR GRATITUDE."

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir:—Your "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured my boy of a fever sore of two years standing. Please accept our gratitude.

Yours truly HENRY WHITING,
Boston, Mass.

☞No deception, but Furs at less than manufacturers cost at Davenport's.

The construction of a bridge across the bay is again being agitated. Ald. Tickell is moving it the matter this time.

A "great æsthetic smoking entertainment in aid of the poor" is the latest thing out. It will take place in the City Hall Tuesday evening, March 14. Every person who attends will be expected to smoke, of course.

Trotting races was held on the ice above O'Brien's bridge yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance of spectators. "Little William" won the first race, and a horse owned by Mr. John Lloyd was the best flyer in the second contest. The third race didn't "fill."

☞N. DAVENPORT opens business in Winnipeg soon, and must dispose of his stock here.

Our friend, Mr. Jas. Dickson, who has been attending the Philadelphia Dental College during the winter, passed with honors lately. In addition to L. D. S., he can now write D. D. S. to his name. We congratulate him on his success. Dr. Dickson will settle in Ogdensburg, N.Y.

The Peterborough Review says:—"Negotiations are now pending between the Fire Brigade Band and some Belleville gentlemen, with a view to giving a sacred concert at the Bay City on Good Friday. Our band plays finely, and have on different occasions delighted our citizens with sacred music."

When you can buy everything in the dry goods line at HENNESSY's at 80c. on the dollar, why go elsewhere. The stock consists of hundreds of pieces of embroideries, hundreds of pieces of edgings hundreds of pairs of kid and lisle gloves, thousands of yards of laces and ribbons, frillings, &c. All at 80c on the dollar.

The frame house on Front-st. which Philip Ruttan is endeavoring to remove to Taylor's Hill, has been blockading the street all day. It was Mr. Ruttan's intention to get the house down as far as Bridge st. last night, but after working until after midnight, and making little or no progress, the men abandoned their task until this morning.

☞Go to Davenport's for Furs. He is selling out.

The following from an exchange is worthy of a place in this column:—A black walnut grove which a Wisconsin farmer planted about twenty years ago on some waste land recently sold for $27,000. This is the best argument in favor of a liberal planting of trees by farmers we have yet seen. What better legacy can an Ontario farmer leave his children than a good supply of growing timber.

The Ministerial Association met yesterday morning in the Mechanics' Institute, Rev. D. Mitchell, President, and eight other members being present. A paper upon the change of the Sabbath from the seventh to first day of the week was read by Rev. A. Turnbull, which the Association, deeming to be of great value and importance, have requested the city press to give to the public. This paper will appear in the ONTARIO on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

☞THERE is no use of talking. If you miss it, you will regret it, Davenport's great closing Fur sale.

The local Tory organ says Mr. Wesley Davis, Mechanical Superintendent of the Williams Sewing Machine Co., "reports the business of his Company as being highly prosperous under the N. P." A gentleman who heard Mr. Davis' remarks informs us that he (Mr. D.) said the company he represented "is flourishing in spite of the N. P." He declared that the raw material used in manufacturing their machines costs more now than formerly, and that profits were consequently much less and prices higher. Mr. Davis also said that the N. P. had not prevented foreign made machines coming into the country. A horse of quite another color, you see.

About five o'clock this morning a daring attempt was made by some person to burn the old frame barn formerly used by Lake & Jenkins, opposite the Dafoe House. Sergeant Downs was luckily standing on the corner of Bridge and Pinnacle streets, when the incendiary applied the match, and as soon as the officer noticed the light he ran towards the barn, but the man heard him coming and ran away. He was pursued across the lot, but as it was still dark, the policeman was unable to catch him. It is a great pity he is not known to the authorities. If he were, there is no doubt he would be furnished with free lodgings for a time. The brigade turned out and extinguished the incipient blaze before much damage had been done.

☞A large oil painting of the late David Jones will be on exhibition in Ford's window. It was painted by Mr. Mason, of Toronto, our new artist.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Severn were considerably surprised last night about eight o'clock, when a company composed of some forty couples took possession of their hospitable home without previous warning. Opposition was useless against such an army, so the host and hostess surrendered at discretion. Well filled baskets were piled upon the table, and the Oddfellows' Orchestra took seats on the sofa with their stringed instruments. The lady visitors prepared the feast and asked Mr. and Mrs. Severn to help dispose of the good things provided. The board being cleared, the musicians tuned up, and then the floors creaked beneath the tramps of many dancers. In this way the hours were passed until the approach of morning warned the merry-makers that some rest would be needed before the stern duties of another day were tackled. It was a regular surprise party, and was an enjoyable affair all round.

☞GREATEST opportunity of getting cheap Furs ever offered, at Davenport's.

WE ask the careful perusal of the following:—1st We have the only first-class lights, accessories, and instruments in the city. 2nd. We keep no boys to spoil or half finish our work. We have four experienced workmen. 3rd. For style, tone and finish our present work excels any of our former efforts, and we have always been awarded highest praise for artistic pictures. Motto—quality not quantity.

THE FIRE BRIGADE.

Pressing Their Resignation—Their Case to be Considered.

A large number of firemen attended the meeting of the City Council last night, and manifested a deep interest in the discussion on their resignation and the Fire Committee's report. As soon as Ald. Macoun's amendment was declared carried, as given in our report of the Council proceedings on the first page of this issue, the firemen withdrew and at once held an informal meeting in the rooms of No. 1 Company. After considerable discussion, a deputation was appointed to return to the Council and press the acceptance of their resignation or grant the prayer of their petition. They arrived only a few minutes before the Council adjourned, but a number of Aldermen remained in the Mayor's office to hear what the deputation had to say. John Urquhart, a member of the Hooks, acted as spokesman, and earnestly pressed their claims. He contended the firemen had a greater right to the increased grant than the Mechanics' Institute had, and expressed the opinion that if the ratepayers were allowed to express their views in the matter, the grant of $300 to each company would be made almost without a dissenting voice. A mutual agreement was finally entered into, that the Fire Committee should meet on Wednesday night and hear a deputation from the Brigade which will be appointed to represent them. The firemen then left and had a "jubilee" in No. 1 parlor.

Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Pains in the Throat and Chest, relieved and cured by the use of Dr. Carson's Pulmonary Cough Drops. The most reliable testimony has been received as to their efficiancy. In Bottles 50 cents. R. Templeton, Agent for Belleville.

Committed Suicide.

VIRGINIA CITY, Feb. 28.—U. S. Marshall August Ash suicided by shooting. Cause, financial troubles.

Killed His Son.

CLEY, Ky., Feb. 28.—Seaton Vanatta, pursuing thieves with a shot gun, accidently shot and killed his son.

Burned to Death.

NAUVOO, Ill., Feb. 28.—Yesterday the children of John Welhemy, aged 2 and 5, were burned to death, by the house taking fire in the absence of parents.

Clemency Refused.

WILCOX, Arizona, Feb. 28.—The President has refused the executive clemency in the case of three Indian scouts sentenced to be hanged at Fort Grant, on March 3rd.

Parnell Being Punished.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—It is stated Parnell is now being punished by a week of solitary confinement in Kilmainham Jail for breach of discipline in trying to smuggle a letter from the prison.

Druggists throughout the country testify to the great merits of Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters. No medicine they see acts so promptly in curing Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, &c. Have you tried it? R. Templeton is Agent for Belleville.

Tramps Killed.

JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 28.—A freight car of Chicago, Alton Road was ditched near here yesterday. Ten tramps were secreted in the van. Two were killed and others not expected to survive.

Injured and Disfigured.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Dr. D. MacLeod, eminent oculist, who retired from practice in Chicago 17 years ago, was yesterday painfully injured and disfigured while experimenting here with a gas machine.

Will Conkling Accept.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Tribune says there appears to be a growing impression among Republican politicians of all shades of opinion in Washington that Conkling will not accept the appointment as Supreme Court Justice.

☞James Keyes writes us: "That last spring he had a two-year-old filly that had the horse ail for two weeks, so that it could scarcely eat, (the throat being swoolen and almost shut) and by using Dr Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment for three or four days it was entirely cured.

The Flood.

HELENA, Ark., Feb. 28.—Arkansas City is under water from two to nine feet. Business almost stopped. Two colored boys were drowned in the overflow yesterday near Madison. At Clarendon Jno. Thompson and wife (colored) were drowned.

Nihilists Doings.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Four young men, supposed Nihilists, will be tried here on 22nd March, charged with the assassination of a police spy in Smolensk cemetery. At Tiflis the body of a police officer was discovered on the banks of the river cut to pieces, and thrown into a cask.

Arresting Thieves.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Alex. Porter, Richard Buckley, David McLean, were arrested for embezzlement of $5,900 from Titcomb & Pratt, their employers. Officer Austin Sunday arrested John Shaw and James Thomas, colored boys. Thomas fatally shot the officer and escaped. Shaw was arrested and confessed.

☞Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is not extolled as a 'cure-all,' but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific in those chronic weaknesses peculiar to women. Particulars in Dr. Pierce's pamphlet treatise on Diseases Peculiar to Women, 96 pages, sent for three stamps. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

Inhuman Conduct.

ESTELVILLE, Va. Feb 28.—Mrs. Vickers, with three children, in attempting to cross Bear Creek yesterday on horse back, was thrown into the water by the animal stumbling. John Tugats stood on the bank and forced two other men to refrain from assisting the drowning people. Finally a man working in the field near by rescued the woman and two children. The infant was drowned. The woman's husband was hanged some years ago for the murder of Tugats brother.

IS IT A HUMBUG? Some people think all proprietary medicines humbugs. In this they must be mistaken. A cough medicine like N. H. Downs' Elixir that has stood the racket of 52 years must have some virtue, and must cure the diseases for which it is recommended, or people would not continue to buy and use it as they do. It seems to us that even if we knew nothing of its merits, the fact of its large and continually increasing sale justifies us in recommending Downs' Elixir to all who may need a reliable cough medicine.

Two Men Drowned.

CAIRO ILLS, Feb. 28.—Two colored men, driven from home by the flood, and who sought refuge in an old boat, were drowned.

Nihilists Sentenced.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Three Nihilists including a woman were sentenced to death. The remainder were sentenced to various terms of penal servitude.

The Slave Trade.

ALEXANDRA, Feb. 28.—It is stated the ministry considers the maintenance of slavery necessary for the Egyptian people, and wishes to dismiss the employees recently appointed to stop the slave traffic.

Parnell's Offence.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—It is stated Parnell has completed a week of solitary confinement. The Warden charged Parnell with trying to bribe him in smuggling letters outside the prison. Parnell denied the charge.

Vessel Lost.

GLOUCESTER, Feb. 28th.—The fishing schooner Bessie Somers, with a crew of 14, is believed lost.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The attendance at the walking match to-day was small. Panchot withdrew on account of rheumatism. He forfeits the $1,000 entrance fee. Rowell completed his two hundredth mile at 11 09½, beating his previous record by five miles.

A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT.

LIKE most substantial reputations, that of Dr. Dow's Sturgeon Oil Liniment was formed slowly. Invented by a physician of Fredericktown, New Brunswick, who was subsequently sent to the Local Legislature to represent his constitutents there, and being used in his wide practice under the name of the Sturgeon Oil Liniment, it gradually grew into public knowledge and favor in the neighborhood. As it became known, and was carried from one part of the country to another by those who used it and recommended it the demand for it became so large that Dr. Dow handed his rights over to a practical chemist who had the ability and experience to compound and dispose of it. At first, being recommended particularly for neuralgia and rheumatism, for which it is an infallible cure, it was used for similar diseases to great advantage until the list of these eradicated by it grew to large proportions. Of these the most common are lumbago, sciatica, contracted joints cramp in muscles, sprains, bruises, frost bites, chilblains, burns, scalds, erysipelas, ringworms, boils, felons, &c., &c.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN
ON THE LOSS OF
MANHOOD.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practise, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual by means o which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the hand,

ONLY 20 CENTS.

To meet the growing want of the age, and at the same time to reach the poorest in the land Messrs. PERRY DAVIS & SON have lately issued from their establishment a new sized bottle of their celebrated "PAIN-KILLER," that retails for only 20 cents per bottle, and which can now be had of any respectable chemist, and nearly all General Storekeepers in the Dominion. It is no wonder that this firm have made their "PAIN-KILLER," famous throughout the whole world, when we consider that, in the first place, they have the very best family medicine ever discovered for the relief of pain, either interna or external; and also that they have always made the price such that no person, however poor, could not purchased it if suffering from any of the thousand little ills which flesh is heir to. The new bottle that retails for 40 cents is large enough to last a person for a long time, and will be found a convenient medicine chest, compact and useful at all times, whether travelling or at home. Our advice is—"Go and buy a bottle at once."

DAILY ONTARIO.

Ethel's Vow.

"'And can you?' I asked, more and more astonished.

"'Yes, Sam, I can,' she answered. 'I made up my mind to this when father died, two years ago, and I've studied the French language every moment I had to spare ever since. All I want now is the correct pronunciation, and that I shall easy acquire in Paris.'

"'But what will you do in Paris,' I exclaimed, 'a stranger without friends?'

"'Only let me get there. I'll undertake to do well enough,' was the bold reply.

"'But how will you live?' said I.

"'I shall take a situation in one of the first-rate cafes,' she answered. 'That will be my starting point, and if I don't very quickly make a move upwards, my name's not Jane Stivers.'

'She then altered her tone, and throwing her arms round my neck, said, in a coaxing way that she had to a most wonderful extent, a sort of way no one could resist—

"'You must get me money to go with, Sam dear, somehow. I know you will if you can, won't you?'

'I need hardly say that with my limited salary of fifteen bob, and with the paternal habit of imbibing strong in me, I had nothing in hand.

'However, to make a long story short, I contrived to borrow three pounds, which I handed over to her.

"'I'll send it back to you, Sam, if I'm alive, in six months from this date,' were the last words she said, as the train rolled away.

'She kept her word.

'Six months after I received a letter containing a P. O. order for five pounds, with the following brief account of herself—

"'DEAR SAM,—I am prospering. At the present moment I am head waitress at one of the first cafes in Paris.

"'Your sister,
JANE.'

'There was also added, in postscript—

"'A nobleman has fallen in love with me. What do you think of that?'"

'Well, and what then?' asked Mr. Joshua Penn, rather drowsily.

'That is all I have ever heard of her for five years, until I received her letter this morning,' replied Samuel Stivers.

'Has she sent you another P. O. order?' asked his principal.

'No,' returned the managing clerk, quietly and significantly, 'Instead of sending money, she wants to borrow some.'

Oh, indeed!' yawned Joshua, puffing away at his cigar lazily. 'How much does she want?'

'Only two hundred pounds,' said Mr. Stivers, as coolly as if it had been only as many farthings.

'Two hundred pounds,' echoed the exemplary Joshua, dropping his cigar in his astonishment; 'what a sum; whatever can she want with two hundred pounds?'

'That is no business of mine,' returned Sam; 'you may depend upon it she's got some brilliant move on the board; she's not the one to invest, unless she sees a prospect of ample returns.'

'She didn't marry the nobleman, then, after all,' remarked Joshua, as he picked up his cigar.

'How do you know that?' asked Samuel, rather sharply.

'Why, simply, that if she had, I suppose she wouldn't be under the necessity of borrowing money of you,' replied Mr. Penn.

'Oh, nonsense, noblemen are often as hard up as any other class of people.'

Joshua Penn laughed, and shook his head incredulously.

'You may laugh as much as you like,' said Sam, in a slightly irritable tone, 'but it seems to me a perfectly reasonable request, and I think we must let her have it.'

The amiable Joshua's eyebrows ascended in a very sudden and marked manner.

'We must,' he echoed. 'What do you mean by 'we must?''

'Why,' returned Sam, in the frankest manner possible, 'I mean that I am not at the present moment the happy possessor of two hundred pounds, but you are. Knowing, therefore, the natural generosity of your disposition, and foreseeing that you are about to offer to advance the amount, I forestall your charitable intentions, and to put the matter on a friendly footing, I say 'we.'

The charitable listener drew down the corners of his mouth, and dropped his cigar a second time, as he said fretfully—

'I don't see that you need make this a joint affair, Samuel. Your sister Jane is nothing to me.'

'True,' admitted Samuel, 'but her brother is something to you, I suppose you'll allow that?'

'Well, certainly, I—a—of course,' stammered the legal gentleman, in a most embarrassed way, 'don't dispute the—a——'

The managing clerk, who acted for his principal in everything, acted for him now with great promptitude.

'You may as well drop all this humbug, Josh,' he said decidedly; 'you know well enough I'm your right hand; you've said so scores of times. You know I'm your body, head, foot, everything; that you couldn't do without me, and, therefore, without any more words, just unlock the cash box, and count me out the two hundred. I'll take them in notes for convenience sake.'

These straightforward words greatly excited the amiable Joshua.

'I can't, Samuel, I really can't, he cried, almost in an agony; 'two hundred pounds is an enormous sum, and besides, I have an objection to lending; I make it a rule never to lend, you know that.'

'Oh, bosh!' returned Mr. Stivers, contemptuously snapping his fingers; 'that for your rules; they're like your morals, not worth a fig. But since you object to lend, I'm not proud; I'll accept the two hundred on my sister's account as a gift. I'm sure she won't object.'

'I won't give a farthing,' roared Mr. Joshua, taking up his glass in his excitement, and banging it down again so fiercely, that it shivered into fragments.

'Very well, then,' coolly returned the managing clerk, 'lend; it will come to precisely the same thing.'

'I'll neither give nor lend.'

'Yes, you will.'

'I say no.'

'I say yes; you must.'

The peculiarly emphatic manner in which these two last words were uttered had an unmistakable effect upon Joshua Penn, and he turned deadly pale as he gasped—

'Must, Samuel?'

INEXPENSIVE HAIR RESTORER. LOCKYER'S SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will darken grey hair, in a few days bringing back the colour. The effect is superior to that produced by a direct eye, and does not injure the skin. Lockyer's is equal to the most expensive It is the best for restoring grey hair to its former colour. Produces a perfectly natural shade. Valuable for destroying scurf and encouraging growth of new hair. Sulphur being highly prized for its stimulant, cleansing, healthful action on the hair glands, Lockyer's Restorer is strongly recommended. It is most agreeable in use, and never fails in its action. No other hair dressing is requisite. Large Bottle, 1s. 6d. Sold by chemists, Hairdressers, and Perfumers everywhere.

"SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away, even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic, whilst, old, enduring skin disorders, they have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalculæ which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER & Co., London, Eng.

LIVER AND STOMACH PILLS. DR. KING'S DANDELION AND QUININE LIVER PILLS.—These famous Pills do not contain even a trace of Mercury, or any of the many dangerous ingredients frequently found in advertised Pills. This fact continues to keep Dr. King's renowned discovery in front of all Pills whatsoever, as the safest, best, speediest, most certain, and effectual remedy for disorders of the Liver and Stomach, whether in the form of Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, Flatulence, Acidity, Headache, Shoulder Pains, Feverish Restlessness of the whole system, Disinclination for Food, or Dyspeptic symptoms generally.

LIVER MEDICINE. TARAXACUM AND PODOPHYLLIN. This fluid combination, extracted from medicinal roots, is becoming very popular, and is now used instead of blue pill and calomel for the cure of dyspepsia biliousness, and all symptoms of congestion of the liver, which are generally pain beneath the shoulders, headache, drowsiness, no appetite, furred tongue, disagreeable taste in the morning, giddiness, disturbance of the stomach, and feeling of general depression. It sets the sluggish liver in motion, very slightly acts on the bowels, giving a sense of health and comfort within 24 hours. It is the safest medicine, and, as a real fact, is prescribed by many doctors. Taraxacum and Podophyllin is a fluid made only by J. PEPPER, Bedford Laboratory, London, whose name is on every label. It is important to notice this. Bottles 2s. 6d. Sold by all chemists.

The Dandelion Extract contained in Dr. King's Pills, by its well-known action on the Liver (the most important gland in the whole form), causes the bodily secretions to flow in a regular manner, and, conjointly with the Tonic ingredients, greatly invigorates, so maintaining the great portals of the system in the fit condition to secure good health. These Pills have been in widespread use for a great number of years, and nothing but good is spoken of them everywhere. Any Chemist sells them, in Boxes 1s. 1½d. and 2s. 9d. each. Made by POHRS, London, Eng.

GREAT BODILY STRENGTH. PEPPER'S QUININE AND IRON TONIC strengthens the nerves and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health, rouses and developes the nervous energies, enriches the blood, promotes appetite, dispels languor and depression, fortifies the digestive organs. Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, indigestion, fevers, chest affections, and in wasting diseases, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole system is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles 32 doses, 4s. 6d. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. PEPPER is on the label. There is no Tonic so certain in effect as Pepper's Quinine and Iron. Insist on having "Pepper's Tonic."

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
